Chas. W. Berry et al. vs. Elizabeth A. Whidden and als. The bill in this case can be maintained. The income from Sept. 9, 1878, when the original bill was filed, can be recovered unless it was adjudicated in previous bill; party can apply to have that bill brought forward, and the decree modified to include rent to the date of that decree. This bill can recover from the date of that decree. Page: Frink for pliff.; Emery for deft.

Watson v. Bartlett. Flowage. The deft. is limited to the right he had only previous to 1867. Judgment for pliff. Wiggin for pliff.; Bingham & Mitchell for deft.

Elvin Newton v. James Janvrin. Probate appeal; opinion by Doe J. A minor cannot elect to turn his father out as guardian by virtue of his right of electing a guardian. There must be an occasion for the appointment of a guardian. New trial ordered. Marston & Eastman: Wiggin & Fuller for Newton; Frink & Batchelder for Janvrin.

Whittaker v. Marsh, adm. of H. Marsh, one of the heirs. Evidence of a witness dead physically or mentally, as given before, is admissible afterward. The rule is not limited to a dead witness alone.

Batchelder v. Fottler. Judgment for defendant. Mellows for pliff.; Towle for deft.

Lancaster v. Wheeler. Judgment for deft. An assignment for benefit of creditors is invalid, where the debtor has paid his workmen out of the property as a part of the same transaction as the assignment. Hatch: J. Smith for pliff.; Heath for deft.

Blanchard v. Webster. Judgment for pliff.

Horne v. Boston & Maine Railroad. The defendant corporation is a citizen of this state, and an action against it cannot be removed to the Circuit court of this district. The pliff. was a citizen of this state, and sued the railroad for damages in consequence of an accident happening in Massachusetts. Motion by deft. to remove to Circuit court of the United States denied. Marston & Eastman for pliff.; Copeland for railroad.

Perkins v. Boody. The decision by fence viewers, when they are not personally sworn, is not binding on the defendant. The land of the deft. had been thrown in common, and so he was not bound to fence it. Judgment for deft. Stickney for pliff.; Marston & Eastman for deft.

T. Brigham Bishop v. Silver Lake Mining Co. Defendant's exceptions overruled. The action was properly brought in this county. Judgment on the verdict for the plaintiff. Page for pliff.; Hobbs for deft.

Geo. N. Proctor v. Geo. E. Lane and John J. Bell, trustee. When Ex-Treasurer Lane surrendered himself to Sheriff Kent on the ground that he was a defaulter to the county, he was visited by Mr. Bell, to whom he assigned certain personal effects in his safe. The amount due the county, all but $8000, having been raised and paid over, it is claimed that Mr. Bell and his co-sureties were obliged to pay that sum, and it was sought to hold him as trustee for the amount of funds, checks, etc., in the safe recovered by Bell. The court decided that Bell could hold the property placed in his hands by Lane as security for his liability on Lane's bond, and he was discharged as trustee. Towle: H. Bingham for pliff.; Marston & Eastman for the trustee.

Nathan Jones v. Portsmouth Aqueduct Co. The case was tried before Judge Carpenter in this city in April, and question of law reserved. The question of reasonable use of the company's land should be found by the judge who tried the case, and judgment for the plaintiff or the defendant as he may find the question. Case referred back to Judge Carpenter.

C. E. Jones v. Nellie F. Jones. Libel for divorce, dismissed. Towle for libellant.

THE WILBUR OPERA CO.

An exchange in speaking of this company which will present "Billee Taylor" in Music Hall next Tuesday evening, says:

By far the best performance of Audran's opera which has been heard in this city was given at the Arch by the Wilbur Comic Opera Company last evening. The principals were all in good voice, and rendered their work with effect. The Wilburs which is, by the way, the original company in this country, musters a large and competent chorus, whose members not only sing well, but throw life into their acting.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J.

SATURDAY, Sept. 1st.

George Tarrill, a hard-looking tramp who gave his age as sixteen years, was held in $300 for trial at the October term of the Supreme court on a charge of breaking and entering the house of William C. Fernald.

John Elliot, a jail-bird and county-farm-ranger of renown, was let out of jail Friday morning, got a ticket for Boston, also got howling drunk, and when arrested made an assault on Officer Underhill. For drunkenness he was fined $3, with $3 costs; for the assault he was fined $8, with $6.90 costs. More jail.

DRIVEN WELLS.

The short supply of water has induced many residents to give their attention to the subject of driven wells. Where there are no ledges, a driven well can be sunk at very slight expense, an iron tube being forced down sufficiently deep to allow a constant supply of water. The spring in the basement of the custom house is to be utilized; the driven-well men are to begin work upon it to-day, and several other places are mentioned as likely to have the means of supplying water from wells sunk in cellars where it can be easily pumped. There are many excellent springs of water running to waste in our city, which could aid much in our water supply.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

MARY C. TAYLOR, Pres.

GOSSIPS SAY

That "the wealth of ignorance" is not confined to any class, as a distinguished visitor at York beach last week applied for a horse and carriage to take him to the Isles of Shoals.

That neither is superstition confined within any narrow bounds, as a grave in York reported to contain the Witch of Endor is eagerly searched for daily by the summer visitors at York.

That Joseph T. Tabor, Esq., and wife, of Cambridgeport, Mass., are spending a few days at Pocahontas point.

That the yacht Resolute, of Providence, R. I., had her jibboom carried away while entering this harbor last week, and was fitted with a new one by local sparmakers.

That Paymaster Putnam and his clerk, Mr. Hall Varrell, both of this city, are home from a three-years cruise in the U. S. S. Galena, now in Hampton roads.

An adjourned meeting of the members of the South Parish will be held at the chapel at eight o'clock this evening.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

MEDICAL.

SKIN HUMORS

Wonderful Cure of a Lad 12 years old, who for 8 years, from the top of his head to his ankles, was One Mass of Scabs.

MY SON, a lad twelve years of age, was afflicted with the worst form of Eczema for a period of eight years. So virulent was it that from the top of his head to within a few inches of his ankles he was one mass of scabs, which refused to yield to any treatment that was attempted. Everywhere that was suggested by friends or physicians was tried in vain. Allopathy, homœopathy, herbs, roots, sulphur baths, flaxseed poultices, soaps, ointments, and in short everything that could be done to eradicate the disorder seemed only to aggravate it, and the child's life became a burden to him, and the expense of the various experiments was a constant drain upon our resources.

My wife, reading the advertisement of the CUTICURA REMEDIES in one of the daily papers, resolved to make one more attempt at a cure. (The disease was now encroaching upon his face, and seemed incurable.) I gave a reluctant consent to the proposal, and an interview was sought with a famous lady physician of New York, who made a most thorough examination of the case, and promised a cure without the least hesitation by the use of your CUTICURA REMEDIES. In one WEEK there was a marked change; the raw and angry sores began to grow pale and along the outer edges scab off, and in due time the scab began to disappear entirely, until at the present writing the only vestage is one small spot upon the forehead, scarcely visible and fast disappearing.

Thus after eight years of expense and anxiety, we have the intense satisfaction of seeing the child's skin as fair and smooth as it was before this dreadful cutaneous disorder attacked him.

Sincerely yours, CHAS. EAYRE HINKLE.

HEART DISEASE

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for Kidney or Liver trouble, or Dyspepsia, when it is a fact well known, the real cause lies at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Cheesbrough, startlingly says "one-third of my patients show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half; resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and troubled sleepers. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Greaves' thoroughly exhaustive treatise. G. G. G. "Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick headache."—Dr. H. H. Schlichter, of Baltimore.

Last week Reddy Williams and Edward Cunningham, living near Red Cliff, Battle mountain, Col., agreed to settle their rivalry for the hand of a young lady by pistols. At a signal each drew and fired. Williams fell dead at the first shot, pierced through the heart, and Cunningham fell, shot through the lungs. He died a few moments later. The young woman won't marry either of them.

John A. Moran of Norwich, Conn., twenty-seven years old, attempted suicide at New Haven, Friday. Business troubles were the cause.

The notorious "Wes" Allen was arrested at the Union depot, New Haven, Conn., Friday, on the charge of picking pockets.

The recent star route verdict is to be the subject of investigation.

The Wife of an Ambassador recently put the following question to the daughter of one of our Merchant princes at a Presidential levee. "My dear, I was told before I visited America, that your country-women were not remarkable for fine teeth. I find it quite contrary. Take your own, for instance. Pray what dentifrice do you use." "I have used Sozodont for years and prefer it to any other," was the response Reader, follow her example

Our New York Fashion Letter.

A ROUGH SEASON.

Next winter will undoubtedly be a rough one—for materials. The materials will be rough, and we who wear them the same. New wools are woven with large loops placed thick together like Astrakhan cloth, trimmings follow, and ribbons in millinery are ditto. Other wools are irregularly woven, now thick, now thin, everything being done with a view to produce inequality of surface and give the coveted look of roughness. Yet this roughness is in appearance only, for to the touch these wools are soft and pliable; extreme delicacy is exercised in the manufacture, and the prices are too high to allow of their being common. No one, however, would wish to appear in an entire costume of these pronounced goods, so we shall see them modified by combinations of plain camel's hair, cashmere and other standard fabrics, while costumes of plain wool may be stylishly roughened by bands or other additions of rough material, where handsome varieties show silken points of contrasting color, peeping from below the overhanging loops.

BROCADES.

Combination costumes of plain and brocaded wool are quite out of favor, and fashion chooses rather the plain wool, diversified, it may be, by bows of velvet or other ribbon. Brocade in the commoner styles has been found unsatisfactory wear, because apt to fray, thus giving out often while its companion, the plain fabric, is still untarnished. But the high types of brocade such as we see in expensive velvets or silks are durable as they are handsome, and this season will be in greater demand than ever. Nor need we cross the ocean to obtain first-class styles since experience of Stearn's American brocades gives proof that all we can wish for is produced on native soil. Black, all stylish colors, and combinations of color are shown, while the plain silks evince the Ottoman reps and every new idea; many of the brocades, indeed, being wrought on heavy repped grounds, which of course adds to the style and richness. Many

WINTER BONNETS

Will be quite small, and probably such styles will lead for dress. But there are a few pokes imported; wide-brimmed Gainsboroughs will please those who like picturesqueness, while for young ladies there is the usual supply of turbans in different shapes, English walking hats, and, as the latest novelty, the jockey cap bonnet, made in imitation of the real jockey. Whether or not this will be successful is as yet a little doubtful. It may have a great run, yet I feel less assured regarding it than many other things. So confidently indeed do I often make assertions respecting what is to be that persons have expressed surprise. But, after all, to the experienced in a matter, there are small symptoms which mean a great deal, and then again it needs but a sight of what some great house—Lord & Taylor for example—have introduced to know what will be worn. Velvet will be largely used for making in millinery, but felt will be in great favor—some felts ranking as high dress, but for the most part the find felts reserved for second best. It is significant too that many of the new hats and bonnets are made with a view to accommodating the hair when dressed high on the head. Ladies have been very slow in adopting this fashion, however, and we may anticipate that for the winter the charming simplicity of the low coil will not be abandoned, although its supremacy may be infringed upon.

FEATHERS AND BEADS.

Grotesque little imitations of large birds are amusing but very stylish features in millinery. For example, a minute rooster hardly three inches long, a peacock full of vanity, with spread-out tail, of scarce greater proportions, a macaw reduced down to like dimensions, and these little creatures being provided with little pins for the purpose, are stuck anywhere. Large, entire birds are nevertheless very fashionable, and here perhaps we see swallows most sought after, while wings become a specialty because of the great numbers used on a single hat. Bands of feathers give finish, breasts or heads serve the same purpose, while entire hats and bonnets made of feathers will be popular. All this nevertheless does not interfere with ostrich plumage, which holds its own position—perhaps such a high one that nothing else can compare. Yet if a fine ostrich plume is of all things the finest, a poor one is of all things the poorest. Have a good one or none, and the same rule applies to ostrich tips, the latter however being much less expensive than the long feathers.

NEW TUFTED SILKS

Will be considered especially stylish in millinery. Either laid on a frame for the entire bonnet or forming a part of the trimming. Then among ribbons the tufted may perhaps be said to lead, and placed around brims, for strings or otherwise, will be greatly coveted by exclusive people. But equally elegant, if not so conspicuous, are velvet ribbons with repped reverse, or velvet with a satin face. Felt hats and bonnets will sometimes be trimmed with wool to match the costume, and this is an innovation full of possibilities for producing neat and therefore truly elegant costumes for street wear. LUCY CARTER.

She Blushed

awfully when I told her what to do for those horrid pimples with which her face was covered. She now says if you want a pink and white complexion with a nice clear smooth skin, you must use that best of all blood purifiers, Sulphur Bitters.

Egotism is a curious trait to observe. Of the disaster by the Ischia earthquake, Victor Hugo says, "It is a universal calamity. I am touched." Rev. Joseph Cook went beyond that, when he told his hearers the other day what the Saviour would say on current events.

A despatch to Reuter's Telegram company of London, Eng., from Vardoe, Norway, asserts that the steamer Obi has arrived there, having on board the members of the Dutch expedition to the Arctic which sailed on the steamer Varna. The Varna foundered on July 14th, in latitude seventy-one north, longitude sixty-three east. The members of the expedition were rescued near the island of Waigatz. The Obi reports that the Arctic steamer Dijmphna was icebound near Waigatz throughout the winter. All on board of her were well, and the captain was confident of reaching open water. The crew of the Varna left the Dijmphna on Aug. 1st, and were rescued by the Obi on Aug. 25th.

When you feel yourself gradually breaking down don't wait until you have taken to your bed. While you are still able to be up and about fight the grim monster disease by the use of proper restoratives. The best remedy for malaria, indigestion, weak kidneys, constant fatigue, fits of dizziness, heart disease, short breath and other complications of a disordered system is Brown's Iron Bitters. Its magic influence in conquering disease of an exhaustive nature is most astonishing.

Thomas Hoxie, aged twenty-one years, a son of Doctor Hoxie, of Brenham, Texas, while passing on horseback through one of the principal streets of the town on the night of Aug. 29th, carrying a double-barrelled shot-gun, was shot dead off his horse by William Lestard, of about the same age. The young men had had a personal difficulty the previous night, the cause of which is unknown. On the morning of the 29th Hoxie levelled his gun at Lestard, but the latter dodged and escaped injury. That night Lestard "got the drop" on Hoxie, with a fatal result, and is now in jail.

No Cigarette has ever obtained at once so great a prestige with smokers as the "Sweet Bouquet." This is due to its merits alone.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is designed to meet the wants of those who need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite, purify their blood, and oil up the machinery of their bodies. No other article takes hold of the system and hits exactly the spot like Hood's Sarsaparilla. It works like magic, reaching every part of the human body through the blood, giving to all renewed life and energy. $1 a bottle; six for $5.

A magnificent ball was given at Montreal to Capt. Wallace and the officers of the Vandalia last week. The captain and officers of the ship returned the courtesy by giving a reception and hop on board the ship. The Vandalia has left for the lower St. Lawrence ports.

Artemus Ward's "best" was his definition of restaurant, given to the Prince of Wales. Artemus and "Albert Edward" had just returned, tired and hungry, from a buffalo hunt. "Restaurant," said Mr. Ward, is derived from two Latin words, viz.: "Res," a thing, and "taurus" a bull, a "bully thing." In all seriousness this is what the people say of Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator. It is preeminently "a good thing," and a certain cure for all forms of heart disease.

MRS. C. W. CHAMBERLIN

State and Ark Sts., Springfield, Mass.—Her Good, Kind Words will do Much for the Afflicted.

Mrs. Chamberlin is the wife of C. W. Chamberlin, an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield, Mass. She says: "Every Spring I have been, for some time past, more or less troubled with nervous debility and weakness. Some years I've been completely run down. My physician has recommended various strengthening and blood medicines, but I never received any permanent benefit until I tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. It was recommended to me by Mrs. Newcombe, on State St. I think it a wonderful medicine to give one strength and enliven a person. I have recommended it to family after family among my acquaintances in Springfield, Mass., and FAVORITE REMEDY has done a great deal of good wherever it has been placed. I have a sister, Mrs. Harmon, 29 Tremont St., Lowell, Mass., who was troubled with nervous weakness and loss of strength and appetite, but by using Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY her health was completely restored. I consider it an excellent medicine. Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is used extensively among the Armory men here."

No, Sir!

A Scotch minister once said no woman could bear pain as well as man. That is not so. The fact is generally the other way. Mrs. Edward Meyers of Rondout, N. Y., submitted to the operation of the removal of her hand by amputation, without taking ether, or moving a muscle or uttering a groan. Dr. Kennedy, also of Rondout, N. Y., who performed the operation, said he never saw such heroism. The lady's disease was erysipelas, and afterward the doctor gave his FAVORITE REMEDY to cleanse the blood. Mrs. Meyers is now well and strong.

His First Day at Saratoga.

Saratoga was a new idea to him. It was so jolly to go from spring to spring and take a drink of the water of each. No two of the springs tasted alike. There are about forty springs at Saratoga. After tasting nearly half of these, he began to have a queer feeling inside him. After spending most of the day in this way, he went to bed. It seemed as if all the water-works of the lower regions were raising a riot within him. After several hours of agony, he thought of Ferry Davis's Pain Killer. It gave him relief and comfort, and charmed him to sleep.

On the passage of the Colby railroad bill in the house, the vote was politically divided as follows: For the bill, 92 republicans, 52 democrats; against the bill, 64 republicans, 41 democrats.

"Turn the Rascals Out."

The trial of the naval cadets by court martial at Annapolis, Md., shows that the young gentlemen (?) have no respect for the rules of the navy they are bound to obey as officers, and no appreciation of the positions they are designed to fill. It also shows a laxity of discipline or attention to what is going on, by the officers of the practice ships, who have been negligent in their duty not to have known of these outrages at the time. One of the charges against Cadet Trapnell was the requiring B. W. Stearns to go through the motions of swimming on a lashed hammock made fast to a slip-knot, which gave way, throwing Stearns on the deck; and also compelling Stearns to lie motionless for ten minutes in a tank in the washroom, Trapnell pleaded guilty of all the specifications, and should of course be summarily dismissed. The pity is that the government should waste so much money in educating boys who have no inherent qualities for becoming either gentlemen or officers.

The Great Gale.

A despatch of Sept. 2d from Halifax, N. S., reports the loss of the fishing schooner J. W. Russell, of Mahone Bay, N. S., during the previously reported great gale of Aug. 29th on the Grand banks. She was knocked down while lying-to, had seven men washed overboard and two drowned in the hold, and was made a wreck. Four men were taken from the hulk by the schooner Frank Delmar, of Gloucester.

The schooner Welcome, of Lunenburg, went down at her anchors at East Cape, Prince Edward island, and ten men were drowned, one only escaping.

A schooner was passed bottom up not far from Georges bank, and considerable wreck stuff was seen, by brig S. J. Mussen.

Steamer Edgar Stuart arrived at Halifax on the 1st, having in tow the schooner Active, whose sails were blown away in the gale. At Cow Bay, Cape Breton, the American brig Atlas, and the schooners J. C. Tupper, Volunteer, Blue Wave and Ripple, are total wrecks.

Schooner Ella, of Liverpool, N. S., was totally wrecked at Port Morton. Brig Curlew was driven ashore at Lingan, C. B., and barque Alice at St. Anns.

American fishing schooner Reporter had arrived at Trepassy, Newfoundland, having been driven before the gale under bare poles from Fishing ledge. She had 1700 quintals of fish on board, and was swept constantly by the sea. She lost a dory and two men when the gale sprang up.

Schooner Sabine arrived at St. Johns, N. F., on the 1st; her captain reports that a number of very deeply-laden vessels were near him when the storm came on, and he fears many of them must have succumbed to its fury.

The Raymond California Excursions.

The Raymond excursions to California have won increased favor from year to year, and the project now announced by the enterprising firm of Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, of two winter trips to the Pacific coast, will certainly prove very popular. The object of these excursions is to afford eastern people an opportunity to avoid the harsh winter and early spring weather, by a sojourn in a genial and healthful clime, such as California possesses to a remarkable degree. The dates of departure are October 18th and December 27th, and the routes to and from the Pacific coast will be different. Two months will be passed at the beautiful Hotel del Monte, Monterey, and there are also arrangements for sojourns at San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, San Diego, the Sierra Madre Villa at San Gabriel, Riverside, Colton, etc., according to individual choice. The stay in California can be prolonged to the early summer or not, according to desire. There are many other novel features which will commend themselves to all, and which are fully explained in a handsome circular just issued. This may be had by addressing W. Raymond, 240 Washington street, Boston.

There is a proposition to make a present of Dorsey to the democrats. He was a republican as long as there was anything to be made out of it. The only reason who Dorsey does not not give himself to the democrats is that he sees no prospects of their future political success. The democrats could use him for campaign purposes, and the republicans could spare him provided he would be received by his democratic friends.

In the equity suit of John H. Pearson vs. the Concord railroad et al., commenced in 1879, in which the plaintiff claimed that the directors, holding positions as such in the Northern, the Boston, Concord & Montreal, and the Concord railroads, had no authority to contract with others as to operation and business of the roads and their connections, which was virtually and essentially contracting with themselves, the court decided, Judge Smith delivering an opinion, that the contracts were illegal; that one corporation cannot legally hold stock in another unless expressly permitted by its charter; that the present case requires the appointment by court of a provisional trustee to make such contracts as the interests of the railroads require, and such as directors are incapacitated from making on account of their conflicting interests. It will be seen that this tears up many of he arrangements under which our New Hampshire railroads are now owned and operated, and unless the legislation of this summer helps matters, will necessitate extensive changes.

Fortunate Chance of a Lieut. Chance, U. S. A.

Lt. Josiah Chance of the 17th Regiment Infantry, U. S. Army, at the close of the late war, having served entirely through it, was commissioned in the regular service. Eleven years ago he was stationed at Bismarck, and he has been there ever since. Under his superintendence Camp Hancock was built, and the present Fort Lincoln. He shook hands with the gallant Custer when he left to march to death, and one of the first tears to fall over his sad fate fell from Lieut. Chance. At present he is at Lincoln, and no officer at the fort is held in better esteem than he. He drew $30,000 in the July drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery, at a cost of $2. Every Bismarcker knows him, and the Tribune heard but one expression: "Good! It couldn't have fallen to a better man." He says he will invest it in Dakota dirt, and will remain in the service. Through the Bismarck Nat. Bank he drew on New Orleans for his $30,-00. Lieut. Chance held two-fifths of ticket No. 87,248. The ticket drew the capital prize of $75,-000.—Bismarck (Dakota) Tribune, July 17.

Grave fears are entertained among the friends of Lieutenant Greeley that the little colony at Lady Franklin bay, in the Arctic regions, is in a precarious condition, and unless the relief expedition sent out this year reaches the point where the colony is located, the difficulties of the situation will be greatly augmented. No tidings of any kind have been received from the party since they were taken there two years ago, and all is conjecture as to their experience during that long period.

The acting secretary of the navy has cabled Commander Brown, commanding the Jamestown, now on the European station, to receive Peter Lagoff from the authorities at Gibraltar and bring him to the United States. Lagoff is the mate of an American merchant vessel, who was arrested at Gibraltar on a charge of inciting his crew to mutiny.

If it were possible

to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory testimonies, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medicinal value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. I have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,
JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE WILBUR OPERA CO.

The comic opera "Billee Taylor" will be given in Music hall this evening by the Wilbur Opera Co., which includes Mr. Brand, Mr. Conly, Miss Susie Kirwin, Miss Ray Samuels and others who won the popular favor when the company was here last year. Mr. McCollin takes the part of Ben Barnacle, in which it is said he has no equal; and the entire cast is a strong one. Tickets at Goodrich's bookstore.

DEATH OF CHARLES HAYES.

Mr. Charles Hayes died at the Hayes farm, at the Plains, early Monday morning, in the 81st year of his age. He was a native of Berwick, Me., and came to this city from Cambridge, Mass., forty-two years ago last April, since which time he has resided on the farm on which he died. One son, Mr. Charles H. Hayes, and two daughters, one the wife of Joseph O. Ham, the other the wife of Dr. Andrew B. Sherburne, survive him. Mr. Hayes was all through life an industrious man, of strict integrity and firm convictions, a good citizen, and much esteemed by all who knew him.

WHITE MOUNTAIN EXCURSION.

On Wednesday, Sept. 12th, there will be an excursion via the Eastern railroad to Fabyan's, leaving Portsmouth at 7:30 o'clock A. M., and arriving at Fabyan's at 11:30 A. M.; returning, leave Fabyan's at 4:00 P. M., arriving at Portsmouth at eight o'clock. Fare for the round trip, $2.25; tickets good to return on for six days.

GOSSIPS SAY

That Landlord Goodwin of the Kearsarge house has leased the long-vacant tenement in the Waldron block, and fitted it suitably for the accommodation of guests who may be unable to find rooms in the hotel proper because of the largely increased patronage.

That Herbert W. Nowell, clerk at the Kearsarge house, has accepted an advantageous offer as bookkeeper with the Exeter Machine Co.

That in the first day's sham fight, last week, the approach of the frigate Portsmouth, under convoy of the sloops Hawley, Bertha G, Success and Truant, of the harbor fleet, was truly majestic and awe-inspiring.

That the cloud-piercing flag-staff around which the military were to rally, was safely moored on the oyster-flats below the stone beacon, where the marauding enemy wouldn't think of looking for it.

That the casualties among the land forces resulted principally from thirst, the sanitary commission having failed to establish lemonade booths on the field of battle, as is the usual custom.

That on board the sloop Truant a young school ma'am from Keene was prostrated at the sight of so many military men.

That the torchlight procession in the evening was in celebration of the dashing affair of the afternoon.

That in the second day's sham battle the two colonels defended the guns with great gallantry.

That the commander of one of the guns was so carried away by the spirit of war that he refused to surrender until two of the attacking party got him down and sat on him.

That he refused to surrender even then, and the assailants had to give it up.

That at least 7000 persons witnessed the conflict, and twice as many more heard the sound of the cannonading.

That among those who went down the river to see the sham battle was a young clerk, who "went it alone" in a skiff.

That he had always supposed himself stronger than the tide, but found himself sadly mistaken.

That wearied by his efforts he laid down in the bottom of the boat to rest, getting there in one motion by turning a back-somersault over the thwarts and losing both oars, to the loudly-expressed admiration of several boat-loads of ladies.

That he will have the oars tied to him the next time he goes down river.

That young people should never go on the river until they know how to row.

That the churches are now being run under the fall arrangement, most of them making full time.

CARD OF THANKS.

Col. Sise Steam F. E. Co. No. 2, hereby express their sincere thanks to Hon. E. H. Winchester for the loan of horses to draw their engine on the day of the procession.

The life-saving station at Rye beach was opened on Saturday, the 1st inst., and will not close until May 1st. All the stations on the Atlantic and gulf coasts, not previously manned, opened on Saturday.

The 2:40 P. M. accommodation train from this city to Boston, and the 2:55 express train, were both behind time in starting on Saturday last, owing to the heavy rush of passengers from the summer resorts; the accommodation train had twelve passenger coaches and two baggage cars, and the express train thirteen passenger coaches and three baggage cars; and they were all well filled. The trains from the eastward, Monday afternoon, were a half-hour late on an average in arriving, and were all loaded down on leaving for the westward.

The seat in the high school formerly occupied by William A. D. Waldron was exquisitely decorated with flowers by the young ladies of the school, at the reopening of the sessions on Monday morning—a beautiful and appropriate tribute to the memory of the deceased, whose many good qualities had made him a favorite with his fellow pupils and won him the deserved respect of his teachers.

In another column will be found an advertisement of the opening of a dancing school for young ladies, masters and misses, by the veteran instructor, Mr. Samuel Lamprey. There is nothing to be said, that we know of, to add to his reputation as a skillful and painstaking teacher.

The reunion of New Hampshire Veterans at Weirs on the 11th inst. will be attended by Storer Post in a body, with a drum corps, and it is hoped that no member who can possibly be present on that occasion will fail to occupy his place in the line. Veterans from surrounding towns are invited to join.

The American Missionary Association will hold a meeting in this city on Thursday, Sept. 27th.

From fifty to sixty persons gathered at Mr. Henry Bean's place in Newington on Saturday to enjoy a clambake and picnic; they had the picnic all right, but not being able to procure at Newburyport the two barrels of clams sent for, were obliged to subsisute oysters. Quite a large party of young people had a picnic at Mr. Cyrus Frink's place on the bay shore, the same day.

Parties who own or occupy stables on Vaughan street, just below the railroad tracks, seem to labor under the impression that they have a perfect right to use the street for the storage of carts or a playground for loose horses, which occasions complaint from persons using the street to drive or walk in.

The biggest potato we have seen this year was brought in last week by Mr. Charles E. Trefethen of Rye, and weighed two pounds fourteen ounces. It consisted of one big central potato and five smaller ones, all smooth and fair, and was sold to a Market street dealer for a quarter, to hang in his window. It is of the "Clark's seedling" variety, and Mr. Trefethen informs us that he could have picked out a large number weighing from one to one and a quarter pounds each, perfectly smooth and free from nubbles.

The steamer Fearless has hauled off from the Kittery Point line, and anchored near Badger's island. The summer trade is about over.

The Marion was not docked on Monday, as had been intended, on account of the heavy wind.

The training ship Portsmouth left the navy yard wharf Monday morning, and was towed to sea by the tug Leyden shortly before nine o'clock.

The semi-annual dividend due stockholders of the Wolfeboro' railroad will be paid at the office of Hon. Frank Jones, Market street, Wednesday, Sept. 5th, from nine o'clock to twelve.

The Nashua Telegraph of Aug. 31st says: "The Torrent Steam Fire Engine company boys returned from the Portsmouth muster last night, and were warmly welcomed home by the members of the department. They had a splendid time, and they declare that Portsmouth is a wide-awake place, instead of a sleepy town as some people imagine."

The Granite Engine Co. of Newmarket, winners of the second prize for hand engine at the muster, on returning home Thursday evening were invited to a clam chowder in the town hall provided by J. B. Silver of Silver's hotel, the Tiger Engine Co. and Newmarket Mills Hose Co. being also invited to participate.

The head boatman at the Hotel Wentworth this season was J. H. Baker, a brother of Capt. Edwin M. Baker, formerly commander of the steamer Appledore.

The "Atlantic Monthly" for October, November, and December will be rendered specially note-worthy by articles from Mr. Emerson's unpublished manuscripts. The first of these is entitled Historic Notes of Life and Letters in Massachusetts, and if marked by the most charming qualities of Mr. Emerson's genius. The November article will be upon Dr. Ezra Ripley, and that of the December number on Mary Moody Emerson.

"The Philosophical Basis of Theism; an Examination of the Personality of Man, to Ascertain his Capacity to Know and Serve God; and the Validity of the Principle Underlying the Defence of Theism," is an important new book by Dr. Samuel Harris, of Yale College, which Charles Scribner's Sons will publish immediately. The work is the growth of many years of instruction and research, and it treats with a fullness and scope never before attempted the great questions which lie at the basis of all reasonable belief, first of all in the existence of God and the truth of Christianity, and incidentally in the reality and trustworthiness of knowledge in general.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings, 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. SKIN HUMORS

Wonderful Cure of a Lad 12 years old, who for 8 years, from the top of his head to his ankles, was One Mass of Scabs.

MY SON, a lad twelve years of age, was afflicted with the worst form of Eczema for a period of eight years. So virulent was it that from the top of his head to within a few inches of his ankles he was one mass of scabs, which refused to yield to any treatment that was attempted. Every remedy that was suggested by friends or physicians was tried in vain. Allopathy, homeopathy, herbs, roots, salt-water baths, flaxseed poultices, soaps, ointments, and in short everything that could be done to eradicate the disorder seemed only to aggravate it, and the child's life became a burden to him, and the expense of the various experiments was a constant drain upon our resources.

My wife, reading the advertisement of the CUTICURA REMEDIES in one of the daily papers, resolved to make one more attempt at a cure. (The disease was now encroaching upon his face, and seemed incurable.) I gave a reluctant consent to the proposal, and an interview was sought with a famous lady physician of New York, who made a most thorough examination of the case, and promised a cure without the least hesitation by the use of your CUTICURA REMEDIES. In ONE WEEK there was a marked change; the raw and angry sores began to grow pale and along the outer edges scabs formed, and at a time were on they began to disappear entirely, until at date present writing the only vestage is one small spot upon the forearm, scarcely visible and fast disappearing.

Thus after eight years of expense and anxiety, we have the joyful satisfaction of seeing our child's skin as fair and smooth as it was before this dreadful cutaneous disorder attacked him.

Sincerely yours,
CHAS. EAYRE HINKLE.

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Now people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver trouble, or dyspepsia, while of the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart. The renowned Dr. Cheadinding, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred delirium. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

The Java Calamity.

The Marquis of Ripon, governor general of India, has sent two agents to Bantam to ascertain the extent of the calamity in Java and the neighboring islands, caused by the recent volcanic disturbances. Ships have been sent in various directions to warn vessels approaching the strait of Sunda of the dangers of navigation.

The London Standard's correspondent at Amsterdam says it is believed that 100,000 persons perished in North Bantam in the great calamity. It is also believed that the garrison and the fort at Anjer were swept away. An extensive plain of volcanic stone has formed in the sea of Lampony, Sumatra, preventing communication with Telokbelong and southwest Java.

The later details of the disaster rather add to the horror of the earlier accounts.

All aids to navigation in the straits of Sunda were destroyed, and many mountain peaks thrust into the air in places where before wrs deep water. The full effect of the convulsion on navigation is not yet apparent.

The entire character of the straits has been changed, former islands having disappeared, and new ones arisen. A tract of land fifty miles square, on which were a number of villages, is now a sea; and the Kandang range of mountains, extending sixty-five miles in a semi-circle, is entirely under water.

The town of Tanerang was destroyed by lava and rod-hot stones, with a loss of 4000 lives.

The islands of Orius, Cataye, Claps, Fonwer, Singkel and others, were wholly engulphed; Baby, Cheriboo and Midot islands were swept, of buildings and inhabitants by the tidal wave.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat well and am happy and hungry.—[EDITOR.

Naval Affairs.

The Galena arrived at New York on Monday from Hampton roads.

The Quinnebaug has arrived at Southampton, Eng., from the coast of Africa.

The navy department has received from Henry D. Wolff of New York a naval button and a copper cent, taken by a native of Alaska from a body which he found on an ice floe. The authorities say that the relics are undoubtedly from the remains of Master Putnam, U. S. N., of the ill-fated steamer Rodgers, who was lost.

The court martial for the trial of cadets charged with hazing was resumed at Annapolis, Md., Monday morning. Naval Cadet P. Andrews pleaded guilty to the charge of making Cadet McGee sing on the berth deck of the Constellation, but pleaded not guilty to the other charges. Cadet Bershoff pleaded not guilty.

Sandy Simms, colored, died in Washington a few days ago. It is said that he was born a slave in 1777, and bought his freedom before the war. For several years he had been a bootblack near the corner of Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue. He was a member of the Ebenezer church for more than sixty years. At his funeral, after speaking of the deceased man's long life, the preacher asked: "Who in this congregation has lived 106 years?" "I have," said one of the sisters, rising. She was Elizabeth Coates of East Washington. Her friends say that she is in her 106th year.

When you feel yourself gradually breaking down don't wait until you have taken to your bed. While you are still able to be up and about fight the grim monster disease by the use of proper restoratives. The best remedy for malaria, indigestion, weak kidneys, constant fatigue, fits of dizziness, heart disease, short breath and other complications of a disordered system is Brown's Iron Bitters. Its magic influence in conquering disease of an exhaustive nature is most astonishing.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had taken it a week she had a rousing appetite, and did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested." C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hay Fever.

For Hay Fever I recommend Ely's Cream Balm. It entirely relieved me from the first application; have been a sufferer for ten years. Going from home and neglecting to take the remedy, I had an attack; after returning I immediately resorted to it, and found instant relief. I believe, had I begun its use earlier, I should not have been troubled. J. Collyer, Clerk, 118 Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J.

My brother Myron and myself were both cured to all appearance of catarrh and hay fever last July and August. Up to this date, Dec. 28, neither have had any return of these troubles. Ely's Cream Balm was the medicine used. Gabriel Ferris, Spencer, N. Y.

Swindlers and their Victims---How Careless People Suffer in Health and Pocket.

Every streak of sunshine creates a shadow, and behind every truth crouches its corresponding lie. Whosoever has not been in some way fooled and robbed by swindlers and their works has had better luck in life than most mortals. In fact the best witnesses to the value of a given article are the counterfeits and imitations which seek to share its success without possessing a fraction of its merit. Hence it goes without saying that are pursued by a host of miserable and worthless imitators, eager to appropriate what they can of the fruits of its victories. These leeches commonly take the form of a cheap plaster.

Now, these harmless and worthless plasters would be detected in a minute if people were careful in reading and remembering names. But most persons merely glance at them, understand partially and forget instantly. What result? This: Desiring to buy BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER, their own carelessness enables some storekeeper or druggist, who cares more for five or ten cents additional profit than for the sweets of an approving conscience, to roll them up instead some cheap imitation with a similar name. The deceit often works, while the fraudulent plasters never do.

Don't permit yourself to be thus victimized for lack of a moment's care. BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS have stood the test of science and experience and are the product of both. Examine the article, and satisfy yourself that the word CAPCINE is OUT in it.

MEDICAL.

MRS. C. W. CHAMBERLIN

State and Ark Sts., Springfield, Mass.—Her Good, Kind Words will do Much for the Afflicted.

Mrs. Chamberlin is the wife of C. W. Chamberlin, an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield, Mass. She says: "Every Spring I have been, for some time past, more or less troubled with nervous debility and weakness. Some years I've been completely run down. My physician has recommended various strengthening and blood medicines, but I never received any permanent benefit until I tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. It was recommended to me by Mrs. Newcombe, on State St. I think it a wonderful medicine to give one strength and enliven a person. I have recommended it to family after family among my acquaintances in Springfield, Mass., and FAVORITE REMEDY has done a great deal of good wherever it has been placed. I have a sister, Mrs. Harmon, 29 Tremont St., Lowell, Mass., who was troubled with nervous weakness and loss of strength and appetite, but by using Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY her health was completely restored. I consider it an excellent medicine. Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is used extensively among the Armory men here."

No, Sir!

A Scotch minister once said no woman could bear pain as well as man. That is not so. The fact is generally the other way. Mrs. Edward Meyers of Rondout, N. Y., submitted to the operation of the removal of her hand by amputation, without taking ether, or moving a muscle or uttering a groan. Dr. Kennedy, also of Rondout, N. Y., who performed the operation, said he never saw such heroism. The lady's disease was erysipelas, and afterward the doctor gave his FAVORITE REMEDY to cleanse the blood. Mrs. Meyers is now well and strong.

His First Day at Saratoga.

Saratoga was a new idea to him. It was so jolly to go from spring to spring and take a drink of the water of each. No two of the springs tasted alike. There are about forty springs at Saratoga. After tasting nearly half of these, he began to have a queer feeling inside him. After spending most of the day in this way, he went to bed. It seemed as if all the water-works of the lower regions were raising a riot within him. After several hours of agony, he thought of Perry Davis's Pain Killer. It gave him relief and comfort, and charmed him to sleep.

The Dryest Month in Twelve Years.

The Boston Journal of Friday, Aug. 31st, said: "The month of August closes to-day, the weather indications promising no rain, and the records of the United States signal office showing the rain-fall for the month to be the smallest recorded for any month since the signal station was established twelve years ago. Old inhabitants say that such a dry time has not been known for seventeen years. According to the records at the signal office the rainfall for the month is but a little more than a third of an inch. Rain fell on seven days only, and on two of the days—the 1st and the 20th—the quantity was inappreciable.

The average rainfall for the month of August, calculated from the records of the past twelve years, is 4.65 inches, so that the amount for the present month, 0.39 inches, falls 4.26 inches below the average. In August, 1882, the amount was also much below the August average, being only 1.46 inch, and in August, 1881, it was but 1.23 inch, the smallest on record for the month previous to this year.

Not only has the present month been extraordinarily dry, but the entire summer season has been the dryest in at least four years, the total rainfall for the months of June, July and August being 5.19 inches. For the corresponding months last year the rainfall was 6.40 inches; in 1881 it was 11.98 inches, and in 1880 it was 10.51 inches, the average for the four summers being 8.52 inches. In 1880 June was the dryest month of the season, the rainfall being only 0.75 inch. August was the dryest month in the summer of 1881, and June was again the dryest month last year. In June 1881, the rainfall was 7.79 inches, and in July, 1880, it was 6.86 inches. The nearest approach to these figures was in July, 1881, when it was 2.69 inches, a great falling off. The total rainfall of this summer, and also that of last summer, were exceeded by that of July, 1880, and that of June, 1881. These figures furnish matter for study to students of climatic phenomena."

Winter Excursions to California.

The Pacific coast is fast gaining favor as a winter resort. The southern half of California possesses a winter climate that is not equalled in any part of the globe for salubrity and equality of temperature. The "rainy season," so called, so far from being unpleasant, has more cloudless days than New England has in a whole year, and serves to freshen foliage and flowers, which everywhere abound. At Monterey, Santa Monica and elsewhere on the coast, surf-bathing is indulged in during all the winter months. Fresh fruits and vegetables may be eaten at Christmas. Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb will take out two parties to California for the coming season. One will leave Boston October 18th and the the other December 27th. Two months will be passed at the elegant and fashionable Hotel del Monte, Monterey, the most luxurious watering-place hotel in America, and than Santa Barbara, San Diego, Santa Monica, River side, the Sierra Madre Villa at San Gabriel, Colton, San Francisco, or any other places of attraction and resort, may be visited, according to individual choice. Ample time is afforded for seeing the sights of the Pacific coast, and the traveller can return when he pleases, thus making his stay long or short, to suit his convenience. A circular, giving full details of these novel trips, may be had by addressing W. Raymond, 240 Washington street, Boston.

Steamship Yoxford, which arrived at Philadelphia Sept. 2d, brought in two men belonging to the fishing schooner Reporter, having on Aug. 26th taken them out of a dory thirty miles southwest of the Virgin rocks, (banks of Newfoundland,) after they had been twelve hours in the boat in a heavy gale.

The reports from Pensacola, Fla., on the 3d inst announced one new case of yellow fever at the navy yard, and one death, that of Dr. Bosso. Last year, when the fever was raging at Pensacola, Dr. Bosso appeared with a specific, and obtained from hundreds of intelligent people certificates of marvellous cures. When the fever appeared at the yard Bosso went there, and the people on the naval reservation gave him certificates of more cures.

The condition of the district of Lampong, Sumatra, is terrible. Everything in the district, for a distance of five leagues inland, has been destroyed. Thousands of dead are lying on the ground, and it is impossible to approach them for their interment, because of the natives being furiously angered against Dutchmen, whom they hold responsible for the calamity on account of the Acheen war.

A despatch to the London Times from China says that it is reported that 15,000 Chinese troops have crossed the Mongkai and are proceeding to Naidnong. A squadron of vessels is loading at Shanghai with troops, ammunition and torpedoes. A despatch to the Standard from Hong Kong states that the French Gen. Bouet has demanded of the war department an additional reinforcement of 5,000 men. The country is still suffering from floods. The French admiral has issued a notice declaring all the ports of Annam, including Saigon, in a state of blockade.

A new book by Dr. Mark Hopkins, entitled "The Scriptural Idea of Man," is in the press of Messrs. Scribner's Sons. It is a system of psychology drawn from the teachings of the Bible. Dr. Hopkins has made the study of man as a thinking being, and in all his mental and moral relations, his special province. In its main lines the book follows the system of the author's widely used "Outline Study of Man," though the subject is treated from the religious instead of the purely philosophical side. The writings of the geatest teachers of the present day are constantly cited, and the entire discussion is with reference to prevailing modes of thought and feeling.

Too Late! Too Late!!

The late pow for any one, whatever may be his position or by whatever motive actuated, to attempt to throw any calumny or insinuate anything injurious to the fair fame of The Louisiana State Lottery, which, incorporated by the State of Louisiana in 1868, gives to the world renowned Charity Hospital at New Orleans, La., the princely sum of $1,000,000, and scatters millions broadcast from Nova Scotia to Panama. Its monthly drawings take place on the second Tuesday of each month (the 10th, on Sept. 11th,) and Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., stand ready to affix their signatures the absolute fairness, strict integrity, and entire good faith towards all parties of the drawings which are conducted entirely and solely by them. All information can be had cheerfully from M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., on application.

Dr. Gerhard Uhlhorn, whose able work, "The Conflict of Christianity with Heathenism," made his name well known on this side of the Atlantic, has prepared a new book, "Christian Charity in the Ancient Church," of which Messrs. Scribner will publish the American edition at once. In this he shows that modern charity is the creation of Christianity, by drawing out in detail the difference between the ancient and the modern world. The forms which liberal it took in the ancient world, such as the extravagant distributions and special donations in the Roman empire, are compared with the contributions of the early Christians for the support of the poor diseased, the care of the church for the orphan and widow, the action of Christianity on slavery, the new scope and meaning given to hospitality, and the concern manifested for the lot of prisoners and captives.

His Revenge.

They were riding up from the Wall street ferry in a bus. He lifted his hat to her in a gingerly manner, and she bowed with the coldness of an iceberg.

"Know her?" asked a man at his elbow.

"Know her! Why I was engaged to her last fall!"

"And what?"

"And she gave me the bounce. She said she loved me, but she could not endure the thought of a struggle with a French flat and tapestry Brussels carpets. I went forth a crushed man, but revenge is mine!"

"How?"

"Why, her father put $150,000 in a summer hotel, and the company hasn't made enough to pay the wages of the head waiter!"—Wall Street News.

—"No," said Deacon Hull, "you don't get me to trade horses with Lem Rogers. He's a man you can't deceive about a horse."

—Every man who carries a pistol ought to be obliged to wear it in a belt at his side, and have it labelled "emotional insanity."

—A lady applied at a country post-office for her mail, and was handed a postal card with the remark: "If you can make any sense out of it you can do better than I can."

—"Any romance about my marriage?" said the Ohio man; "bet your eyes there was. My wife's mother had to thump her husband's head to a jelly with a rolling-pin to get him to consent to it."

—She was eating green corn from a cob, when her teeth became entangled with a corn silk. "Oh dear!" said she, impatiently, "I wish when they got the corn made they would pull out the basting-threads."

MEDICAL.

If it were possible to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. This is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medical value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,

JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

A GOOD DEMAND.

A circular from Nebraska received at this office says: "From present indications there is likely to be a good demand for money in this state during the coming fall and winter." The same is likely to prove the case here.

If we accepted all invitations to invest which daily poor in upon us there would be such a financial embarrassment about our office that no one but Sheriff Kent could be master of the situation. We could perhaps borrow a little for the sake of having a few first mortgage loans in Nebraska, but then we can easily foresee that the paper dealers would begin to draw upon us "at sight" without grace," the boys in the office would become graceless, the sub-editors and reporters would grow careless, the domestic duns would be presented in a less moderate and more frequent manner, and we should, while revelling in the anticipation of future wealth, be subjected to the pinching of present poverty. No; no Nebraska ours just yet, thank you.

GOSSIPS SAY

That a gentleman at Christian Shore has a sunflower stalk in his garden upon which are eighty full-blown flowers.

That the Eastern railroad is building a spur track into the yard of the Portsmouth Machine Co.'s works.

That Mayor Treat has been invited to attend the Veterans' Reunion at Weirs.

That it was the yacht Republic, of Providence, R. I., which carried away her jibboom in the lower harbor last week, and not the Resolute as reported.

That Archie Jenness of Rye and Frank Moses of this city entered the bicycle races at the New England fair in Manchester on Tuesday.

That seven members of the Portsmouth Bicycle club were in Manchester that day.

That young Jenness won the race, showing both speed and endurance on the wheel.

That Messrs. Joseph L. Locke and M. J. Ryan, of this city, have entered their Irish setter dogs at the same fair.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J.

TUESDAY, Sept. 4th.

Thomas Murphy, drunk, was allowed to go on probation, he signing the pledge.

Wilbur Haley and his wife, Sarah Haley, were before the court on a charge of brawl and tumult; they were each fined $2, with $5.76 costs, and the woman promptly paid her assessment, but up to last advices Wilbur had not been able to make up $8.76.

A fire in Wendell's woods, Sagamore creek, shortly after midnight Sunday night, burned about twenty cords of cut wood, and did some other damage. The light and smoke of the fire were seen from this city.

A very heavy frost occurred at Rye and Hampton on Monday night, cutting down much of the vegetables, and causing the summer boarders still remaining to go about clad in overcoats; many of them started for home on Tuesday, and those left are preparing to depart.

It has been noticed that quite a number of engines entered for the muster did not come, and that quite a number of companies were represented by only a few delegates each, though they had requested accommodations for full companies and machines. One reason—and we have no doubt the principal one—for this to be found in the excessively dry weather and shortness of water causing the authorities of many places to refuse permission to companies to take their machines abroad. The precaution is not to be wondered at, and we doubt very much whether the authorities of Portsmouth would have allowed one of our engines to be taken away for three days last week to attend a muster in some other city, had such been held.

Quite a fleet of brick schooners came down from up river Tuesday afternoon, and sailed for Boston with a favoring breeze.

The full resources of the railroads are taxed to furnish transportation to the returning summer visitors, and in a few days "the season" of 1883 will be at an end; it is practically over now, on the sea-coast, some of the hotels and boarding houses having already closed, and the patronage of others being reduced to small dimensions, and rapidly growing less. The season generally has been one of but very moderate profit, with the balance in not a few instances on the wrong side of the profit and loss account. The coolness of the weather since the middle of July is hardly sufficient to account for this, for it was hot enough during the latter part of June and the first part of July to have driven all intending visitors out of the cities, but still they did not come to the summer resorts.

Two comfortable dwellings, with gardens belonging to each, situated on Sparhawk and Pine streets, will be sold at auction at noon on Thursday, the 6th inst., by Morse & Ilsley. This sale is made to close an estate, and will be without reserve. The buildings are reported to be in good order, and it will pay any one in want of a comfortable homestead at a moderate price to attend this auction.

Ceres street is in a bad condition; there is a lot of rubbish and filth there which should be removed.

T. S. Gay & Co. are making sails for the schooner Spartan of New Haven, Capt. Hodgdon, a vessel which has made many visits to this port.

The new postal notes can now be procured at any money-order office, and will be found a great convenience for the safe transmission by mail of sums under five dollars, without the sender having to go through all the red tape attached to the money-order system. The price for a note of any denomination not exceeding $4.99 is three cents, added to the face value of the note; all the notes are alike until certain figures are punched out, the several figures so removed designating the value of the note and its date of issue. It appears to be almost impossible to defraud the government by altering the value of these notes.

The Ellis Family of bell ringers, instrumentalists and vocalists, will give an entertainment in Music hall Tuesday evening, Sept. 11th, introducing 164 tuned sleigh bells, (original with this family,) hand bells, staff bells, (they have the set of staff bells formerly owned by Fanny Peake, and imported expressly for her,) copophone, guitar, steels, and zither. Besides the instrumental performance there will be some choice vocal music, and two or three recitations. The press notices of their entertainments are highly commendatory. The Ellis Family have been spending the summer at York beach, where they have purchased quite a large tract of land with intention of putting up summer residences thereon.

John Silloway, who was employed on the navy yard during the war as plumber, was found dead in his bed at his boarding house in Charlestown, Mass., on Monday morning last. He was about fifty-two years old.

ASAHEL GOODWIN.

A correspondent in Cape Neddick, York, sends us the following in regard to the late Asahel Goodwin of that town, whose death has already been noticed:

"Mr. Goodwin was of a social and genial turn in manners, liberal in his religious creed, democratic in politics. He taught school for a long series of years in this and neighboring towns, until 1848, when he entered into mercantile business, which he successfully followed till 1862.

About this time he built several vessels, one of which, the schooner Othello, 400 tons burthen, proved a very unlucky enterprise. She was chartered by the United States government at $50 per day, to transport war ordnance from Wilmington, N. C., to New York, and on the passage to the latter place was obliged, on account of a gale and the breaking of an essential iron bolt, to put into St. Thomas, W. I., for repairs, the cost of which was excessive; and, as adverse fate would have it, the two insurance companies in which the Othello was insured collapsed, and the cost fell upon the owners of the vessel, of whom Mr. Goodwin was the principal. This proved unfortunate to him, embarrassing him in his business and causing him much anxiety; he had a good business tack and turn, and had this not taken place, was in a fair way of being highly successful.

The poor will miss him; he carried with him a kind, benevolent heart, and the poor found in him a friend indeed. The town has lost a good citizen. He leaves a widow, four brothers and one sister, to mourn their loss.

GEO. M. FREEMAN."

The U. S. S. Marion was taken into the dry dock Tuesday forenoon. She is to be stripped of her copper, recalked, have a new deck put in, and receive other minor repairs. The work will be done in the dock.

S. W. Junkins of York and J. H. Junkins of Boston have erected a handsome monument of Quincy granite in the York cemetery, in memory of their father, Col. Washington Junkins, who died July 9th, 1882.

The water supply of the Boston & Maine railroad has given out at North Berwick, and east-bound trains have to take water at Dover.

J. W. Dearborn & Co.'s steam sawmill at Parsonsfield was burned last Sunday morning. Loss. $7,000; insured.

Judge Allen of the supreme court left his summer place of sojourn at Kittery Point on Monday, going to Newport to hold the trial term of the court begining on the 4th inst. in Sullivan county.

The steamer Gen. Bartlett, which was run ashore at the mouth of Saco river in a sinking condition last Friday evening, having struck a rock, was hauled off the bank and towed to Portland on Sunday, by the tug Phebe.

Bret Harte's new California story, "In the Carquinez Woods," will be published early in September in a Little Classic volume.

The death of Count Chambord lends fresh interest to the eighth chapter of Mr. Hardy's remarkable novel "But Yet a Woman," which relates how Stephanie carried to the count the programme of his loyal adherents for placing him on the French throne, and how he calmly rejected it, and thereby virtually shut himself out from the throne forever.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

238th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

Cuticura
THE GREAT SKIN CURES

TO cleanse the skin, Scalp and Blood of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Scrofulous, Inherited, and Contagious Humors, Blood Poisons, Ulcers, Abscesses, and Infantile Skin Tortures, the CUTICURA REMEDIES are infallible. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, Diuretic and Aperient, expels disease germs from the blood and perspiration, and thus removes the causes. CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, instantly allays Itching and Inflammation, cools the Skin and Scalp, heals Ulcers and Sores, restores the Complexion. CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier and Toilet Requisite, is indispensable in treating skin diseases, and for rough, chapped or greasy skin, blackheads, blotches, and baby humors. CUTICURA REMEDIES are the only infallible blood purifiers and skin beautifiers.

Chas. Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State street, Boston, reports a case of Salt Rheum under his observation for ten years, which covered the patient's body and limbs, and to which all known methods of treatment had been applied without benefit, which was completely cured solely by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stebbins, Belchertown, Mass., write: Our little boy was terribly afflicted with scrofula, Salt Rheum and Erysipelas ever since he was born, and nothing we could give him helped him until we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES, which gradually cured him, until he is now as fair as any child.

H. E. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by CUTICURA REMEDIES. The most wonderful cure on record. A dustpan full of scales fell from him daily. Physicians and his friends thought he must die. Cure sworn to before a justice of the peace and Henderson's most prominent citizens.

Hon. Wm. Taylor, Health Commissioner, Boston, says: After three months' use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and twelve years of a constant suffering from Scrofulous Humor of the face, neck and scalp as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record.

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart. The renowned Dr. Cheesbrough, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease. The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

TO WENDELL PHILLIPS.

"Undiring, fearless, grand in thy repose,
If seldom found a pauser in thy state
Which just men, greatly stamped, face in life,— Phillips, chief thinker in the rank of those Who stood for freedom even to the knife,
For thee New England's living laurel grows.

Large was the sacrifice which thou could'st lay
On our land's altar; vast the trust assigned
Thee for the down-trod; thou didst use thy dower
Working and waiting, speaking words of power
And swaying crowds with music of the mind.
All broken souls that smart with wrong shall say,
"Born for the highest place, the lowly born
He stooped to save, and gave ambition scorn."

When you feel yourself gradually breaking down don't wait until you have taken to your bed. While you are still able to be up and about fight the grim monster disease by the use of proper restoratives. The best remedy for malaria, indigestion, weak kidneys, constant fatigue, fits of dizziness, heart disease, short breath and other complications of a disordered system is Brown's Iron Bitters. Its magic influence in conquering disease of an exhaustive nature is most astonishing.

Poison was put into the beer and food of the harvest men employed by Leigh, a landlord of New Ross, Ireland, who had incurred the dislike of the populace owing to his opposition to the land league. Two of the harvest men have died, and the others are in a precarious condition.

The storms have almost totally destroyed the grain and other crops in the south of Ireland. The authorities fear a renewal of rent agitation owing to the distress consequent upon the loss of crops. A general strike against rent is thought to be imminent.

If any invalid or sick person has the least doubt of the power and efficacy of Hop Bitters to cure them, they can find cases exactly like their own, in their own neighborhood, with proof positive that they can be easily and permanently cured at a trifling cost—or ask your druggist or physician.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and, tongue coated, you are suffering from "torpid liver" or biliousness." In many cases of "liver complaint" only part of a these symptoms are experienced. As remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has no equal as it effects perfect and radical cures. At all drug stores. c

Humor in the Stomach.

Much of the distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa and other causes is occasioned by humor in the stomach. Several cases, with all the characteristics of these complaints, have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Other cures effected by this medicine are so wonderful that the simplest statement of them affords the best proof that it combines rare curative agents and when once used secures the confidence of the people.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat well and am happy and hungry.—[EDITOR.

MEDICAL.

MRS. C. W. CHAMBERLIN

State and Ark Sts., Springfield, Mass.—Her Good, Kind Words will do Much for the Afflicted.

Mrs. Chamberlin is the wife of C. W. Chamberlin, an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield, Mass. She says: "Every spring I have been, for some time past, more or less troubled with nervous debility and weakness. Some years I've been completely run down. My physician has recommended various strengthening and blood medicines, but I never received any permanent benefit until I tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. It was recommended to me by Mrs. Newcombe, on State St. I think it a wonderful medicine to give one strength and enliven a person. I have recommended it to family after family among my acquaintances in Springfield, Mass., and FAVORITE REMEDY has done a great deal of good wherever it has been placed. I have a sister, Mrs. Harmon, 29 Tremont St., Lowell, Mass., who was troubled with nervous weakness and loss of strength and appetite, but by using Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY her health was completely restored. I consider it an excellent medicine. Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is used extensively among the Armory men here."

No, Sir!

A Scotch minister once said no woman could bear pain as well as man. That is not so. The fact is generally the other way. Mrs. Edward Meyers of Rondout, N. Y., submitted to the operation of the removal of her hand by amputation, without taking ether, or moving a muscle or uttering a groan. Dr. Kennedy, also of Rondout, N. Y., who performed the operation, said he never saw such heroism. The lady's disease was erysipelas, and afterward the doctor gave his FAVORITE REMEDY to cleanse the blood. Mrs. Meyers is now well and strong.

His First Day at Saratoga.

Saratoga was a new idea to him. It was so jolly to go from spring to spring and take a drink of the water of each. No two of the springs tasted alike. There are about forty springs at Saratoga. After tasting nearly half of these, he began to have a queer feeling inside him. After spending most of the day in this way, he went to bed. It seemed as if all the water-works of the lower regions were raising a riot within him. After several hours of agony, he thought of Perry Davis's Pain Killer. It gave him relief and comfort, and charmed him to sleep.

Miss Fanny G. Patrick died lately at Claremont, in her forty-sixth year. She was for a long time an accomplished teacher in the public school of that town.

Our Army and Navy; our Police and Fire departments; our prominent men and women on land and sea, declare that nothing equals St. Jacobs Oil, the conqueror of pain.

Ex-Gov. Talbot positively declines to allow the use of his name in connection with the next governorship of Massachusetts.

For Medical and Domestic Use, a pure Whiskey is often required. Ask for the G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon. It is a standard article. Druggists and Grocers have it. Chester H. Graves & Sons bottle it.

Considerable anxiety is felt concerning the steamship Lessing, which left New York for Hamburg Aug. 23d.

Dr. John B. Sawyers, Iuka, Miss., says: "Browns Iron Bitters give general satisfaction."

Benjamin Burgess & Son, of Boston, heavy dealers in sugar, have failed, with heavy liabilities.

"About a year ago my horse was very lame from a sprain," writes E. F. Baily, of Ashland, N. H., "Ellis's Spavin Cure removed both the lameness and bony enlargement." It always does this.

Advices from Central America state that Dr. Figueroa, the foreign minister of Costa Rica and a very aged man, has been shot in a duel by a young man, named Leon Fernandez, who had made scurrilous attacks on him in fly sheets.

The Institute Fair.

The third annual fair and exhibition of the New England Manufacturers & Mechanics' Institute was opened on the 5th inst. in the building of the institute on Huntington avenue, Boston. The formal opening exercises consisted of a procession, military and civic, from the state house to the exhibition building, music, prayer by Rev. E. E. Hale, address of welcome to distinguished visitors from the south by Gov. Butler, brief remarks by Secretary Chandler and others, and oration by Gen. Francis A. Walker.

The Disaster on the Banks.

Further reports from the banks of the disasters by the great gales of Sunday, Aug. 26th, and the Wednesday and Thursday following, reveal an appalling number of casualties, of which the first accounts, bad as they were, hardly gave more than a hint.

Advices received at St. Johns, Newfoundland, from St. Pierre, Miquelon, say that between forty-five and fifty of the French banking fleet have arrived in the roads of St. Pierre in a shattered condition. Their cable chains and anchors, battaus, dories and lines are all swept away. The loss of life was very great. Four vessels lost six men each, and the remainder of the fleet, with few exceptions, lost two or three men each. One banker foundered, but her crew were saved. Over thirty of the French bankers were missing on the 4th inst., and grave fears were felt for their safety. The storms were the most violent ever known on the banks. Neither gave any warning, but broke furiously upon the fleet, when most of the dories were away from the schooners overhauling and setting trawls. Not more than half an hour had elapsed from the first indications before the gale and sea had reached their greatest violence.

The Gloucester schooner W. E. McDonald on the 4th towed into St. Johns, N. F., the dismasted and abandoned Newfoundland banker Medeare, eight of whose crew were saved, while the master, mate and two men were lost.

The schooner Addie Winthrop, of Gloucester, has towed into Port Mulgrove, N. S., the schooner Harold, of La Have, dismasted on St. Peter's bank.

It is reported at Halifax that among the vessels lost on the banks was one belonging to Tum's Bay, N. S., which went down with all hands, and one of her crew was Warren Smith, the oarsman.

A large steamship, name unknown, is reported sunk in six fathoms of water off Indian harbor, a hundred miles east of Halifax, N. S.; a boat, deck-house and other wreckage were picked up, but no name found. Divers and wreckers started from Halifax for Indian harbor on the night of the 4th inst.

France and China.

Affairs look very squally in the east. Despatches from Hong Kong say that the Chinese are moving large bodies of men toward Tonquin; about 4000 troops have gone from Shanghai to Canton, and great activity is displayed at the military depots at Nanking and Hankow. Several thousand men are working night and day on the Whampoa forts, which command the river approach to Canton.

A Paris despatch says the Algerian tirailleurs, 8000 men, have been ordered to embark for Tonquin.

Dime Novel Desperadoes.

The discovery of a handsomely-furnished hut, constructed of railroad sleepers and occupied by a gang of young thieves, under the very nose of the police, is a revelation. For some time past systematic robbery has been going on in the yards of the Boston & Lowell railroad at East Cambridge, Mass. A few days ago several arrests were made for thefts of large quantities of lead. On the 4th inst., while an officer was seaching for traces of the thieves, he stumbled over a house in a remote corner of the yard. This was formed by walls of sleepers, and covered by a roof of the same. It was handsomely furnished. There were valuable rugs on the floor, curtains at the windows, and oil-paintings on the walls. In the centre of the one room was a small marble-top table, and on this were two revolvers, several pipes and a number of novels of the "Red - Handed Dick" order. Around another table at the side sat six beardless boys playing a quiet game of poker with a small limit. There were four double cots ranged along the walls, and several carriage robes spread upon the floor. The policeman who stumbled on the gang was alone and could arrest only two of the gang, Barnard Smith, aged seventeen, and Charles Quigley, aged eighteen; they were held in the police court. The thieves rendezvous was located behind great piles of rubbish and on the bank of the Charles river, whence they were in the habit of loading their plunder into a boat and rowing out into the channel. There they would be met by a junk dealer from Boston, to whom the freight would be sold.

The Shenandoah was taken out of the dry dock at the Boston navy yard on the 4th inst., and hauled alongside the sheers to have her masts put in.

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, secretary of the navy, made an official visit to the Boston navy yard on the 4th inst.

Lieut. Col. C. D. Hebb, U. S. M. C., has gone on thirty days leave of absence from the Boston yard; Capt. R. W. Huntington, U. S. M. C., commands the marine guard during his absence.

Reports from Pensacola, Fla., on the 4th inst., report several new cases of yellow fever in villages adjoining the naval reservation, but none in the navy yard proper.

Ivan Tourgenieff, the great Russian novelist, died in France on the 4th inst.

MEDICAL.

If it were possible to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory testimony that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medicinal value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sirs—I have suffered from Kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking Hood's SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache, and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,

JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has fairly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quality as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 5th.

William Quinn, complained of for cruelty to animals and for assaulting Samuel Barrett, had both cases continued to the 6th, and was placed under bond s for his appearance.

"HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF."

The New York Sun on the 3d inst. reproduced a copy of its first issue, dated Tuesday, Sept. 3, 1833. The sheet is twelve inches by eighteen, and though the object of the paper is stated to be to lay before the public all the news of the day, there appears to have been but little for the first issue.

The following advertisement refers to an incident which caused some excitement in this region half a century ago:

$1000 REWARD.

ON Thursday, 7th inst. were stolen from the Mail Stage between Boston and Lynn, three packages of Bank Bills, convaling about $ 3,5 ¢ in bills of the Piscataqua Bank, and about $900 in bills of the South Berwick Bank.

The principal part of the bills of the Piscataqua Bank consists of a distinct emission, made payable to J. W. Peirce, dated January 25, 1824, or to R. Somers, dated April 27, 1825, and which were used, not for common circulation, but only for special purposes; as nearly all this emission, except what was included in the packages stolen, has been withdrawn from circulation, and no more will be issued from the Bank, it would appear impossible, if the public are on their guard, for the thieves to put their booty into circulation, without detection.

Besides the marked Bills as above stated, which the public are cautioned against receiving from persons who came into possession of it since the robbery, there was contained in one of the packages stolen, a $1000 bill of the Piscataqua Bank, which being the only bill of that denomination existing out of the vault of the Bank, may be so easily identified as stolen property, that the Bank feels justified in giving this public notice, that payment will be refused should it be presented for redemption.

The above reward will be paid for the apprehension of the thieves, and the recovery of the money.

Office of the Piscataqua Bank,
Portsmouth, N. H., July 25, 1833.
SAMUEL HALE, President.
SAMUEL LORD, Cashier.

The loss was discovered while the coach, in charge of Mr. Samuel Robinson, was in front of the Lynn hotel. The thief was supposed to have been a young fellow who got in the coach at Chelsea, and left at Lynn.

ROBBERY.

Mr. George Lane, proprietor of the White Hart hotel, near the Eastern railroad station, on going to bed, Tuesday night of this week, placed his pantaloons, with $140 in one of the pockets, under his pillow. In the morning he found the garment on the floor at the foot of the bed, but the money was gone; his watch and other articles were not taken. Two young men who Tuesday evening applied for supper and lodgings, saying they were to leave by an early train next morning, and who did depart early, are suspected by Mr. Lane, who went to Dover on Wednesday in search of them.

RETURNING WANDERERS.

"Can you direct me the shortest way to the Eastern depot;" is the daily enquiry made by the excursionists from the Iron Steamer, who with a look as if a day's anticipation had been a sad disappointment wearily seek their way back to Boston by rail rather than tempt Neptune a second time.

"I said," on Wednesday remarked a resident of the Back Bay, whose stomach ought to have been well trained from a long residence in the vicinity of the befouled waters near his home, "that if I ever set foot ashore again you would not catch me on the sea any more."

A smart breeze that knocks up a good sea with plenty of white caps, may delight the yachtsman, but for the ordinary landsman the gambols of the Atlantic in these times is more than he bargains for on a trip each way between Portsmouth and Boston in a single day. The railroad is making a good thing out of the transportation of disgusted Bostonians, who seek a more pacific mode of conveyance than the Atlantic offers just now.

THE SUNDAY GLOBE.

The great success of the Sunday Globe has encouraged the management to continue the Sunday Globe special train through the year. The train will arrive at 5:40 o'clock, every Sunday morning, so that the residents of Portsmouth can have the paper before breakfast. The circulation of the Sunday Globe is increasing at the rate of 1000 per week.

THE VETERANS.

Storer Post, G. A. R., on the evening of the 5th inst. voted to attend the Veterans' Reunion at Weirs, as a post; and to invite all veterans of the war, not members of the post, to join with them on this occasion.

All comrades who intend to go are requested to give in their names to Commander M. M. Collis, at No. 15 Market street. The post will start on Wednesday morning, 12th inst., at 7:55; comrades will meet in Grand Army hall at seven o'clock.

Two small houses, with gardens attached, to be sold at auction to-day without reserve. See advertisement.

A partial alarm of fire on Wednesday evening, the 5th inst., was to muster firemen to go to Hall's woods, Jones avenue, to fight a fire there.

The schooner Samuel Fish, Teel master, from Hoboken with 410 tons of coal, and the Emma K. Smalley, Cousins master, with 300 tons of coal, arrived at this port on the 5th inst., to E. F. Sise & Co.

The Tennessee, flag-ship of the North Atlantic squadron, sailed from Portland on the 4th inst. for a three days cruise, intending to arrive in the lower harbor at this station on the 8th, and remain here several days. The squadron will meet in New York the first week in October.

An efficient and interested corps of inspectors has witnessed the process of the driven-well attempt to find water for the United States building near the CHRONICLE office for the past few days. The attendance has been constant, fresh comers succeeding those whose engagements prevented their giving their entire time to this service.

The directors of the Portsmouth Machine Co. have voted the second assessment upon the shares in the corporation.

Mr. W. J. Frazer, of the Direct Cable Co., has left for New York to accompany Mrs. Frazer, who leaves on Saturday in the Furnessia for Liverpool, to pay a short visit to her relatives in Scotland.

The training ship Portsmouth, Comdr. Wise, which sailed from this port on the morning of the 3d inst., arrived at Provincetown, Mass., on the 4th, it is said for a stay of three weeks.

The schooner Phebe J. Woodruff, with 897 tons of coal, the Jennie Middleton with 445 tons, and the D. S. Williams, Jr., with 1080 tons, arrived at this port from Philadelphia on the 5th inst., to J. Albert Walker.

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge of England will pass through this city from the eastward this morning in a special car, lunching between here and Boston on viands supplied by Mr. Armstrong.

Dash-Elcho, a red Irish setter dog owned by Mr. Joseph L. Locke of this city, escaped from a stable in which he had been confined on the night of the 3d inst., and had not been found up to the afternoon of the 4th. The dog is one of the handsomest and best-blooded Irish setters in the country, and valued at $3000.

Rev. S. S. Mitchell, of Saco, recently became the possessor of 2,000 manuscript sermons, which he unconsciously purchased at an auction of unclaimed freight in Boston, the box containing them having been thrown in with the articles he wanted to get, which were books. These books turned out to be all religious works, and were once the library of a Connecticut clergyman. Among them is the Old Testament in Hebrew, published by Tauchnitz of Germany. This is the finest and most correct edition of the original ever printed. Being intended for the use of scholars of every civilized nation, its notes, etc., are in the universal language, Latin. It is unfortunate for Rev. Mr. Mitchell that his lucky find has been made known to the public; he might have got along all the rest of his life without writing any more sermons.

Jay Gould's first prominent introduction to the public was as a railroad wrecker, and later he pumped more water into telegraph stocks than all the courts can bail out. He now appears as a rival to the United States navy in the running down of vessels. The tug boat Edwin Hawley, when off Communipaw, N. J., on the 4th inst., was run into by Gould's yacht Atlanta, cutting the tug in two and sinking her in a few minutes. All hands were saved. The Atlanta also collided with the schooner E. C. Gates, lying at anchor, and cut the schooner's stern down.

Mrs. Mary Young, who celebrated her hundredth birthday in Bangor, Me., a few days ago, was born in Lee. Her maiden name was Jackson. She was married when seventeen years of age to Benjamin Young. The couple moved to Waterford, Vt., where their children, nine boys and four girls were born. The children all grew up, and married. Mrs. Young's father was at the battle of Bunker Hill. She bears the weight of years lightly, and her faculties are unimpaired.

Seventeen men, eighteen women and four children were killed in the railroad catastrophe at Steglitz, Germany, on the 2d inst. The train dashed into the midst of a large crowd, killing, cutting and hurling the people right and left. Most of the victims belonged to the artisan class. After the accident the railway was found covered for a hundred yards with bodies shockingly mutilated. Of a family of five persons only one escaped.

A sister of Captain Webb, who recently lost his life in attempting to swim the Niagara whirlpool, became insane when she heard of her brother's death, and has since been found drowned in the river at Lady Smith, Natal.

The New York Cab company, organized with a capital of $500,000, has got twelve stables in different parts of the city, and proposes to put thirty cabs on the streets by the end of this month.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 115.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Your

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver trouble, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Cundinning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (2)

Another Pocasset Affair.

Sylvester Knott, a well-off farmer of Erie, Penn., went crazy through attending meetings of the "Salvation Army," and thought it his duty to put his children to death. He erected a cross in the woods, and attempted to crucify his son, eight years old, but the child was rescued by some woodcutters after having a nail driven through one hand. The maniac escaped by jumping into a lake, and was supposed to have drowned, but that night he broke down the door of his house, bound his seventeen-years-old daughter hand and foot, took her to the woods, built an altar of cord-wood, laid her on it and set it on fire. Her cries attracted the attention of two young men, one of whom knocked the father down while the other rescued the girl, who was seriously burned, and is now a raving maniac.

There is much anxiety in Boston and Cambridge over the diminution of the water supply.

A good Baptist clergyman of Bergen, N. Y., a strong temperance man, suffered with kidney trouble, neuralgi, and dizziness almost to blindness. over two years after he was told that Hop Bitters would cure him, because he was afraid of and prejudiced against "Bitters." Since his cure he says none need fear but trust in Hop Bitters.

By the burning of a rag-warehouse in Cincinnati, on the 3d inst., nine or ten lives were lost, if not more.

"I have used Sozodont for years and prefer it to any other," was the response Reader, follow her example

At Mount Airy, N. C., E. D. Galilian was fighting with a neighbor and threw an axe at him; the axe struck Gallian's daughter, six years old, on the head, killing her instantly.

Artemus Ward's "best" was his definition of restaurant, given to the Prince of Wales. Artemus and "Albert Edward" had just returned, tired and hungry, from a buffalo hunt. "Restaurant," said Mr. Ward, is derived from two Latin words, viz.: "Res," a thing, and "taurus" a bull, a "bully thing." In all seriousness this is what the people say of Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator. It is preeminently "a good thing," and a certain cure for all forms of heart disease.

When you feel yourself gradually breaking down don't wait until you have taken to your bed. While you are still able to be up and about fight the grim monster disease by the use of proper restoratives. The best remedy for malaria, indigestion, weak kidneys, constant fatigue, fits of dizziness, heart disease, short breath and other complications of a disordered system is Brown's Iron Bitters. Its magic influence in conquering disease of an exhaustive nature is most astonishing.

A lady tells us "the first bottle has done my daughter a great deal of good, her food does not distress her now, nor does she suffer from that extreme tired feeling which she did before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." Secretary Chandler has issued positive orders that the frigate Shenandoah, which is being fitted out for sea at the Boston navy yard, shall be ready to receive her officers and crew by January 1st next, and also that the corvette Ossipee, which is being fitted out at the League Island navy yard, must be ready by December 1st. He stated to the various bureau officers interested, before coming to the eastward, that the dates fixed would be the extreme limit of time allowed, and if the ships were not then ready he would have them removed to other yards, as he intends positively to close the League Island yard December 1st, and that at Boston by New Year's, in accordance with the recommendations of the naval advisory board on navy yards and stations. We have been informed that the Shenandoah can be ready for sea by Nov. 1st.

Going from home and neglecting to take the remedy, I had an attack; after returning I immediately resorted to it, and found instant relief. I believe, had I begun its use earlier, I should not have been troubled. J. Collyer, Clerk, 118 Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,
In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommended FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a deguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

His First Day at Saratoga.

Saratoga was a new idea to him. It was so jolly to go from spring to spring and take a drink of the water of each. No two of the springs tasted alike. There are about forty springs at Saratoga. After tasting nearly half of these, he began to have a queer feeling inside him. After spending most of the day in this way, he went to bed. It seemed as if all the water-works of the lower regions were raising a riot within him. After several hours of agony, he thought of Perry Davis's Pain Killer. It gave him relief and comfort, and charmed him to sleep.

About 7,000 persons were present at the New England fair in Manchester on the 5th inst. The sports were horse races in the three minute and 2:30 classes. Gov. Butler and staff, Gov. Thomas J. Jarvis of North Carolina, the Peruvian minister, Secretary Chandler, Mayor Palmer of Boston, the mayor of Worcester, Mass., and members of that city's government, and members of the New Hampshire legislature, were announced to be present on the 6th.

Burglary in Concord.

The post-office at Concord was broken into on the night of the 5th inst., a hole drilled through the door of the safe and the lock blown off with powder, and the safe rifled. Lights were burning in the building all night, and the burglars could easily have been seen from the street. A. S. Dill, a stable keeper, lost $400 which he had placed in the safe for security over night. The thieves got of government property, $269.24 cash; $328.56 in newspaper stamps, which they cannot use; and other stamps to bring the total up to $1956.60.

Outrageous, if True.

The Boston Globe has received from Nice, France, a cable dispatch as follows: "The U. S. S. Lancaster arrived here September 1st. Since then several seamen have deserted. Many stories of cruelty and ill-treatment on the part of the officers have been told. The Lancaster left New York two years ago with 400 seamen. Nearly all were Boston and New York men, but a number hailed from Portland, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Charlestown. There are now only 120 seamen on board; the other 280, with the exception of about a score, deserted.

The cause of this defection, the men say, was their treatment by the officers. They allege that just after leaving New York, again at Ville Franche, at Cronstadt, at Stockholm, at Copenhagen and at Lisbon, men were kicked, even about the face, beaten with clubs and terribly maltreated by petty officers who had been ashore without leave and returned drunk, and these officers, being favorites with their superiors, were not even reprimanded for their absence. Some of the men were laid up for days, and on one occasion a petty officer brought his heel down on a seaman's toe with such force that the toe had to be amputated.

No punishments were given to favorites and spies, but the others were put in irons, and in one or two instances flogged, for slight or imaginary offences. Men were often put in solitary confinement on bread and water for thirty days at a time, on the most trivial pretexts. On one occasion, at Lisbon, the anchor did not come up smartly enough to please the officer in charge, and he stopped the monthly pay of all hands for three months.

Adm'l Nicholson had ordered stopped, as useless and dangerous, the sending up and down topgallant yards and masts in the drill. No sooner would the admiral leave the ship than this drill would be resumed. On several occasions it resulted in serious accidents. At Chenak, Leghorn and Christiana men were so disabled in this drill that they were in hospital for weeks. While the Fourth of July salute was being fired at Copenhagen one man had on arm blown off and lost an eye through a wilful order, while several others were very seriously injured.

The men say when Admiral Nicholson was in command the management was much better than now. Some of the modes of punishment practised are said by the seamen to be cruel in the extreme, and in direct violation of the law and the regulations of the service."

France and China.

A despatch from Paris says the city papers demand of the government that it shall explain the real situation of affairs connected with the Tonquin difficulty. It is stated also that the chamber of deputies will probably be convoked to consider the relations between China and France. The general impression is that France has now gone too far to retract.

The Paris Nation says there is reason to believe that there will be a French naval demonstration on the Chinese coast in the direction of Canton. Admiral Peyron, minister of marine and colonies, has received a telegram from Tangier, saying that according to Mandarin accounts 1,200 Annamites were killed and 1,500 wounded during the recent bombardment of the forts on the Hue river.

The London Telegraph, referring editorially to the war news from China, expresses the belief that England will eventually be drawn into the quarrel between France and China. The London News suggests that this is an eminently proper occasion for arbitration by European powers, in view of the commercial interests which nearly all of them have at stake in China.

The viceroy of southern China, in an interview with an English correspondent at Hong Kong, says that the imperial troops have been mustered on the frontier, but have not yet been ordered to advance into Tonquin. He states that China is determined not to sanction the Annam treaty, and that France must arrange the international difficulties with M. Tseng, who is now in Paris, or war is inevitable. He adds that the Chinese troops have had the benefit of the instructions of experienced European drill masters, and are amply provided with modern arms of precision.

New Hampshire Legislature.

On Wednesday, Sept. 5th, the Colby railroad bill (as it came from the house) passed the senate by a vote of sixteen to eight. The following senators voted in the affirmative: Willard, Perkins, Taylor, Pike, Dinsmore, Amaden, Robinson, Folsom, Davis, Cummings, Webster, Bartlett, Wheeler, French, Hall and Seavey; in the negative: Drew, Bingham, Haley, Whittemore, Harvey, Wason, Dow and Laighton. It is understood that the governor will approve the bill.

The house disposed of the project for the purchase of a site for a new state library building by indefinitely postponing the bill making an appropriation therefor, by a vote of 197 to sixteen.

In the senate, on the 6th, the consideration of the Railroad Commission bill was made the special order for eleven o'clock A. M. on the 7th. Notice was given of a motion to reconsider the vote by which the Colby bill was passed.

In the house, the report of the committee on railroads, recommending that the bill authorizing a union of the Nashua & Lowell and Wilton & Peterborough railroads be referred to the next legislature, was tabled.

The supreme court of California has decided that a city ordinance prohibiting the explosion of firecrackers, or the ignition of other kinds of fireworks, is constitutional, even though the effect of it be to prevent Chinese from performing funeral rites at the graves of departed friends that they regard as obligatory and sacred in a high degree. A Chinaman was arrested in San Jose for violating this ordinance at a funeral of one of his countrymen, and was adjudged guilty in the lower court. On appeal, this was affirmed on the ground that, while the State Constitution guaranteed to all men, without distinction, the free observance of their religion, it excepted acts or practices that are inconsistent with the peace and security of the state.

NORTH KITTERY, ME., Sept. 6th.

The first grand opening party of the season's festivities occurred here on Friday evening, the 31st ult., at the residence of Gen. Stephen Butterfield, the occasion being the birthday of the general's daughter; about thirty persons were present, and a good time was enjoyed by all until a late hour. Several friends were present from Portsmouth, and took an active part; but among all none seemed more pleased or made themselves more agreeable among the young ladies than did the general himself, who in spite of his years was the bel esprit of the evening.

Morrill Lodge, I. O. G. T., of North Kittery, are to have a harvest supper on Friday evening, Sept. 14th. Admission (including supper) twenty cents.

Monday afternoon, the 3d inst., a half-dozen prominent gentlemen of Kittery took a walk over a new route suggested for the Kittery & York Beach railroad, starting from a point near the bridge, crossing Rice's hollow, going just back of the navy yard village so as to avoid the high hills nearer the water, passing near Calvin L. Hayes' residence and Harrison Philbrick's at the Lower Foreside, and so on to the Point and across to York, keeping much nearer the sea than the route before spoken of. It is thought that the railroad would have a good deal of local traffic if so located, and none the less summer patronage, the views by the sea-shore route being greatly superior to what would be had inland. MEDICAL.

If it were possible to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, langnor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would doso at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medicinal value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., DRACUT, MASS. Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Haltered everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,
JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Sept. 6; Hodgdon J.

William Quinn, charged with assaulting a man named Barrett, was fined $3, with costs. Appealed, and ordered to give bonds in $100 to prosecute the appeal.

On a complaint of cruelty to a horse Quinn was discharged, it not appearing from the testimony offered that suffering was intentionally inflicted upon the animal, which Quinn was engaged by the owner to kill.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Sept. 6th, Mayor Treat in the chair:

Present the full board.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

B. F. Winn's declination to serve as assistant engineer was referred to com. on fire dep't.

Bond of Wm. Shannon, supt. of almshouse and city farm, was approved. Also bonds of Charles P. Abbott, M. E. Long, James F. Shannon, John Turner and Albert W. Parsons, as police officers.

Request of chief engineer for the use by the board of engineers of the office recently vacated by the treasurer, was referred to a special committee.

Bills to the amount of $4716.78 were ordered to be paid.

Bill of Kearsarge house, $21, for dinners furnished election inspectors, was referred to com. on accounts.

Bill of Wm. H. Dennett, $8, for furnishing hacks for the city government at funeral of Ex-Mayor Miller several years ago, was discussed, and leave to withdraw voted.

Harry Freeman's bill, $25, for use of room as ward room, was ordered paid.

James Goodwin's bill of $29, for refreshments furnished fire department at Vaughan street fire, was laid on the table. Also bill of Andrew Kenney, for hauling body of one Hurley, killed on the railroad.

Bill of W. J. Sampson & Co., for putting up decorations on the 4th of July, led to an acrimonious discussion, after which a hand vote was taken, and declared to be in favor of payment. Ald. Hackett called for the yeas and nays, which resulted as follows: Yes, Green, Anderson, Stavers, Martin, Atwell,—five; No, Hackett, Caswell, Janvrin, three; Sampson not voting.

On James Goodwin's bill of $7.50, for dinners and suppers to six Boston police, there was another warm discussion.

The mayor said he sent for the officers, by request of citizens; and sent them back as soon as it was evident they were not needed.

Ald. Caswell thought the local police cost the city enough, without importing any; and Ald. Stavers thought the local police all that was required.

A motion by Ald. Caswell to lay on the table was negatived.

Ald. Martin moved leave to withdraw; negatived on a yea and nay vote, Ald. Martin and Stavers alone voting yes.

Ald. Martin moved to indefinitely postpone.

Ald. Hackett moved to adjourn, which was done.

FIRE IN HAMPTON.

Mr. William Chase's barn in Hampton, near the railroad station, was burned about nine o'clock in the morning on Wednesday of this week. The driver of Mr. Chase's milk cart, happening to look out of a window of the house, saw the barn in flames, but too late to save the building, which was a large and comparatively new structure, and contained a large quantity of hay. The horses, milk wagons and harnesses were saved, but a large number of milk cans were destroyed, with farming tools, etc. The fire is supposed to have caught from a pipe.

The Ellis Family, popular vocalists and bell ringers, are to give one of their unique and entertaining concerts at Music Hall next Tuesday evening. They have visited all parts of the country, and have everywhere been received with great favor. The family have built and occupied a cottage at York Beach this season, and propose to make that their residence hereafter in their vacation season. We trust our citizens will greet them with a full house. See advertisement in this paper.

There have been three or four clambakes at Hampton beach this season, all gotten up by the same person; the last of the series was given last Thursday afternoon, a large number of people assembling to enjoy the feast.

House No. 2 Sparhawk street was sold at auction on Thursday last by Morse & Ilsley for $430, and house No. 5 Pine street for $460, Samuel J. Alton being the purchaser of both.

The steamer Appledore brought in from the Shoals on the 5th inst. a considerable number of passengers, reducing the number of guests at the islands to a rather small circle. On the same day one of Charles L. Grant's coaches went over Portsmouth bridge for York with thirteen passengers and their baggage. On the 6th the York coaches brought over big loads of returning visitors.

It is reported that Miss Nellie White, living at the end of the Concord & Portsmouth railroad in this city, and close to the Eastern railroad, attempted suicide on the night of the 5th inst., by poison; cause, unrequited love. The city physician was called in by the police, and she was speedily out of danger, if indeed she was ever in any. It is said this is the fourth time she has tried to kill herself, but some of the railroad men think she has not tried very hard, or else she is awful tough.

The calkers at work on the U. S. S. Marion, in the dry dock at the navy yard, were giving out a cheerful sound on Thursday.

The first catch of mackerel at Smuttynose island this season was made the 4th inst., twenty barrels, which were sold to Georgesmen for bait. On the 5th the schooner Albert Woodbury and three other seiners had their boats out east of Duck Island.

It is said that some of the members of the legislature are anxious to have means for heating the representatives' hall, if they are to continue the session much longer. We think this is entirely unnecessary. Their constituents will make it hot enough for them if they do not adjourn at once.

A special train of three Pullman cars passed through this city at ten minutes past twelve o'clock on the 6th inst., on the way to Boston, having left Portland at eleven o'clock. On the train was Lord Chief Justice Coleridge of England, who was accompanied by a committee of the Cumberland Bar association as far as Newburyport, where the chief justice was received by Col. Sweeney and Col. Major, of Gov. Butler's staff, Attorney General Sherman of Massachusetts, and a delegation of the Suffolk bar, and by them accompanied to Boston. President George E. B. Jackson and other officials of the Eastern railroad were on the train, which reached Boston at five minutes before two o'clock.

The Veterans' Reunion association having invited Mayor Treat to attend the 7th annual reunion at the Weirs on the 12th inst., and the invitation having been accepted, Storer Post of the Grand Army at their meeting on the 5th voted to tender their services to the mayor as escort, and he has signified his intention to accept the high compliment.

The schooner J. D. Williams, Jr., English master, with 1080 tons of coal on board, arrived at this navy yard on the 6th. Her cargo is for the department of construction and repair, and is delivered on the contract of J. Albert Walker. The schooner James Riley, with 525 tons of coal for the department of equipment and recruiting, was in the lower harbor on the 6th, waiting a tow up.

All members of Storer Post, G. A. R., who intend to go to the reunion at the Weirs are requested to give in their names to Commander M. M. Collis, at No. 16 Market street. The post will start on Wednesday morning, 12th inst., at 7:55; comrades will meet in Grand Army hall at seven o'clock.

The store of J. L. O. Coleman, No. 111 Market street, is well worth a call from those interested in the antique. It might be denominated the "Old Curiosity Shop." It is a regular museum of itself, and persons having a little leisure would be well repaid for visiting it. The articles are well arranged, so as to be easily inspected. Among other things is quite a library of ancient books. It may appear strange that such a gathering of curiosities could be collected and kept up,—but there are many old estates in and near this city which have to be settled in the scattering of families, in which no particular individuals have sufficient control to prevent the dispersion of effects.

The chimneys of the fine old mansion house of the late Capt. Wm. Rice, on Deer street, now belonging to the Rice estate, have been rebuilt by William J. Fraser above the roof in ancient style, except that arches have been placed over them instead of the antiquated pots of a former period.

The Portsmouth Gas Light Co. paid a dividend of four per cent on the 30th inst.

The "new Gibson house" was being taken down on Thursday last.

James DeLancey, son of Curtis DeLancey, ten years old, fell from a fence in Hampton one day this week, having in his hand at the time an open knife, upon which he struck, receiving a severe wound over the upper part of the right lung, just below the neck. He started for home, but fell on the way from loss of blood, and was carried home in a man's arms. Whether the wound was fatal or not the doctors were at the time unable to say.

CARD OF THANKS.

At a meeting of Gen. Grant Steam Fire Engine Co., No. 1, held Sept. 3d, it was voted to extend a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Webster of the Webster House, Mr. Calvin Staples of the Navy Yard, Mrs. C. J. Green, North street, and the family of C. G. Locke, all of Portsmouth, for kind favors received by the company during their stay in that city.

GEO. W. PETTENGILL, Clerk.

CHARLES W. WILLIAMS, Foreman.

Court Street Engine House, Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 3d, 1883.

Wednesday morning, Sept. 5th, the body of John Noonan, an old man of seventy years, was found in Sheldon's pond, East Bridgewater, Mass., badly bruised. The right eye was crushed out and other marks of violence were found upon the body. It was removed to his late residence and Medical Examiner Paine held an autopsy, which showed that death was caused by drowning.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.13 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

The vessels offered and their appraised value are, the Monadnock, (old), $11,300; Alaska, $18,300; Benecia, $17,600; Tuscarora, $9,900; Narragansett, $8,900; Nyack, $4,900, and Saco, $5,600.
Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C., and endorsed "Proposals for the purchase of vessels," so as to distinguish them from other communications. No offer for more than one vessel should be included within one proposal.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart. The renowned Dr. Cumminsky, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of Heart Disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thoroughly scientific treatise. 19

Great anxiety is felt in Holland in regard to the fate of the Nederland Steamship company's mail steamer Prince Frederick, which is believed to have been in the straits of Sunda at the time of the volcanic eruptions.

"I had a very fine horse spavined and lamed for four months," writes S. B. Hazeltine, of Searsmonnt, Mass. "In two weeks, however, after using Ellis's Spavin Cure he was completely cured."

Reports from Santa Barbara, Wilmington and Los Angeles, California, announce that sharp shocks of earthquake were felt there at 4:30 o'clock in the morning on the 5th inst. The vibrations were from northeast to southwest.

A good Baptist clergyman of Bergen, N. Y., a strong temperance man, suffered with kidney trouble, neuralgi, and dizziness almost to blindness, over two years after he was told that Hop Bitters would cure him, because he was afraid of and prejudiced against "Bitters." Since his cure he says none need fear but trust in Hop Bitters.

Prof. Falb, who has made a study of the subject of volcanic eruptions, and who is considered an authority in such matters, predicts that another earthquake will take place on the island of Ischia on Oct. 5th.

Dr. B. F. Smith, Hat Creek, Va., says: "I prescribe Brown's Iron Bitters in my practice and find it most excellent."

"My dear, I was told before I visited America, that your country-women were not remarkable for fine teeth. I find it quite contrary. Take your own, for instance. Pray what dentifrice do you use." Artemus Ward's "best" was his definition of restaurant, given to the Prince of Wales. Artemus and "Albert Edward" had just returned, tired and hungry, from a buffalo hunt. "Restauraant," said Mr. Ward, is derived from two Latin words, viz.: "Res," a thing, and "taurus" a bull, a "bully thing." In all seriousness this is what the people say of Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator. It is preeminently "a good thing," and a certain cure for all forms of heart disease.

COULDN'T AFFORD IT.

Made Honest by Business Principles, a Druggist tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing both elbows on his plated show-case and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means."

"That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plasters?"

"Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one, and now sell principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

"Haven't you a cork's?"

"Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capcine — which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I have never heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—"

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—or, Lordy!—this pain and lameness? Let me have one of Benson's Capcine. That's the real article, is it? With the word CAPCINE cut in the body of the plaster."

"You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

His First Day at Saratoga.

Saratoga was a new idea to him. It was so jolly to go from spring to spring and take a drink of the water of each. No two of the springs tasted alike. There are about forty springs at Saratoga. After tasting nearly half of these, he began to have a queer feeling inside him. After spending most of the day in this way, he went to bed. It seemed as if all the water-works of the lower regions were raising a riot within him. After several hours of agony, he thought of Perry Davis's Pain Killer. It gave him relief and comfort, and charmed him to sleep.

During a sham fight at the brigade muster in St. Johnsbury, Vt., Sept. 6th, the premature discharge of a cannon blew off the right arm of Andrew Keiser of the Fuller battery, Brattleboro. He was an artilleryman in the rebellion, and an employe in Estey's organ factory.

The Disaster on the Banks.

The steamship Lamport, from Baltimore for Liverpool, arrived at Halifax on the 6th inst., having been badly damaged by the gale of Aug. 29th. All her boats were carried away, skylights and bulwarks smashed, cabins flooded, and 134 cattle killed and washed overboard. Her engine broke down on the 30th, and she was four days in repairing it.

Schooner Mary E. Hagan, of Harpswell, Me., has been towed into Jonesport; she was dismasted on La Have bank, Aug. 27th.

Schooner Hyperion has arrived at Gloucester with the loss of two dories and four men; also the schooner Sigfred, with the loss of foretopmast, three dories and all the trawling gear, in the great gale.

Schooner Falcon, at Gloucester from Grand bank, with bulwarks and dories stove, on Aug. 31st sailed through a mass of new wreckage, apparently from a large vessel.

From St. John, N. F., come further and worse reports of the havoc of the gale. A despatch of the 5th says seven French schooners were wrecked on Miquelon; on the 4th, twenty-one more cases of loss of life were reported; all the French vessels arriving report numbers of dismasted vessels outside, and vast quantities of wreckage. The French banker Kermalo sank with all hands at the entrance to the river Gironde; the French banker Augusta lost six men, and the Marie Emile went down on Great bank, with all hands. A despatch of the 6th says a banker just in accounts for the loss of fifty-four more lives out of the second section of the French banking fleet; one schooner from Dieppe lost twelve men. The brig Gabriel, of Dieppe, rode out the two gales of Aug. 26th and 29th; her masts were carried away and her decks swept clean; the fate of her crew is unknown.

John Pender, Esq., has returned from his trip to St. Louis, and was at his desk in the custom house on Friday. Mr. Pender during his absence has made investigations as to the educational interests of some of the western cities.

There were about seventy vessels, mostly lumbermen, at anchor in the lower harbor on Wednesday of this week, riding out the brisk southerly breeze; but among them were a half-dozen or more three-masted coliiers, waiting to be towed up to this city. The steamer Clara Bateman, Capt. James Magraw, towed up three big three-masters during the day, leaving below a number of others, including one with coal for Hon. Frank Jones, to discharge at the Eastern railroad wharf, and two to discharge at the navy yard. Several others came up on Thursday, and a few eastward-bound vessels sailed; and on Friday the lower harbor was to a great extent cleared.

Richard Vines S. F. E. Co., of Biddeford, Me., winners of the first prize for steam fire engines at the late muster in this city, after their return home passed a vote of thanks to Kearsarge S. F. E. Co. of this city, adding: "We shall earnestly endeavor to return, at an early date, some of the many favors you so generously heaped upon us, and which made our three days' sojourn in your beautiful city so pleasant."

The Concord railroad wharf continues to be a very busy spot; a large number of vessels are being discharged there, and others are ready to take their places as soon as they are vacated, while more are on the way from the coal ports. There came very near being a serious accident on board one of the schooners discharging there this week, the span breaking, letting the heavy tub down by the run into the hold, where it struck dangerously near several persons, passing within six inches of the head of one of them. They got out of the way in a lively manner, after all danger was over and the tub lying still.

The steamers James Sampson and Mystic, which have been accustomed to procure fresh water at the navy yard landing, are now obliged to get their supplies at Appledore wharf, the old main of the Aqueduct Co. now doing better than the one laid later, though the latter has furnished the larger supply hitherto. The Emerald is the only steamer that now waters up at the navy landing.

The tickets for the Ellis Family entertainment at Music Hall, Tuesday evening, will be for sale to-day, at Mr. Goodrich's bookstore. A most delightful feature of the entertainment is Miss Romie's performance upon the Gopophone, composed of thirty-four cut glass goblets, producing beautifully flute-like tones. The Zither is another favorite feature, and the musical steels make music much like that of a music box. Little Elsie is a new acquaintance, who easily accomplishes extraordinarily high notes, thus showing what a natural child voice can do. The difficult feat of performing on eight bells—four in each hand—is accomplished by Fred. The Family will probably winter in Chicago, where, as last season in Philadelphia, they will be a great attraction.

Most of the help from the Appledore house came in by the steamer on Friday morning. They were a considerably superior and well-appearing set, and spent their leisure time before leaving on the trains in visiting places of interest in and near the city.

Schooner Lizzie Matheson, of Provincetown, Mass., recently arrived home from the Grand banks with 492,800 lbs. of codfish, the largest fare ever landed at that port.

All members of Storer Post, G. A. R., who intend to go to the reunion at the Weirs are requested to give in their names to Commander M. M. Collis, at No. 15 Market street. The post will start on Wednesday morning, 12th inst., at 7:55; comrades will meet in Grand Army hall at seven o'clock.

If it were possible

to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medicinal value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,

Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vinility and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. GOVERNOR GILMAN'S BLUES.

We have recently seen the original orders from Col. Brown and Lt. Col. Parsons disbanding this celebrated company fifty years ago. It is addressed to Ensign Edward F. Sise of Portsmouth, whose father, Col. Edward Sise, was Lieut.-Colonel Commandant of the third regiment of detached militia under Gov. Gilman, stationed for the defence of this harbor in 1812, and who died in Dover July 26th, 1842. Col. Sise's orders were received by express sent from Exeter to Dover, while he was in church on Sunday. The colonel left church at once, and on the following Wednesday his regiment was on the march for Portsmouth. The orders first above referred to are as follows:

REGIMENTAL ORDERS,
HEAD QUARTERS First Regiment N. H. Militia,
RYE, August 26, 1838.

By authority of the eleventh section of "an act relating to the organization and equipment of the militia and for other purposes," it is hereby ordered that the Second Light Infantry Company or Gilman Blues be, and the same hereby is disbanded. The non-commissioned officers and privates of the same are annexed to the several Infantry Companies in the limits of which they may reside.

IRA BROWN, THOMAS J. PARSONS, } Field Officers of the First Reg'mt.

ENSIGN E. F. SISE, or commanding officer of the 2d Light Infantry Company.

N. B. The non-commissioned officers and privates can enlist into any infantry company, but they must be equipped in the same. The books, &c., belonging to the state must be given up.

Yours, T. J. P.

The Gilman Blues was a company made up of the elite of Portsmouth, and was celebrated far and wide for the high character of its members, and their martial bearing and excellent military drill. The late Major Samuel Larkin was its early commander. In The Oracle of Oct. 30th, 1813, we find the following:

Gilman Blues.

This excellent corps of Light Infantry, composed of young gentlemen of standard politics and discipline, will parade this day (the 30th Oct.) to celebrate their anniversary.

It is of 14 years standing, having made its first appearance on the birthday of President Adams, *1799, under Major Larkin. It has always held the highest reputation, and is now commanded by that excellent officer Capt. Peirce.

Capt. Pierce was a gentleman who always believed that what was worth doing, was worth doing well; and those who recall his fine presence, his gentlemanly mien and his thoroughness in the discharge of every duty, public as well as private, will readily acknowledge that under his command, the Gilman Blues must have been eminently proficient in drill and noted for perfect discipline. Capt. Pierce was to no small degree a martinet when his company was in line, but he was its most liberal host and hospitable entertainer. It is narrated that not unfrequently, after a sumptuous banquet, he would save the treasurer the trouble of collecting an assessment by defraying the entire charge from his private purse.

The Blues often escorted the Whigs at fourth of July celebrations, and on other occasions. They partook of frequent dinners at the Bell Tavern on Congress street. On these occasions men like Daniel Webster, Ichabod Bartlett, and others prominent in law, politics and social life in Portsmouth, were invited guests. They sat at the table far into the night, and listened to the famous singing of Ex-Commander Larkin, and to the toasts, speeches and songs in which the bright men of those days excelled. Frequently the post-prandial exercises were so far protracted that in the early morn the uprising sun,

"Clothing the palpable and familiar
With golden exhalations of the dawn,"

Would at times find a belated hero clad in gorgeous uniform wending his way home from the day-and-night's duty.

The most authentic account of the Blues is of their march to Kingston plains, and their week's encampment while under the command of Capt. Pierce. This we have been able to obtain from the most reliable source.

Col. Peirce, soon after he entered the counting room of James Sheafe, in 1807, joined the Gilman Blues. The company was then commanded by Capt. Joshua Haven; Henry Ladd was lieutenant, and Thomas Haven ensign. The company drilled with great regularity in Jefferson hall. In those times were three public training days, required by law, and the Blues had a fourth day, the anniversary of their formation, Oct. 30th, when there was a parade, dinner, etc.

In 1813, the officers having resigned their commissions, Joshua Winslow Peirce was elected captain, Nathaniel C. Rogers lieutenant, and William Stavers ensign. At the muster in the fall of that year the Blues had a camp equipage of one officers' and eight soldiers' tents, with military chest and all the appurtenances of actual service, as the war of 1812 was then being carried on. On the 4th of October the company was encamped on the training ground in Greenland, and after the day's military exercises, remained in camp over night. The next morning bright and early the Blues started for Kingston, where was to be held a militia muster. The company lunched at Kenniston's tavern in Stratham, and marched on to Exeter, where the Portsmouth soldiers were met by the Exeter band, which came out on the Portsmouth road for that purpose. The Blues stopped in front of Gov. Gilman's residence in Exeter, and after complimenting the governor by a salute, were invited to partake of refreshments. Escorted by the band, the line of march was resumed, and at sunset the company arrived at Kingston plains and there went into camp.

On the following day the company was reviewed by the brigadier general commanding two regiments there assembled, and after dinner the tents were struck and the company returned to Exeter, and there encamped for the night. On Thursday the march for home was resumed, the company reaching the Packer farm, which had been owned by Capt. Peirce's father since 1809, for dinner; thence the march was to the Plains, where the company partook of a bountiful supper at Libbey's. Here the company encamped, and in the evening a dance was enjoyed.

Friday morning saw a hard rain falling, and after waiting until noon the tents were struck and the company marched into town, where after firing a salute on the parade they were dismissed in Jefferson hall, at the close of a campaign of five days.

On the alarm at Rye in June, 1814, the Blues turned out at midnight, with but a single man absent, and started for the beach. Previous to the start from the Parade, in front of the old court house on what is now Market square, Capt. Peirce stated to his men that the British had landed from a frigate at Rye, and warm work was expected; and tapping his left breast remarked, "If any man feels uneasy here, he had better make it known know." The braves all remained in line, and had marched as far as Col. Parsons' in Rye when word was brought the alarm was a false one; but the captain was not inclined to lose such an opportunity for inspiring his men with proper ideas of actual service, so he marched them from Col. Parsons' house to the Plains, sent to town for their tents, and gave his soldiers two days' drill and rations on the tented field. It is believed that the soldiers preferred the comforts obtainable at an encampment near Libbey's tavern, to the probable privations and possible perishing upon the then less hospitable shores of Rye. During the war the company kept up its semi-weekly drill.

Col. Peirce remained in command of the Blues until he was appointed major of the first regiment, of which Gideon Walker was colonel, and Edward J. Long, Jr., was lieutenant colonel, in 1816. After Capt. Peirce, Col. John N. Sherburne was for several years in command, and he was succeeded by Capt. George Melcher, Jr., and Capt. Leonard Akerman.

We have not the space to enlarge upon the subsequent history of this celebrated corps. It appears that half a century ago the military spirit which had maintained this efficient organization, had declined, and hence those regimental orders were issued from the headquarters at Rye, and the "Gilman Blues" passed into history.

The last occasion on which the Blues appeared on the Plains muster-field, there was only a platoon of rank and file. The only surviving members of this once famous company we believe are Nathaniel J. Ham, William Parker, and Charles E. Laighton, all octogenarians.

*The Blues also paraded on the 31st of Oct., 1799, on the occasion of the services commemorative of the death of Washington, when with muffled drums, music in crape, arms reversed and sidearms with black bows, they marched from the assembly room to St. John's church.

GOSSIPS SAY

That the weirs at the mouth of the harbor are teeming with menhaden and herring.

That the yield from both weirs on Friday morning last amounted to 125 barrels of these bony fish.

That a revenue cutter and a lighthouse supply steamer came into port on Thursday, and sailed Friday morning.

That dividend No. 15 is being paid to owners of Castle Creek mining stock resident in this vicinity, at the New Hampshire National bank in this city.

That Mr. John H. Slater has in his garden at No. 37 Cabot street, over a hundred varieties of gladiolas in bloom.

That the Manchester Union says that ex-republicans make very poor democratic candidates.

That the Union could not have thought of Major Urch.

That the iron steamer Sirius will shortly discontinue her trips to this city.

One of the Wentworth house coaches was capsized and considerably damaged at the Eastern railroad station on Friday afternoon last, while the driver was attempting to make a turn; there was scanty room, and the wheels on one side struck the curb-stone at a bad time. There were four passengers on top of the coach, and several inside, but none of them were seriously injured, though one lady was somewhat cut and bruised.

The street commissioner is doing good service by removing from the streets the loose stones, which during a dry spell of weather, or frosts, make their appearance on macadamized roads.

Mr B. F. Mugridge has had his meat market and provision store, No. 31 Market street, connected with the telephone exchange, which adds much to the convenience of his well arranged place of business.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

ELEVEN P. M.

Towards my drowsy pillow, now
Led by Morpheus I am drawn.
If perchance I dream of thee
How soon the night is gone,
And e'en before my bold lips steal
A kiss from off thy brow of snow,
The watchful Chanticleer his loud
Shrill reveille will blow.
Unless I hasten soon up stairs
No dream I'll have I know,
And lose my kisses too, to boot—
Good night ——— to bed I go.
How steep these winding stairs,
How faint the hall's dim light,
I'll sleep here by the tall old clock,
Nor climb another flight.
Ah! no, I've found my room at last,
And now I am all right—
Good night—confound that chair—
Good night! —BY LEON.

Catarrh.

The remarkable results in a disease so universal and with such a variety of characteristics as catarrh, prove how effectually Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the human system. A medicine, like anything else, can be fairly judged only by its results. We point with pride to the glorious record Hood's Sarsaparilla has entered upon the hearts of thousands of people it has cured of catarrh.

Charles Pasqui, an Italian railroad laborer, was murdered in the woods two miles from Brewer, Me., on the evening of the 7th inst., by unknown persons. Robbery was the probable object.

If you are a frequenter or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all new countries—ague, bilious and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

LUDINGTON, MICH., Feb. 2, 1880.

I have sold Hop Bitters for four years and there is no medicine that surpasses them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints and many diseases incidents to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

A private despatch received in Philadelphia from Kingston, Jamaica, says the blockade has been raised at Jeremie and Jacmel, Hayti, by the insurgents, and those ports appear to be entirely in the hands of the rebels and open to receive supplies for the use of the insurgent troops.

Diseases of an exhaustive nature that have a tendency to create an unnatural feeling such as fatigue, lassitude and great weakness throughout the system owe their origin to a lack of Iron in the blood. Brown's Iron Bitters will restore the blood to its natural healthful condition. Get the blood pure by using this remedy and disease will be quickly banished.

Information has been received at the war department that First Lieut. John M. Porter, third United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Thomas, Arizona, is short in his accounts about $1,900, and has fled into Mexico.

"About a year ago my horse was very lame from a sprain," writes E. F. Baily, of Ashland, N. H., "Ellis's Spavin Cure removed both the lameness and bony enlargement." It always does this.

It is now thought the steamer sunk at Indian Harbor, N. S., is the Ludwig, which left Antwerp July 2d for Montreal.

Dr. B. R. Doyle, Wadley, Ga., says: "I consider Brown's Iron Bitters superior as a tonic to any preparation now in use."

Policeman Parks of Danville, Va., was shot by John Ferguson, whom he attempted to arrest, last Thursday night, and died Friday. The murderer was arrested.

At Lawrence, Mass., on the 6th inst., St Mary's Catholic church, parsonage and five acres of land, owned by the Augustinian society and valued at $333,000, was sold under a $50,000 mortgage held by the Essex Savings bank, to Peter Hallihan, representing St. Mary's society, for $73,700. The sum realized is sufficient only to meet the mortgage, accumulated interests thereon, and unpaid taxes, and leaves nothing for depositors in default of the Augustinian savings institution. St. Mary's society is composed mainly of Augustinian priests, who also represent the Augustinian society, which is a petitioner in insolvency.

Hay Fever.

For Hay Fever I recommend Ely's Cream Balm. It entirely relieved me from the first application; have been a sufferer for ten years. Going from home and neglecting to take the remedy, I had an attack; after returning I immediately resorted to it, and found instant relief. I believe, had I begun its use earlier, I should not have been troubled. J. Collyer, Clerk, 118 Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J.

My brother Myron and myself were both cured to all appearance of catarrh and hay fever last July and August. Up to this date, Dec. 28, neither have had any return of these troubles. Ely's Cream Balm was the medicine used. Gabriel Ferris, Spencer, N. Y.

The navy department has received from Batavia, Java, the following despatch from Commander Barker of the U. S. S. Enterprise: "Enterprise arrived 4th inst. Juniata sailed to-day. Princess channel and Great channel safe. In Avox Bezee channel all lights out except Java head. Dutch cruisers warn vessels."

Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Face.

WESTMINSTER, CONN., June 19, 1879.

MR. H. R. Stevens—Dear Sir: I can testify to the good effect of your VEGETINE. My little boy had a SCROFULA sore break out on his head as large as a quarter of a dollar, and it went down his face from one ear to the other, under his neck, and was one solid mass of sores. Two bottles of your valuable VEGETINE completely cured him. Very respectfully,

MRS. G. R. THATCHER.

Druggists take Vegetine and Recommend it.

H. R. Stevens, Boston: I have been selling Vegetine ever since it came into existence, and have recommended it to my customers. I have tried it myself, and find it a great blood purifier and renovator of the system. M. M. SALMON, Druggist, Burlington, Ia.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which more business documents and certificates never possess.

S. Officials of Louisiana. We claim to be legal, honest and correct in all our transactions, as much so as any business in the country. Our standing is conceded by all who will investigate, and our stock has for years been sold at our Board of Brokers, and owned by many of our best known and respected citizens.

Fright--Sight--Night.

I saw a vision in the night
Which chilled my blood almost;
And scared me into dreadful fits—
An awful, horrid ghost!

With turtle's head and lobsters claws,
Ghost made it plain to see.
I'd eaten rather late at night
More than was good for me.

There came a sound like angel's voice,
Clear as a silver bell:
It said, take "Perry Davis's
Pain Killer,—and be well."

Drafts for $52,275 in payment for the site of the public building at Concord, were forwarded to that city Sept. 7th from the treasury department.

Mr. P. D. Fogg, East Rochester, N. H., says: "I found Brown's Iron Bitters very beneficial in a case of nervous debility."

Henderson's woollen mills at Merrimack, occupied by John Holland, blanket manufacturer, were burned on the 7th inst.; loss $10,000.

Is Life Worth Living?

Mr. J. J. Corts, Leadville, Colo., says that St. Jacobs Oil once saved his life. He was taken to the hospital to die. Upon using the remedy he was able to leave, a well man.

Sec. Chandler, with Commodore O. C. Badger and a number of other officers from the Boston navy yard, visited the New England fair at Manchester last Thursday.

A New Analysis

News and Notes.

The Fish Commission steamer Albatros reports that on Sept. 5th, about seventy miles due east of Mt. Desert rock, she saw the wreck of a vessel of about 1000 tons, apparently loaded with petroleum, floating waterlogged and dismantled. She had apparently been recently wrecked, and was a very dangerous obstruction to navigation.

A vessel of the Merritt Coast Wrecking company last week anchored off Elberon, N. J., and a diver commenced searching for the hull of the ship Europe, which was wrecked there thirty-five years ago. The wreck was found, and the diver spent several hours in examining it. It was loaded with iron and steel. The hull is in a good state of preservation, and he brought up some of the iron. The hull will be blown to pieces this week. The diver found also the wreck of the Chauncey Jones, an English ship, at north Long Branch. It was loaded with iron and steel, and was wrecked in 1854. This will also be blown to pieces.

The Boston Fish Bureau reports the mackerel catch of the New England fleet up to September 1st as 96,457 barrels, against 262,937 to the same date last year, 200,014 in 1881, and 108,701 in 1880. In September of last year 113,826 barrels were added to the catch, and in 1881 nearly 200,000 barrels were caught after that time. In 1880 up to September 1st only 108,701 barrels were landed, yet the season closed with a catch of 349,694 barrels. It will be seen that there is yet a chance of the season's catch being a fair one, but the indications are that such will not be the case.

A despatch of the 6th inst., from Pensacola to the navy department at Washington, was as follows: "No new cases of yellow fever among the naval forces. One marine died in the hospital, viz.: Private Henifan." In the afternoon of the 6th the surgeon general of the marine hospital service, at Washington, received a despatch from the president of the Pensacola board of health, stating that the fever was getting worse at the navy yard, there having been six deaths on the reservation within the previous twenty-four hours. On the 7th, at a late hour, the surgeon general received another despatch from the president of the Pensacola board of health, saying the fever was increasing to an alarming extent on the naval reservation, and asking for more men to strengthen and increase the efficiency of the cordon around the reservation.

The Tallapoosa was put in the dry dock at Boston, last week, for a general overhaul.

Josiah Goodwin of Boston died in that city Sept. 5th, in the 64th year of his age. He was born in Cape Neddick, but went to Boston early in life and learned the carpenter's trade, and has ever since lived in that city. He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters.

Edwin Stone, a leading lawyer and democratic politician of Biddeford, has closed up his business in that city and will remove to Minneapolis, Minn., this week, where he will practice his profession. Mr. Stone was chairman of the democratic state committee during the last campaign, and has been prominent in public affairs in Maine for a number of years.

George F. Jordan, aged about thirty-one years, died in Biddeford on the night of the 4th inst. very suddenly, of congestive chills. He was to have been married to Miss Villa Stevens of Kennebunk this month. He was a member of Laconia lodge of Odd Fellows, and Earnest lodge of Good Templars, of Kennebunk.

The Laconia cotton mills at Biddeford are running by steam, owing to low water.

A little volume entitled "Mrs. Gilpin's Frugalities," which, in the range of cookbook literature, promises to be something quite out of the ordinary, has been prepared by Miss Susan Anna Brown, the author of the pretty and useful "Book of Forty Puddings," published a year ago. Miss Brown provides a multitude of receipts for the use of remnants, the "snapping up of unconsidered trifles," transforming them into all sorts of delicious dishes. The volume will be published by Messrs. Scribner, attractively printed and bound, resembling in style the "Book of Forty Puddings," which has already reached a very extended circulation.

The first two volumes of an entirely new edition of Emerson's Works will be published shortly by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. The first volume is entitled "Nature, Addresses, and Lectures," and has heretofore been known by the title "Miscellanies." This book will contain a new portrait of Mr. Emerson, etched by Schoff, and very acceptable to Mr. Emerson's family. The second volume will be the First Series of Essays. This edition, which comprises all of Mr. Emerson's works hitherto published and two new volumes of essays, lectures, and speeches, will be issued so rapidly as to be in the bookstores before the holidays.

A new magazine to be edited by a well-known writer is on its way to publication. Its peculiarity will be that it will offer nothing but fiction.

Mr. Whittier has written a sonnet suggested by Miss Alexander's pathetic little "Story of Ida." It is to appear in "The Manhattan." Mr. Stedman has also contributed to that periodical a poem which is in some sort a companion to "Pan in Wall Street."

MEDICAL.

If it were possible

to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medicinal value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything late blooded me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,

JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THE NEW CHAPEL.

The new Middle street Baptist chapel is progressing finely, and will probably be dedicated this fall. The chapel occupies a cosy spot on State street, nearly opposite the old chapel, the lot having been a portion of the garden of George W. Haven, Esq., and a gift to the society by Hon. Frank Jones. The building is being constructed by Mr. Wm. A. Hodgdon. The front elevation has a tower on the left, and a porch entrance to the vestibule on the right. The audience room is about thirty-two by thirty-seven feet, and to be finished to the roof in gothic style, unplastered. The desk will be upon the western side. In the rear will be a room set off with folding doors, for the use of the infant class of the Sunday school and for minor chapel purposes. On the left of this room is the entrance to the ladies' parlor, which extends in an addition of one story beyond the rear of the main building. Still to the left of this passageway is the kitchen. On the right of the rear is a stairway to the story above the smaller chapel, and a pantry and a library room. The building is a wooden structure. It promises to be commodious, pleasant and useful. The members of the society have been laboring for years to procure means for its construction, and have raised a considerable amount in one way and another, besides some generous contributions. There is, however, much more money required for the proper finishing and furnishing of the edifice in order to bring it up to the design of its projectors. Any assistance which friends may give will be gratefully received, as will any encouragement to their enterprises for raising funds.

One of these enterprises is now at hand, in the engagement of the Ellis Family upon their start-out for their season's tour. The Ellises are very popular, and have met with great success. There is a charm to their various instrumental performances that cannot fail to please, elevate and meet the approval of every citizen. The entertainment to-morrow evening will be well worth attending. The prices of tickets are popular. The same entertainment crowded the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association in Boston last season, the audience listening with much pleasure to the end of the performance.

GOSSIPS SAY

That Mr. Henry L. Harlow will soon commence the manufacture in this city of a new and greatly improved style of violin case, on which letters patent were granted several months ago.

That the efficient but not gigantic clerk of one of Portsmouth's most important industries, recently sprained his ankle while jumping on Gerrish's island.

That the doughty boatman engaged to row him to Newcastle in season for the early steamer to this city, arrived two minutes late, and William was left on the rocks.

That desiring to reach his place of business as soon as possible, the knight of the quill commenced to painfully hobble his way toward Portsmouth.

That he was shortly overtaken by a team driven by a benevolent grocery man, who sang out, "Hello, sonny! Have you stubbed your toe? Get in and ride. I'll take you right up to the school house!"

That William rode—nevertheless he would have liked to choke the benevolent grocery man aforesaid.

That a well known physician of this city is accompanied daily to his meals by two pet cats, which occupy seats beside him at the table and are provided with the best that the larder affords, even to cups of coffee generously diluted with milk and sweetened with loaf sugar.

That since Sergt. Gallagher has been relieved from the custody of Fort McClary, the stars and stripes are hoisted daily over the dismantled fortification by the new ordnance sergeant in charge.

That the big refrigerator being built in the store formerly occupied by James R. Yeaton, for Henry M. Clark, is nearly completed, and that gentleman will soon open a wholesale meat establishment at that place.

That the "cotton house" on the Kearsarge mill lot, now used as a bonded warehouse for the storage of wool, is to be immediately cleaned out and an addition of fifty feet built on one end, the building to be used as a foundry by the Portsmouth Machine Co.

That the regular quarterly supper of the Mechanics Fire Society was splendidly served at the Rockingham house on Friday evening last, Jos. P. Morse, Esq., being the host.

That in the sham battle at the Weirs on the 13th inst. the combatants will not have the U. S. S. Portsmouth to take part on either side.

That even with this drawback, it is likely that the sham battle of the veterans who took part in so many real ones about twenty years ago will be more realistic than the battle of Peirce's island.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 8th.

Mr. Editor: I have often heard it remarked that two street lamps in a city were equal to one watchman, but never heard it asserted that this held good whether the lamps were lighted or not. Is it because we have such a superabundance of watchmen that our lamps are of no use? Are not the lamps as necessary to protect the legs of citizens from projecting door steps as watchmen are to protect their heads? And if so, why is the city kept in darkness? Perhaps the moon, which showed itself for a few moments after sunset, is responsible for last night's neglect, as it often has been before; but whether so or not, the moon has nothing to do with the frequency with which the lights are suddenly extinguished in the evening as people are returning home from a party or social visit, the consequent intense darkness making them wish they had never been lit.

A SUFFERER.

The season for the gathering of Irish (sea) moss is nearly over. The men engaged in this laborious industry at the mouth of this harbor have dried and pressed into barrels about 22,000 lbs. of this gelatinous substance, nearly all of which is purchased by Hon. F. Jones for use in the clarifying of ale at his breweries.

The schooner Susan Stetson, Frisbee master, arrived at this navy yard on Saturday last with a general cargo for the department of construction and repair, from the Boston yard.

Fire caught in Gardner's woods, on the Banfield road, last week, and before it was burned out destroyed about one hundred and fifty cords of wood. A fire in Hall's woods, on Jones avenue, did considerable damage, and called out a detail of the Portsmouth fire department to extinguish it. A quantity of cord wood was also burned in Wendell's woods; and a heavy bush fire near Sagamore creek at one time threatened to destroy the buildings on the Coffin place. Bush and field fires also prevailed in other places in this vicinity.

Admiral and Mrs. Alfred Taylor are at the Rockingham.

The driven-well men who last week commenced putting down pipes at the government building in this city in search of water, failed to strike anything satisfactory up to Saturday night. Pipes were driven on three sides of the building, and some water, more sand, and most rocks, were found. The foundations of the earth reach very near the surface in Portsmouth.

The finest pears picked in Portsmouth were raised by Mr. James Miller, in the garden belonging to his residence on Broad street. Mr. Miller keeps his trees well fed, and they show their feeding.

Mr. J. Albert Vaughan, who has for about two years been employed by Pryor & Matthews in their hardware and paint store on Market street, has secured a position in the wholesale hardware house of Macomber, Bigelow & Dowse, on Franklin street, Boston.

Langdon park presents a neglected appearance. The main gate is half open, swinging on its hinges, and grass grows in the walks; but many of the trees set out several years since are growing finely, though some have died and need to be replaced. Art is doing nothing for the park, but nature keeps at work, and the labor and money laid out on it years ago will render a beautiful result at some future day.

The Tennessee, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, arrived in the lower harbor Saturday forenoon, and the flag of Rear Admiral Cooper was saluted from the yard, the compliment being returned from the ship.

Mr. John Couch Downing, a native of this city, and son of Mr. John Edwin Downing who is now carrying on the Downing homestead farm in Newington, is second officer of the big steamer Queen of the Pacific, which ran ashore at the mouth of the Columbia river in Oregon last week while proceeding out with a large party of foreign capitalists and Northern Pacific railroad officials, but afterward came off with little damage.

In Salem, last Saturday morning, John Daly, aged sixty-four years, was struck by a wild engine on the Eastern railroad, and fatally hurt. He stepped upon the track directly in front of the engine, which was running from Beverly to Salem. His left leg and arm were broken and his skull crushed. His wife was killed within twenty rods of the same spot a few years ago.

Rev. Samuel Kelley, a veteran preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church, died in Quincy, Mass., Sept. 6th, in the 82d year of his age. He was born in Salem, N. H., and was educated in the schools of that town, at Atkinson academy in Newmarket, and the Methodist Theological seminary in Concord, from which last-named institution he graduated with high honors. He was twice married; first, to Mary Ann Sherburne of Concord, in 1827, who died in about a year after their union; his second wife was Emeline Robinson of this city, by whom he had seven children, of whom one is now living. He was four years chaplain of the New Hampshire house of representatives, and two years chaplain of the state prison; since 1870 he has been chaplain of the Sailor's Snug Harbor in Quincy. He was prominent in the Good Templars and Sons of Temperance, having held high offices in each, and was a Mason of the 32d degree; he was also a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. During his long service as a Methodist minister he held many pastorates in New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, and was several years stationed in this city, where he affiliated with several of the Masonic bodies.

At the Portland station of the Eastern railroad twelve trains arrive and depart daily in the space of forty minutes, about noonday. The station is the busiest place in the city during that time.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of disease, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION.

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

THE

New Hampshire GAZETTE!

Established 1756.

THE GAZETTE IS PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY AND SENT TO SUBSCRIBERS AT THE LOW PRICE OF $1.50 PER YEAR, PAID IN ADVANCE, OR $2 AT THE END OF THE YEAR.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for those desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires at their native city, and it CONTAINS MORE ORIGINAL MATTER THAN ANY OTHER PAPER OF ITS SIZE IN THE STATE. THE EDITORS WORKING MORE WITH THEIR PENS THAN WITH THEIR SCISSORS.

— THE —

TO ADVERTISERS

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The Gazette is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

SIMON ROBBINS.

Prescott and Cocheco encampments of Odd Fellows went from Dover to Stoneham, Mass., on Thursday last, and returned on Friday evening. Hobah encampment of Saco, Me., went with them.

"I had a very fine horse spavined and lamed for four months," writes S. B. Hazeltine, of Searsmont, Mass. "In two weeks, however, after using Ellis' Spavin Cure he was completely cured."

Four freight cars ran off the track of the Alton Bay railroad at Dover on the 6th inst., damaging the track and cars, and blocking the road for some hours.

No molasses and water mixture, but a concentrated extract of the active medicinal properties of roots, barks, &c., is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Entrance to the Catacombs

is less forbidding than a mouth dismantled of teeth. This disfigurement is in most instances, the consequences of a want of attention to them in use, but is happily preventible, with Sozodont, used, as a stump speaker once urged his auditors to vote, "early and often." This staple article is a thoroughly reliable means of rendering the teeth ornamental and serviceable. The press and medical profession indorse it.

The inquest upon the death of Marwood, the hangman, resulted in a verdict that he died from pneumonia.

"Your Skin Cure is superexcellent. It is fast curing my daughter's ring worm, which had spread all over her body." Mrs. E. L. D. Merriam, Blue Hill, Mass., Druggists Keep it, $1 per package.

The Castle Creek Mining company (Placer) of Idaho has declared its sixteenth regular monthly dividend of three per cent, payable September 17th. The successful working of this and other Snake river gravel properties is fast bringing Idaho into prominence as a gold producer. The fact that the Snake river gravel contained fine gold in large quantities has long been known, but until quite recently no process was found that would save it. Now, however, the new process in use saves it up to ninety per cent, and the stockholders are enjoying a handsome return from their investment.—Traveller.

Murder as a Business.

Charles Pasqui, an Italian employed in a gang of railroad laborers near Brewer, Me., was found dead in the woods several miles from the village on the morning of the 8th inst., having evidently been murdered. Two other Italians, named Carmero Santone and Raffaelo Capone, were arrested on suspicion, and so much evidence found against them that they confessed their guilt. They met Pasqui and walked through the grove together, Capone with his arm in Pasqui's and Santone in the rear. While nearing the other edge of the grove Santone, who was walking behind, fired a revolver into Pasqui's back. Pasqui ran about ninety feet, when he dropped. Another shot was fired into his head, and then a cedar fence stake was used, smashing his skull, flattening his nose and terribly mangling him. They then examined his pockets and took $65 in money. They returned to the village and threw the revolver in the river, and arrived at the shanty where they lived at about nine at night. Capone's clothes were covered with blood, and at four next morning he rose, put on his best clothes, and washed his others. A portion of the money was found on Santone, and the remainder was recovered from a culvert where Capone had hid it. They acknowledged they had conspired together to put several of the crew out of the way with the sole view of getting their money, and that Pasqui was only the first of four or five they intended to kill. The rest of the Italians are very much excited by the developments. Santone is said to have served fourteen years in an Italian prison.

It is stated at the navy department that when the United States ship Lancaster left the United States sixty-three years ago, her complement of men was 364. No requests have since been made to the department for more men, and no men have been sent to the vessel. The last report of her rolls which is on file at the department is dated July 10th, shows that she then had on board 338 men. These facts are pointed to as showing that the reports of wholesale desertions from the vessel are unfounded.

William and Wilbur Bassett, two young Frenchmen, are under arrest in Haverhill, Mass., for robbing Moses Jennell, a Frenchman seventy years old, belonging in Manchester, of his watch. The old man was on his way from Manchester to Plaistow to visit friends, and on the train fell in with the Bassets, who probably stole his money, and afterward snatched his watch from him in a back street of Haverhill. The watch was found on one of them.

Diseases of an exhaustive nature that have a tendency to create an unnatural feeling such as fatigue, lassitude and great weakness throughout the system owe their origin to a lack of Iron in the blood. MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

Dry Times in 1782.

A correspondent of the Providence (R. I.,) Journal writes that paper as follows:

The Waren Association, which was formed in 1767, met for the first time in Providence on the 10th of September, 1782, just one hundred and one years ago. In looking over the minutes we find as follows: "Adjourned to five o'clock, Wednesday morning, then previous to attending on business, to spend some time in prayer, on account of the affecting drought. * * * Met according to adjournment, and spent an hour and a half in prayer." It thus appears that the drought, about which so much is now said, was so severe a century ago as to be termed, in the language of the records, "affecting;"—and that in view of it, our fathers rose at a very early hour, and spent an hour and a half in special prayer and supplication.

A LUCKY SKIPPER.

The fishing schooner Good Templar, of Portland, Me., commanded by Capt. Elias Tarlton of Newcastle, and manned by a crew from that town, has arrived home, loaded decks to the water with kench-salted fish.

Capt. Tarlton left the Western banks but a few hours before they were swept by the terrific gale of wind which on Sunday, Aug. 26th, caused such havoc among the remaining vessels of the fleet. He escaped the violence of the gale, reached the Nova Scotia coast, and anchored in the outer roads of La Have just before the second destructive storm broke upon the coast. Finding his exposed position dangerous he weighed anchor and made sail to beat further up the bay, which he effected, but not without the loss of his jib and foresail.

The Good Templar had "wet" every grain of her salt, and was so deeply laden with her catch of fish that she could not have lived through either of the gales which followed so closely in her wake.

THOSE "MINIATURE GUINEA HENS."

Some weeks since we published an item in reference to some strange insects, in shape closely resembling the Guinea fowl, which had been brought into our office, and concerning which no person to whom we applied could give us any information other than that they were very queer-looking creatures, which we already knew. We sent some specimens to the division of entomology, department of agriculture, at Washington, and in answer have received the following, from which it appears that the insects are common enough in many places, and that their name is a terrible one indeed:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3d.

Dear Sir. In the absence of Prof. Riley I acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 16th ult., inclosing slip from the Portsmouth Chronicle in reference to a curiously-shaped insect, and accompanied by a box containing specimens of said insect. The species proves to be Enchenopa binolata Say family Fulgoridæ, order Homoptera. The Fulgoridæ are popularly known as "Tree-hoppers," and include the strangest forms among insects; the eggs are usually inserted in the tender twigs of trees or stems of more succulent plants, while the larvæ and perfect insects suck the juices of plants. Your species is very abundant in many districts, and feeds on various plants, but preferably on the sun-flower; it has never been reported as injurious to cultivated plants.

Respectfully, E. A. SHWARZ,
Ass't, Division of Entomology.

Fourteen haddock brought in to John Caswell & Co., Friday of last week, weighed 107 pounds. Orrin W. Caswell brought in to the same firm on Monday last 300 mackerel of large size, which were retailed in Portsmouth at fair prices. A great many small mackerel, "tinkers" and "spikes," are reported as being caught off this harbor, as well as some cod. Some of the fishermen say the dogfish are troubling the edible fish in these waters.

The names of the crew at the Rye Beach life-saving station this season are as follows: Keeper, George B. Caswell; surf-men—No. 1, Clarence H. Mathes; No. 2, Albert L. Remick; No. 3, Edward N. Downs; No. 4, Fred Philbrick; No. 5, Woodbury L. Jenness; No. 6, Charles T. Varrell; No. 7, Thomas J. Varrell. The keeper is the same as last year, and the suf-men have all had some experience except Charles T. Varrell, who though a competent boatmen is new to the life-saving service.

Suspicions having been expressed that George F. Jordan, who died very suddenly at Biddeford on the night of Sept. 4th, was poisoned by himself or some other person, an autopsy was made on Thursday afternoon, the 6th, by Drs. In North Berwick, Tuesday morning of last week, a Mr. Benson was found dead in his bed. He was eighty-two years of age, and a highly respected citizen.

There has been a great deal of excitement over the proposition to open Shakespeare's grave at Stratford-on-Avon, as it was generally understood that the vicar and the town authorities would not object; the intention was to compare the skull with the well-known Stratford bust, but the design will not be carried out, the mayor having published the determination of the common council to throw any one attempting the act into the river Avon.

Capt. Nathan Clark, father of Rose Clark-Ambler, who was murdered at Stratford, Conn., on the night of Sept. 2d, arrived at Bridgeport, Conn., early in the morning on the 9th inst., with his schooner the Grace Darling. He did not hear of the sad fate of his daughter until he reached the wharf, and was terribly shocked and overcome with grief, and as soon as he was able started for home. He said that during the previous week he had been cruising about prospecting, and unfortunately he had not landed anywhere. The case is as deep in mystery as ever, no additional light having been obtained.

At Erwin, Ill., a small settlement in Schuyler county, the "Rev." C. A. Oburshaine some time ago organized a polygamous or free-love sect called the "Pilgrims," and made quite a number of converts. The other people were indignant, and a number of citizens were punished last July for tearing down a tent erected by the Pilgrims. Since then the new saints have built a church, and intended to dedicate it in about two weeks, on the arrival of the high priest from Europe; it was completed on Friday, and that night a large lot of giant powder was exploded beneath it, wrecking the building completely. Oburshaine usually slept in the church, but was not in it when the blow-up occurred.

On Saturday, Sept. 2d, three prisoners escaped from the McDowell county jail, in North Carolina, and on leaving the building rudely pushed Mrs. Finlay, the jailer's wife, aside, injuring her slightly. The fugitives were captured and returned to the jail. Subsequently repeated pistol shots at the jail attracted the attention of citizens, who found the jailer, enraged by the treatment of his wife and inflamed by whiskey, shooting one of the lately escaping prisoners, a negro, as he stood in a cage chained and handcuffed. Four painful wounds were inflicted, none of which are dangerous.

MEDICAL.

If it were possible to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medical value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do my work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,
JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THIS EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT

At Music hall will introduce to our citizens the Ellis Family, whose purchase and improvements at York beach have been the subject of frequent mention in the local papers this summer. They are now about to leave their pleasant summer home for a season's tour, and this early introduction will probably be the prelude of a better acquaintance that will very soon place them on the list of popular favorites in Portsmouth, as they are already in other places. Their performances are varied and pleasing, embracing the unique and delightful copophone and the zither, which are quite enough in themselves to pay for the trouble of attending; also the tuned sleigh bells, the full staff of silver bells originally owned by Fanny Peake, and the musical steels There is offered altogether an evening of chaste and varied enjoyment, which will doubtless be well improved by our citizens.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Sept. 10th.

James Gilchrist, alias "Scotty," was before the court once more on a charge of drunkenness, and was fined $5, with costs taxed at $6.90. He will board it out in jail.

James Clark, for drunkenness, was fined $3, with $6.90 costs, and ordered to the county farm in default of payment.

IN THE RIVER.

On Sunday morning last a small sloop boat from South Berwick, containing two inexperienced navigators named Hutchings and Lowell, was capsized off Dixon's wharf, Eliot, while attempting to jibe with the sheets made fast. The boat having no ballast on board, did not sink, and the two men clung to her until rescured by Messrs. Henry M. Paul and F. A. Staples, who put off in a wherry and at considerable risk to themselves took the castaways ashore, getting thoroughly saturated in so doing; others towed the sloop ashore, righted her and bailed her out. Had the boat been ballasted heavy enough to sink, the accident would probably have had a hard ending for her crew, as the tide was running like a millrace at the time. One of the young men concluded he wanted no more boating that day, and quietly wended his way home to South Berwick on foot; the other proceeded home in the boat, after being given a good start and some excellent advice by the Eliot men, some of whom saw him well up the river on his way.

The moral of this is, never go sailing on Sunday; but if you do go, go with somebody who knows how to sail the boat.

Monday forenoon about ten o'clock, as a woman from Eliot was leaving a boat at the city landing by the Concord railroad wharf, she lost her balance and fell into the water where it was beyond her depth. She was quickly hauled out by her husband, who consolingly remarked: "This is the second time you have been baptised, my dear, and I think you must certainly be saved."

"MORE LIGHT" ASKED.

Editor Chronicle: Your correspondent "A Sufferer," in your issue of the 10th inst., does not shoot wide of the mark in his complaint as to the condition of our streets when the moon fails to meet the requirements of the almanac on account of clouds; it was as dark, early last Saturday evening, from the Eastern railroad station to Christian Shore, as it could be at midnight, and still not one of the lights, either gas or kerosene, was lighted. It seems to me that some little discretion might be given to the lamplighters, and that they should have sense enough to exercise it, and not compel people to grope around in the dark as they did last Saturday evening. I understand that the lamps in other parts of the city were lighted. KEROSENE.

GOSSIPS SAY

That the steamer Startled Fawn made an excursion from Newburyport to this city on Sunday last with less than a dozed persons on board.

That the steamer James Sampson on the same day, with a large gander party on board, sailed on a fishing expedition in the direction of Boon island.

That an explosion among the commissary stores on board necessitated an early return to the classic precincts of Kittery Point.

That some of the sea-coast members of the "third house" at Concord are considerably exercised at the non-receipt of the "needful" alleged to have been promised by certain railroad magnates under certain conditions.

That the real difficulty in the matter lies in the fact that it has been exceedingly hard to find on which side of the great railroad question the "fluence" of certain local lobbyists was expended.

That a schooner from Boston is discharging a load of heavy lumber at the navy yard, the lumber coming from the the Charlestown yard.

That the Charlestown mechanics are much excited at the prospect of the early closing of that yard.

That the workmen at the Portsmouth yard know how to sympathize with them, having been similarly excited some time ago.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

On Sunday afternoon last A party of three young men started for a sail in York river, leaving Stimson's wharf in a small cat-rigged boat. The men were Parker Varrell, aged about twenty-two years, George Preble, aged about nineteen, both of York, and a young Englishman called Jack Wilshur, who has been employed since last May by Dr. W. L. Hawkes. When they reached the narrows, about a quarter of a mile from the wharf, the boat was capsized by a sudden flaw of wind, and the men thrown into the water. Wilshur, who weighed about 200 lbs., could not swim, but was helped by his companions into water shoal enough for him to touch bottom; but the strong tide carried him off again into deeper water, and he was drowned,—Varrell, who struggled hard to save him, being twice carried down, and only saved through Preble succeeding in breaking the drowning man's grasp. The body was recovered in about twenty minutes, being found twenty yards from the shore by Frank Donnell, who hauled it up with a boat-hook; efforts to resuscitate him were kept up for an hour, but to no purpose. Varrell was so much exhausted that he was under the doctor's care on Monday, but Preble soon recovered. The deceased was about twenty-five years old, industrious and of good habits, and was much liked by his employer and companions; he was a native of London, and had no relatives in this country.

Miss A. C. Morgan and party sailed from Liverpool on Saturday, Sept. 8th, in the steamship Lord Gough, for Philadelphia.

An open-air concert was given on Haymarket square, Monday afternoon about four o'clock, by the band of the flagship Tennessee, and was listened to with pleasure by a large throng of people.

The excursion to the White mountains to-morrow is one of remarkable cheapness, and we have no doubt that it will be liberally patronized. See advertisement.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Miss Morgan's school for young ladies will commence on Wednesday, Sept. 26th. Steam heating apparatus has been put in the building during the vacation.

The weather bureau on Monday noon reported the hurricane at that time central off the Florida coast, to be moving northeastward, and likely to cause dangerous gales on the middle Atlantic and southern New England coasts. Shipmasters are warned that it is not safe for vessels to leave port.

In blasting under National block to make room for steam heating apparatus, the workmen have struck a wet seam, the flow of water from which is sufficient to keep a man bailing about all the time.

Paymaster Joseph Foster, U. S. N., of this city, who has recently returned from a three years cruise in the U. S. S. "Monocacy," on the Asiatic station, has been ordered to the Naval Asylum at Philadelphia on the 20th of September.

A carload of copper ore passed through this city on the Eastern railroad last Saturday, bound west from the Peacock mine at Brookville, Me. From the appearance of the ore we should think the owners of the mine have no cause of complaint.

"The season" is over. The steamer City of Portsmouth arrived at her wharf in this city on Monday afternoon from York, with a considerable number of passengers, this being her last trip. The steamer Appledore on Monday towed in from the Shoals the landing-stage and brow, and hauled off till another year; the Appledore house closed that day, the Oceanic having shut up early the previous week. The steamer Fearless was taken off the Kittery Point line a week or more ago, the passenger traffic having at that time fallen off so much that the James Sampson could easily do it all. The hotel Wentworth closed on Monday.

The funeral services of the late Rev. Samuel Kelley, of Quincy, Mass., were held in the Unitarian church in that town on Saturday last. South Shore commandry of Knights Templar, Rural lodge of Masons, and delegations of the grand officers of the Grand Temple of Honor of Massachusetts and of the National Lodge of Sons of Temperance, were present; also delegations of the Sons of Temperance lodge and Temple of Honor of Quincy, and of the Temple of Honor of East Weymouth. The services at the church consisted of singing by the Weber quartette; prayer by Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor of the Unitarian church in Quincy, who highly eulogised Father Kelley as a Christian of noble aims and broad views; reading of the scriptures by Rev. E. T. Cotton of the Episcopal church; address by Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester of Natick; closing prayer by Rev. J. B. Heustis, an old co-worker of the deceased. The body was laid in the receiving tomb at Wollaston until Monday, when it was brought to Portsmouth on the train due at 11:15 o'clock A. M., being accompanied by a delegation from Rural lodge of Masons, who were met at the station here by a delegation from St. John's lodge, of this city, (of which he became a member when he was pastor of the Methodist church here many years ago,) and escorted to the south cemetery, where the remains were interred.

A ring of California gold set with a fine specimen of gold-bearing quartz, which was sent from "Frisco" about 1852 to a lady in this city, was rescued on Saturday last from the inside of a hot air furnace into which it was dropped (through the register) twenty years ago; when found it was somewhat blackened by the heat, but with a slight brushing looked nearly as good as new, the quartz being uninjured.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C., and endorsed "proposals for the purchase of vessels," so as to distinguish them from other communications. No offer for more than one vessel should be included within one proposal.

The vessels will be sold, for cash, to the person or persons, or corporation or corporations, offering the highest prices therefor above the appraised value thereof. Each bid or proposal must be accompanied by a deposit in cash (or satisfactory certified check) of not less than ten per cent. of the amount of the offer or proposal, and also a bond with a penal sum equal to the whole amount of the offer, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the Secretary of the Navy, conditioned for the payment of the remaining ninety per cent. of the amount of such offer or proposal within thirty days from the date of its acceptance. In case default is made in the payment of the remaining ninety per cent., or any part thereof, within that time, said cash deposit of ten per cent. shall be considered as forfeited to the Government, and shall be applied as directed in the act of March 3, 1883. All deposits and bonds of bidders, whose proposals shall not be accepted, will be returned to them within seven days after the opening of the proposals.

Despatch from Corpus Christi, Texas, of Sept. 9th, report great rains in that region and for a hundred miles west, causing creeks that have been dry all summer to become rivers forty feet or more deep, and sweeping off immense numbers of houses, cattle and sheep. Many railroad bridges have been carried away, and numerous buildings destroyed.

As Ex-Senator Wm. Sharon was starting from San Francisco for the eastward, on the 8th inst., he was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Miss Maggie Hill, charging him with adultery. The woman is said to be "well known in society circles," and the matter is suspected of being one of blackmail.

The Entrance to the Catacombs

is less forbidding than a mouth dismantled of teeth. This disfigurement is in most instances, the consequences of a want of attention to them in use, but is happily preventible, with Sozodont, used, as a stump speaker once urged his auditors to vote, "early and often." This staple article is a thoroughly reliable means of rendering the teeth ornamental and serviceable. The press and medical profession indorse it.

Great Disaster from Frost.

Reports from the great corn belt say that the crop in Minnesota and Michigan has been almost wholly destroyed by heavy frosts, and in many districts of Missouri, Ohio and Indiana immense damage has been done. In Wisconsin the tobacco crop is ruined, and the cranberry crop nearly so. Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska have suffered but little.

H. T. ALEXANDER.

Rev. J. E. Clark of Portland, Me., tendered his resignation to the Williston church in that city last Sunday, and has accepted a call from the Phillips church, South Boston. His resignation takes effect Oct. 1st.

Diseases of an exhaustive nature that have a tendency to create an unnatural feeling such as fatigue, lassitude and great weakness throughout the system owe their origin to a lack of Iron in the blood. Brown's Iron Bitters will restore the blood to its natural healthful condition. Get the blood pure by using this remedy and disease will be quickly banished.

The Morning Star, a Roman Catholic paper of New Orleans which wields a large influence, which has hitherto been exerted in favor of the democratic party, has come out with a leader in which it advises its constituents to abandon that party, and support the republican candidates when the latter are the better men.

"About a year ago my horse was very lame from a sprain," writes E. F. Baily, of Ashland, N. H., "Ellis's Spavin Cure removed both the lameness and bony enlargement." It always does this.

A letter from London says that Lord Duncome, the future Lord Faversham, is shortly to be married to Miss Nellie Leamar, who with her sister Kate, has been a reigning star for some time at one of the London variety shows. The latter attracted the attention of the Prince of Wales by her singing of the song, "Go and Inform Your Father," and has since been extensively advertised as the royal favorite.

Dr. B. R. Doyle, Wadley, Ga., says: "I consider Brown's Iron Bitters superior as a tonic to any preparation now in use."

Of 596 voters of the town of Searsport, Me., 158 are absent on sea voyages.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is designed to meet the wants of those who need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite, purify their blood, and oil up the machinery of their bodies. No other article takes hold of the system and hits exactly the spot like Hood's Sarsaparilla. It works like magic, reaching every part of the human body through the blood, giving to all renewed life and energy. $1 a bottle; six for $5.

George W. Freeman of South Warren, Me., eighteen old, shot himself Saturday morning, the 8th inst., while out gunning, and died on Sunday from excessive loss of blood. He drew his gun out of a wagon by the muzzle, and received the whole charge in his thigh.

A Big Scoop.

As an evidence of the world-wide reputation, and the unprecedented popularity,—founded upon intrinsic merit—of the renowned conqueror of pain, St. Jacobs Oil, it may be cited, as a wonder in trade, that one order, recently received by its enterprising proprietors, The Charles A. Vogeler Co., Baltimore, Md., from Australia, was for 600 gross.

In a row between farmers near Bastrop, Texas, J. M. Turner killed W. H. Garrett with a rock. Garrett's brother then stabbed Turner to death.

Hay Fever.

For Hay Fever I recommend Ely's Cream Balm. It entirely relieved me from the first application; have been a sufferer for ten years. Going from home and neglecting to take the remedy, I had an attack; after returning I immediately resorted to it, and found instant relief. I believe, had I begun its use earlier, I should not have been troubled. J. Collyer, Clerk, 118 Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J.

My brother Myron and myself were both cured to all appearance of catarrh and hay fever last July and August. Up to this date, Dec. 28, neither have had any return of these troubles. Ely's Cream Balm was the medicine used. Gabriel Ferris, Spencer, N. Y.

The prevalence of lawlessness in certain parts of Monmouth county, N. J., is causing much trouble. The robbers entered the house of John Curtis of Keyport, went to his bedroom and took his watch and $60. An old chest in which he kept his papers was removed from his house into a highway lot, where it was opened. Checks, drafts, notes, etc., to the amount of nearly $3,000 were taken, and the remainder of the contents scattered about.

is the title of a large illustrated treatise, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., sent to any address for three stamps. It teaches successful self-treatment.

Dr. H. Webster Jones, a Chicago physician who has given up a practice worth $80,000 a year for another man's wife, and eloped with her to Australia, is a grandson of Noah Webster, the lexicographer, and about forty-eight years of age.

COULDN'T AFFORD IT.

Made Honest by Business Principles, a Druggist tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing both elbows on his plated show-case and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means."

"That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plasters?"

"Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one, and now sell principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

"Haven't you Allcock's?"

"Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capcine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what's more to the point, I have never heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—"

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—or, Lordy!—this pain and lameness? Let me have one of Benson's Capcine. That's the real article, is it? With the word CAPCINE cut in the body of the plaster."

"You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Face.

WESTBROOK, CONN., June 19, 1878.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I can testify to the good effect of your MEDICINE. My little boy had a SCROFULA sore break out on his head as large as a quarter of a dollar, and it went down his face from one ear to the other, under his neck, and was one solid mass of sores. Two bottles of your valuable VEGETINE completely cured him. Very respectfully,

MRS. G. B. THATCHER.

Druggists take Vegetine; and Recommend it.

H. R. Stevens, Boston: I have been selling Vegetine ever since it came into existence, and have recommended it to my customers. I have tried it myself, and find it a great blood purifier and renovator of the system.

M. M. SALMON, Druggist, Burlington, Ia.

I Regard it as a Valuable FAMILY MEDICINE.

JAN. 1, 1878.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in saying that I have used the Vegetine in my family with good results, and I have known of several cases of remarkable cure effected by it. I regard it as a valuable family medicine. Truly yours,

REV. WM. MCDONALD.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to it in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

Fright--Sight--Night.

I saw a vision in the night
Which chilled my blood almost;
And scared me into dreadful fits—
An awful, horrid ghost!

With turtle's head and lobsters claws,
Ghost made it plain to see,
I'd eaten rather late at night
More than was good for me.

There came a sound like angel's voice,
Clear as a silver bell:
It said, take "Ferry Davis's
Pain Killer,—and be well."

The cut-down on the deposits in the Somersworth savings bank at Great Falls, made a few years since, has been put back, and on and after Oct. 1st the bank will pay all the depositors in full. The bank has been very successful since the cut-down was made.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Reform is Necessary.

From the Boston Post of the 11th inst., we clip the following items:

Farmers' conventions in different parts of the country have been protesting against the abuses that are perpetrated under our patent laws, but the recent democratic state convention in Minnesota is the first political convention to formulate a remedy for the most aggravating of these abuses. This convention resolved "that the patent laws should be revised to the end that the innocent purchaser of manufactured articles, using the same in good faith, shall be protected from harassing and oppressive suits for the infringement of patent rights." This is a just and reasonable demand.

Roberts Brothers, lawyers, of this city, and counsel for the New Hampshire cities in the patent-valve law suits, have already received over $15,000 for their services, with more to come out of the money voted by the city of Dover a few nights since.

The foregoing extracts from the Post, though published separately in that paper, go well together in illustration of the outrageous injustice which can arise under the United States patent laws, as existing and interpreted by the courts. That a person should be punished for the commission of a wrong which he did not intend to commit, which he did not know he was committing, and which it was absolutely impossible for him to know was a wrong at the time he was committing it, may be (and is) the law, but it is the rankest injustice; and if this glaring defect in the patent laws cannot be remedied, the whole lot had better be abolished.

Take the patent-valve suits as an illustration. The several cities, defendants in those suits, purchased certain machines in open market, paying therefor the market price. They had no knowledge that these machines, or any part of them, were infringements on anybody's patent, and that it was impossible they could have known is shown by the result of the trial, which decided that there was no infringement; and yet it cost these innocent parties something like $30,000 to prove that they did not commit an infringement which the decision proved it was impossible for anybody to commit, as there was no valid patent.

The patent laws should be so amended that an innocent user of an infringement, on showing that he was innocent of knowingly infringing and that no reasonable means of knowing were within his reach, would be held guiltless up to the time that the fact of his infringement was duly placed before him. The burden of proof might very properly be laid upon the infringer; but such suits as that of Norton et. als. vs. Dover and the other New Hampshire cities should be rendered forever impossible.

Letter from Poland Spring.

POLAND SPRING, ME., Sept. 8th.

Dear Chronicle: We are sitting on the broad piazza of the hotel, looking towards the glowing sunset across the broad expanse of waving forests upon which this isolated hill seems to float like a lofty island moored in an emerald sea. The departing sun stands for a moment transfigured on the top of Mount Kearsarge, and casts his robes of glory, like a benediction, down the twilight vallies of the waiting world. The proud crests of Mounts Washington and Lafayette stand out in sharp relief against the crimson sky like the domes of immense cathedrals wrapped in flame. Beneath us, and so near that it seems as though its glassy surface could quite easily be reaceed with a hand-flung stone, a lovely lake lies in tranquil beauty, its bosom glowing with such unearthly splendor that it looks as though a portion of the sunset sky had fallen into the valley. No words of mine, no brush of painter, no song of poet can describe the gorgeous drapery drawn around the couch of the retiring god of day.

I can however tell you something of the fountain of health which gushes from the heart of a massive rock in a pure and limpid stream, cool as though drawn from cisterns filled with snow, as sweet and clean as the sunlit air of a mountain top, imparting by some mysterious influence strength and activity to the weak and diseased thousands who flock hither to drink its healing *waters. What its medicinal qualities are the most scientific cannot tell; that it does effect many wonderful cures the most skeptical cannot deny. To the taste the water is like the water at our own Fountain Head, but many degrees cooler, and perfectly free from impurities of either animal or vegetable substance. For Bright's disease, and other kidney difficulties, and skin troubles, it seems to be a specific in a great majority of cases.

The hotel kept by the proprietors of the spring is conducted in an admirable manner by the Rickers, father and sons. A live Yankee woman is housekeeper, and she gives constant personal attention to the welfare and comfort of all of her guests, and by her cordiality of manner imparts a homelike feeling to the house, so that the new comer soon feels like one of the great family living for a season under its sheltering roof.

The "Ricker boys" strongly resemble the famous Laightons of Appledore in personal appearance and in cordiality of manner,—and who can ask more of a landlord?

The employees of the house, from the polite clerk in the office to the agile boy at the spring-house, all seem to vie with each other in yielding prompt and willing service to all who need their aid or ask them for information. The head waiter is a college student, two of the office-boys are members of the Portsmouth high school, and the spring-boy is a carrier of the CHRONICLE, who is quite popular with the guests on account of his activity and respectful address.

The "season" here is several weeks longer than at most summer resorts. Guests arrive in June and tarry until the last of September. Many Portsmouth names are written on the register, and familiar faces meet us at every turn. The Firemen's Muster excited a considerable interest here, and Portsmouth papers were in eager request. Yours truly, M.

Why The "Royal" Is The Best.

The improved method by which it has been made possible to produce pure cream of tartar, has had an important bearing upon the manufacture of baking powder. By the process heretofore generally employed, it has been found impossible to remove all impurities, more particularly the tartrate of lime, which remained to an extent as to greatly impair the quality of the cream of tartar, and to interfere seriously with the strength and wholesomeness of the baking powders into which it entered.

In the new process, which is owned by the Royal Baking Powder Company of New York, and exclusively employed in its extensive tarter works, the imported crude grape acid is so treated as to remove all vestige of tartrate of lime or other impurities, giving a product before unknown—a chemically pure cream of tartar.

By the employment of these superior facilities, the Royal Baking Powder Company has made the Royal Baking Powder, as the chemists all certify, of the highest possible degree of strength, "absolutely pure" and wholesome, and with an always, uniform leavening power. It is for these reasons that the "Royal" never fails to produce bread, biscuit, cakes, etc., that are light, sweet, digestible, and wholesome; the eating of which is never followed by indigestion, or any of those physical discomforts attendant upon the partaking of improperly prepared food. In rendering possible the production of a baking powder possessed of these qualifications, the improved method of refining cream of tartar becomes at once a matter of material importance to the culinary world.

"Jalma."

Appreciating the liberality of the theatre-goers of New England for efforts which are assiduously made for their entertainment Manager Eugene Tompkins has devoted months of unceasing labor to the preparation of Jalma, a grand romantic ballet spectacle written expressly for this theatre by Charles Gaylor, Esq., the eminent and successful author. The speaking characters will be sustained by Messrs. Wm. Redmund, Frazer Coulter, Mrs. Thomas Barry, Miss Edith Kingdon, Miss Grace Thorne, and other strong favorites. The ballet was secured in Europe, with Mlle. Rosina Viale, assoluta, from La Scala, Milan, Mlle. Lucia Cormani, premier, from the San Carlos, Naples, Mlles. Patti and Marie and Misses Clifton and Page, secondas, from the London Alhambra. The corypheus come from the leading English, French, and Italian theatres, and all were specially engaged for the grand production. There will be fully four hundred people engaged in the presentation, and the grand ballet of one hundred will be under the direction of Prof. Mamert. Six hundred new and magnificent dresses will be worn, made by Landloff and Marest et Frere, of Paris, Alias, of London, and Miss Annie Endress, of this theatre. Magnificent armors have been manufactured expressly to order by J. L. Kennedy & Co., the eminent firm of Birmingham, England. The scenery will be furnished by Mr. Chas. S. Getz, and will surpass the many magnificent stage pictures which have won for him the highest repute. Mr. Prescott, as machinest, Mr. Sullivan, as property man, and Mr. Geo. Sevey, Gas engineer, will bring into requisition the full resources at their command, and the music will be directed by Mr. Napier Lothian, and played by the unequalled Boston Theatre orchestra. The outlay for Jalma has been far greater than any hitherto made for a spectacular drama in America, as the cost involved in one scene alone is fully $20,000, and the enormous expense has been cheerfully assumed in the faith that the presentation will be worthy of the appreciative patrons who have been so generous in past seasons. Jalma will have its first performance on Monday evening, Sept. 17.

There was a crowd through the land over the 14th August (the 156th Monthly) Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery. Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., both of them used to hot weather, found it warm. As the wheel of fortune revolved, it evolved this result: Ticket No. 50,177 drew the first prize of $75,000, and placed with others among the happy purchasers of fifths at $1 each were Rev. Moses Zerovich, of No. 3 Canal st., Chicago, Ill., and W. T. Muse, of Rocky Mount, N. C. No. 61,389 drew the second prize of $25,000—sold in fifths also at $1 each, to Samuel Selby and Dr. J. M. Littlehale of Selma, Ala., and Gustav Bauman, of No. 40 W. Monroe st. (care of the Preble Machine Works Co.), Chicago, Ill. No. 97,536 drew the third prize of $10,000—sold as a whole at $5 to Jack Graves, the clerker of The Stockell Fire Engine Co., of Nashville, Tenn. Nos. 75,779 and 76,119 drew the fourth two prizes of $5,000 each, and were sold in fifths, at $1 each, to Messrs. Wm. E. Oates, C. Willis, A. A. Prescott and R. W. Payne, of Vicksburg, Miss.; Mr. J. V. Vondersmith, of 2629 Locust st., Philadelphia, and a party in New Orleans, La., among others—so on ad infinitum. It all goes over again on the 9th day of October, and all information can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La.

If it were possible to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, langnor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medical value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not prove to me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,
JONATHAN J. COBURN.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J.

TUESDAY, Sept. 11th.

James White, for drunkenness, was assessed $9.90, fine and costs, which he will work out on the county farm.

Mr. George A. Goodyear, of the Highlands, has placed before us this morning an elegant specimen of the night-blooming cereus in full bloom. It belongs to the cactus family, and is remarkable for its large, beautiful, sweet-scented flowers, which begin to open in the evening, and close again forever before morning. The specimen now before us may be regarded as a freak of nature, as seldom, if indeed ever before, has a plant been known to blossom in the day time.—Boston Traveller.

The opening of a night-blooming cereus in the daytime is an eccentricity not often noted, but such an occurrence took place in this city last year, in Pearson's greenhouse on Broad street; and the flower, which was over nine inches across, and of unusual fragrance, was presented to President Arthur, who had that morning arrived very quietly from the eastward, by Miss Helen Pearson, who had brought the flower into town with her on her way to school. The president carried this unique "bouquet" in his hand as he drove off in a carriage to Hampton, accompanied only by his private secretary; and some week's later, after the president's return to Washington, the donor of the flower received from the White House a very handsome cabinet photograph of the chief magistrate of the nation.

The testimony of Professor Moses G. Farmer is being taken in this city before Judge Batchelder respecting a public use in the United States of the Siemens-Alteneck dynamo-electric machine for more than two years prior to an application for a patent in the United States. In case a public use for more than two years be established it will defeat the grant of a patent. This is a question of great importance to the electric lighting industry, as the dynamo-electric machines now used by the United States & Edison Electric Lighting company are only modifications of the Siemens-Alteneck machines. C. L. Buckingham of New York appears in behalf of the Western Union telegraph company, and in opposition to the grant of the patent. C. S. Whitman represents Siemens Bros., of London. Professor Farmer commenced testifying Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock, at the Rockingham house.

Two fatal railroad accidents occurred last week, one on the Eastern railroad at Salem, Mass., and the other on the Boston & Maine railroad at Biddeford, Me., and it is a singular coincidence that both of the victims had previously had relatives killed on the railroads, not far from where they lost their own lives. Daley, the man who was killed at Salem, stepped from the track on which he was walking to the other line, directly in front of an engine; and his first wife was killed within twenty rods of the same spot several years ago, in a manner almost precisely similar. The man killed at Biddeford was generally known as James Falvey, but his real name was James F. Sullivan; in attempting to board a moving engine in the yard of the Boston & Maine railroad he missed his footing, fell on the track, and was run over by the wheels of the tender, baggage car and two passenger cars. A few yards from the spot where he met his death, his eleven-year-old son, James Sullivan, was struck by a locomotive on the 23d of June last, and received injuries from which he shortly died.

Capt. H. W. Trefethen of Kittery, master and owner of the steamer Mystic, took a vacation last week, the first one for over three years. From the time he bought the steamer, more than three years since, up to his starting off last week, he had never been away from the boat over twelve hours at a time, day or night, Sundays included.

Several thousands of oldities have been closely piled on the southerly side of the Concord railroad tracks, just westward of the Portsmouth Machine Co.'s property, as a foundation for the spur track which is to be run into the company's yards. The ties have been ballasted with gravel for some distance, and part of the rails were laid on Tuesday.

The schooner Webster Barnard, from Perth Amboy for this port with coal, was run into on the night of the 8th inst., to the eastward of Walsh hill, E. I., by steamer Electra, and had all her head gear carried away. The schooner put into New London, Conn., on the 10th, for repairs.

Conductor Howe has for some weeks been running a gravel train over the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, conveying gravel from Kittery, and that road is now mostly newly-bedded.

Three extra freight trains ran over the Eastern railroad last Sunday.

Walter L. Chesley, who was seriously injured at Hayes' out on the Eastern railroad, at the Plains, Feb. 11th, 1882, and lost a leg thereby, has entered suit against the railroad to recover in the sum of $35,000.

The tug Clara Batemen on Tuesday towed down the schooners Emma K. Small and Addie Sawyer, and brought up the Wm. B. Wood.

Capt. Crowell, principal owner of the schooner Royal Arch, now at the Eastern railroad wharf, has resumed command of the vessel, which he had given up. The seamen, who had deserted her on Capt. Crowell's retiring, returned to duty on his again taking charge.

The fall field day of the New Hampshire Historical Society will be held in this city, some day of this month, to be announced. The members will visit the Gov. Wentworth mansion at Little Harbor, Odiorne's point, and some of the historic houses of Portsmouth; and will dine at the Rockingham.

The steamer City of Portsmouth made a trip to York on Tuesday, to tow around the landing stage from Concordville.

The little steamer Pinafore came in from Appledore island Tuesday morning, in place of the steamer Appledore, which has hauled up.

Fifteen hundred pounds of fish were brought in Tuesday in small boats, and landed at the Spring market for James Kehoe.

The east side of the draw of Portsmouth bridge is being strengthened by the driving of long piles.

The sheds on the Eastern railroad wharf are filled with coal, and coal now arriving is deposited on the wharf.

John McDonald, a brakeman on Maine Central railroad, was on Monday morning, the 10th inst., shackling cars on the Stillwater Branch road, and was pushed into a culvert by a car striking him. He fell forward over one of the rails and a car passed over him, cutting off both legs, one above and the other below the knee. McDonald belonged in Bangor, and was about twenty years of age.

Commodore English, acting secretary of the navy, on the 10th inst. received a telegram from Pensacola saying that there had been no new cases of yellow fever, and no deaths, among the naval forces there, since the last previous report. On the same date another despatch was received from Pensacola, as follows: "The city is still healthy. There have been five deaths and one new case in the last forty-eight hours at the navy yard. There have been no new cases here in the last twenty-four hours."

Capt. Robert F. Bradford is detached from command of the Tennessee, and as fleet captain of the North Atlantic squadron.

A despatch of the 11th from Pensacola to the navy department says all the yellow fever cases at the navy yard and in the hospital are convalescent, and there are no new cases.

"Twelve Men in a Box."

In Dover, last week, in the Supreme court, the jury in the case of McFarland vs. Mills, a suit to recover damages for the bite of a ferocious dog, rendered a verdict for the defendant, to the great surprise of everybody, who heard the trial and the law as given by the court. The plaintiff, an old lady eighty-four years of age, went on a lawful and proper errand at a proper time to Mills' house, and in the yard, when going for the door of the house, the dog jumped at her and made a bad wound in one of her legs with his teeth. She was disabled for nearly or quite two months, suffering badly, and creating a doctor's bill of some seventy-five or eighty dollars. The defendant, Mills, admitted that he owned the dog, and that the dog bit the woman, and his only defence to the suit was that the woman had no business there without permission, and was a trespasser, a very flimsy and shallow defence. There was nothing to it, and the court so instructed the jury and told them in plain terms that the only question for them to decide was how much damages the defendant should pay the plaintiff, for the law positively held him liable. Then the jury retired, and returned a verdict for the defendant, which the court promptly set aside as being contrary to law and evidence.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

The annual meeting of the state organization of Young Men's Christian associations will be held at Tilton, commencing Sept. 18th and continuing six days.

"I had a very fine horse spavined and lamed for four months," writes S. B. Hazeltine, of Searsmont, Mass. "In two weeks, however, after using Ellis' Spavin Cure he was completely cured."

Ella Follard, aged fifteen years, residing four miles from Manchester, had her clothes take fire from a stove on the 9th inst., and was probably fatally burned.

Diphtheria poisons the blood. Convalescents should take Hood's Sarsaparilla to neutralize and eradicate the poison matter.

The schooner Restless, one of the victims of the great August gales on the banks, has been towed into Barrington, N. S., dismasted and full of water, having been found derelict. A number of dead bodies could be seen in her cabin.

"Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick headache."—Dr. H. H. Schlichter, of Baltimore.

Ellis Craft has been sentenced to be hanged Oct. 12th, for the murder of the Gibbons children at Ashland, Ky.

TERRIBLE itching and scaly humors, ulcers, sores and scrofulous swellings cured by the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures) externally, and Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier) internally. Ask about them at your druggists.

A despatch of Sept. 10th, from Little Rock, Ark., says: "Saturday night a mob of sixteen masked men forcibly entered the Yell county jail at Danville, seized John Coker and Dr. Flood, took them to the iron bridge across Petit Jean river, and hanged them. Coker was accused of leading into ambuscade the sheriff's party in search of the Daniel outlaws several weeks ago, in which two men were killed. Flood was accused of harboring the outlaws. The bodies were discovered and cut down on Sunday morning.

CLEAR HEAD and voice, easy breathing, sweet breath, perfect smell, taste and hearing, no cough, no distress. These are conditions brought about in catarrh by the use of Sandford's Radical Cure. Complete treatment for $1.

A London despatch says "Mary Anderson continues to confirm the favorable impression created by her debut in 'Ingemar.' The Lyceum is crowded, and it seems as if she would be able to hold the theatre to a large business, for the winter season. The popularity which she has gained so far is astonishing."

Queen Victoria is at Balmoral, Scotland; her depression over the death of John Brown continues, and she has forbidden the usual Highland games; she frequently drives to Crathie kirkyard to visit his grave.

The Entrance to the Catacombs is less forbidding than a mouth dismantled of teeth. This disfigurement is in most instances, the consequences of a want of attention to them in age, but is happily preventible, with Sozodont, used, as a stump speaker once urged his audiators to vote, "early and often." This staple article is a thoroughly reliable means of rendering the teeth ornamental and serviceable. The press and medical profession indorse it.

I have sold Hop Bitters for four years and there is no medicine that surpasses them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints and many diseases incidents to this malarial climate.

H. T. ALEXANDER.

Mrs. A. Eva Thurber, who was recently discharged from the Northampton lunsane asylum, and afterward attempted suicide in Springfield, Mass., has gone to jail, having been surrendered by one of her bondsmen, in the case in which she is charged with shooting her husband.

Diseases of an exhaustive nature that have a tendency to create an unnatural feeling such as fatigue, lassitude and great weakness throughout the system owe their origin to a lack of Iron in the blood. Brown's Iron Bitters will restore the blood to its natural healthful condition. Get the blood pure by using this remedy and disease will be quickly banished.

A city census of Portland, Me., shows a population of 35,575, a valuation of $33,030,020, and 9,165 polls. The heaviest tax is paid by the estate of John B. Brown, and amounts to $20,194.

"About a year ago my horse was very lame from a sprain," writes E. F. Baily, of Ashland, N. H., "Ellis's Spavin Cure removed both the lameness and bony enlargement." It always does this.

A divorced couple at Lewiston, Me., courted again and were to have been remarried last week, but the man away, and the woman is now trying to find a lawyer who will bring a suit for breach of promise.

Dr. B. R. Doyle, Wadley, Ga., says: "I consider Brown's Iron Bitters superior as a tonic to any preparation now in use."

The Index of St. Johnsbury, Vt., says that, according to the reports of the state press, there is much more drunkenness in Vermont to-day than there has been at any time within the past twenty years.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had taken it a week she had a rousing appetite, and did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested." C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

William Bates, a blacksmith at Highgate Springs, Vt., recently committed suicide. He had been arrested for bigamy, and while awaiting his removal to the jail he cut his throat with a pocket-knife.

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough, prompt measures of relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs; therefore use the great anti-scrofulous or blood-purifier and strength-restorer, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, and kindred affections, it has no equal. Sold by all druggists. For Dr. Pierce's treatise on Consumption send two stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. a

The continued spread of the cattle disease in nearly every portion of England causes the greatest uneasiness. In some sections of England only American beef is now to be obtained. Reports from Holland state that the disease has not yet made its appearance there.

An autopsy, in cases of death from heart disease, is an unnecessary form of law, and productive of but one result—a fee for the coroner and doctor. The symptoms are unmistakable, perfectly plain, and generally well understood. Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator will cure any case of heart disease. If such sufferers will take the Regulator there will be no deaths, and consequently no post mortem examinations.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat well and am happy and hungry.—[EDITOR.

Henry B. Blessing, an engineer in St. Louis, Mo., fired several shots at his brother-in-law on the night of Sept. 10th, all of which took effect, and will prove fatal. He then shot his wife twice, inflicting dangerous wounds. An hour later he was found in the garret of his house with his throat cut from ear to ear, but still alive. All three of the parties to the tragedy were taken to the hospital where they lie in a critical condition. It is surmised that Blessing was actuated by jealousy.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fulness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

Fright--Sight--Night.

I saw a vision in the night
Which chilled my blood almost;
And scared me into dreadful fits—
An awful, horrid ghost!

With turtle's head and lobsters claws,
Ghost made it plain to see.
I'd eaten rather late at night
More than was good for me.

There came a sound like angel's voice,
Clear as a silver bell;
It said, take "Perry Davis's
Pain Killer,—and be well."

A New Analysis

By the present State Assayer of Massachusetts confirms the favorable report of his predecessor in regard to the excellent quality of the Whiskey bottled by Chester H. Graves & Sons Boston, and introduced by them some six years ago under the name G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon.

The New Hampshire Veterans went into camp at Weirs on the 11th under the most favorable auspices. From early dawn large delegations were constantly arriving by boats and trains. It is estimated that 1,000 veterans were on the grounds and nearly 8,000 visitors. The day was given up to the reception of the Grand Army posts and visiting veterans. In the evening camp fires were built, and the boys gathered round them and told stories, and recalled incidents of the war.

More Democratic Harmony.

The New York correspondent of the Boston Post says that according to a despatch received in that city from Baltimore "the political situation in Maryland is getting to be very interesting. In a state which is doubtless democratic it seems possible for the republicans to win this year, but their success will depend upon the greatest care in the selection of candidates and on the continuance of disaffection in the democratic ranks. Republicans not connected with the politics of that state, who have recently spent some time in Maryland, say that the reports of the possibility of republican success both in the election of governor and in the lower branch of the legislature, if not in both branches, are well founded. The bitterness between the democrats factions is daily becoming more intense. It is very evident that the Gorman ring has complete control of the state, and that Gov. Hamilton's reform wing will be defeated. The dissatisfaction, which has been quite sharp in times past among the republicans there, is now practically healed."

Has Free Trade, Yet Is Depressed.

When a large quantity of cotton goods was disposed of at cheap rates, at a trade sale in New York a few weeks ago, anti-protection papers hastened to proclaim that the depressed condition of the market for cotton was owing to the injurious action of the protective laws, under which the cost of manufacture was so great that American merchants could not compete in the world's markets against the merchants of the countries favored with free trade.

Great Britain has free trade, or at least what passes for such at present; and the men who of all others are most anxious for American manufacturers and merchants to enjoy the blessings of free trade, are the British manufacturers and merchants. But it seems that even free trade is not an absolute specific for all the ills the commercial world is liable to, for on the 11th inst., at a meeting of the Lancashire cotton spinners' society at Manchester, England, a resolution was passed declaring that "the depressed state of the cotton-goods trade demands a reduction of wages. The resolution applies to both the spinning and weaving departments of the factories."

Possibly the free traders will say that if the British manufacturers had control of the American markets, as they would have but for protection, they would not have to talk of reducing wages, as their trade would not be depressed. This may be correct; but even so, we do not see of what special advantage it would be to the American mill operatives, who would be thrown out of work.

New Hampshire Legislature.

Both houses on the 11th extended an invitation to Lord Coleridge and suite to visit the legislature while in session.

A concurrent resolution was adopted, that the legislature finally adjourn at noon on Thursday, the 13th.

In the senate, bills limiting the term of imprisonment of persons committed to jail in default of payment of fines and costs imposed by justices and police courts; relating to the catching of lake trout; relating to offences against morality and religion; relating to the delivery of blank inventories; establishing a new apportionment of public taxes; and for relief of the town of Hart's Location, were passed. The bill regulating hours of labor in manufacturing establishments was indefinitely postponed.

In the house, in the afternoon, the bill amending the charter of the Manchester & Fitchburg railroad was indefinitely postponed. The following were passed: A joint resolution making an appropriation for the Mooselauke tunnel steam road; in relation to drawing off water from Lake Winnepisoogee and other lakes and ponds of New Hampshire to supply mills in other states; bills—relating to hours of labor in manufacturing establishments, relating to the support of county paupers, incorporating the Concord Guaranty Savings bank. The bill changing from the district to the town system of schools was refused a third reading. In the evening, the bill relating to reporting legal decisions of the supreme court passed. The bill taxing pianos was discussed at considerable length, and refused a third reading.

In the house, on the 12th, the bill relating to offences against morality and religion was passed.

The Chinese Trouble.

A despatch to London from Hong Kong states that a Chinese mob at Canton burned the houses of several European merchants, and also their wharves, causing great consternation among the foreign residents, most of whom sought refuge on board vessels in the river. The foreign consuls hauled down their flags during the rioting. A hostile attitude was displayed by the Chinese against the Europeans, but the affair is alleged to be unimportant politically. The riot was simply the work of roughs, who thought they had a vested right to fees for carrying the baggage of new arrivals. Their fury at being forbidden to board a steamer was increased by the accidental drowning of a comrade. According to another version the riot originated in a dispute between natives and sailors in the lowest quarter of Canton. The latest advises say that thirteen houses were burned. The British gunboats Espoir and Swift are affording protection to the Europeans. The London Times in a leading article says: "It is difficult to avoid the suspicion that the Canton riot was directly connected with the irritation caused by the French operations in Tonquin. The time has arrived to more effectually secure British lives and property in China."

A pension clerk named G. W. Bonnell, who was discharged from the office in Washington on the 10th inst., and an alleged confederate, Lemuel J. Denham, were arraigned on the 11th on the charge of devising a scheme to defraud pension claimants, and were held in $10,000 for a further hearing. It is charged that Bonnell furnished Denham with information regarding claims which he (Bonnell) knew were about to be allowed, and that the latter wrote to the claimants offering to procure the allowance of their claims for thirty per cent of the amount of the claim.

A quantity of wreckage, consisting of a steamer's spars and deck planks, with bolts attached, was picked up at West Jedden, Halifax county, N. S., on Thursday, Sept. 6th. About the same time a quantity of wreckage, supposed to belong to a steamer, was picked up at Clam Harbor, a few miles to the eastward. The latter consisted of deckwork. Similar wreckage has since drifted ashore along the coast, and it is supposed to belong to the vessel which went down off Indian Harbor, and which, being in a very exposed place in comparatively shallow water, broke up completely and was washed from the spot in the two days' heavy weather, after she was discovered, before the divers could visit her. The wreckage is supposed to be the last of the missing steamer Ludwig. Her machinery had probably been disabled, and she was proceeding under sail, and thus fell an easy victim to the hurricane of the 29th ult.

A salmon weighing eight pounds was caught in a wheel pit of the York mills at Saco on the 8th inst., by some workmen, who ate him for their dinner.

Mr. George Stott, the old-time grocer of Hanover street, returned on Saturday, the 8th inst., from his annual vacation trip with Mayor Donovon of Lowell, Mass., much rejuvenated by his excursion. Mayor Donovan after leaving Mr. Stott proceeded on a trip to Niagara and other points, having been joined by friends from Lowell.

What was thought to be a real live Russian nobleman at Old Orchard beach turns out to be a Boston music teacher in search of pupils for the coming winter. Some of the Boston girls are so mad that they throw their "Atlantic Monthly" on the floor and stamp on it.—New York Mail.

—"You said you were going to vote for me," indignantly exclaimed a defeated candidate, addressing Mike, the well-known Irishman. "An' didn't I vote fur ye?" "Naw, you didn't." "Well, sor, in that evint, there's only one conclusion that I kin arrive at." "And what is that?" "That I towld ye a lie, sor."

—An Anstrian inventor has succeeded in lighting up the inside of a man's body for the purpose of facilitating the performance of surgical operations. It is expected that patent medicine manufacturers will now furnish an electric light with each bottle of medicine, so that the purchaser can illuminate his inside to see that the only genuine liver rejuvenator is not tampering with his lungs.

—"Do you want to see some fun?" said a small boy to his father. "Don't care if I do," he replied. "Well, let's go and listen to Deacon Dumpy tack down his carpets." "I don't think there's anything funny in that," scornfully snorted the parent. "Don't, eh? You seem to forget that the deacon stutters." "Ah," said the old man. Then they went over to hearken.

—A Boston journal puts in a plea for the much-abused boarding house. The young man, it says, recently from a farm, who never saw so many vegetables before, because his father raised them to sell, and lived on salt meat and codfish, thinks it "cityfied" and well bred to sniff at his food and talk of leaving "unless the table is improved." The delicate young woman of the boarding house never takes exercise, and, being a voracious eater, blames the landlady for all her little aches. There are all tastes to gratify—those who want fat meat, lean meat, vegetables of all kinds, pies, cakes, fruits. The landlady patiently does her best, and yet there are growlers, and withal a regular percentage who never pay their board bills.

MEDICAL.

If it were possible

to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day doubts it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medical value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.

MESSRS. C.I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and billiousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me at all. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,

JONATHAN J. COBURN.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vivility and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

"JOSHUA WHITCOMB."

Denman Thompson is booked for Music hall on Saturday evening, when he will appear in his famous creation of Joshua Whitcomb. The old New England farmer grows more popular as he grows older, and with his natural ways and quaint sayings an evening passed in his society is most delightfully refreshing. The company is almost the same that has been here before, including Miss Julia Wilson as Little Tot, Ignacio Martinetti as the street Arab, and others. Tickets at Goodrich's.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 12th.

James McLaughlin, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs being taxed at $6.90. County farm in default of payment.

Rear Adm. Ed. T. Nichols, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, visited this navy yard on the 12th inst., and received the regulation salute.

All work in the department of equipment at the navy yard was suspended on Wednesday evening, the 12th inst., excepting in the case of a gang engaged in discharging a coal vessel. Lack of funds caused the suspension.

Sergeant Robert Bates, U. S. M. C., has been appointed orderly sergeant, to take the place of Sergeant Cotter, who has been retired from the service on account of the failure of his eyes. Sergeant Bates has for many years been a resident of Christian Shore, and his appointment as orderly sergeant is considered, by all who know him, as one eminently fit to be made.

There was a very fair attendance at the Ellis Family concert in Music hall on the evening of the 11th inst., and the Baptist chapel fund, in aid of which the entertainment was given, realized quite a handsome sum. The concert was good, the vocal selections and the various bell-ringing performances being liberally applauded; while Miss Romie's playing on the crystal goblets with one hand, and a piano accompaniment with the other, brought down the house.

Mr. Ira C. Seymour, who has for three weeks been confined to his room through inflammation of the bowels, has so far recovered as to be able to move about the house.

The schooner Freddie L. Porter was on the 12th inst. hauled from the Concord railroad wharf, where she had discharged a cargo of coal, to the old wharf at Noble's island, where she is to be repaired by Mr. Warren Keen. She was formerly a two-masted schooner, but is now three-masted; and was built at this port in 1865 by Wm. F. Fernald. Her repairs will include the putting in of three new deck beams of hard pine, new hanging and deck knees of hackmatack, recaulking, and renovation of her rudder head. The iron work is being done by James Raitt.

About three hundred persons from Dover and this city went on the Eastern railroad excursion to the White mountains on Wednesday of this week, notwithstanding the weather was cool enough for the first of November. There were eight passenger cars in the train, five of them having come down from Dover over the Portsmouth & Dover road.

The steamer Sirius was advertised in the Boston papers of the 11th inst. to make her last trip between that city and Portsmouth, for this season, on the 13th. She did not come here on the 12th, owing to the small number of passengers offering; people do not care to go on sea excursions when the weather is so cold that they have to wear overcoats on shore in order to keep warm.

Nathaniel D. Miller, Esq., remains very seriously ill at his residence, Gravelly Ridge.

Mr. Frank Laskey, since his return from Minneapolis and the west, has settled down to work with T. S. Gay & Co., Market street, where his services as a Portsmouth mechanic and sail-maker are highly esteemed.

U. D. Tenney, the artist, has arrived back from an absence of some weeks in New Haven, Conn., where he painted for Gen. S. E. Merwin a portrait of his brother, Lieut. Col. Henry G. Merwin, who was killed at the battle of Gettysburg, which picture is to be presented by Gen. Merwin to Henry C. Merwin post of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Wednesday forenoon, the 12th inst., as one of the city teams was being loaded with ashes in the passage-way leading to Stoddard's stable, the horses started on a run, and caught a hind wheel of the cart between the wheels of one of Stoddard's carriages, dragging it into the street and making it a wreck before they could be stopped.

Mr. Harry Kiggins, a well known stevedore, while preparing to start in his boat on a fishing excursion down river a few days ago since, fell overboard at Sise's wharf, but was speedily rescued by James Quinn, the athletic young barber and swimmer of the north end, who boasts of having saved other persons from drowning in that dangerous part of the river.

The main point which the board was trying to settle, was the custom of individual members of certain committees to authorize expenditures without the consent or the consultation of other members of the same committee. The point was raised by Aldermen Caswell, chairman of the committee on accounts, who said it was wrong for the chairman of the committee of any department to authorize work or the purchase of anything for the use of such departments without consulting the members of the committee. He said he had been frequently called upon to examine bills which neither the board as a whole, nor any committee had authorized, and that it was a difficult and thankless task; and he thought the practice should be stopped. * * * This remark brought the chairmen of three different committees to their feet at once, who had in three instances done the work attendant upon three different cases, and the hubbub was such that the mayor was obliged to ring his bell and call loudly for order.

Mr. Editor: The above I find in a report of the meeting of the aldermen on the 6th inst., published in the Times. The other aldermen may have been angry, but Ald. Caswell was right. There has always been too much of this assumption of personal power. The common council does not have, and never has had, the slightest influence in city affairs; but for the chairmen of the aldermanic committees to assume that they have supreme power in their special departments and that the other members are but ornaments, whose advice or consent as to any measure or expenditure is not to be asked, is apparently something new. If this rule is to obtain, the committees might as well be composed of but one member each, and let that member have the appropriation for his department handed over to him in a lump, to be spent when and where and how he pleased. This would save a great deal of friction, and the result would be much the same as now. CLAWS.

Prof. Julius Kostlin's "Life of Martin Luther," which Mr. Froude, in his recent articles in the "Contemporary Review," cites so often and so warmly commends, will soon be published by Messrs. Charles Scribner's Sons, simultaneously with its appearance in England. Now that the 400th anniversary of Luther's birth (the 10th of November) is so rapidly approaching, the book will be looked forward to with peculiar interest. For many years Prof. Kostlin has made a thorough study of his subject; twenty years ago he published his book "Luther's Theology and its Historical Development," and the present work, which first appeared in Liepsic, was at once accepted as beyond question the best biography of the great reformer, as it is the latest.

"American Commonwealths" is the title of a new series which Houghton, Mifflin & Co. announce, to be brought out under the editorial care of Horace E. Schudder, and to include a popular yet thoroughly accurate history of such of the states of the Union as have contributed in any marked degree to determine the form of the American government, or have had any distinctive social, political, or economical history. The first volume of the series, devoted to Virginia, is from the trained hand of John Esten Cooke, well known as one of the leading writers of the Old Dominion. Oregon will be treated by Rev. Dr. William Barrows; South Carolina by Hon. William H. Trescot, formerly assistant secretary of state; Maryland by William Hand Browne, associate of Johns Hopkins University; Pennsylvania by Hon. Wayne MacVeagh; Kentucky by Prof. N. S. Shaler of Harvard University.

The Maine Baggage Smasher.

The baggage question is one of considerable importance to the baggage owner, and as our reporter stood yesterday on a sea of baggage, all but ready to sink for want of faith in the moderation of the baggage smasher, he thought he would tackle him gently for the sake of the people. "Where's that trunk been?" said the reporter, pointing to a trunk that had evidently been stranded in the stormy sea of summer travel. "I should think that that handle was yanked off somewhere on the Maine Central near Bath. There's a man at Brunswick, I think it is, whom we always know by the way he leaves his handles—always tears 'em out on the same end of one side. When a trunk is split along the back it's pretty sure to have been handled in Brunswick. The Brunswick transfer splits trunks like a buzz saw, but when you get the trunk stove in at both ends, with the hinges off and the lock collapsed, you may be pretty sure it's been into Lewiston. There's where they do smash baggage. You see they get so darned mad handling the chests of drawers and washstands and wooden boxes that pass for baggage that they view every trunk as a natural enemy, and single out the good ones like sharp-shooters try for officers." "What's your private mark?" asked the reporter. "Oh, we don't smash baggage here. Baggage smashers, like the shakes in Jersey, is always in the next town. But I ain't got no grudge against these summer Saratogas, anyway!" said the baggage man, looking in a kindly way at the model village of two-story houses about him.—Belfast Journal.

What He Had to Say.

Mr. Jenks had an eye to the beautiful, and when his wife brought into the domestic economy a real pretty house girl, Mr. Jenks began to scout around for game. Mrs. Jenks had her eyes open, and one day caught her lord unsuccessfully trying to kiss the girl.

"Well, sir," she said, with frozen dignity and unutterable scorn, "I've caught you, have I?"

"The indications would warrant such a conclusion, my dear," he replied, coolly.

"What have you to say, sir?"

"Well, my dear, it isn't exactly in order for any lengthy remarks, but I should say if it was half as hard to kiss you as it was to kiss that girl, I don't really believe I could stand the racket oftener than once in ten years."

Then he mopped his perspiring brow and took a long breath, and his wife sent the girl away and hired a colored woman.

—"Dumley," said a friend admiringly, "I believe you are a man to die with your boots on." "Yes," replied Dumley, straightening himself and trying hard not to appear too dare-devilish, "and why do you think so?" "Because you so rarely take them off when you go to bed."

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

250th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION.

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

The Cape Ann Breakwater.

The surveys have been completed for the projected breakwater at Rockport by Sophus Haagenson, United States Ass't Engineer, and last week a diver walked over a portion of the course to gain a more definite idea of the character of the bottom, which is favorable for the enterprise, being firm and generally rocky. The projected breakwater will be somewhat curved in shape, one end resting on Avery's rock, near Straitsmouth, in twenty-five feet of water, and the other towards Andrew's point, a distance of about 2 1-4 miles, where the depth is eighty feet. This will inclose a splendid harbor of 1600 acres, unequalled for shelter, depth and ease of entrance. The material is close at hand, and can be handled cheaply, and the entire expense will be about $10,000,000, of which it is hoped that Congress may be induced to appropriate $1,000,000 annually.

Hop Bitters Co., TORONTO;

I have been sick for the past six years, suffering from dyspepsia and general weakness. I have used three bottles of Hop Bitters, and they have done wonders for me. I am well and able to work and eat and sleep well. I cannot say too much for Hop Bitters. SIMON ROBBINS.

The cattle schooner Mary Ellen, from St. Johns, N. F., for Antigonish, went down with all hands in the gale of Aug. 29th.

"I had a very fine horse spavined and lamed for four months," writes S. B. Hazeltine, of Searsmontt, Mass. "In two weeks, however, after using Ellis' Spavin Cure he was completely cured."

The Boston base ball club beat the Chicagos at Boston on the 11th inst., and again took the head of the list in the contest for the league pennant.

If you fail to receive benefit from other preparations, try Hood's Sarsaparilla; it's the strongest, the purest, the best, the cheapest.

Two men were killed and eight wounded by a collision between two trains on the Long Island railroad on the 11th inst.

"Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick headache."—Dr. H. H. Schlichter, of Baltimore.

Howard Stevens and George Brown were drowned in Lake Champlain, near Plattsburg, N. Y., on Sunday, the 9th inst., by the capsizing of a sailboat. A. J. Smith, another of the party, drifted with the boat for ten hours, finally landing on an island. He reached Plattsburg on Monday night, the 10th.

At Cairo, Ill., Sept. 10th, Kate Colton, a colored woman, became incensed at Alf. Miller, who refused to marry her, and put some poison in the coffee at the house of Miller's father-in-law, and the whole family were poisoned. One member has already died, and the rest are very low.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Owing to the receipt by the British government of information respecting a proposed demonstration on the arrival in England of O'Donnell, the slayer of James Carey, from South Africa, a gunboat will be sent to meet the steamer on which O'Donnell is a passenger, and her place of landing may be changed.

The Entrance to the Catacombs is less forbidding than a mouth dismantled of teeth. This disfigurement is in most instances, the consequences of a want of attention to them in use, but is happily preventible, with Sozodont, used, as a stump speaker once urged his auditors to vote, "early and often." This staple article is a thoroughly reliable means of rendering the teeth ornamental and serviceable. The press and medical profession indorse it.

Diseases of an exhaustive nature that have a tendency to create an unnatural feeling such as fatigue, lassitude and great weakness throughout the system owe their origin to a lack of Iron in the blood. Brown's Iron Bitters will restore the blood to its natural healthful condition. Get the blood pure by using this remedy and disease will be quickly banished.

Hay Fever.

For Hay Fever I recommend Ely's Cream Balm. It entirely relieved me from the first application; have been a sufferer for ten years. Going from home and neglecting to take the remedy, I had an attack; after returning I immediately resorted to it, and found instant relief. I believe, had I begun its use earlier, I should not have been troubled. J. Collyer, Clerk, 118 Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J.

My brother Myron and myself were both cured to all appearance of catarrh and hay fever last July and August. Up to this date, Dec. 23, neither have had any return of these troubles. Ely's Cream Balm was the medicine used. Gabriel Ferris, Spencer, N. Y.

Asst. Engr. J. R. Wilmer is detached from the Ranger, and placed on waiting orders.

Humor in the Stomach.

Much of the distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa and other causes is occasioned by humor in the stomach. Several cases, with all the characteristics of these complaints, have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Other cures effected by this medicine are so wonderful that the simplest statement of them affords the best proof that it combines rare curative agents and when once used secures the confidence of the people.

PROPOSALS FOR PURCHASE OF VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, August 13, 1883.

In accordance with the provisions of the 4th section of the act of Congress making appropriations to supply deficiencies, approved March 3, 1883, sealed proposals will be received at the Navy Department until noon on Tuesday, November 20, 1883, at which time and place they will be opened, for the purchase of certain vessels at the Navy Yard, Mare Island, California, which have been stricken from the Navy Register, under authority of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1883, and which it is deemed for the best interests of the United States to sell.

The vessels offered and their appraised value are, the Monadnock (old), $11,200; Alaska, $15,200; Benecia, $17,600; Tuscarora, $9,900; Nantasket, $5,900; Nyack $4,900, and Saco, $5,600.

Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C., and endorsed "proposals for the purchase of vessels," so as to distinguish them from other communications. No offer for more than one vessel should be included within one proposal.

The vessels will be sold, for cash, to the person or persons or corporation or corporations, offering the highest prices therefor above the appraised value thereof. Each bid or proposal must be accompanied by a deposit in cash (or satisfactory certified check) of not less than ten per cent of the amount of the offer or proposal, and also a bond with a penal sum equal to the whole amount of the offer, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the Secretary of the Navy, conditioned for the payment of the remaining ninety per cent of the amount of such offer of proposal within thirty days from the date of its acceptance. In case default is made in the payment of the remaining ninety per cent, or any part thereof within that time, said cash deposit of ten per cent shall be considered as forfeited to the Government, and shall be applied as directed in the act of March 3, 1883. All deposits and bonds of bidders, whose proposals shall not be accepted, will be returned to them within seven days after the opening of the proposals.

On application to the Department, a printed list will be furnished, giving general information concerning the vessels; also forms of bids and bonds, which must be used by bidders. The vessels can be examined at any time by applying to the Commandant of the Mare Island Yard.

The purchasers must remove the vessels purchased from the limits of the Yard within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Department.

ED. T. NICHOLS,

Acting Secretary of the Navy.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fulness of words which meet business documents and certificates never possess.

TO THE PUBLIC!

Fright--Sight--Night.

I saw a vision in the night
Which chilled my blood almost;
And scared me into dreadful fits—
An awful, horrid ghost!

With turtle's head and lobsters claws,
Ghost made it plain to see,
I'd eaten rather late at night
More than was good for me.

There came a sound like angel's voice,
Clear as a silver bell:
It said, take "Perry Davis's
Pain Killer,—and be well."

PORTSMOUTH IN BYGONE DAYS.

THE OLD STATE HOUSE.

For eighty years there stood upon the Parade a public building, neither handsome nor imposing, but useful, and serving the combined purpose of a State House, a Court House, and later of a Town House. Built by a vote of the Province in 1758, after repeated efforts had failed to have action taken in this direction—the two-storied wooden edifice withstood the rain and the storm and escaped the danger of fire down to a date within the memory of men still living, when it passed under the hammer, and was removed, leaving to the town a valuable open space, and restoring to the Parade its old proportions. This structure, aside from its having been a conspicuous landmark to the generations that passed under its shadow, did not fail to gather to itself historic associations which will interest many who care to acquaint themselves with the past of Portsmouth. Let us then for a brief moment devote our attention to a history and description of The Old State House.

As soon as the settlement at Great Island and The Bank began to grow there must have been frequent occasion for a room of something more than ordinary capacity, wherein to transact the public business. In 1660 there were eighty-six males above the age of twenty-one; in 1680 the qualified voters numbered seventy-one. The very earliest records show that it was customary to come together and vote in general town meeting. In those days the word "meeting-house," though primarily applied to a place of meeting for religious worship, signified as well a place where the townspeople met to discuss and vote upon town affairs. The meeting-house on the hill below the milldam was built in 1658. Here town meetings were held until 1712, when the new meeting-house was ready for occupancy on the North church site. The meeting-house door was the place where the warrant for the town meeting was posted, and indeed the most convenient place for public notices of any kind.

It is a matter of curious enquiry whether the building that stood on the glebe since about 1638, and known as a "chappell," for church service, was ever used for public secular purposes. In the grant of the glebe (1640) the language is "a parsonage house, with a chapel thereto united." Though it was not consecrated, it might be thought that the people would so far respect the practice of the Church of England as to refrain from putting the building to such use. On the other hand, it is referred to in the town records as "the meeting-house." In 1654 there are two entries regarding "ordering the seats in the meeting-house." In 1657 the foot-path from Pickering's dam is spoken of as "towards the present meeting-house." And in 1660, after the new meeting-house was erected beyond the dam, Richard Cutt was chosen by the selectmen "to oversee, order & carrie on the worke of the old meeting-house in the repairing of it to make a dwelling house for the minister." It would appear that the parsonage house and chapel were not two distinct buildings, but actually united as one, and that the whole building (which probably was not large) was thus changed into a dwelling-house. The chances are therefore that the original "chappell" served as a place for holding town meetings.

In 1679, when the Province of New Hampshire was constituted, with John Cutt as President, the Council and House of Deputies came into being as the General Assembly. This body first assembled March 16, 1680. There were six members of the Council, and their names are mentioned in the King's Commission. The House consisted of eleven representatives, three each from Portsmouth, Dover and Hampton, and two from Exeter. It did not require very commodious quarters to accommodate these two bodies, and they met at private houses. In 1682 the deputies met at the house of George Snell, in Portsmouth. In that year Governor Cranfield ordered that "Capt. Daniel & William Vaughan, Esq., of ye Council take order for a convenient meeting place for ye Council & Deputies of ye General Assembly in some private house in Portsmo It being his Majestie's pleasure & command not to have any in Taverns & such like public places." In 1684 they held their session at Jaffrey's house (now Mr. Albee's, at Newcastle,) which is spoken of as "late in the possession of George Jaffrey." This house Mr. Jaffrey was dispossessed of for not recognizing the Mason right to rent. "The talk is," says Weare's letter, "that his house must be court-house and prison both; and standing so near the governor it is judged suitable for both those ends, that he may have the shorter journey to court, and the prisoners may be always under his eye." In 1692 the Assembly sat at the house of Mr. Rhines at Strawberry Bank.

Capt. Thomas Packer lived where now the Jenness house stands, at the corner of Court and Pleasant streets. In 1718 a memorandum in the Provincial Records is to this effect: "It being ye time of ye sitting of ye Superior Court ye House adjourned from ye Court House to ye great room in Mr. Speaker Packer's house." In the year from April 1706 to April 1707, Packer was allowed seven pounds "for Rent for the Council Chamber and Court House." The courts sat sometimes at Great Island, sometimes at the Bank. There was no safe depository for the court papers, but the clerk kept them at his house. In 1746 Richard Waldron's house at the Plains was destroyed by fire, and most of the records of the Probate Court were thus lost. The courts enjoyed such quarters as they could find in dwelling houses. In December, 1682, a session of the Court was held at George Snell's house. The Courts later made use of the meeting-house for their sessions. In May, 1737, the North Parish voted that "the wardens do not permit any Courts to be held in ye meeting house." But it appears, after that date, when a great trial was to come off, resort was had—at least upon one occasion—to the meeting-house. In 1764 the Gazette announced that the trial of the woman for murder of her infant would take place at Mr. Haven's church. [This was probably Ruth Blay, executed in 1768.] As late as 1833 a meeting-house was used in this neighborhood for the trial of a jury case, viz.: the Bradbury Gilley will case at Exeter, in which Mason, Webster and Bartlett were engaged as counsel.

The selectmen could easily meet and do their work in a room of moderate size. On the evening of January 15, 1652, the selectmen met at the house of George Walton, who kept an ordinary at Great Island. After the alms-house was built on Jaffrey street in 1755 (where the Court house now is,) the selectmen for years met at Union Hall in that building.

The lack of a fixed place for the Assembly and the courts to meet grew at last to be a serious inconvenience. To resort to private houses or to taverns for this purpose was felt to be wanting in dignity, to say nothing of the obvious disadvantages. But when the idea was first broached to have a suitable building put up for these public purposes, the Province was not rich, besides that their means, such as they had, were needed for defence in time of war. It is interesting to trace the steps by which this project was advanced, neglected, again and again urged, and brought at last to a successful conclusion.

As early as 1711 Governor Dudley recommended in his speech to the Assembly that a Town House, an Alms House and Bridewell be built "agreeable to what is done in other places." Perhaps His Excellency's suggestions went too far; at any rate nothing came of them. Five years later peace had come, and Dudley had given way to a popular successor, a native of Portsmouth, Lieut.-Governor George Vaughan. Without doubt Mr. Vaughan favored the plan, for in December, 1715, the Council voted to build a Court House in Portsmouth. The House the next year voted to suspend building for a time. In 1718 another vote to the like effect was sent down to the House, but nothing was done.

The project was revived in 1725, but as usual it met with no favor from the House. The following year the House considered a plan for building a court house and prison at Hampton, Exeter and Dover respectively; and a court-house and prison, as well as a State House, at Portsmouth, "to be let out to skillfull & proper workmen that will do the work cheapest," and concluded by suspending the subject till the next session. They did nothing, however, the next year. At this period the Assembly were sitting at Sheriff Packer's house.

Governor Belcher, who was appointed in 1730, zealously approved of the proposed new building. "I think," said he, in a speech to the Assembly, "it would be not only for the Honor of his Majesty and this Goverment, but for the great Convenience in the dispatch of the Publick affaires, That a handsome Court house be built in the Town of Portsmo (the Capital of this Province) for holding the General Court and Courts of Justice below, and for the better security of all the Public records." The House thereupon passed a bill for raising six thousand pounds for repair of the Fort, and building a State House—but it did not become a law.

In 1737 a number of gentlemen in Portsmouth subscribed a handsome sum toward building a court house, and in March of that year Gov. Belcher again urged the House to "make suitable provision for completing so good a work." On the first of April, he said: "Before I put an end to this session I should be glad you would once more consider the affaire I have so earnestly recommended to you of erecting a Court House in the Town of Portsmouth, the doing of which I still think of Great Importance to this Province." But the House were not to be persuaded, and they voted not to build. On coming together in December, however, they passed a bill to emit six thousand pounds for repairing the fortifications and building a court house. The Governor, referring to his instructions not to assent to any bill for the emission of any more paper currency, did not approve it. At his suggestion, however, they passed a bill in different form, which he forwarded to England to obtain the King's leave to sign the same. But this, like previous attempts, came to nothing.

At length, in 1752, the prospect brightened. The war had closed. The contention in the province between Governor Benning Wentworth and the Assembly had moderated. Meshach Weare, a man of great popularity, sat in the Speaker's chair. In December the House appointed the Speaker, Richard Jenness, Esq., and Mr. Henry Sherburne, Jr., a committee to join with such as the Council might appoint "to look out for a suitable place in the Town of Portsmouth to build a State House upon," to draw a plan, and report to the General Assembly. This committee reported in March, 1753, recommending a brick building, eighty by thirty feet. But the French and Indian war soon broke out, and the people of Portsmouth and other towns had all they could do to put themselves in a proper condition for defense, and to aid the expeditions of the crown. There was no time or money to bestow upon the plan of erecting a public building.

If it were possible to get the testimony of the multitude who have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA for debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which every one feels during this season, we should be able to present to our readers such an overwhelming mass of commendatory messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains more real medicinal value than any article before the people.

What a Man Did with Kidney Complaint

DRACUT, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sirs—I have suffered from kidney complaint and biliousness for fifteen years. Have tried everything and never got any good. Last January, before I commenced taking HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, everything I ate bloated me all up, pain in my chest and arms, headache and dizzy. I could not get up without feeling weary and all fagged out. Many mornings I was obliged to lie down on the lounge. To do any work seemed almost impossible. Have taken two bottles. The backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything and it does not press me as it did. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and hope all who desire to know anything about it will come to me and ask what I think of it. Very truly yours,

Capt. W. Q. Lowd, of Jackson, Mississippi, arrived in this city on Tuesday evening of this week,—his first visit to his native place in five years. Capt. Lowd comes east as the delegate from the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows of the state of Mississippi to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the United States, which meets this year in Providence R. I., commencing on Friday, the 14th inst., and continuing in session probably a week,—including the time spent in enjoying the various entertainments laid out for the visitors by the Rhode Island brethren, who have among other things arranged for a grand clambake, which will no doubt be a revelation in gastronomy to many of the delegates from interior states. Capt. Lowd is also one of the commissioners appointed by the governor of Mississippi to the great exposition of American industry, science, art and natural productions now open in the Institute building at Boston.

The men who recently endeavored to find water for supplying the boilers of the steam heating apparatus in the custom house building through the medium of driven wells, after repeated trials occupying a week gave up the job as a hopeless one, bed rock being struck at from fifteen to eighteen feet below the surface at every point tried, and no gravel found.

Samuel W. Saunders, Esq., of Lewiston, Me., who has been for several months past travelling quite extensively through Maine and New Hampshire in the interest of "Appleton's American Cyclopædia," gave us a call one day this week, and assured us that he had seen more apples on the trees in Rockingham county, in ten days, than he had seen through all the rest of New Hampshire and the whole state of Maine, during his travels.

The Aqueduct Co.'s workmen engaged in digging at the new spring on the Sherburne place, on getting down about thirteen feet below the surface found numbers of shells of small clams, about an inch long, scattered through the gravel and sand.

Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell's schooner, the Lucy, left Smuttynose island for Gloucester on the morning of the 11th inst., with a cargo of fish.

One of the partners in the extensive furniture manufacturing firm of Stephen Smith & Co., Boston, who were burned out on the night of the 12th inst. with a loss of $90,000, is Mr. Joseph Norris, a gentleman well known in this city, of which he was formerly for many years a resident.

Captain "Rashe" Trefethen, of the steamer Mystic, reached home on Wednesday of this week, and has taken command of his boat again. It is rumored that in his hurry to get to Kittery he stepped on board the James Sampson by mistake, and did not find it out until about half-way across the river, when they came around to collect the fares, when he burst forth in one of his most eloquent and spirited orations as he discovered his own boat a short distance off, but going in an opposite direction. It is also said that the uniforms for the Mystic's crew are coming down by express.

At the Veterans' Reunion at Weirs, on the 12th inst., Gov. Hale, Senator-elect Pike, Congressman-elect Haynes, Ex-Gov. Smyth, Hon. John S. Treat and others made speeches.

Tuesday evening, the 11th inst., Mr. D. J. Lynch of Boston, late of this city, started from Biddeford, Me., for Saco, to catch the Flying Yankee train, which he met outside the station after it had got under good way. He caught the hand rail of the baggage car as it passed him, intending to board that car, but the speed of the train was much greater than he had calculated on, and he was whirled around and flung over to the other line of rails, from which he arose unhurt, mighty glad he had not been thrown under the wheels, and fully resolved that the next time he attempts to board a car in motion it will be after the train has come to a stand-still.

The Biddeford Times remarks: "Chas. F. Shillaber, a brother to B. P. Shillaber, (Mrs. Partington,) was married in Portsmouth, N. H., Monday, to Miss Anna S. Conner." Little mistake about that item. The bridegroom, who is paymaster of the Little Rock & Fort Smith railroad, with his office at Little Rock, Ark., is not a brother of Mrs. Partington, but a grandson of the genial old dame's favorite "Brother Bob."

The annual convocation of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, Knights of Honor, was held at Pythian hall, Concord, on the 12th inst., for the election of officers and other business. R. Hamilton Perkins of this city was chosen grand dictator, Joseph H. Gardiner grand reporter, and Oliver M. Knight grand guardian.

The Woman's Temperance League will hold a special meeting on Saturday afternoon.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the York Steamboat Co. was held in this city on the 13th inst.; the old board of directors were re-elected.

Mr. Aiken, secretary to President Jackson of the Eastern railroad, who has been ill for several weeks, is now able to be at his desk again. General Ticket Agent Tuttle, who has been seriously ill, is on the mending hand. General Manager Tucker was on Thursday reported so ill as to be confined to his house.

The Manchester Union affirms that it is very naughty in Mr. Chandler to be about the Concord hotels influencing legislation, and writing editorials for the Monitor intended as a crack of the whip over Gov. Hale's head. Mr. Chandler has a way of doing things peculiar to himself. He sometimes surprises his political associates in his movements. That he should now and then draw to himself the severe criticism of democratic editors is not at all surprising. The New York Sun commonly has, about twice a week, one of its severe protesting articles concerning the use of the Tallapoosa by the secretary as a pleasure yacht; but those who know how these things are done,—that the Tallapoosa has certain duties to perform and does it, and that when Mr. Chandler takes passage on the craft he furnishes from his private purse the supplies for the commissary department, have always regarded this castigation of the Sun very much as did the old Scotchman who, when taunted with the fact that his wife flogged him whenever she lost her temper, retorted, "Well, wha' of it? It pleases her, and it don't hurt me."

The weather bureau on the 13th announced that the West India hurricane had disappeared northeast of Cape Hatteras.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Gov. Hale on the 13th returned the railroad commissioners bill to the house without his approval, with a message givins his reasons for withholding his signature.

One of the largest fires that has occurred in Boston for months took place on the evening of the 12th inst., when the five-story brick mill of Stephen Smith & Co. on West Canton street, manufactures of office desks and furniture, was burned. Three alarms were rung in, close following each other, and 20,000 persons viewed the conflagration. The loss is placed at $90,000, with about $60,000 insurance.

The storm which has been slowly advancing up the coast from the West Indies struck Smithville, N. C., on the 11th inst., and blew a hurricane for eight or ten hours, the wind averaging eighty-one miles an hour for seven consecutive hours. Houses were unroofed, wharves washed away, the numerous vessels in harbor all driven from their moorings except two, one pilot boat sunk and all the others driven ashore.

is less forbidding than a mouth dismantled of teeth. This disfigurement is in most instances, the consequences of a want of attention to them in use, but is happily preventible, with Sozodont, used, as a stump speaker once urged his auditors to vote, "early and often." This staple article is a thoroughly reliable means of rendering the teeth ornamental and serviceable. The press and medical profession indorse it.

If you are a frequenter or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all new countries—ague, bilious and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

—The body of a fox was found near Newport the other day, after a fashionable hunting party had returned from the chase. The verdict of the coroner's jury was, "Died from fatty degeneration of the tissues, caused by lack of exercise."

Diseases of an exhaustive nature that have a tendency to create an unnatural feeling such as fatigue, lassitude and great weakness throughout the system owe their origin to a lack of Iron in the blood. Brown's Iron Bitters will restore the blood to its natural healthful condition. Get the blood pure by using this remedy and disease will be quickly banished.

—While every eye is strained eastward and every energy directed against an invasion by cholera, the news comes that King Kalakaua's Royal Sandwhich Island brass band has arrived in San Francisco. This shows how hopeless it is to oppose fate.

The old fashioned Hop Poultice or bag is far inferior to a Hop Plaster both as a pain-killer and strengthener. Call for it at any drug store.

Extreme Tired Feeling.

A lady tells us "the first bottle has done my daughter a great deal of good, her food does not distress her now, nor does she suffer from that extreme tired feeling which she did before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." A second bottle effected a cure. No other preparation contains such a concentration of vitalizing, enriching, purifying and invigorating properties as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Woman and her Diseases

is the title of a large illustrated treatise, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., sent to any address for three stamps. It teaches successful self-treatment. c

COULDN'T AFFORD IT.

Made Honest by Business Principles, a Druggist tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing both elbows on his plated show-case and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means."

"That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plasters?"

"Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one, and now sell principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

"Haven't you Allcock's?"

"Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capcine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I have never heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—"

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—or, Lordy!—this pain and lameness? Let me have one of Benson's Capcine. That's the real article, is it? With the word CAPCINE cut in the body of the plaster."

"You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Face.

WESTMINSTER, CONN., June 19, 1879.

MR. H. R. Stevens—Dear Sir: I can testify to the good effect of your MEDICINE. My little boy had a SCROFULA sore break out on his head as large as a quarter of a dollar, and it went down his face from one ear to the other, under his neck, and was one solid mass of sores. Two bottles of your valuable VEGETINE completely cured him. Very respectfully,

MRS. G. R. THATCHER.

Druggists take Vegetine; and Recommend it.

H. R. Stevens, Boston: I have been selling Vegetine ever since it came into existence, and have recommended it to my customers. I have tried it myself, and find it a great blood purifier and renovator of the system.

MR. H. R. Stevens—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in saying that I have used the Vegetine in my family with good results, and I have known of several cases of remarkable cure effected by it. I regard it as a valuable family medicine. Truly yours,

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others of my friends of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

Fright--Sight--Night.

I saw a vision in the night
Which chilled my blood almost;
And scared me into dreadful fits—
An awful, horrid ghost!

With turtle's head and lobsters claws,
Ghost made it plain to see,
I'd eaten rather late at night
More than was good for me.

There came a sound like angel's voice,
Clear as a silver bell:
It said, take "Perry Davis's
Pain Killer,—and be well."

There were 20,000 people at the soldiers' reunion at Weirs, on the 12th inst.

During the sham battle at Weirs on Thursday last one man received a bayonet wound in the head, another had his head hurt with a gun wad, and a third had a finger broken.

An autopsy, in cases of death from heart disease, is an unnecessary form of law, and productive of but one result—a fee for the coroner and doctor. The symptoms are unmistakable, perfectly plain, and generally well understood. Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator will cure any case of heart disease. If such sufferers will take the Regulator there will be no deaths, and consequently no post mortem examinations.

The "Salisbury beach gathering," Thursday and Friday last, was not a success, the attendance being smaller than for many years.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat well and am happy and hungry.—[EDITOR.

The Italian steamer Independente, 4500 tons burthen, ran ashore at Jones inlet, L. I., on the 13th inst., in a thick fog, and will probably be a total loss. She was from Palermo for New York, had 1000 tons of sulpnur and 10,000 boxes of oranges, and carried 160 persons, passengers and crew. She was a new vessel, this being her first voyage.

PORTSMOUTH IN BYGONE DAYS.

THE OLD STATE HOUSE.

In 1756, it was considered that "the Parade, so called, by the North Meeting-House, is the most suitable and proper place to set the said house upon." The original plan contemplated a brick building, with a cupola, but for economy a plain building of wood was substituted.

Finally in December, 1757, the Assembly voted to appropriate twenty-five hundred pounds for this object; and they appointed Henry Sherburne, Jr., and Clement March, a committee on the part of the House to let out the work. The Council added Daniel Warner.

These gentlemen advertised in the Gazette, March 15, 1758, that they were empowered to build a State House, of wooden material, about eighty feet long, thirty feet wide and twenty-one feet post; and asked for persons to "take said building and find all the Materials (except Iron work,) to frame, raise, inclose and compleat all the outside work by the month of June next."

The building was of two stories, its length running east and west, and had dormer windows in the roof. Between it and the meeting-house was a narrow passage-way over a ledge of rocks—too narrow for a carriage. There were doors of corresponding size both on the east and west. Over the east door was a balcony. A large door also opened on the south side toward Court (now Pleasant) street. From the steps of the west door stones were laid diagonally across to the north side of King (now Congress) street—about where Mr. Connell's jewelry store now is.

The upper story was divided originally into three chambers. That on the west side was devoted to the Court; the middle room was used by the House, and the easterly room was the Council chamber. When the building ceased to be used by Assembly it is likely the court room was enlarged. In later years this room was quite respectable in point of size and belongings. The judge sat with his back to King street, and the floor sloped a little towards the place reserved for the bar. Mason, Webster, Bartlett, Cutts, Sullivan—all the lawyers of this bar at the beginning of the present century, tried cases here.

The lower story was open, that is, it was undivided. There were posts to which the hooks and ladders of the firewards were attached for safe keeping. On the north side a flight of stairs conducted to the upper story. In this lower apartment military companies used to meet for drill. The building had no cellar. There are those still living who remember the "Old Court House," as it was called when they were boys. The lower doors were unfastened, and boys could go in and out at pleasure. In its last days, the building was unpainted and unattractive; indeed, a writer in 1837 (the year it was taken away) styled it an "old rookery." In these later times, too, preaching was had within its walls; Elias Smith "converted souls" there. At one time the Masons occupied one of the chambers.

In its best days this structure (which had no pretensions to architectural effect) was a central object, the public building of the town. Before the streets were named, merchants advertised as being "near the State House" or "on the road leading out of town from the State House."

Not long after these rooms were occupied for the transaction of the public business it occurred to the pew holders of the North meeting-house, that town meetings ought no longer to be held in the meeting-house, consequently the parish in January, 1762, passed a vote setting forth the reasons why town meetings should be held elsewhere, and that "hereafter no public town meeting for transacting the civil affairs and business of the town be permitted to be kept and held in the meeting-house." The town did not take this action very kindly. For two successive general town meetings in March the door of the meeting-house was found locked; the townspeople broke open the door and went in and held town meeting as usual. The call for town meeting in 1764 was worded "at the State House," and the meeting first assembled there. A motion to adjourn to the meeting-house was carried, 91 to 29, and the voters went in by breaking open the door.

In December, 1763, the selectmen and the wardens of the North church joined in petitioning the Governor and Assembly for leave to hold future town meetings in the State House. A second petition in April, 1764, recited the vote of the town to that end. In May the Assembly granted the privilege to hold town meetings in the lower room; provided the town finish in "a decent and handsome manner the room upon the lower floor of the State House." This privilege does not seem to have been accepted, although Mark Hunking Wentworth, as chairman, advertised for "plasterers to do work speedily at the State House, and that the Committee will attend at the King's Arms to meet such as apply." The town continued to meet regularly at the North meeting-house till March 25, 1778, when a motion to adjourn to the west chamber of the State House was carried; and the meeting adjourned thither and proceeded with business. The first occupancy of the State House for town meeting was March 16, 1778, when a special meeting was convened in the west (or court) chamber to consider means of preventing the spread of the small-pox. From this year town meetings were held in the State House (or Court House, as it had come to be called,) down to April 27, 1812, when the first town meeting came together in Jefferson Hall.

Of the illumination of the State House in 1759 upon the taking of Quebec; the gathering of the procession near its walls to bury Liberty, with bells tolling and drums unbraced, on the day the Stamp Act went into effect; of the dramatic scene when the Declaration of independence was read from the west steps, and Thomas Manning shouted "Let King street be Congress street;" and of Washington appearing on the east balcony to witness the joyous crowds that applauded him—there is no room to speak.

In 1837 the town had determined to remove this building and provide a court house elsewhere. There were three plans: One to raise the old Court House and put stores beneath; another to convert the Academy into a court house, and the third to build an entirely new court house. The last plan was adopted. Major Larkin sold the old Court House at auction for $248. It was removed, and a part of it still stands (converted into a dwelling house) on the north side of Court, near Water street. It is said that the late Samuel Treat secured the freestone steps of the old Court House, and that they are still to be seen doing duty as posts in the south cemetery.

The land occupied by the present Court House was a portion of the glebe. The North Parish in 1755 gave a lease of it for nine hundred and ninety-nine years to the town in trust, "for the use of a work house." The town built and maintained a work house there; but when they undertook in 1837 to convert the land into a site for a court house, the North Parish brought a suit declaring the lease forfeited. This suit was finally settled by the town paying $75 toward the costs, and giving a guaranty of certain enlarged limits of the lot on which the church stood. When the Parish built their new church in 1854 they placed the tower four feet further out into the Parade.

The Great Gale.

Reports of vessels wrecked, or missing and supposed to have been wrecked, by the terrible gales which swept the fishing banks and the coast of the British provinces on the 26th, 29th and 30th ults., continue to come in. The brig George Burnham, of Portland, Me., left Cow Bay, C. B., Aug. 23d, for Portland, and is given up for lost. The schooner Delta left Cow Bay on the 28th for Yarmouth, N. S., with six men on board, and is undoubtedly lost; as is also the schooner Edith E., which left Port Caledonia, C. B., on the 27th, for Yarmouth, and the schooner Summerville, which left Cow Bay on the 28th for Halifax. All these vessels were colliers. A schooner belonging to Canso and one to Harbor Bouche, each with seven men, have been given up. A schooner with five men went down near Point Lance reefs; a schooner was wrecked near Cape St. Marys, and another sank near Bull and Cow rocks, not far off the cape, with the loss of all hands; and two other vessels, one on her beam ends and the other bottom up, have been seen near by. A fishing schooner was wrecked five miles west of St. Shotts, and nothing has been heard from her crew. The minor disasters are innumerable.

HOOD'S

SARSAPARILLA

Has "decided" claims upon the public. This is positively proven by the immense good it has done to those who have been cured of diseases from which they have suffered intensely for years, as verified by the published testimonials, every one of which is a positive fact.

CHELSEA, VT., Feb. 24, 1879.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.: The 6th day of last June I was taken sick with a swelling on my right foot, and with an awful pain. The swelling went all over me. My face was swelled so that I could with difficulty see out of my eyes, and I broke out over the whole surface of my body; my right foot up to my knee was one raw, itching mass, and my ankle and foot became and sore I could not step on it, and it would run so as to wet a bandage through in an hour. In this condition Mr. W. F. Hood (of the firm of A. S. Hood & Son, druggists, of this town), handed me a bottle of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and told me to take it. I did so, and by the time I had taken one bottle I found that it was doing me good. I have since taken five bottles more. After I had taken three bottles my soreness began to leave me, and I have been growing better every day, so that to-day I can walk without going lame. I have no soreness in my ankle and it has healed all up, and does not run at all. I owe my recovery to your Sarsaparilla. I write this to let you know that I think it deserves the confidence of the public, especially those who are troubled with humors.

Yours most truly,
JOSIAH PITKIN.

P. S. Every person that saw me said that I never would get over my lameness without having a running sore on my ankle; but thank God I have.

J. P.

No other Sarsaparilla has such a sharpening effect upon the appetite. No other preparation tones and strengthens the digestive organs like HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same visibility and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

"JOSHUA WHITCOMB."

This evening, at Music hall, "Uncle Josh" Whitcomb and his party will provide amusement for all who attend. That Joshua Whitcomb is a play of which American audiences do not easily tire, is proved by its holding the stage for months of consecutive good business in all our larger cities. It has no equal as a truthful representation of the New England farmer, unchanged by the influx of foreign immigrants or by commerce. Tickets can be procured at Goodrich's bookstore in Congress block.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J

FRIDAY, Sept. 14th.

A young fellow who is industrious and quiet when sober, but who howls and tears around terribly when he goes on a drunk, which amusement he indulges in occasionally, and sometimes oftener, was ordered to the county farm for sixty days, and to pay the costs of prosecution.

Thanks to the street commissioner for the clean cross-walks after the rain of Thursday night.

The Times report of what was said about horse-hire at the late meeting of the board of aldermen is colored to suit the notions of the reporter, who has overstated the remark as to a former mayor hiring teams for his private use, and charging the same to the city. No such language was used; but it comes from a page of the report of what perhaps the reporter would have liked to have heard, but which was not uttered, as our own reporter, who was present, assures us.

Large cargoes of coal continue to be discharged at the Concord railroad wharf. Three schooners arrived there this week with eleven hundred, nine hundred and thirteen hundred tons of coal, respectively, on board.

Boatswain Isaac T. Choate and Sailmaker John A. Birdsall are detached from duty at this navy yard, and placed on waiting orders. Boatswain John McCaffery will probably succeed Boatswain Choate.

A large amount of condemned stores and supplies will be sold by auction at the navy yard on Monday the 17th inst., including a number of boats, a quantity of furniture, lot of old blocks, small arms, old junk and many miscellaneous articles.

The Rockingham County Temperance Association will hold its next meeting in the Christian Baptist church at Hampton Falls on Thursday, Sept. 27th. The order of exercises will consist of a service of prayer and praise, led by Rev. I. J. Burgess; business meeting; address by Rev. H. Woodward, on "Intemperance: how the habit is formed," followed by a discussion; address by Rev. Randolph DeLancey, on "The relation of the citizen and the business man to the law," followed by a discussion.

"The World," the great spectacular melodrama which has several times been performed here by the Boston Theatre Co., on each occasion to large and delighted audiences, is to be again performed in Music hall on Friday evening, the 21st inst., by the same company with all the special scenery and properties,—ocean steamship, and blowing-up of the same, raft and sailing ship, and all the other things which aided in giving the highly sensational and amusing play its long run at the Boston theatre when first produced.

Ten or a dozen people who left this city on the Eastern railroad excursion Wednesday morning, the 12th inst., spent that night at the Summit house, Mt. Washington, and were wonderfully favored in the clear moonlight evening, the fine sunrise next morning, and the exceptionally calm, warm weather. It was the warmest night on record there since July 13th, although quite a little snow from the storm of the previous Sunday was still to be seen on the northern piazza and in crevices of the rocks. The party viewed the sunrise from the rocks, without need of winter wraps of any sort—although these had been provided in great abundance. This part of the excursion party have nothing to say of the delay of two hours in the uninteresting Conway woods, which at the time seemed quite unnecessary and rather tedious, because they remember it as a not unpleasant incident in a most delightful trip; but those few who felt obliged to return, and so lost the lovely Notch ride, must feel differently. A. B. G. M.

Mr. Samuel Rea, whose sudden death in Boston at the advanced age of seventy-eight years is recorded in the usual place, will be remembered by many of the elder citizens of Portsmouth as a former resident here, and for years the landlord of the old Bell Tavern.

Miss Lizzie Davis has been engaged to play for Dr. Lamprey's dancing class through the term.

Mr. Henry G. Thompson, of Chicago, a native of Portsmouth, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. Joseph E. Adams, of Minneapolis, Minn., who has been several weeks the guest of his father, Samuel Adams, Esq., of this city, leaves this morning for his home.

Mr. John Hale Sheafe and family, who have passed the summer in this city, left for New York on Friday last.

On Wednesday evening of this week, at about nine o'clock, Mr. Oliver O. Jones, who lives on what is called the back road in Eliot, near the Kittery line, discovered on his doorstep a male child, about a week old. The child was wrapped up in a shawl which had, from its looks, been worn but little. The child had been drugged, so that it made no noise. On Thursday morning it was taken to the town farm, where it is now being cared for. The selectmen of the town have made some investigations into the case, but no clews to the parentage, or as who left the child at Mr. Jones' house, have yet been found.

Mention has been made of the death in Limington, on the evening of Sept. 8th, of Mrs. Jemina Bradeen, who was nearly 101 years old at the time of her decease. On the morning of the same day, at the Soldiers' Home in Togus, her grandson, Edward Bradeen, died from the effects of injuries received at the Home on the 4th of April last, when both his hands were badly mangled by the premature discharge of a gun as a salute was being fired in honor of a visiting official. His body was buried in Limington on the 12th inst.

Gov. Hale's Veto.

Gov. Hale, in his message to the house giving his reasons for vetoing the railroad commission bill, says he objects to it because the railroad commissioners which it provides for, must, two of them, be taken from specified professions, viz.: One must be "learned in the law," another a "civil engineer." The governor says: "Of these best and most available citizens for commissioners, possibly no one may be 'learned in law,' and in that event the election of a lawyer should not be forced. It is conceivable that there may be in the state no 'civil engineer skilled and learned in his profession,' who will accept, but the commission should not therefore be left uncreated."

He also says: "It is my opinion that any law which in the appointment or election of a public official excludes from the field of choice the great mass of citizens of the state is a violation of article eleven of the bill of rights, which declares: 'Every inhabitant of the state having proper qualifications has an equal right to elect and be elected into office.' All disqualifications for election to office contemplated in this article must be disqualifications for any office whatever, applicable to the mass of the inhabitants, and not disqualifications of certain citizens for a particular office. Every citizen may not be entitled to be appointed or elected one of the railroad commissioners, but every citizen is entitled to stand before the appointing or electing power with no disqualifying stigma affixed to him by any statute of the state."

The governor also objects to the method of electing the commissioners, (by the legislature,) but intimates that he would waive this, as he approves of all the provisions of the bill except the two named. The veto was referred to the judiciary committee.

It was the general impression among members of the legislature, after the veto of the railroad commission bill was made known, that the "Colby" general railroad bill would also be vetoed, and that the governor was preparing an elaborate veto of that bill also, and the friends of the numerous consolidation schemes were, in consequence, considerably downhearted. The bill passed the senate by a vote of sixteen to eight, exactly a two-thirds vote in its favor; but in the house it was passed by a vote of only 144 to 105, with some forty absentees, at least one-third of whom would have voted against it if present. It was considered hardly possible that the Colby bill could be passed over a veto.

In the house, on the 14th, the judiciary committee reported inexpedient to press the passage of the railroad commission bill over the governor's veto, and submitted a bill free from the objections to the original measure designated in the message. The veto of the governor was sustained on a roll call, 252 to sixteen. The new bill, which provides for the appointment of the commission by the governor and council, was passed under suspension of the rules.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Cuticura
THE GREAT SKIN CURES

TO cleanse the skin, purify the Blood of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Scrofulous, Inherited, and Contagious Humors, Blood Poisons, Ulcers, Abscesses, and Infantile Skin Tortures, use CUTICURA REMEDIES are infallible. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, Diuretic and Aperient, expels disease germs from the blood and perspiration, and thus removes the cause. CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, instantly allays Itching, Inflammation, cures the Skin and Scalp, heals Ulcers and Sores, restores the Complexion. CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier and Toilet Requisite, is indispensable in treating skin diseases, and for rough, chapped or greasy skin, blackheads, blotches, and baby humors. CUTICURA REMEDIES are the only infallible blood purifiers and skin beautifiers.

Chas. Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State street, Boston, reports a case of Salt Rheum under his observation for ten years, which covered the patient's body and limbs, and to which all known methods of treatment had been applied without benefit, which was completely cured solely by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stebbins, Belchertown, Mass., write: Our little boy was terribly afflicted with scrofula, Salt Rheum and Erysipelas ever since he was born, and nothing we could give him helped him until we used CUTICURA REMEDIES, which gradually cured him, until he is now as fair as any child.

H. E. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by CUTICURA REMEDIES. The most wonderful cure on record. A dustpan full of scales fell from him daily. Physicians and his friends thought he must die. Care sworn to before a justice of the peace and Henderson's most prominent citizens.

Hon. Wm. Taylor, Health Commissioner, Boston, says: After three months' use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and twelve years of as constant suffering from Scrofulous Humor of the face, neck and scalp as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record.

SIMON ROBBINS.

Another fight between the French and the Black Flags has taken place on the Red river, between Ha Noi and Sontay; it lasted eight hours, and the French lost two officers and fifty men, the Black Flags losing 500 to 600.

"I had a very fine horse spavined and lamed for four months," writes S. B. Hazeltine, of Searsmont, Mass. "In two weeks, however, after using Ellis' Spavin Cure he was completely cured."

At Pittsburg, Pa., on the 18th inst., Prof. Warren went up about a mile and a half in a balloon, which collapsed at that height, and fell to the ground in less than two minutes. The balloon struck a tall chimney and then the side of a house before striking the ground, and the man escaped without other injury than a few bruises and scratches.

Mrs Cole of Windham, N. H., declares that her life was saved by Hood's Sarsaparilla. She had 37 terrible scrofulous sores.

—Whipple, the essayist, defines poetry as "the protest of genius against the reality of life." But when the poet loses his collar button he appreciates the reality of life as much as anybody does.

Consumption.

To prevent night sweats, to ease the cough and arrest emaciation and decline, no other form of malt or medicine can possibly equal Malt Bitters. This original Nutrient and Tonic is rich in nourishment and strength. It tides the patient over the most critical stages of the disease, digests and assimilates food, enriches and purifies the blood. It builds up the system by stimulating into new life the entire process of digestion.

—A law student thinks that there is a terrible "samoness" to Blackstone. His companions have been regularly each day putting his book mark back at the page from which he started.

"Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick headache."—Dr. H. H. Schlichter, of Baltimore.

—The descons of the New Hampshire legislature have amended the woodchuck law so that no bounty will be paid for a woodchuck killed on Sunday. This will give the boys Sunday to go fishing.

Positive Cure for Piles.

To the people of this County we would say we have been given the agency of Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to Cure or money refunded—internal, external, blind, bleeding or itching piles. Price 50c. a Box. No cure, no pay. For sale by Andrew P. Preston, Druggist.

—The first woman to arrive in Carbonate, Col., received an ovation, marked by such substantial tokens of welcome as a town lot, a mining claim, and the money with which to buy a silk dress.

The Entrance to the Catacombs

is less forbidding than a mouth dismantled of teeth. This disfigurement is in most instances, the consequences of a want of attention to them in use, but is happily preventible, with Sozodont, used, as a stump speaker once urged his auditors to vote, "early and often." This staple article is a thoroughly reliable means of rendering the teeth ornamental and serviceable. The press and medical profession indorse it.

—An Anstrian inventor has succeeded in lighting up the inside of a man's body for the purpose of facilitating the performance of surgical operations. It is expected that patent medicine manufacturers will now furnish an electric light with each bottle of medicine, so that the purchaser can illuminate his inside to see that the only genuine liver rejuvenator is not tampering with his lungs.

"Rescue the Perishing!"

It was a perishing baby. The pale, puny child lay almost lifeless on the pillow, the victim of malaria and summer complaint. The old nurse who dropped in to give the dying child her last blessing happened to ask, "Have you tried Perry Davis' Pain Killer?" They had not thought of it, but got some at once. Next day baby was better. Before the week was out he was well. Pain Killer saved him.

"Adjourned!"

It seems singular, painfully so, to write as late as the 16th of September that the June session of the legislature has just terminated. But such is the melancholy fact. The senatorial contest, the railroad legislation, and the increasing custom of devoting but three days out of each week to attention to legislative duties, for which members are paid for seven days attendance, has protracted the session to an unusual length.

It is claimed as one of the achieved results of this long and dreary session, that a gentleman has been chosen United States senator who represents an element in the republican party uncontrolled by federal patronage, and dissevered from everything that pertains to ring power or selfish attachment to the party.

In the special legislation, or to speak more properly, the enactments sought by the railway interests, it is maintained that the disposition of railroads by lease and consolidation is in keeping with the advanced spirit of the times, and will enable the lines running from the west to the Atlantic, through our state, to favorably compete with roads whose terminus may be in Boston or at the mouth of the Hudson.

The legislature kindly remembered Col. Thomas W. Pierce, of Texas railroad celebrity, and overcame by means of light thrown upon his desired legislation through the eloquence of his attorneys, certain scruples which at one time asserted themselves.

If the election of a new man as senator to succeed a gentleman who had the benefit of senatorial experience, and who was ever mindful of the wants of his constituents, shall have added to the stability of the republican party and to the credit of the state; if by the Colby bill the region controlled by the Boston & Maine railroad and its branches will be rendered more accessible from the only seaport, and the public be saved the annual waste caused by useless competition; and if a railroad commission is appointed composed of able and impartial men, who are manifestly fitted for the position and are appointed solely for this reason,—then it may be that despite the cost of time and money to the state and to the numerous attendants at the capital, the session of 1883 may not have been without some benefit to the people at large.

"There's Many a Slip," &c.

Col. Sise, who remained at Concord until the close of the session on Saturday, states that Thomas W. Pierce's grand railway consolidation scheme failed to become a law, after the profuse expenditure to accomplish its enactment, for lack of the governor's signature.

It is always thus. Col. Pierce is not the first democrat who has forgotten that Gen. Jackson is not now president of the United States. Had this little affair been in the hands of such a man as his late brother George, or of Frank Jones, or men who are posted, no such flattening out of a great result would have followed. But the Texas railway king, like others we wot of, seemed to suppose that New Hampshire was just where it was when his father was a power in the land, and that the same elements ran the machine which in his childhood's happy hours fixed things in old fashioned democratic legislatures.

Not so, Thomas. The world has moved. New hands are at the bellows, and if you wished to have a measure of this kind become a law in New Hampshire, and see the "Southern Pacific" overcome the heavy grades of your native hills, you should have earlier sought out the proper motive power.

The Imprisoned Arctic Party.

The failure of the second relief expedition to reach Lieut. Greeley and his party at Lady Franklin bay, Grinnell land, leaves the little band of Arctic adventurers in a very precarious condition, as they were provisioned for but two years, and have now been north more than that time.

In 1881 the supply ship Neptune attempted to reach Lady Franklin bay, which is in 81deg. 40m. north, but failed on account of the ice. This year the Proteus, a steamer built for sealing in the ice, sailed from St. Johns, Newfoundland, about the 1st of July, and was followed by the U. S. S. Yantic, which was sent out to aid in case any disaster should happen to the Proteus. The latter got as far as the entrance to Smith sound, where she was crushed by ice on the 23d of July, her company starting south in the boats. The Yantic on Aug. 2d found a record of the disaster at Littleton island, and a general explanation of the course the shipwrecked men intended to pursue. The Yantic turned south, exploring the coast as she moved, and at Upernavik, Sept. 3d, found the crew of the Proteus, who had been thirty-one days and nights in their boats.

The Proteus found the passage to Lady Franklin bay hopelessly blocked with ice, and had started southward when she was nipped. None of the provisions intended for the Greeley party were landed, and in case the party should start south, as it was arranged they should do at the end of September, 1883, if help did not reach them before that time, they will depend entirely on finding stores, fuel and shelter on Littleton island, none of which they will find, as the Proteus could not get near the island on account of ice. The gravest apprehensions are felt for the lives of Lieut. Greeley and his men.

Lieut. Greeley is a native of Newburyport, Mass., and has a splendid war record.

A freight train of ten cars, loaded with canned corn, from Portland, Me., and bound for Portland, Oregon, over the newly-opened Northern Pacific railroad, passed through this city Friday night. Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codjan9,84.

Emory's Little Cathartic is the best and only reliable Liver Pill known, never fails with the most obstinate cases, purely vegetable—15 cents.

Young Men, Middle Aged Men and All Men who suffer from early indiscretions will find Allen's Brain Food the most powerful invigorant ever introduced; once restored by it there is no relapse. Try it; it never fails. $1 6 for $5.—At Druggists.

Wendell Phillips deems it of consequence enough to write a letter to the Boston Advertiser, to inform the world that he will support Butler for governor. Mr. Phillips admits that he has tried all sorts of parties, and hates the republicans; his advocacy of Butler will weaken the general some. If the gifted orator believes half of what he pretends to in behalf of Butler, he has been badly sold.

The course the greenback party in Maine will pursue next year in the presidential contest is probably outlined by the Belfast Age, one of the organs of the party. It advises the greenbackers to abandon their organization, and merge the party in the national democracy. Such action it thinks would be wise because it would increase the influence of both organizations, and because it has the almost unanimous consent of the Maine greenbankers. This early throwing off of all disguise on the part of the democrats and greenbackers ought to aid the republicans in winning a brilliant victory in that state next year.

HOOD'S

Has "decided" claims upon the public. This is positively proven by the immense good it has done to those who have been cured of diseases from which they have suffered intensely for years, as verified by the published testimonials, every one of which is a positive fact.

CHELSEA, VT., Feb. 24, 1879.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, MASS.: The 6th day of last June I was taken sick with a swelling on my right foot, and with an awful pain. The swelling went all over me. My face was swelled so that I could with difficulty see out of my eyes, and I broke out over the whole surface of my body; my right foot up to my knee was one raw, itching mass, and my ankle and foot so lame and sore I could not step on it, and it would run so as to wet a bandage through in an hour. In this condition Mr. W. F. Hood (of the firm of A. R. Hood & Son, druggists, of this town), handed me a bottle of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and told me to take it. I did so, and by the time I had taken one bottle I found that it was doing me good. I have since taken five bottles more. After I had taken three bottles my soreness began to leave me, and I have been growing better every day, so that to-day I can walk without going lame. I have no soreness in my ankle and it has healed all up, and does not run at all. I owe my recovery to your Sarsaparilla. I write this to let you know that I think it deserves the confidence of the public, especially those who are troubled with humors.

Yours most truly,
JOSIAH PITKIN.

P. S. Every person that saw me said that I never would get over my lameness without having a running sore on my ankle; but thank God I have. J. P.

No other Sarsaparilla has such a sharpening effect upon the appetite. No other preparation tones and strengthens the digestive organs like HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Price one dollar, or six bottles for five dollars. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

THE DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Further details of the accident which resulted in the drowning of two young men in this river early Saturday morning, are to the effect that they and their companion, Edward A. Murphy, who was saved, have been camping out on Murphy's island at Little harbor, and were on their way to the island when the boat was capsized, there being a dense fog and strong ebb tide at the time. When the capsized boat was found by Messrs. Randall and Lawrence it was a short distance below Goat island ledge, and their boat being so small that Murphy could not be taken on board without great peril, his head was held out of water by Mr. Lawrence while Mr. Randall pulled to the shore on the Newcastle side of the river. Application for admission at two houses was refused, but Mrs. Bell, who lives on "the Cape," took in the half-drowned man, kindled a fire, and furnished him with dry clothing. The watchmen then returned to their duty at the navy yard, landing on Seavey's island and walking across.

Officers Long and Abbott, of the city police force, heard the cries for help, and taking a boat pulled from the Aqueduct Co.'s wharf at the south end to Peirce's island, which they ran across as fast as they could in the darkness, to Fort Washington, arriving there just as the navy yard watchmen's boat was approaching Murphy. The police could distinctly hear every word uttered by Murphy and his rescuers, but of course could see nothing.

Search was made by the police on Saturday forenoon for the bodies of Foster and Pray, but without any satisfactory result.

A CORRECTION.

[From the Portsmouth Times of Sept. 15th.]

To the Editor of the Times:—Will you allow me the space to correct what may become a misapprehension as to a part of the remarks attributed to me at the meeting of the board of aldermen on Thursday evening. There had been brought before the committee on accounts, bills for carriage hire, contracted long before the term of city government which was inaugurated in August, 1882. These bills were "approved," but the occasion for their having been contracted had escaped ex-Mayor Sise's recollection, nor could the persons who had furnished the carriages state either from their account books or from memory, who ordered the carriages or for what purpose they were used. This led to a vote being passed, upon the recommendation of the committee, that no member of the city government should be authorized to contract any indebtedness of this kind, unless at the time of such service the committee authorizing it and the occasion for it should be stated in the charge, and appear in the bill. Bills which had either been refused payment, or had been neglected to be presented previous to Mayor Treat's election, having been presented to this board, it became the duty of the proper committee to investigate the charges. It is astonishing how little information is obtained regarding such matters after a year or two has elapsed from the time the debt may have been contracted. It was to this fact that I referred, without making or intending to make any allusion to any particular member of former city governments, and certainly I called no one either by name or official designation. The error in the report appears to have originated from the fact that only a part of what was said was reported. I regret to take so much of your valuable space, but persons who are not adept in writing for the p ess are apt to be verbose in their communications. I know you will be ready to correct any seeming misconstruction of what was said, as you are to aid in all reasonable efforts to reduce the expenditures of the city, and as my colleague on the committee, Alderman Caswell, remarked, "if any one wishes to know where the city's money goes, let him be elected alderman and serve upon the committee on accounts." WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

GOSSIPS SAY

That Dr. S. C. Whittier and wife have been spending a few days at Gerrish's island.

That Mercer Goodrich will vacate his Congress block bookstore Oct. 1st, and that his Market street store will be enlarged by taking in what is now the Western Union telegraph office, the telegraph company having received notice to leave at an early date.

That Mr. Jeremiah Sanborn, who for more than forty years has kept the only real tobacco store in the city, will soon retire from business, and will be succeeded by Mr. Alvah Jellison, who will continue the store in the same line of trade.

That seines are being laid in the lower harbor by several parties, for the purpose of catching bait for the Georgesmen.

That the selectmen of Kittery have forbidden the laying of seines on the Maine side of the channel.

That the long stretch of sidewalk between the Ladd mansion on Market street and the corner of Deer street, is being put in prime condition by the new town commissioner, who displays a good deal of vim and good sense in his management of the city's streets.

That many of the mountain excursionists who intended remaining among the granite hills a week or ten days, were driven home by the inclement weather of Friday last.

That the clambake at Dover point on Saturday afternoon last was well attended by parties from this city, despite the threatening weather, and a merry time was had.

That the "assembled wisdom" at Concord "fired itself out" last Saturday.

That it was high time.

That one of the Portsmouth delegation may fairly lay claim to the title of the "great adjourner."

Teams from the towns in this vicinity on both sides of the Piscataqua have recently been bringing in large quantities of bark to Hon. Moses H. Goodrich's tannery. The ex-mayor evidently intends to maintain the tanning business successfully for a long period yet, and in this respect he is "a biger man than old Grant."

Notwithstanding the size and speed of the steamers run between Boston and this city during the summer by the Iron Steamboat Co., their trips were never made in schedule time. The best time the boats were able to make was four hours and a half, or about fifteen miles an hour.

Six thousand tons of coal were discharged at the Concord railroad wharf in the last three days of last week.

A pair of carrier pigeons of the "homing Antwerp" variety, belonging to a man in Lawrence, Mass., were recently brought to this city and liberated, and made the distance to their home, forty-five miles, in fifty minutes.

A well-appointed paint shop is being erected by Mr. Benjamin Russell, on his premises near Liberty bridge, for occupancy by Mr. Josiah Grover, who on Saturday last finished the painting of the Children's Home.

A large audience greeted "Joshua Whitcomb" at Music hall on Saturday evening, and the honest, kind hearted, shrewd old New England farmer was as popular as ever. Long performance of their several parts has not made the members of the company careless, the same faithful attention to details being observable now as when the piece was first put on the stage, with the added advantage of a more nearly perfect finish all through.

Eastern railroad stock went up to $44 per share in Boston on Saturday, and Boston & Maine to $163, an advance of four and three points respectively over the prices of the previous day, the sharp advance being due solely to the approval by Gov. Hale of the "Colby bill," which thereby became a law, removing the last obstacle to the consolidation of the two roads.

Mr. John R. Holbrook and wife arrived home from their California trip on Saturday evening.

St. John's Episcopal church is to be closed for the next two weeks for the purpose of house cleaning. The usual Sunday services will be held in the chapel on State street.

We notice in the Portsmouth Journal a statement credited to the Concord Monitor, that Hon. Frank Jones is building a fine chapel for the Middle street Baptist church. We have understood that Mr. Jones gave the lot upon which the building is being erected, but the chapel is built from the proceeds of contributions. It is far better for a religious society to have its buildings paid for in this way, than to have the required sum given to them; a society appreciates that which costs its members something to attain, far more than what is bestowed as a gift, and we think that Mr. Jones has studied human nature enough to know that his handsome present of the lot was far enough for him to go in this direction.

Ezra A. Stevens of Malden is one of the men mentioned as candidates for state senator in Massachusetts. He was president of the New Hampshire senate in the days when sessions were of reasonable length. At one time he was an honored citizen of Portsmouth. And to think that such a "son" should be so far reduced as to become a member of the Massachusetts legislature, or be threatened with being sent there; it seems too bad.

Naval Affairs.

Boatswain John McCaffery and Sailmaker John C. Herbert are ordered to this navy yard Oct. 1st.

The United States despatch boat Tallapoosa, Lieut. John F. Merry commanding, arrived at the navy yard late on Saturday, from Boston.

Three new cases of yellow fever, and one death, were reported from the naval reservation at Pensacola for the twenty-four hours ending Saturday noon.

Paymaster Edwin Putnam is detached from the Galena, and ordered to settle his accounts and then await orders. Paymaster Arthur Burtis is ordered to the Galena.

Capt. Joseph N. Miller is ordered to command the Tennessee, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, as the relief of Capt. R. F. Bradford, detached.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Your

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Cheesbrough, startlingly says "one third of my patients show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs but ten ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and about, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5. express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (E)

"Rescue the Perishing!"

It was a perishing baby. The pale, puny child lay almost lifeless on the pillow, the victim of malaria and summer complaint. The old nurse who dropped in to give the dying child her last blessing happened to ask, "Have you tried Perry Davis' Pain Killer?" They had not thought of it, but got some at once. Next day baby was better. Before the week was out he was well. Pain Killer saved him.

A New Analysis

By the present State Assayer of Massachusetts confirms the favorable report of his predecessor in regard to the excellent quality of the Whiskey bottled by Chester H. Graves & Sons Boston, and introduced by them some six years ago under the name G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon.

The Railroad Commission.

Gov. Hale having informed the legislature that the designation of railroad commissioners under the new law should be by appointment from the executive branch of the government, instead of by election by the legislature, the law makers at once acquiesced in the proposition, and changed the enactment to suit the views promulgated in the message.

The responsibility is with the governor to name suitable men for these positions. If the bill was created to help out any especial proposed incumbent, the whole measure will of course prove a failure and the law will be repealed when the next legislature assembles. If there can be found persons with the requisite qualifications.—men of practical ideas and withal some experience in the construction and management of railways, and conversant with the questions arising in railway complications, it will be the duty of the governor to appoint such men, regardless of political or local claims, to the position. That such men can be found is patent enough; the trouble is, to secure the services of men who are both personally and legally qualified for the positions, to accept the appointment.

The present system of the examination of the condition of railroads is, notoriously, the merest nonsense. The commissioner takes the last report of the directors, adopts it, pockets his mileage, renews his passes, and goes his way. The state pays for printing a collection of figures and statements made by the railway's officers, as if the commissioner had learned certain results from any other examination than a perusal of the annual reports made to stockholders, which, as every one knows, are made up to suit the plans of the directors, and while they abound in non-essentials, of course afford no information concerning any particulars which an "examination" should develope. In the state of New York a similar commission was created, but the reports of the railway corporations made were most meagre.

Whether the governor will be likely to name some persons to compose this commission who will be of any consequence as competent officials, men capable of filling the positions designated in a manner contemplated by the act, or whether the offices are to be occupied by incumbents to be selected for political reasons only, is what we shall probably ere long discover.

The New Naval Cruisers.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune writes: "A very important point seems to have been overlooked by the authorities in Washington in connection with the proposed steel cruisers for the navy, viz.: The inevitable loss of speed after a short time at sea, owing to the fouling of the hulls. This fouling will reduce the speed, and instead of fourteen knots as proposed for the highest rate of speed, an average of eleven will be nearer the mark, unless they cruise on the home station where they can be docked frequently. To prevent this loss of speed, which will destroy their efficiency as cruisers, their hulls should be sheathed with wood and copper, the same as the English and French naval vessels. This would increase the expense of the hulls and add something to their weight, but would be less objectionable than the foulness and loss of speed.

Now that we find the ocean steamers of to-day making over sixteen and a half knots at sea, and remembering that nearly twenty years ago the navy had a class of vessels capable of steaming sixteen and a half knots, and to-day Chili boasts of having a vessel that can steam over seventeen knots per hour at sea (and its guns have a range of over six miles,) does it not seem somewhat ridiculous for us to build cruisers, so called, of fourteen knots, that can be run down, or sunk at long range by the first vessel of the enemy which catches sight of them?"

Hon. Joseph B. Morss of Newburyport, Mass., a widely known and most respected citizen, was stricken with apoplexy last Saturday, and died Sunday morning at two o'clock, aged seventy-five years. He was editor of the Newburyport Herald for twenty-one years, and afterward of the Boston Traveller and Courier; he had a high reputation as a journalist. He had been largely engaged in shipping and manufacturing, was a member of the city government several times, a representative to the general court, a member of the Massachusetts constitutional convention in 1853 and later a democratic candidate for Congress. He was held in high esteem by his friends and fellow citizens. He leaves a widow and three daughters.

Rev. Albert N. Vedder, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at West Milton, N. Y., was arrested on Sunday as he was entering the church at Kingston, N. Y., where he was to preach, on a charge of being accessory to the procuring of an abortion on Anna Walter of West Milton, a farmer's daughter twenty-five years old. Dr. James A. Patterson of Albany is charged with the crime. Both men strenuously deny their guilt.

The Foreign Exhibition in Boston consists exclusively of foreign arts, products and manufacturers, and will continue open not less than three months. The advantages of such an exhibition to foreign manufacturers and others who may exhibit must be apparent, while there can be no question as to the interest which it will awaken in the United States. This country has had no opportunity since the Centennial Exhibition, held over six years ago, to see the recent advances of foreign art and industry. The thousands of strangers who will flock to Boston must be cared for, and reliable information regarding train and steamer arrangements must be furnished. In order to have only the best, the management will furnish for the free use of visitors, bound copies of the "A B C Pathfindor Railway Guide," and this will be the only guide allowed to hang in the Exhibition building.

The October "Atlantic" is specially notable as containing an essay from the unpublished manuscripts of Ralph Waldo Emerson, entitled "Historic notes of life and letters in Massachusetts." Henry James continues his studies of provincial towns in France, this time going from Poitiers to Carcassonne. Two chapters of "A Roman singer" and of "Newport" increase the interest of these serial stories. A timely article is on "Volcano studies" by Horace D. Warner. The leading short story is an East Tennessee story, "A-Playin' Old Sledge at the settlemint," and a very pleasant story is "Pere Antoine" by Davida Colt. "Cream-white and crow-black," is an engaging chapter of reminiscences of "good old mammies" in the south. Elizabeth Robins writes on "Monadism in religion." William Chauncy Langdon contributes the first of a series of "Recollections of Rome during the Italian revolution." Henry W. Hollard furnishes a chapter on "Heredity." William S. Liscomb writes of "The mutilation of ancient texts." Edward I. Stevenson contributes a philosophical tragedy entitled "Amiability." There are several poems, careful reviews of some of the most important new books, and three brief, bright essays in the Contributors' Club. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

—Philadelphia amateur musicians are organizing a club, and other people are looking around for one.

—The Philadelphia Times speakes of Boston as "Bruiser Sullivan's home." Yes, and the Times is published at the home of the Philadelphia base ball club. —Boston Post.

—Maternal reasoning: Old Mr. Ploggers, indignantly—"Look here, Mrs. Snags, this is twice that boy of yours has thrown rocks at me! It's about time you ought to know how he is going on!" Mrs. Snags—"Yes, Mr. Ploggers; but you know, Mr. Ploggers, there are other boys who throw rocks! It isn't my boy alone!"

It is announced in the dramatic intelligence of the Boston Globe that "Miss Norah Lartlett is to play leading light business with Edwin Booth this season, the heavier roles being assigned to Ida Vernon."

The reports of receipts and expenditures of the various custom districts for the fiscal year just passed shows that in thirty districts the expenditures were more than the receipts. The cost of collecting a dollar in the Kennebunk district was $4.39; in the Saco district $2.69; in the York district $9.12. These non-paying districts are kept up simply as a preventive of smuggling, and though they do not pay and never have paid the cost of maintenance, cannot be abolished, as were customs supervision to be removed from these small ports advantage would be takens of it to import goods without going through the formality of paying duty, and the government would lose many times more in this way than would be saved on the salaries cut off.

—A contemporary mentions a case beyond the ordinary oculist; it is that of a young lady, who instead of a pupil, has a professor in her eye.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

DEATH OF MRS. M. J. FIELD.

Mrs. Mary Jaffrey Field, formerly of this city, died at Winchester, Va., on the 8th inst. She was the daughter of the late George Jaffrey, and the widow of Brevet Capt. Horace B. Field, of the United States army, who was stationed at Fort Washington in command of Co. K, of the 3d artillery. With his command Capt. Field left Portsmouth in December, 1853, and embarked from New York in the ill-fated steamship San Francisco which met with a severe gale on the 24th of December, when the seas ran over the vessel and several officers and men were washed overboard and lost, among them Capt. Field, who perished on the 25th. Lt. Wm. A. Winder, then in command of Co. G, was on board, and soon after reached home, and his account of the disaster, published at the time, was full of thrilling interest.

Mrs. Field by her will, admitted to probate on the 13th inst. at Washington, D. C., which city had for several years been her winter residence, makes a large number of bequests. Among these we are glad to find her appreciation of her former home expressed by legacies to St. John's church, where she formerly worshipped and held in reverential esteem the rector for so many years, the late Charles Burroughs, D. D.; to the Portsmouth Athenæum, where her father so long and faithfully served as librarian; to Faith Home and the Children's Home, institutions which have come into existance since she left Portsmouth, each of which the Washington Star informs us is to receive $1000. The Protestant Episcopal missions, foreign and domestic, are bequeathed $500 each. There are several private beneficiaries who reside in Washington.

Mrs. Field remained a widow after the death of her husband nearly thirty years ago, and by reason of the state of her health resided every summer in Viginia, and during winters in Washington, near where some of her relatives lived.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Sept. 17; Bufford J.

Dennis Reagan, residing on McDonough street, for assaulting his wife was fined $10 and costs, and ordered to furnish sureties in $200 to keep the peace for one year.

Patrick O'Connor, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90; paid.

A SUGGESTION.

Mr. Editor: In all the reported falling off of the water supplies here, there does not appear to be any diminution of the springs at Spring hill, where vessels used formerly to water, and procure all they needed. The outlet however is now close down to the bottom of the river, under the market. Market street is under-laid by a stratum of fine gravel, which probably was the occasion of its being paved. A drive well located at the junction of Bow and Market streets, whence the waste water would entirely run off, would probably prove a success, and be a great convenience to the large number of teams congregating there. Why will not the city government take some measure towards this end? VIATOR.

The men who were last week engaged in trying to find water at the custom house by means of driven wells, after giving up that attempt went to "Fountain head" to try some experiments for the Aqueduct Co., and on the Huntress place put a tube down sixty-five feet, when they struck the solid rock, and also struck quick-sand, similar to that which they found beneath the custom house, rendering the well useless. They were to put another tube down, about a thousand feet away.

GOSSIPS SAY

That State Agent Marvin, of the animal protecting society, is up in the northern part of the state, investigating reported cases of cruelty.

That Rev. Mr. Garland of Newcastle is shortly to visit Kansas with a view to his permanent settlement in that state.

That the street commissioner has not yet purchased a horse, as has been reported, though he has a perfect right to do so when he gets ready.

That work at the navy yard is growing brisk, and that there is good prospect of its lasting.

That a valuable sword belonging to a gentleman of this city, and loaned to one of the participants in the sham fight during the muster, was returned in a battered and demoralized condition, the borrower feeling obliged to defend himself against the bayonet assaults of fifteen stalwart assailants.

That Mrs. Bayard Taylor and Miss Taylor, of New York, who have been staying at Newcastle as the guests of Mrs. E. C. Stedman, returned home last week.

That a boat's crew from the U. S. S. Tennessee are anxious to row a race with the fishermen's crew that won the race from the jolly tars of the U. S. S. Portsmouth.

That Uncle Sam's sailors should be accommodated at once, as the Tennessee will leave port at an early date.

That Miss Norah Bartlett, the talented young actress of this city, has engaged with Edwin Booth's dramatic company to play leading parts during the coming season.

That this company will play a three weeks engagement at the Globe theatre, Boston, in November.

That the present weather is more like "dog days" than any "Probs" has given us since the middle of last June.

That Mr. Theodore Keen, lately manager of the Kittery Point steamboat line, has sold off his stock of horses, formerly used on his stage line, and will close up his pretty cottage at the Point, having decided to spend the winter elsewhere.

That all the city hotels were well filled Sunday night by the large influx of strangers by that day's trains, to attend the auction at the navy yard on Monday.

That it took twenty men as many minutes to catch an aged hen which was taking an airing on Congress street, Monday afternoon.

That Mr. Jere. Sanborn says the "Gossips" have got 'way ahead of him, in retiring him from the tobacco business.

"United by O. M. Knight, J. P.," read a little boy whose father had bought his new school books of Oliver, and had shown him one of his reception cards; "What does that mean?" "That stands for 'Job Printer,' my son," replied the proud parent, who perhaps was not aware that the proprietor of the new Congress street stationery store held the highly respectable office of Justice of the Peace.

The store on Daniel street of Mr. Josiah F. Adams, funeral director and dealer in mortuary goods, is to be taken into the Market street store of Mercer Goodrich, along with the Western Union telegraph office, which is situated between the two stores. Mr. Adams will remove across the street from his present quarters, into the store formerly occupied by Mr. D. F. Borthwick.

In North Hampton, last Saturday forenoon, a young man named Thomas Knowles, a painter, was standing on a ladder placed against the barn of Thomas E. Marston, when the ladder broke, letting him fall backward from the eaves to the ground. In falling he turned completely over, and struck on his feet, receiving a compound fracture of one leg, and a severe sprain of the other.

The auction sale of old boats, ropes and blocks, furniture, gun carriages, pistols, revolvers, ammunition, bayonets, canvas, old iron and hundreds of other condemned articles, (including "two keyholes," according to the printed list,) at the navy yard on Monday, drew a large number of bidders and lookers-on, about 150 being junk-buyers from Boston and New York. The sales were rapid and the prices obtained low.

Capt. John Russell, who has during the summer been in the employment of Capt. Thomas Jameson, is now fitting out the schooner Helen Mar for fall fishing. Capt. Jameson's schooner has taken in ice, and is now lying at anchor below, waiting for bait to go market fishing.

The Tallapoosa sailed from this port on the 17th inst. for Washington and intermediate stations, leaving the navy yard at two o'clock P. M. She landed at this yard a lot of equipment stores from the Boston yard, and took away with her a number of air-ports for the iron-clad Miantonomoh, at Brooklyn.

The schooner yacht Dauntless, Capt. Gray, has been sold to Newburyport parties.

An explosion in the belt-elevator box at the Bay State brewery in South Boston, Sunday afternoon, blew one of the employes down a flight of stairs and burned him quite severely about the neck and hands, and caused a fire which damaged the building and stock about $1000, the flames spreading to a large hopper filled with malt. Jones, Cook & Co. operate the brewery, and there are fifteen men from this city or its immediate vicinity employed there.

The St. Mary's Benevolent society of this city will have a picnic at Pinkham's grove, Dover point, to-morrow. Harlow's orchestra will be present, and there will be a variety of athletic sports, in which all are invited to take part.

The Stedman cottage at Jaffrey's point, Newcastle, has its roof covered in.

Mr. O. L. Frisbee of Kittery Point, for two summers past bookkeeper of the Appledore house at the Shoals, has accepted the position of manager of the Oceanic, at Star island, for the season of 1884.

The Veteran Association of the 10th Reg't N. H. Volunteers, of whose members quite a number reside in this city, will have a regimental reunion at Nashua on Thursday, Sept. 20th, the anniversary of the day when the regiment was mustered into the United States service twenty-one years ago. Army rations will be served at noon, every man "cooling his own coffee;" in the afternoon there will be a short march; a dress-parade in City Hall square, where the last dress-parade of the regiment was made prior to its discharge from service, June 21st, 1864; and a banquet in Reform Club hall, with music, short addresses, toasts and responses. In the evening a camp-fire complimentary to the veterans of the 10th will be lighted by Gen. Foster Post, G. A. R., in their hall, which has also been tendered as the regimental rendezvous during the day. Reduced rates of fare will be made by the Concord railroad.

Mrs. Shuah Page, a widow lady of Raymond, who has been on a visit to her brother, Joshua Emery of Newburyport, left that city on the two o'clock train on the Eastern railroad last Saturday afternoon for Hampton. When the train was about a thousand feet from the Hampton station, and was still in motion, Mrs. Page stepped out, and was not seen again by any one until the train had left Hampton. Several persons about the station noticed an object near the track, and soon found that it was a woman who had fallen from the cars. When picked up she was able to give her name, and that of her brother in Newburyport, but could not tell how she got off the train. She was considerably bruised about the head and shoulders, and it is remarkable she was not instantly killed, as she is a large, heavy woman, sixty-eight years old, and quite feeble. It is supposed that she was confused, and walked off the car thinking it was in the station. Mrs. Page was very comfortable on Sunday, and will probably recover.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

A Spartan Heroism

is often exhibited by a delicate woman during the extraction of teeth. But why not save them in time, with Sozodont, and thus obviate the necessity of taking one's fortitude? The tenants of the mouth are far more likely to remain and do good service, if this sovereign protective is used as a safe-guard against their intimate destruction. The experience and evidence of hosts of people, proves this sanitary fact.

At Pittsburg, Pa., last Saturday night, Richard Brown, his wife and five children were poisoned from eating canned corned beef. One of the children, twelve years old, died. All the others are in a serious condition.

"Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick headache."—Dr. H. H. Schlichter, of Baltimore.

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart. The renowned Dr. Clendinning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention. Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

Heart affections, kidney and liver troubles affect nearly one-half of all mankind Yet how many heedlessly pass through a shortened life, giving no care to these complaints which cause the human family such great distress. Does your heart beat violently from the least excitement? Have you fits of dizziness? Does your back ache? Are your bowels constipated? These symptoms are the first warnings. Delay is dangerous. Be wise in time. Regain perfect health by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

I was severely afflicted for eleven years with Hay Fever after trying almost everything without avail, I gave up all hopes of being cured, when I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. To my surprise, after a few applications, I was entirely relieved. R. Watson Harris, Letter Carrier, Newark, N. J.

I recommend to those suffering as I have with Hay Fever, Ely's Cream Balm. I have tried nearly all the remedies, and give this a decided preference over them all. It has given me immediate relief. C. T. Stephens, Hardware merchant, Ithaca, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

COULDN'T AFFORD IT.

Made Honest by Business Principles, a Druggist tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing both elbows on his plated show-case and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means."

"That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plasters?"

"Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one, and now sell principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

"Haven't you Allcock's?"

"Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capcine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I have never heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—"

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—or, Lordy!—this pain and lameness? Let me have one of Benson's Capcine. That's the real article, is it? With the word CAPCINE cut in the body of the plaster."

"You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

"Rescue the Perishing!"

It was a perishing baby. The pale, puny child lay almost lifeless on the pillow, the victim of malaria and summer complaint. The old nurse who dropped in to give the dying child her last blessing happened to ask, "Have you tried Perry Davis' Pain Killer?" They had not thought of it, but got some at once. Next day baby was better. Before the week was out he was well. Pain Killer saved him.

A girl nineteen years old, named Mary Sweeney, was found on the street in Dover on the 17th inst., in a famished condition. She had been to Great Falls to get work in a mill, but was not strong enough, and on the 14th she found herself behind on her board, and without money to take her to Boston, where she has a married sister, and from that time to the 17th she had scarcely a morsel to eat, being ashamed to beg, and slept out of doors nights. She was sent to Boston by the police.

How it looks.

It was not long ago that the republican party was badly broken up in New York and Pennsylvania, and Cleveland in the former and Pattison in the latter, as democratic governors, resulted. In Ohio, too, and many other western states, the democrats made heavy gains, owing to republican dissensions; and in Massachusetts the man who some years ago captured the short-haired democracy, having at last whipped in the silver-grays to his support, was elected over his republican competitor for the governorship.

Now the case is greatly altered. That "Butler must go" in Massachusetts is asserted, and quite likely it is so, as one term of Governor Butler should be enough to satisfy any decent person. The republicans of New York state are more united than for years, while the time-honored fight between Tammany hall and Irving hall on the one side, and the "county democracy" on the other has broken out with renewed vigor. In Ohio a bitter war is being waged between several democratic factions, and the republicans of the state express very great confidence of victory. In Pennsylvania the republican dissensions have been healed, and democratic success at the next election in that state is not even hoped for by the party leaders. And in Maryland, that old democratic stand-by, there is really a prospect of republican success; the German faction, representing the worst elements of the democratic party, have nominated for governor Leon Abbett, a man thoroughly identified with them; and the reform democracy, led by Gov. Hamilton, being left out in the cold, are exceedingly angered.

The late democratic tidal wave has left the party stranded in its reflux.

Yellow Fever.

The yellow fever is raging at Guyamas, Mexico, and a panic exists. Twelve members of a travelling opera company have died, the deaths number twenty a day, and the people are flying in terror. The work of burying the dead is left to hired bands of Indians, who go from house to house and carry out all they find, and it is said the ignorant creatures have buried many who were still living, though comatose. Advices from Hermosillo and Mazatlan say the yellow fever is worse at those places than at Guyamas.

Hon. Henry L. Pierce declines to be a candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination in Massachusetts.

After dinner at the Rockingham house, such places of interest in the city will be shown as time shall permit, before the departure of the afternoon trains.

Miss Ida Ayers of New Durham, a young lady who was born in Portsmouth eighteen years ago when the 4th of July bells were ringing in the morning, has been visiting the scenes of her infancy. Her hostess, Mrs. Thomas Watkins, took especial care that she should view the city and its environs; like all returning sons and daughters she was much pleased, but her memory proved very short for a young person, as she failed to recognize the localities.

HEREDITARY SCROFULA.

ARE you aware that in your blood the taint of scrofula has a prominent place? This is true of every one. It is liable at any time, on the slightest provocation, to develop itself in some insidious disease. Consumption and many other diseases are outgrowths of this impurity of the blood. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA has a wonderful power over all scrofulous troubles, as the remarkable testimonials we have received unmistakably prove.

"MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—* * * My youngest son has always been troubled with Scrofulous Humor; sores in his head discharging from his ears, and a running sore on the back of his ear for two years; his eyelids would fester and ulcerate, discharging so that I was obliged to wash them open every morning, his eyelashes nearly all coming out; he was exceedingly dainty, most of the time eating but two slight meals a day. We were unable to find anything that had the least effect upon him till last spring, 1878, we gave him two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. His appetite improved at once. * * * The back of his ear healed up without a scar, and not a sore in his head since. Sincerely yours,

MRS. N. C. SANBORN,
No. 108 Merrimack St., Lowell, Mass.

"We do not as a rule allow ourselves to use our editorial columns to speak of any remedy we advertise, but we feel warranted in saying a word for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sarsaparilla has been known as a remedial agent for centuries and is recognized by all schools of practice as a valuable blood purifier. It is put up in forms of almost infinite variety, but Messrs. Hood & Co., (Lowell, Mass.) who are thoroughly reliable pharmacists, have hit upon a remedy of unusual value. Certainly they have vouchers of cures which we know to be most extraordinary."—Editors Lowell Weekly Journal.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. MRS. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vivility and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

STEAMBOAT DAMAGED BY FIRE.

About quarter past ten o'clock Tuesday evening fire was discovered on board the steamer Clara Bateman, which was lying alongside the Appledore in the latter's dock at the north end. The alarm was given, and the burning vessel cast adrift and afterward hauled in to the end of Appledore wharf, where the fire was extinguished by the steams of the fire engines. The fire probably caught in the firing room, and the damage was considerable. The explosion of a steam-pipe just as the boat touched the end of the wharf caused a rapid retreat of the crowd that had gathered there, but the steam from the pipe instantly deadened the flames.

MARINE DISASTER.

On Sunday forenoon a marine named Conlon crossed the river from this city to the navy yard by the steamer Emerald on one of her early trips, but on landing, instead of going to the barracks he crossed the yard to the gate at the bridge, and essayed to cross to Kittery. Being stopped by the marine guard at the gate, he told the corporal that his name was on the list of persons privileged to pass, and on the officer entering the guard house to inspect the list, took to his heels across the bridge, hotly pursued by the corporal, who overtook him some distance up the hill on the road to Portsmouth. Conlon refusing to return, the corporal, who is a small man, drew his bayonet and threatened to stick him therewith unless he obeyed orders; but he still refused, and the corporal instead of sticking him turned the bayonet t'other-end-to, and attempted to whack him with the hilt, but the big fellow closed with him, threw him down, and proceeded to roll him in the dust and otherwise maltreat him. The good people of Kittery, who were mustering for divine service, soon gathered to the number of several hundreds, and after some difficulty the men were separated; and the officer having explained the condition of affairs, the marine was conducted by several citizens to the navy yard gate, where he was bound hand and foot by the guard, placed in a hand-cart, and conveyed in state to the barracks.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

In Hampton, on Saturday of last week, four accidents occurred, all within a short distance of each other, and three of them quite serious.

An elderly lady stepped or fell from a train while in rapid motion, as it neared the station, and was badly hurt.

As John Nudd was binding a load of straw in his barn the rope broke, and he fell twelve feet to the floor, breaking his shoulder and otherwise seriously injuring him. At the same time his son Paul was lying very sick with typhoid fever.

While Mr. John Mace was driving at a fast rate around the corner at the Union house, the wagon tipped and he was thrown out, breaking one of his legs. He was kindly cared for at the Union house, but did not succeed in getting the broken bone set until several hours after the accident.

Mrs. Samuel Lane fell as she was going down stairs at her home, and received a severe sprain of one wrist.

"THE WORLD."

This famous spectacular and sensational melodrama, which is to be performed at Music hall on Friday evening, the 21st inst., by the Boston Theatre Co., is without doubt the best thing in its line ever presented here. There is not only plenty of "sensation" and "spectacle" in it, but also a good deal of fun, and a very enjoyable scamp in the shape of an unscrupulous rascal of a Jew, who is the mainspring of the plot. Tickets are now on sale at the Congress block bookstore.

NORTH KITTERY, Sept. 17th.

The potato crop in this section is very large in quantity and very fine in quality. Mr. Charles H. Bartlett has raised a large crop of the Late Rose variety; it is stated that about fifty or sixty of them make a bushel. Mr. Lyman Moulton of Beech Ridge, it is reported on good authority has raised a cartfull out of twenty-seven hills of the Beauty of Hebron variety,—a good yield, but they have good land at the Ridge, and the farmers are hard to beat.

Morrill Lodge, I. O. G. T., gave a harvest supper in the vestry of the first Methodist Episcopal church on Friday evening, the 14th inst. About one hundred and thirty-five persons were present, including a number from Portsmouth. A large guess cake was disposed of, and it was won by Mr. William A. Fernald and Mrs. Dennis M. Shapleigh, their guesses being each the exact weight, six lbs. and seven ounces; the cake was a beauty, and was highly complimented; it was made by Mrs. Thomas Blaisdell, and frosted by her brother, Charles Butterfield. Everything passed off pleasantly and successfully, and the profits add between $20 and $25 to the treasury of Morrill Lodge.

Work on the Second Methodist Episcopal church is about completed. The frescoing was done by E. F. Densmore of Kennebunk; the pews and entries were painted by Ball & Moore, of the village. There will also be made some improvements on the organ, and altogether the work done is a credit to the society. The church will be re-opened on Sunday, the 23d inst.; preaching exercises at two P. M., by Rev. H. W. Bolton of Boston; in the evening, concert and social meeting, beginning at seven o'clock. Monday evening, the 24th, there will be an entertainment, with the following programme: Lecture by Dr. Bolton, subject "Archery;" organ concert; reunion of old pastors; short addresses, etc.; ice cream and cake for sale in the vestry; tickets of admission, twenty-five cents. There will be an opportunity to buy good pews at low prices.

Moulton Bros., of Beech Ridge, are buying apples, and evaporating them at their place. They have two large hand-machines, and several persons employed.

Mr. Shadrach Littlefield planted this season 12,000 hills of corn and potatoes, doing all the work himself, besides working out some for his neighbors.

SUB ROSA.

A hop is to be given in Franklin hall this evening in honor of Admiral Cooper and the officers of the flagship Tennessee.

The young ladies of Newcastle, in giving an ice-cream party a few evenings since, had the misfortune to have in their company a few "gentlemen!" who so far forgot the rules of ordinary decency as to spoil the cream for the entire party by putting salt in it. The young ladies are grateful to the gentlemen who did not participate in so mean an act. ONE OF THEM.

Mrs. George W. Brown, of Newington, had a leg broken on Monday by a fall from a carriage.

On the 16th inst. Mr. A. J. Bachelder, of Hampton, attempted suicide by taking a mixture of Paris green and oil of cloves. He told what he had done, and a doctor was sent for; and on the 17th, though he was in a very bad condition, his life was still there. Derangement of the mind was the cause.

Capt. Albert Dow, of Rye, who was dangerously hurt some weeks ago near the Sagamore bridge when returning from this city, is rapidly recovering.

There is on the Page place in Hampton a sunflower eight feet high, which has thrown out a branch at the root of each leaf, making thirty-one branches; and there were on the plant, on the 17th inst., seventy-five full-blown flowers and many buds.

"The Lights o' London," which is claimed to be the most gorgeous scenic play ever put on the stage, will be performed in Music hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Sept. 24th and 25th, by the Union Square Theatre Co. of New York, under the management of Shook & Collier. There are fourteen sets of scenery used in the play, requiring two enormous freight cars, constructed especially for the purpose, to transport it; and a small army of actors and assistants is required to present the play. The advertisement is in another column.

Linus M. Price, receiver of the Pacific national bank of Boston, has commenced suits against several stockholders to enforce the personal liability as provided by the National Bank act. Three suits have been brought against shareholders in this city, and one against a resident of Greenland.

The lighthouse steamer Myrtle came in Tuesday forenoon, and made a berth at the navy yard wharf.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Chas. Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State street, Boston, reports a case of Salt Rheum under his observation for ten years, which covered the patient's body and limbs, and to which all known methods of treatment had been applied without benefit, which was completely cured solely by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stebbins, Belchertown, Mass., write: Our little boy was terribly afflicted with scrofula, Salt Rheum and Erysipelas ever since he was born, and nothing we could give him helped him until we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES, which gradually cured him, until he is now as fair as any child.

"Rescue the Perishing!"

It was a perishing baby. The pale, puny child lay almost lifeless on the pillow, the victim of malaria and summer complaint. The old nurse who dropped in to give the dying child her last blessing happened to ask, "Have you tried Perry Davis' Pain Killer?" They had not thought of it, but got some at once. Next day baby was better. Before the week was out he was well. Pain Killer saved him.

A New Analysis

Massachusetts Republican Convention.

The republican state convention of Massachusetts met in Boston on the 19th inst., and organized with Charles R. Codman of Boston as president, George A. Flagg of Millbury as secretary, and the usual long list of of vice presidents, etc. Henry L. Dawes, George F. Hoar and Charles Francis Adams, Jr., were on the committee on resolutions. The positive refusal of Hon. Henry L. Pierce to allow the use of his name as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination made the work of the convention very simple, so far as a candidate for governor was concerned, and put out of the question the hot contest the democrats had hoped to see.

On an informal ballot 1168 votes were thrown, of which George D. Robinson had 996, Charles F. Adams, Jr., 117, George A. Bruce thirty-five, and there were twenty scattering. On motion of Charles F. Adams, Jr., Mr. Robinson was unanimously nominated by acclamation, the convention cheering vociferously.

On a vote for a candidate for lieutenant governor, 1097 votes were cast, of which Charles R. Codman had 307, Oliver Ames 775, and Mr. Ames was declared the nominee.

The New York Tribune's democratic candidate for Speaker is Hon. S. S. Cox of New York. The Sun's candidate for President is Hon. W. S. Holman of Indiana. The public gives one paper about as much credit for its sincerity in support of its candidate as it does the other. At the right time the Sun will drop the western "parsimonist" and the Tribune will become reconciled that Mr. Cox shall be placated with a good place on the committee.

The republicans of New Jersey on Sept. 18th nominated Judge Jonathan Dixon of the supreme court for governor. The platform advocates a protective tariff, endorses the present national administration, opposes convict labor when it conflicts with skilled labor, and strongly favors the taxation of railroads after the manner of the taxation of personal property.

The report of the Grand Secretary of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows shows that the amount of money paid in 1882, for "relief," that is to say, in consequence of the sickness or death of members, was nearly two millions of dollars; that the order increased in members by initiation, in round numbers, forty-eight thousand; that the invested funds of the sovereign body are more than one hundred and eleven thousand dollars; and that the Order is growing. Comment upon these figures is unnecessary, although it would be interesting to note the relative growth of the institution in the different sections of the country. Suffice it, however, to say that these statistics by no means show all; Odd Fellowship has always numbered among its representatives men of the highest ability and the truest character. As social as it is in theory, it has attracted also the intelligent and the influential.

Mrs. Mary E. Tinkham committed suicide by hanging at Lakeville, Mass., Sept. 18th. She had been demented for years.

At Springfield, Mass., Sept. 18th, John O'Neill had both legs cut off below the knee by a freight train, which started while he was trying to crawl under it.

The British barque Britannic was disabled in the gale of Aug. 29th, and afterward driven ashore on Sable island, where she went to pieces. The captain's wife and three children, the two mates and six seamen were drowned. The captain and three seamen were rescued.

The complimentary parade to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Providence, R. I., took place on the 18th inst. The grand column moved at precisely two o'clock, the delegation from the Grand Encampment leading, followed by twenty encampments and forty subordinate lodges, with twenty military bands and seven drum corps, the whole number in line being estimated at 6000.

Durfee, Russell & Johnston, who have been running the opera house at Fall River, Mass., for several weeks, cleared out on the night of the 15th inst. during the performance, leaving actors' salaries, board bills, advertising and bill-posting bills, unpaid.

A large schooner, dismasted, waterlogged and abandoned, and a large copper-bottomed vessel, probably a ship, bottom up, were seen within a few miles of each other off Hatteras on the 16th inst.

Capt. George R. Raitt leaves this city for Jacksonville, Florida, on Thursday of this week, for the porpose of resuming his duties on the St. John river line of steamers. He goes accompanied by his "old dog Tray," a fine St. Bernard—the identical animal which some time ago got himself in the papers by carrying home boots and shoes to his former owner at the north end.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

GOSSIPS SAY

That Mr. Willis T. Dodge, for three years past the energetic and newsy correspondent in this city of the Manchester Union, will leave town to-day to assume enlarged duties in the same avocation.

That Samuel Emery, Esq., the young limb of the law, succeeds Mr. Dodge as the Portsmouth correspondent for the Union, and as agent of the Associated Press for this vicinity.

That Mr. Dodge during his residence here has made many friends, who will be sorry that he goes from among us.

That a hundred and eighty-one vessels were counted from Fort point, under sail, looking seaward, on Wednesday morning of this week.

That a splendid line of samples, including a new low-cut shoe called the "Alligator Tie," is being made at the Portsmouth Shoe Co.'s factory for the fall trade.

That Major Urch is contemplating the building of a new house near the toll-gate on Newcastle street.

That the major's enterprise seems boundless.

That the mustache season has arrived, as indicated by a short crop of "fuzz" on the upper lips of a large number of young men about town, who seem to be getting ready for Christmas presents.

Mr. Editor: Will you allow me the use of your columns for the purpose of scolding the Gas Company, for supplying such miserable gas as we are now compelled to burn? True, many persons are using oil who formerly burned gas; yet there is a convenience in the use of gas which we must be deprived of unless the manager of the gas works improves in the quality he now sends through his pipes. Of course, I could go to the office and complain, but the company have long been accustomed to that. Who does not recall the lamb-like amiability of the late Mr. Edney, the company's colporteur, who so graciously begged permission to visit our basements in search of information upon which to issue our quarterly reminders of indebtedness? and when he was reviled as to the excess of gas charged over the amount consumed, reviled not again. Not he! He sought to allude to the prospect of pleasant weather, or to any subject which turned one's thoughts from the unsatisfactory character of the gas bill, and as he politely bowed himself out, one thought of the immense vituperations which he must ward off every quarter. But pray, Mr. Editor, cannot something be done for us? While our streets are torn up to give other folks good gas, shall we remain groping in that attempt at light which seems only to render "darkness visible," and be silent? No; let the Gas Company remember that what one great consumer has been obliged to do, to protect himself from the short-comings of this corporation, whose good dividend and large surplus ought to make it more liberal toward its patrons, will one day be repeated by others, who will suffer to a certain extent, but no farther. ELECTRIC.

There will be two days of racing at the Rockingham trotting park Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 3d and 4th, the sport to commence at two o'clock P. M. each day. The first day's races will be, for horses that have never beaten 3:15, purse $30; for the 2:40 class, purse $75; running race, mile dash, $10. Second day, 2:50 class, purse $50; free-for-all, purse $75; citizens' horses, to road wagons, mile dash, purse $25.

Enoch Jones, aged about fifty-seven years, a hard-working and temperate man, formerly for some years in the employ of the city as teamster, and this season engaged in driving one of Mr. A. K. Brown's street sprinklers, disappeared from his home on Pleasant street early Tuesday morning of this week, giving no intimation as to where he was going. He got up unusually early, dressed himself in his best clothes, and departed; and up to Wednesday evening nothing had been heard from him. He had been despondent for some time.

Many residents on Noble's island, and others, called at the residence of Mrs. Lucy A. Noble, No. 157 Market street, Monday evening of this week, to look at and enjoy the fragrance of a night-blooming cereus which blossomed in her parlor that night, opening at 9:15 o'clock and remaining open until after four the next morning, to the great interest of the numerous visitors, few of whom had ever seen such a flower. Several fine photographs of the plant were taken at midnight by L. V. Newell.

A native of this city, desiring to benefit humanity (himself included,) has invented a new puzzle for the irritable to go crazy over, or get mad with and throw it in the fire. It is called the Phantom Puzzle, and is for sale at H. B. Buzzell & Son's, Market square. It is in a slight degree similar to the famous "fifteen puzzle" of a few years ago, but differs from it in that a number of solutions are possible.

A girl giving the name of Fanny Spinney, and aged fourteen or fifteen years, was arrested in this city one day this week in response to a telegram sent from Lowell, Mass., and returned to that city, where she is wanted to answer to a charge of stealing clothing.

Mr. D. H. Montgomery is now offering for sale or to rent a large number of pianos and organs. He is offering great bargains in these instruments, having had a large number of them out during the summer. He has such a large number on hand that he has been obliged to hire another store.

The steamer City of Portsmouth has gone to Portland to haul up for the winter.

The hay crop in Kittery, Eliot and York this year was the largest ever known, and though "fall feed" amounts to but little, there will be a large surplus of hay for the general market, which will afford a handsome revenue to the farmers. E. C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery, is already shipping to Boston large quantities of pressed hay of a superior quality.

The Boston Post publishes the following, from Kittery under date of Sept. 17th: "The preliminary survey for the location and construction of the York Harbor & Beach railroad, chartered by the legislature of this state last winter, commenced here to-day under the charge of a well known and competent engineer. The proposed line will commence from the Eastern railroad station in this town, passing through the villages of Kittery and Kittery Point to York, and will be an exceedingly feasible and easily constructed road. Its early construction is of the greatest importance to Kittery Point and York, both of which places are rapidly growing in public favor as popular seashore resorts, and are among the most attractive in New England. Measures have already been taken looking to its early completion."

The Dover Democrat is of the opinion that the new railroad act has caused both the railroad interests that favored and those that opposed the Lake Shore charter two years ago to be indifferent to the matter now, and that nobody will be found ready to expend the money necessary to build the Lake Shore road.

It is feared that two Portland fishing schooners, viz.: the "John Pew," Capt. Nathaniel Latham, and the "Willie Smith," Capt. Doughty, have gone to the bottom with all hands. The John Pew carried nine men, and was in Canso, N. S., with 20,000 lbs. of fish, bound for Torbay, the week before the great gales. The Willie Smith carried six men, and sailed from Portland for the banks a week before the gales. All the men of both crews belonged in Portland.

A leading firm of wholesale fish dealers and packers in Boston have within a few days shipped an order of canned fish to Australia. This is the third order which that firm has received for shipment to Australia, as the direct result of its fine exhibit at the London fisheries exposition, now in porgress.

Fishing schooner Mary O. Andrews, of Jonesport, Me., on a fishing trip to the Grand banks, is long overdue, and it is feared was oveewhelmed by the great August gales.

The shoe factories in Saco and Biddeford are doing a thriving business at present, and help is at a premium.

The September term of the supreme judicial court of Maine for York County commenced on Tuesday, Sept. 18th, at Alfred.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 40.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

HEREDITARY SCROFULA.

ARE you aware that in your blood the taint of scrofula has a prominent place? This is true of every one. It is liable at any time, on the slightest provocation, to develop itself in some insidious disease. Consumption and many other diseases are outgrowths of this impurity of the blood. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA has a wonderful power over all scrofulous troubles, as the remarkable testimonials we have received unmistakably prove.

"MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & Co.: Gentlemen—* * * My youngest son has always been troubled with Scrofulous Humor; sores in his head discharging from his ears, and a running sore on the back of his ear for two years; his eyelids would fester and ulcerate, discharging so that I was obliged to wash them open every morning, his eyelashes nearly all coming out; he was exceedingly dainty, most of the time eating but two slight meals a day. We were unable to find anything that had the least effect upon him till last spring, 1876, we gave him two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. His appetite improved at once. * * The back of his ear healed up without a scar, and not a sore in his head since. Sincerely yours,
MRS. N. C. SANBORN,
No. 108 Merrimack St., Lowell, Mass.

"We do not as a rule allow ourselves to use our editorial columns to speak of any remedy we advertise, but we feel warranted in saying a word for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sarsaparilla has been known as a remedial agent for centuries and is recognized by all schools of practice as a valuable blood purifier. It is put up in forms of almost infinite variety, but Messrs. Hood & Co., (Lowell, Mass.) who are thoroughly reliable pharmacists, have hit upon a remedy of unusual value. Certainly they have vouchers of cures which we know to be most extraordinary."—Editors Lowell Weekly Journal.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should procure the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Gem edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a SCIENTIFIC medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, and the only one of the kind is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address —A Congressman shouted in his speech, "We must return to the food of our fathers. And what was it, I ask?" A deep voice across the hall replied, "Thistles!"

Rev. J. W. Waldrop, Owenton, Ky., says: "Browns's Iron Bitters greatly relieved me of general debility and indigestion."

—Miss Idlewild Gardiner has just eloped from Port-Jarvis, N. Y., with a book agent. Only an idle, wild girl would elope with a book agent.

"About a year ago my horse was very lame from a sprain," writes E. F. Baily, of Ashland, N. H., "Ellis's Spavin Cure removed both the lameness and bony enlargement." It always does this.

—A little girl at Newport, seeing the willow phaetons for the first time, exclaimed, "Why mamma, everybody rides out in their clothes-baskets here!"

Positive Cure for Piles.

To the people of this County we would say we have been given the agency of Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to Cure or money refunded—internal, external, blind, bleeding or itching piles. Price 50c. a Box. No cure, no pay. For sale by Andrew P. Preston, Druggist.

—In reply to an inquiry, "Did the presidential junketing party take along anything to drink?" a western paper says it didn't notice when they started away, but they certainly did not bring back anything of the sort.

For Over Three Months

my son suffered night and day with rheumatism; so much so that he was unable to feed himself. Your Sulphur Bitters cured him, and I am thankful to say they are an honest medicine.—Mrs. W. H. Carleton, wife of Deacon Carlton, First Baptist Church, Winchester, Mass.

—Yes," said Mr. Snaggs. "I intended to thrash Tawmus, but being nearsighted I made a mistake in the man. Did I apologize? Didn't get a chance. He had me licked before I could say two words."

Sept, 14th, 1880.

Hop Bitters Co., TORONTO;

I have been sick for the past six years, suffering from dyspepsia and general weakness. I have used three bottles of Hop Bitters, and they have done wonders for me. I am well and able to work and feel strong well. I cannot say too much for Hop Bitters.

SIMON ROBBINS.

—A party of colored brethren were holding a camp-meeting, and one of them speaking from the text, "How old art though?" said in his opening, "Brethren, this am a question that must be answered in the affirmative."

Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, and barks. It gives tone to the stomach and makes the weak strong. Sold by druggists.

—The Boston high school girl condems the phrase "tumble to the racket" as vile slang. She says, "precipitate in the direction of the clamor" is a more elegant expression.

A Spartan Heroism

is often exhibited by a delicate woman during the extraction of teeth. But why not save them in time, with Sozodont, and thus obviate the necessity of taxing one's fortitude? The tenants of the mouth are far more likely to remain and do good service, if this sovereign protective is used, as a safe-guard against their untimely destruction. The experience and evidence of hosts of people, proves this sanitary fact.

—An exchange says that the "Boston Herald kicks against the statue to be erected on the common in honor of Harriet Martineau." It is difficult to see how a statue that is not yet built can be kicked against. But still a Boston paper can do most anything.

Daughters, Wives, and Mothers.

We emphatically guarantee Dr. Marchisi's Catholicon a Female Remedy, to cure Female diseases, such as ovarian troubles, inflamation and ulceration, falling and displacement, or bearing down feeling. For sale by druggists. Prices $1.00 and $1.50 per bottle. Send to Dr. J. B. Marchisi, Utica, N. Y., for Pamphlet, free. For sale by Andrew P. Preston, Druggist.

—A Pennsylvania paper has observed it as a melancholy fact that all the male angels are represented as little boys, while the female angels are always grown up young ladies. It wants to know right away quick where this idea of paradise originated?

"Your Skin Cure is superexcellent. It is fast curing my daughter's ring worm, which had spread all over her body." Mrs. E. L. D. Merriam, Blue Hill, Mass., Druggists Keep it, $1 per package.

HEART DISEASE.

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for Kidney or Liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Clendinning, startingly says "one-third of my patients suffer from disease of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. This known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator *and can be obtained at your druggists, $1.00 per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. "Rescue the Perishing!"

It was a perishing baby. The pale, puny child lay almost lifeless on the pillow, the victim of malaria and summer complaint. The old nurse who dropped in to give the dying child her last blessing happened to ask, "Have you tried Perry Davis' Pain Killer?" They had not thought of it, but got some at once. Next day baby was better. Before the week was out he was well. Pain Killer saved him.

Ex-Gov. Nathaniel S. Berry, who has for several years past been living with a married daughter in Milwaukee, Wis., is on a visit to his former home in Bristol. He is now in his 86th year.

Mr. Adam Bartenbeck, of West Peterboro', N. H., says: "One-half bottle Brown's Iron Bitters increased his appetite and gave him renewed strength."

Damage to the amount of $1000 was done in the gas works at Keene on the morning of the 19th inst., by an explosion. An employe named Eustis was badly burned about the face and hands.

A New Analysis

By the present State Assayer of Massachusetts confirms the favorable report of his predecessor in regard to the excellent quality of the Whiskey bottled by Chester H. Graves & Sons Boston, and introduced by them some six years ago under the name G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon.

Dudley & Co.'s oil-storage shed in Manchester was burned on the night of the 19th inst., by an incendiary fire.

A Spartan Heroism

is often exhibited by a delicate woman during the extraction of teeth. But why not save them in time, with Sozodont, and thus obviate the necessity of taxing one's fortitude? The tenants of the mouth are far more likely to remain and do good service, if this sovereign protective is used as a safe-guard against their untimely destruction. The experience and evidence of hosts of people, proves this sanitary fact.

The Grand Trunk and Boston & Lowell.

The prospect of a lease of the Boston & Lowell railroad to the Grand Trunk road of Canada has, it is stated, caused a rise in the stock of the Lowell, which road has a good local traffic, but has expended large sums for western business without a corresponding return. There are various speculations regarding the effect of the proposed lease upon the Concord and Northern railroads, but we should suppose that these roads, with an outlet via the Boston & Maine road at Manchester and the road to this city, could afford to have the Grand Trunk take the Boston & Lowell rather than pay the rental which the latter road sought to have the Concord pay for it. The G. T. R. R. has a collossal debt, and how the bond holders will like to take the Grand Trunk as paymasters, and the stockholders be willing to incur the risk of their road being "skinned" by the lessees, and how the patrons at Lowell and Nashua, some of whom are shareholders alike in the mills at these cities and in the Lowell road, will relish having their property subject to the management of a foreign corporation, may be imagined.

The Grand Trunk's present management of the fifty-two miles of road of the Atlantic & St. Lawrence in New Hampshire, if we may credit their reports, shows a deplorable result. To the close of last year the operating expenses alone of the New Hampshire division are reported at a loss of sixteen thousand dollars, in addition to taxes—or rising twenty-two thousand dollars. For this piece of road they pay an annual rental of six per cent on its capital stock, which on the whole line, from Island Pond to Portland, is $5,484,000, with $3,000,000 of bonds.

Whether the titled directors of the Grand Trunk, with their English ideas, can succeed in doing better for the Lowell road than ever have its respectable but somewhat slow managers of late, we have a doubt. But whether the people who are, and are to be, the patrons of the line, will be as readily accomodated and as properly served by this new departure, is something concerning which it is safe to bet but one way. If the Grand Trunk leases the Boston & Lowell, it will not surprise us to see the Boston & Maine road, whose double track will be extended into Lowell by Thanksgiving day, controlling the business of that city, where the great manufacturing interests will be able to make far better terms at Haymarket square with a practical man like Furber than with a management having a president in England and a board of directors in Montreal.

Still the Lowell, like the prodigal son, has spent its substance, and has but little to show for it, except the chance of supposed deep water in Boston, where a sharp winter would freeze up the vessels sent to her wharves. There are many obstacles to the consummation of this lease, and after all it may be that the movement only means an attempt by the Lowell to make a new trade with the New Hampshire roads upon better terms than the lines above Nashua have been heretofore willing to award. In the meantime, of course the Grand Trunk must continue to pay our Portland friends their little annual rental, and if it can afford to do business in this way in competition with lines managed by American owners, it may be able to swing the Lowell, however much such a state of things might be regretted by the patrons of that road.

"There Was a Sound of Revelry by Night"

At the State Capital on the eve of the adjournment of the legislature, at the passage of the Southern Pacific railroad scheme. Members who had struggled with the objective points of the "Colby bill" for long weeks, were unable to find anything anti-democratic in this measure. There was nothing like the grasp of the wealthy and corrupt monopolists which the regular incubator of resolutions for the democratic state conventions has heretofore biennially viewed with alarm; and old soldiers in the legislative ranks, who had prided themselves on being sharp-shooters at hitting fraud and schemes calculated to deceive, gave it their approval. But as the revellers took their brandy and soda on the following morning, the discovery was made that "they laugh best who laugh last!" The bill had not been signed and was not a law, and so on the following Monday evening several gentlemen from Dover were seen wending their way, grip-sacks in hand, toward Main street in Concord, to convince, if possible, Gov. Hale that the affixing of his signature to this little innocent incubation of the last moments of the expiring session was the correct thing to do. What this van of the lobby from the shadows of Garrison Hill were able to accomplish in the way of changing the mind of the governor we are not informed, but we presume from the somewhat dejected appearance of the guard on the home march that they captured nothing.

Commissioners Appointed.

Our esteemed and worthy contemporary of the Daily Evening Times is slightly in accurate when he says that Buel C. Carter and George E. Gage were appointed commissioners under the recently-enacted railroad commission act. These gentleman were appointed bank commissioners under the law passed in 1881, which requires such appointments by the governor and council, the appointees holding their offices for two years or until successors are qualified. The railroad commissioners have not been appointed as yet. Mr. Gage succeeds John D. Lyman, who has served several years as bank commissioner, and who goes out under the provisions of the civil service rotation theory of Gov. Hale.

P. S. The governor and council on the 20th inst. appointed O. C. Moore of Nashua, E. B. S. Sanborn of Franklin and E. J. Tenney of Claremont to be railroad commissioners under the new act.

On the 19th inst. Joseph B. Walker of Concord was appointed a member of the forestry commission.

An Attractive Excursion.

Messrs. Raymond and Whitcomb have planned a delightful autumn trip through northern New England and Canada. The party will leave Boston, Saturday, Sept. 29th, in drawing room cars, and proceed to Montreal, where two days will be passed. Two days will then be devoted to Quebec, and on the return there will be a halt at the Memphremagog house at Newport, Vt. There will be carriage drives in Montreal and Quebec, a steamboat excursion down the Lachine rapids, and a steamer trip on Lake Memphremagog. The excursion will take place at a time when the foliage of northern New Hampshire and Vermont will present its most brilliant and beautiful appearance. A circular regarding the trip may be obtained by addressing W. Raymond, 240 Washington street, Boston.

James McDermott, who left Brooklyn, N. Y., recently, for England, and who has been examined three times before a stipendiary justice on a charge of conspiracy to murder public officials in connection with the dynamite party, was again brought before the court at Liverpool on the 18th inst., and was discharged, the evidence against him being deemed insufficient. McDermott has been charged by the dynamiters with being the traitor who exposed their plans and movements to the British detectives, and they asserted at the time of his arrest that it was only a "blind" and he would soon be discharged.

The republican state convention of New York was held at Richfield Springs on the 19th inst. Gen. Joseph B. Carr for secretary of state, and Ira C. Davenport for comptroller, were nominated by acclamation. P. T. Sexton of Palmyra was nominated for treasurer, Silas Seymour for state engineer, and Leslie W. Russell for attorney general. The convention was entirely harmonious.

The highest point on the Northern Pacific railroad is 1200 feet lower than the maximum height of the Central Pacific.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vicility and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

SAD ACCIDENT.

About two o'clock last Thursday afternoon, as Mr. Allison S. Littlefield was standing on a ladder placed against a building on Philbrick's wharf he was thrown to the ground by the tripping of the ladder, and had both wrists broken, his head badly cut and quite a large piece of his scalp torn completely away.

THE TENNESSEE ASHORE.

About six o'clock Thursday evening of this week, the mooring shackle to which the U. S. S. Tennessee was riding in the lower harbor gave way without any apparent special cause, and the strong ebb tide started her towards Fishing islands. Another anchor was quickly let go, but the swift current had got the big ship on the broadside, and the anchor was taken along the bottom as though it were on wheels until the vessel struck, which she did with sufficient force to heel her over a long way, though she immediately righted. The tide was a little more than half ebb when she went on, and of course there was no chance for her to get off until the flood. When she finally brought up, her head was up river, and her starboard quarter was only twenty or thirty feet from the southwest point of Fishing islands.

The tug Leader, of Boston, Capt. Doane, was in the lower harbor, having towed a vessel down from Boston; and as the tide commenced to make she pulled on the grounded ship, which came off about nine o'clock, and half an hour later was again riding at anchor. The U. S. S. Leyden arrived from the navy yard in time to render assistance.

How badly the ship was damaged by the accident is of course unknown, but she could not have escaped unharmed.

DEATH OF WM. W. McINTIRE.

The associated press despatches from Springfield, Mass., Thursday, Sept. 20th, in the report of the meeting of the officers of the League of American Wheelmen said: "Appropriate resolutions were passed on the death of W. W. McIntire of Portsmouth, N. H." Messrs. Charles A. Hazlett, Albert H. Sides, Goodwin E. Philbrick and William W. McIntire of this city went to the great convention of wheelmen at Springfield, but we were on Thursday evening unable to learn anything further than was contained in the press despatch, as to Mr. McIntire. During the bicycle races of Wednesday, the 19th, a number of accidents took place, owing to the spectators crowding the wheelmen, but the reports said that though some of the riders were severely injured, none were fatally hurt.

[A telephone message at a late hour in the evening stated that the report of Mr. McIntire's death was correct, he having been thrown from his bicycle on the 20th, and struck on his head.]

GOSSIPS SAY

That about a dozen gentlemen of this city went to Boston on Thursday to attend the auction sale at Uncle Sam's reservation in the Charlestown district.

That the Portsmouth Shoe factory turned out as many cases of shoes during the eight and a half months ending Sept. 15th as it did for the whole of last year.

That Capt. Bradford was liked, as well as much respected, by the officers and crew of the flagship Tennessee, and when he left the ship on Tuesday of this week the men assembled forward and gave him nine hearty cheers.

That Mr. Charles Clark, lately clerk for the Portsmouth Brewing Co., and Carl Redamacher, confectioner at Thompson's candy store, will open a confectioner's shop on Merrimac street in Boston the first of October.

That the tug boat Clara Batemen is being roughly repaired, and will be ready for service next week.

That although Enoch Jones rejoices over the anxiety manifested by the newspapers over his little vacation, he does not propose to become an Enoch Arden.

"THE WORLD."

This evening, at Music hall, the great spectacular drama "The World" will be presented by the Boston Theatre Co., with the careful attention to finish of acting and perfection of detail always shown by companies under the management of Tompkins & Hill. The special scenic and mechanical effects,—the steamer's deck by moonlight, the explosion, the raft and the rescue,—which received such high approval before, will all be given, with added smoothness. Tickets at the Congress block bookstore.

The Eastern railroad will give another cheap mountain trip on Tuesday of next week. The fare from this city to Fabyan's and return will be $2.50. The tickets will be good for one week. The train will leave here at ten o'clock.

Mr. Anjuvine Hanscom of Kansas, oldest son of the late Mr. Oliver Hanscom, formerly a prominent mechanic and official of this city, is visiting his friends here for the first time in twelve years. Mr. Hanscom was a graduate of the Portsmouth high school, and obtained his business education in the store of the late Stephen Simes on Market square.

The sailmakers and riggers employed in the equipment department at the navy yard, who were suspended on the 12th inst. owing to lack of funds, were all taken back at noon on the 20th; the order giving the necessary money for their employment was received on the 17th, but owing to some misunderstanding was not promulgated at that time.

Mr. Edward J. Moulton arrived home on the 20th inst. from Bangor, Me., in the schooner Mary Willey, having made a round trip in her from this port.

The schooner Helen Mar, Capt. John Russell, came in last Thursday from Jaffrey's with 750 lbs. of fish, mostly cod, for which she received $1.50 a hundred lbs., other fish bringing seventy-five cents a hundred. This was the Helen Mar's first trip this fall. The boats are generally doing well, when they can get bait.

Mr. Charles A. Shannon on Thursday presented us with an apple measuring thirteen inches around one way, and a trifle over the fourteen the other. It was raised on the place of Mr. James Stevenson of Wolfborough, and is of the "Farm Sweet" variety.

A skunk was killed at the corner of Gates and Pleasant streets, Thursday afternoon, by a woman armed with woman's natural weapon, a broomstick.

That the Eastern railroad company are negotiating for the purchase of the Portsmouth Machine Co.'s property.

An extensive fire was reported as prevailing in the woods at Sagamore creek, Thursday night.

In the case in the Supreme court of Nathan Jones against the Portsmouth Aqueduct company, Judge Carpenter, who tried the case, has found the following in addition to the facts found in the transferred case: "That upon the evidence stated the use made by the defendants of their land and of the water was not, as against the plaintiff Jones, a reasonable use." Mr. S. M. Wheeler of Dover was counsel of Mr. Jones; Messrs. Emery, Frink and Page for the proprietors of the aqueduct.

"The Boot and Shoe Manufacturers of New England," which means not a class of men but an exhibit arranged as a book of reference for buyers, giving descriptions of various shoe manufacturing towns and cities, illustrated with views of certain buildings, contains a very good picture of the Portsmouth Shoe company's building in this city.

Any one who will call at O. M. Knight's stationery store and examine his stock of paper and envelopes, will be surprised at the quality and low prices of the goods he offers. There is no excuse for not writing to your friends when you can get good writing paper for $1 a ream, and a very fair article for sixty cents a ream, envelopes at $1.50 a thousand, nickel pens at a cent apiece, and cone bottles of ink at five cents each—and letter postage at only two cents after October 1st.

Mr. Enoch Jones, who left home early Tuesday morning of this week without informing his family of his departure, and caused some anxiety thereby, arrived home again all right the following evening, having been to Manchester.

Mr. Daniel Littlefield, at his yard on Green street, recently completed a new spanker boom sixty-two feet long, for the schooner William B. Wood; the stick was an unsightly log when hauled from the dock, but in three days was a finished spar as handsome as though turned in a lathe. Mr. Littlefield is also making all needed repairs to the schooner Adeliza.

The efficient Remington fire engine, from Ilion, New York, worked by horse power, which was on exhibition here during the firemen's muster, has been stored in the old hearse-house on Elm street to await the orders of her manufacturers.

The street commissioner has had the burnt district on Vaughan street fenced in, so that the city may not be liable on account of any accident which may happen there.

About twenty of the Portsmouth friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown of this town gave them a house-warming on Tuesday evening last, bringing with them refreshments of all kinds. The party remained until a late hour, passing a most enjoyable evening, when they took the barge for a moonlight return to Portsmouth.—Exeter Gazette.

Mr. Editor: The "gossips say" one of the returned representatives is about to erect a new house. Will the gossips tells us how the other fellows are going to invest theirs? INQUIRER.

The Gangway rock drill-sloop was on the 20th inst. towed to Kittery by the steamer Mystic, and hauled out on the marine railway.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week, Shook & Collier's "Lights O' London" will be given in Music hall. Wherever this play has been given in this country it has been greeted with overflowing houses, and the newspapers are unanimous in its praise. The company is one of the largest and most expensive travelling. The scenery, of which there are fourteen sets, is all transported by the company in two special cars, decorated and lettered like those used by a circus. The company also has its own express wagons, for transporting scenery and baggage to and from the hall. The above will show that the enterprise and magnitude are almost unlimited, and that the show itself must be a good one that the company be successful.

The 36th annual exhibition of the York County Agricultural society will be held in Biddeford on the 10th, 11th and 12th of October. There will be a baby show, the usual agricultural horse-trots, etc.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, August 18, 1883.

In accordance with the provisions of the 5th section of the act of Congress making appropriations to supply deficiencies approved March 3, 1883, sealed proposals will be received at the Navy Department, Washington, on Tuesday, November 20, 1883, at which time and place they will be opened, for the purchase of certain vessels at the Navy Yard, Mare Island, California, which have been stricken from the Navy Register, under authority of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1883, and which it is deemed for the best interests of the United States to sell.

The vessels offered, and their appraised value are, the Monadnock, hull, $11,200; Alaska, $18,300; Benecia, $17,000; Tuscarora, $3,900; Narragansett, $8,800; Nyack, $2,300, and Saco, $3,800.

Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C., and endorsed "proposals for the purchase of vessels," so as to distinguish them from other communications. No offer for more than one vessel should be included within one proposal.

Each bid or proposal must be accompanied by a deposit in cash (or satisfactory certified check) of not less than ten per cent of the amount of the offer or proposal, and also a bond with a penal sum equal to the whole amount of the offer, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the Secretary of the Navy, conditioned for the prompt payment of the balance nine per cent of the amount of such offer or proposal within ten days after the receipt of the official notice. In case default is made in the payment of the remaining ninety per cent, or any part thereof within that time, the deposit of ten per cent shall be considered as forfeited to the Government, and shall be applied as directed in the act of March 3, 1883. All deposits and bonds of bidders, whose proposals shall not be accepted, will be returned to them within seven days after the opening of the proposals.

Humor in the Stomach.

Much of the distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa and other causes is occasioned by humor in the stomach. Several cases, with all the characteristics of these complaints, have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Other cures effected by this medicine are so wonderful that the simplest statement of them affords the best proof that it combines rare curative agents and when once used secures the confidence of the people.

—An exchange thinks the "theatre of the future" will be fireproof. It will have to be if there is not an improvement in the moral tone of the plays produced.

"I had a very fine horse spavined and lamed for four months," writes S. B. Hazeltine, of Sacramento, Mass. "In two weeks, however, after using Ellis' Spavin Cure he was completely cured."

—A Mexican lady of rank has hair two and a half yards long. It is a mighty fortunate thing for the Mexicans that she is a lady of rank instead of a cook in a boarding-house.

Heart affections, kidney and liver troubles affect nearly one-half of all mankind Yet how many heedlessly pass through a shortened life, giving no care to these complaints which cause the human family such great distress. Does your heart beat violently from the least excitement? Have you fits of dizziness? Does your back ache? Are your bowels constipated? These symtoms are the first warnings. Delay is dangerous. Be wise in time. Regain perfect health by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

—Rev. Mr. Talmage is accredited with saying that there is one thing that prayer won't do. We presume he refers to making a gas meter deal squarely by the man whose house it occupies.

"Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick headache."—Dr. H. H. Schlichter, of Baltimore.

—A very popular family medicine in Cornish, Me., is called "eucalyptus compound." It is made by flavoring two quarts of whiskey with a tablespoonful of checkerberry extract, and is, of course, not intended to be used as a beverage.

If you are a frequenter or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourges of all new countries—ague, bilious and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

LUDINGTON, MICH., Feb. 2, 1880.

I have sold Hop Bitters for four years and there is no medicine that surpasses them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints and many diseases incidents to this malarial climate.

H. T. ALEXANDER.

—An exchange tells of "a young lady losing the sole of her slipper while enjoying the intoxicating waltz of the waltz." Of what profit was it to her if she gained the whole whirl if she thereby lost her sole?

The universal verdict, "The Hop Plaster is the best porous plaster ever made." Only 25cts.

—"Are your domestic relations agreeable?" was the question put to an unhappy looking specimen of humanity. "Oh, my domestic relations are all right," was the reply; "it is my wife's relations that are causing the trouble."

The Postmaster,

Winchester, Mass., says: I am personally acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Carlton, and was astonished at the remarkable effects of your Sulphur Bitters in curing their son, and its large sale is undoubtedly due to the fact that it is an honest medicine. I know of many others who have been cured by its use, and I do not think too much can be said in its praise. Yours truly, Geo. P. Brown, Postmaster.

—It must have disgusted the author of that touching poem "Somebody's Mother," enough to make him sick, to learn that the old woman who suggested the poem to him was an old maid.

The Mound Builders.

There can be no reasonable doubt that America was once inhabited by a race of men, now extinct, and antedating the advent of the Indian. Scientific men call them the "Mound Builders," and they probably suffered with heart disease, just like other mortals. Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator was not known so far back as the time of these mound builders, or sun worshippers, as they are often called; the remedy is however more than thirty years old, and better still it is the only cure for heart disease ever discovered.—Star.

COULDN'T AFFORD IT.

Made Honest by Business Principles, a Druggist tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing both elbows on his plated show-case and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means."

"That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plasters?"

"Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one, and now sell principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

"Haven't you Allcock's?"

"Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capcine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I have never heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—"

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—or, Lordy!—this pain and lameness! Let me have one of Benson's Capcine. That's the real article, is it? With the word CAPCINE cut in the body of the plaster."

"You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

"Rescue the Perishing!"

It was a perishing baby. The pale, puny child lay almost lifeless on the pillow, the victim of malaria and summer complaint. The old nurse who dropped in to give the dying child her last blessing happened to ask, "Have you tried Ferry Davis' Pain Killer?" They had not thought of it, but got some at once. Next day baby was better. Before the week was out he was well. Pain Killer saved him.

The girl escaped and ran home, and her father at once started in pursuit, taking his daughter with him in a wagon. On being arraigned in the justice court he pleaded guilty, and was held in $1,000 for trial. Fox is unmarried, and aged forty-two years.

On a cattle ranch near Socorro, New Mexico, Sept. 17th, Joel Fowler, a large cattle dealer, met Poniy Forrest and Bill Childs, with whom he had had previous trouble. Instead of doing so, Forrest fired, killing McGee, whereupon Fowler set fire to the house. Rather than take the chances of a shooting match with Fowler, Forrest put a ball through his own heart. Two or three times they swung him, while he cried piteously for them to desist, and then he was flung high from their grasp, landing on the hard road. He lay motionless, and in less than forty-eight hours was dead from a broken spine. The boys were arrested on a charge of murder.

The Thrice-Armed Panoply of Truth.

The success of merit when once recognized as a success invariably excites detraction and stimulates envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitableness. No man or enterprise is worthy of regard whose reputation has not been some time assailed by the baffled rage of some disappointed one, whose attempt to defraud, defame or destroy a righteous cause has been defeated after detection. The panoply of truth, honesty and fair dealing to all has caused The Louisiana State Lottery to be invincible to any attack upon the integrity of the management or its distributions by Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., and while, here and there, some disappointed one may grumble, public opinion is unanimous that everything is straight and square. The next drawing (the 161st monthly) will take place on Oct. 9th, and any information desired will be given on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, Louisiana.

MEDICAL.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Is designed to meet the wants of a large portion of our people who are either too poor to employ a physician, or are too far removed to easily call one, and a still larger class who are not sick enough to require medical advice, and yet are out of sorts and need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite, purify their blood, and oil up the machinery of their bodies so it will do its duty willingly. No other article takes hold of the system and hits exactly the spot like

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

It works like magic, reaching every part of the human body through the blood, giving to all renewed life and energy.

My friend, you need not take our word. Ask your neighbor, who has just taken one bottle. He will tell you that "It's the best dollar I ever invested."

LEBANON N. H., Feb. 19, 1879.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO. Dear Sirs—Although greatly prejudiced against patent medicines in general, I was induced, from the excellent reports I had heard of your Sarsaparilla, to try a bottle, last December, for dyspepsia and general prostration, and I have received very gratifying results from its use. I am now using the second bottle, and consider it a very valuable remedy for indigestion and its attendant troubles.
Yours truly,
F. C. CHURCHILL,
(Firm of Carter & Churchill.)

☞ A gentleman who has been suffering from the Debility and Languor peculiar to this season, says: "HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA is putting new life right into me. I have gained ten pounds since I began to take it." Has taken two bottles.

MEDICAL.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vicility and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

ISN'T DEAD AT ALL.

The anxiety among the friends of Mr. Wm. W. McIntire, caused by the allusion to his death which appeared in the associated press despatches from Springfield, Mass., on Thursday afternoon of this week; and the general surprise expressed on Friday forenoon at the failure of any of the Portsmouth men who went to the wheelmen's convention to telegraph the particulars of his death, if unhappily the report of his death should prove true, and of his own failure to contradict the report, if it were false, were set at rest Friday afternoon by the arrival home of the deceased, safe and sound. How the report arose is not explained.

A GOOD IDEA.

An effort is being made to have the name of Harriet P. Dame, a New Hampshire lady who went south with the 2d New Hampshire regiment in the late war, and whose ministrations saved to the Union the lives of a large number of sick and wounded soldiers during the four years of that bloody struggle, placed on the list of United States pensioners. The veteran soldiers of the state are signing petitions to Congress in behalf of this patriotic lady, and one has been placed in the store of M. M. Collis, No. 15 Market street, for the signatures of the veterans of Portsmouth and vicinity.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J.

FRIDAY, Sept. 21st.

James Hughes, Thomas Westgate and George Frost, for drunkenness, were assessed $9.90 each. The first-named two paid up.

GOSSIPS SAY

That the officers of the flag-ship Tennessee were not very communicative to the reporters who visited the big ship on Thursday night last to learn the result of her contact with the rocks of Fishing islands.

That "Inquirer" is informed that if "the other fellows" are wise, they will "invest theirs" in Cushing's Manuals.

That should they do so, and study diligently the intricacies of parliamentary law during the long winter evenings that are coming, the doughty Major may not have so much of a "picnic" next time.

That W. W. McIntire, the gentlemanly salesman at Montgomery's music and art store, has the opportunity that comes to but few persons, of reading his own bituary notices.

That the trees which have been denuded by caterpillars are putting forth new leaves.

That Mr. Edwin H. Leslie, janitor of the custom house building, had the thumb of his right hand badly crushed while loading wool on the cars at the bonded warehouse near the Eastern railroad on Friday afternoon last.

The steamer Lord Gough, from Liverpool, arrived at Philadelphia at midnight on the 19th inst., with Miss Morgan's excursion party on board. Miss Morgan arrived in this city on Friday forenoon, the 21st, by the early train.

The Tennessee was on Friday forenoon lying not far from her former anchorage, with all her yards and masts down. It was reported that she was making water at the rate of four inches an hour, and would have to be docked here for inspection. The Marion is now in the dry dock undergoing repairs, including recalking; but the calking has been done as fast as the copper has been stripped off, and the vessel could be floated out in a short time, if so ordered. Though the Tennessee came off the rocks about nine o'clock Thursday evening, soon after the tug Leyden hooked on to her, she was not satisfactorily moored until after three o'clock Friday morning, so that the tug could leave.

Gilman C. Berry of Rye last spring planted two bushels of potatoes, from which he harvested sixty bushels. In this yield were two potatoes weighing two and a half pounds each.

Nine hundred large mackerel, weighing about two pounds apiece, were brought in on Friday from the Harding weir at the mouth of the harbor, where also there have been taken bass of fair size all along. These mackerel are for local sale at George W. Randall's store, corner of Penhallow and Bow streets, having been bought by him in conjunction with James Kehoe.

The Methodist Episcopal meeting-house at Kittery Foreside has been greatly improved by the painting of the exterior. The inner walls have been tastefully frescoed, a rail has been placed in front of the desk, and other arrangements for the comfort and convenience of church attendants have been made, at an outlay of a thousand dollars. The rededicatory services will be held next Sabbath, when worship will be resumed within its walls.

Joseph Berry of Rye is preparing to build a cottage of the Queen Anne style—so-called, though probably Queen Anne never in her life saw such looking things as most of them are—for Mr. Kimball of Concord, to be ready for occupation before next summer.

Miss Gracie Wendell, daughter of Andrew P. Wendell, Esq., celebrated her 14th birthday on Thursday evening last, a select gathering of the young lady's friends being present at the family residence on Daniel street, and the house and grounds being beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns and colored fires. Miss Wendell was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

Mr. James Savage, engineer, and Mr. I. H. Williams, switchman, of the Eastern railroad, who by their coolness, courage and presence of mind averted a collision between two passenger trains at Beverly, Mass., a short time ago, have each been awarded a solid gold medal by the Massachusetts Humane society. Mr. Savage runs the "Flying Yankee" train.

Rev. Selden J. Gould, who for the past six months has been doing pastoral services for the Freewill Baptist church in this city, closed his labors with that church on Sunday, the 16th inst. The income from pews and contributions has been insufficient for his support, and he has been compelled to sell some of his property for that purpose. The Freewill Baptist church has a debt of about two thousand dollars, which is a great burden, the society being small and with no wealthy members. Mr. Gould was formerly for some time engaged in city missionary work in Lewiston, Me., and in our judgment has good qualities for that work. It is perhaps a good opportunity to secure the services of a suitable man for the very-much-needed city missionary work here.

John York, landlord of the Lake Hotel at Wolfeboro', and formerly landlord of the old City Hotel in this city, died at Wolfeboro' on the 11th inst. His remains were taken to Portland for interment.

Mr. Henry R. King, son of Street Commissioner King of this city, has been granted a license as second assistant engineer in the United States Fish Commission, and is serving on board the Albatross, which vessel was lately at this port. Mr. King took a conspicuous part in the return of the Sons in 1873 and 83'. —Journal.

Mr. E. H. Hall, as we see in the Fort Collins, Col., Courier, has removed to that city from Loveland, the elevator at Loveland in which he is interested having been leased. Mr. Hall will hereafter give exclusive attention to the loan business, principally as secretary of the Colorado Loan Association.

The secretary of the navy has ordered the U. S. S. Pinta to proceed from New York to the naval station near this city, in order to test her sea-going qualities. This is right. After the great outlay on this vessel at Norfolk, where it is alleged that the work is done by politicians instead of by first-class mechanics, and after her lying for months in exposure to the copper-destroying sewage of the Brooklyn navy yard, the Pinta should come here and be properly put in order, if anything is expected of her out of the common course.

The following were among the jurors in attendance upon the supreme judicial court of Maine for York county, at the opening of the session at Alfred on the 18th inst.: Grand jurors—Noah Eaton of Kittery, Orrin Trafton of York, Charles Bennett of South Berwick, Ebenezer Worcester of Berwick, John C. Hayes of North Berwick; traverse jurors—George Manent of Kittery, Edson H. Boody of South Berwick, James M. Nowell of Berwick, Tristram F. Johnson of North Berwick, William H. Perkins of Wells; supernumeraries—Thomas Williams of Kittery, Joseph R. Stacy of Eliot, O. J. Williams of Wells, Emery Wentworth of Limington. The number of new entries was 142, the assigned civil list being small. Gen. Gilman Marston of Exeter and J. Colby Caverly, Esq., of Dover, N. H., were among the lawyers in attendance at the opening of the court.

The Maine state fair opened at Lewiston on the 18th inst., about 5000 persons being present. Among the exhibits from York county were a sulky plough shown by C. A. Hooper of Eliot, and fifteen new metal ploughs, three steel harrows, three horse hoes and sample steel teeth, shown by T. B. Hersey of North Berwick.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.45 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should peruse the new Medical work, entitled the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of manhood, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Sixth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample gratis. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

Cuticura

REMEDIES

THE GREAT SKIN CURES

TO cleanse the skin, Scalp and Blood of Itching, Scaly Pimply, Scrofulous, Inherited, and Contagious Humors, Blood Poisons, Ulcers, Abscesses, and Infantile Skin Tortures, the CUTICURA REMEDIES are infallible. CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, instantly allays Itching and Inflammation, clears the Skin and Scalp, heals Ulcers and Sores, restores the Complexion. CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier and Toilet Requisite, is indispensable in treating skin diseases, and for rough, chapped or greasy skin, blackheads, blotches, and baby humors. CUTICURA REMEDIES are the only infallible blood purifiers and skin beautifiers.

Chas. Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State street, Boston, reports a case of Salt Rheum under his observation for ten years, which covered the patient's body and limbs, and to which all known methods of treatment had been applied without benefit, which was completely cured solely by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stebbins, Belchertown, Mass., write: Our little boy was terribly afflicted with scrofula, Salt Rheum and Erysipelas ever since he was born, and nothing we could give him helped him until we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES, which gradually cured him, until he is now as fair as any child.

H. E. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by CUTICURA REMEDIES. The most wonderful cure on record. A dustpan full of scales fell from him daily. Physicians and his friends thought he must die. Cure seven years before a justice of the peace and Henderson's most prominent citizens.

Hon. Wm. Taylor, Health Commissioner, Boston, says: After three months' use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and twelve years of constant suffering from Scrofulous Humor of the face, neck and scalp as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record.

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart. The renowned Dr. Clendenning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention. Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

GENTLEMEN—Having been a sufferer for a great length of time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Face.

WESTCHESTER, CONN., June 19, 1879.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I can testify to the good effect of your MEDICINE. My little boy had a SCROFULA sore break out on his head as large as a quarter of a dollar, and it went down his face from one ear to the other, under his neck, and was one solid mass of sores. Two bottles of your valuable VEGETINE completely cured him. Very respectfully,

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I know to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

THE HIGHEST AUTHORITY.

Upon a Subject of Vital Interest, Affecting the Welfare of All.

The following remarkable letter from one of the leading and best known scientific writers of the present day is specially significant, and should be of unusual value to all readers who desire to keep pace with the march of modern discoveries and events:

"A general demand for reformation is one of the most distinctive characteristics of the nineteenth century. The common people, as well as the more enlightened and refined, cry out with no uncertain voice to be emancipated from the slavery of conservatism and superstition which has held the masses in gross ignorance during a large portion of the world's history, and in the time of the 'Dark Ages' came near obliterating the last glimmer of truth. Dogmatic assertions and blind empiricism are losing caste among all classes of all countries. People are beginning to think for themselves, and to regard authority much less than argument. Men and women are no longer willing that a few individuals should dictate to them what must be their sentiments and opinions They claim the right to solve for themselves the great questions of the day and demand that the general good of humanity shall be respected. As the result of this general awakening, we see, on every hand, unmistakable evidences of reformatory action. People who, a few years ago, endured suffering the most intense in the name of duty, now realize the utter foolishness of such a course. Men who were under the bondage of bigoted advisers allowed their health to depart; suffered their constitutions to become undermined and finally died as martyrs to a false system of treatment. There are millions of people filling untimely graves who might have lived to a green old age had their original troubles been taken in time or properly treated. There are thousands of people to-day, thoughtlessly enduring the first symptoms of some serious malady and without the slightest realization of the danger that is before them. They have occasional headaches; a lack of appetite one day and a ravenous one the next, or an unaccountable feeling of weariness, sometimes accompanied by nausea and attribute all these troubles to the old idea of 'a slight cold' or malaria. It is high time that people awoke to a knowledge of the seriousness of these matters and emancipated themselves from the professional bigotry which controls them. When this is done and when all classes of physicians become liberal enough to exclude all dogmas, save that it is their duty to cure disease as quickly, and as safely as possible; to maintain no other position than that of truth honestly ascertained, and to endorse and recommend any remedy that has been found useful, no matter what its origin, there will be no more quarreling among the doctors, while there will be great rejoicing throughout the world."

"I am well aware of the censure that will be meted out to me for writing this letter but I feel that I cannot be true to my honest convictions unless I extend a helping hand and endorse all that I know to be good. The extended publications for the past few years, and graphic descriptions of different diseases of the kidneys and liver have awakened the medical profession to the fact that these diseases are greatly increasing. The treatment of the doctors has been largely experimental and many of their patients have died while they were casting about for a remedy to cure them."

"It is now over two years since my attention was first called to the use of a most wonderful preparation in the treatment of Bright's disease of the kidneys. Patients had frequently asked me about the remedy and I had heard of remarkable cures effected by it, but like many others I hesitated to recommend its use. A personal friend of mine had been in poor health for some time and his application for insurance on his life had been rejected on account of Bright's disease. Chemical and microscopical examinations of his urine revealed the presence of large quantities of albumen and granular tube casts, which confirmed the correctness of the diagnosis. After trying all the usual remedies, I directed him to use this preparation and was greatly surprised to observe a decided improvement within a month, and within four months, no tube casts could be discovered. At that time there was present only a trace of albumen, and he felt as he expressed it, 'perfectly well,' and all though the influence of Warner's Safe Cure, the remedy be used."

"After this I prescribed this medicine in full doses in both acute and chronic nephritis [Bright's disease] and with the most satisfactory results. My observations were neither small in number nor hastily made. They extended over several months and embraced a large number of cases which have proved so satisfactory to my mind, that I would earnestly urge upon my professional brethren the importance of giving a fair and patient trial to Warner's Safe Cure. In a large class of ailments where the blood is obviously in an unhealthy state, especially where glandular engorgements and inflammatory eruptions exist, indeed in many of those forms of chronic indisposition in which there is no evidence of organic mischief, but where the general health is depleted, the face sallow, the urine colored, constituting the condition in which the patient is said to be 'bilious,' the advantage gained by the use of this remedy is remarkable. In Bright's disease it seems to act as a solvent of albumen; to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes; to wash out the epithelial debris which blocks up the tubuli uriniferi, and to prevent a destructive metamorphosis of tissue."

"Belonging as I do to a branch of the profession that believe that no one school of medicine knows all the truth regarding the treatment of disease, and being independent enough to select any remedy that will relieve my patient, without reference to the sources from whence it comes, I am glad to acknowledge and commend the merits of this remedy thus frankly. Respectfully yours,

R. A. GUNN, M. D.

THE LIGHTS O' LONDON.

Of this spectacular play, which is to be presented in Music hall this and to-morrow evenings, a late paper says:

It is a performance which merits the highest praise, and is as different from anything we have had as can be imagined. Every attention was paid to detail, and every actor and actress in the large cast is fully up to the requirements of his or her part. The scenery was beautiful and realistic in the extreme.

It is claimed that this play has the finest scenery ever produced on the New England circuit, while the plot is strong and the situations effective. Tickets at the Congress block bookstore.

In the supreme judicial court of Maine at Alfred, on Saturday, in the suit of Oliver Grant vs. the Eliot & Kittery Mutual Fire Ins. Co., the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $2156.54. The case will be transferred on questions of law. [It has once before been to the law court.] Copeland for plff.; Tapley and Safford for deft.

The October term of the Supreme court for Rockingham county will commence in this city on Tuesday, the 16th. The presiding justice will be Hon. W. H. H. Allen, who has not held court before in this county since April, 1879. The docket for the coming court contains 175 civil actions, forty-five equity cases, eleven state actions and appeals, and ten cases in session.

At the re-opening services of the Second Methodist Episcopal church at Kittery on Sunday the house was filled to overflowing, and a very interesting sermon was delivered by Rev. H. W. Bolton, D. D., of Boston; Rev. Perry Chandler, pastor of the church, Rev. W. W. Baldwin, a former pastor, Rev. Alexander Hamilton, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. C. A. Beck, pastor of the Christian church, took part in the services, and an out-of-town choir gave some choice selections, and assisted the congregation in singing.

This evening there will be a lecture in the church by Rev. Dr. Bolton; subject, "Archery;" admission 25 cts.; ice cream and refreshments in the vestry. A full house is expected to hear the interesting speaker.

"The real Lord Byron. New views of the poet's life;" by John Cordy Jeaffreson, author of "a book about the clergy," etc. Boston; James R. Osgood & Company.

This book will be eagerly perused by the readers of Lord Byron's poems. It attempts to prove, without either apology or exculpation, the true record of the poet's life, giving his career from childhood all through his eventful existence. Chapters are devoted to his ancestry, his education, his political, married and social life, his residence in Switzerland and Italy, his marital relations, and his literary career.

The most interesting portion of the work is that devoted to refuting the grave charges advanced in Mrs. Stowe's book, which are reviewed, and, as the admirers of Byron will conclude, effectually disposed of. Recently-discovered letters, with other undeniable testimony showing new light upon many interesting episodes of the poet's life, heretofore perhaps misunderstood, have been used in the preparation of this biography, which though not contending that Byron was withouth faults common to humanity, affirms that he was certainly innocent of many of the charges heaped upon him.

The book contains over five hundred pages, no one of which will be omitted by the reader of the lines of the great poet, whose biograper asserts was "misunderstood during life and misrepresented after his death."

DIPHTHERIA!

THE PROSTRATION which follows Diphtheria, and the persistency with which it clings to the patient, are well known to all who have had any experience with this terrible disease.

The following letter shows how the restoring and invigorating properties of overcome it, and how by vitalizing and enriching the blood it neutralizes and eradicates the poisoned matter from it, bringing to the convalescent the color, life and vigor of robust health.

LOWELL, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—My little girl had the diphtheria last April. The disease left her very weak, blood poor, with no appetite, and she could not seem to rally from its effects. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA was recommended by a neighbor. After she had been taking it a few days we noticed a change for the better—she began to eat with a relish. It seemed to take out the poison the disease had left in her blood, the change being very noticeable in her face. She took it two months and fully regained her health, much to our delight. We now recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA with a great deal of pleasure. Very truly yours,

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J.

SATURDAY, Sept. 22d.

John Crowley, one of the best customers of this court, appeared once more on the same old charge, drunkenness, and was fined $8, costs $6.90. As Mr. Crowley spends about forty weeks of each year in jail or at the county farm his treasury was not equal to the demand upon it, and an assignment was made—he was assigned to Brentwoood for a season.

AN EXPLANATION.

The report of the death of W. W. McIntire at the Springfield Bicycle Tournament was a blunder on the part of the reporters there. Some two months since Chief Consul Marsden, a prominent lawyer and wheelman, died at New Haven, Conn., and at a meeting of the board of officers of the league, at Springfield on Thursday, appropriate resolutions were passed. At the same meeting Capt. McIntire was elected representative for New Hampshire. The reporter mixed the names, and the despatches promptly sent by the Portsmouth party visiting at Springfield, contradicting the report, failed to be forwarded, causing considerable anxiety until the safe arrival home of Mr. McIntire on Friday afternoon.

A REMINISCENCE OF THE ALABAMA.

From the Granite Monthly for September.

The rebel steam gunboat, known at the time of her launch from the yards of Messrs. Laird & Co., at Birkenhead, Liverpool, May 15, 1862, as "The 290," was subsequently called the "Alabama," and at one time the "Eureka." While she was fitting for sea, the purpose of her owner was well understood, and despite the remonstrances and formal protests of our consul at Liverpool, up to the time the vessel left that port, on the 29th of July, no actual steps were taken by the British authorities to prevent the piratical vessel from proceeding toward her intended devestation upon our commerce.

The Alabama captured upon the high seas seventy vessels belonging to citizens of the United States.

Among these were two fine ships belonging to the same owners in Portsmouth. The Rockingham was a superior ship, of a thousand tons burthen, five years old, and was, while on a voyage from Chincha Islands to Europe, under command of Capt. Edwin A. Gerrish, captured and burned. Capt. Gerrish and his wife, who were on board, were sent to Cherbourg. While waiting to return home the engagement between the Kearsarge and the Alabama took place, and the late commander of the Rockingham, which was one of the last ships destroyed by Semmes, had the satisfaction of watching the decisive naval battle from an eminence at Cherbourg, and witnessing the desired end of this scourge of the seas.

The Rockingham was owned by Messrs. William Jones & Son, with Mark H. Wentworth and Jones & Mendum, and was one of the best ships destroyed by these pirates.

Another famous Portsmouth ship was the "Emily Farnum," which measured over eleven hundred tons. She was owned by Messrs. Jones & Son, with the exception of one eighth part, owned by Capt. William Parker, her former commander. The ship was named for a sister of Mr. Jones, now the wife of a distinguished New England clergyman, and was Portsmouth built, and in every respect a fine vessel. She sailed from the port of New York on the 21st day of September, 1862, under the command of Captain Nathan Parker Simes, of Portsmouth, laden with an assorted cargo, bound to Liverpool. On the 3d of October, in latitude forty degrees north, longitude fifty degrees thirty minutes west, in the morning, the captain discovered a vessel ahead standing toward him. The stranger set the St. George cross at his peak, and on seeing the Emily Farnum's colors, ran up the rebel flag, and fired across the bows of the Portsmouth ship as a signal for her to heave to. The captain, seeing no chance of escape, hove his ship to, and the steamer sent the second lieutenant on board, who hauled down the United States flag (Capt. Simes having declined to do this when requested,) and told the captain that his ship was a prize to the Confederate States steamer Alabama, Captain Semmes. His captor, the Portsmouth captain found to be a steam-propeller, bark-rigged, English build, with six broadside and two pivot guns, and a fast sailer.

In the meantime the rebel steamer went after another ship to the leeward, which in turn was obliged to surrender. This was the ship Brilliant, of New York. Soon Capt. Simes was directed to take the ship's papers and go on board the Alabama. Here he found a large number of prisoners on deck confined in irons. The captain was told to stand between two guns, and after a long waiting on deck was ordered down to the cabin, where he saw the captain of the Alabama, who was enjoying his cigar and wine, but unmindful of the forms of hospitality to his visitor. He took Capt. Simes's papers, and asked many questions about the ship, her cargo, owners, etc., and her value, where the cargo was owned, etc. Among the papers attached to a bill of lading was a certificate of the British consul in New York, showing that the goods on board were the property of John B. Spence, of Liverpool. When this was shown Semmes, he declared it to be "bogus," and that it was "prepared by the owners for the purpose of saving their vessel."

The rebel commander then asked the Yankee many questions about the armies and their movements, how many vessels were being added to the navy, their whereabouts, and sought information of this character with much apparent interest.

He told of his having burned eleven whale-ships off the Western islands, and that he had landed one hundred and ninety seamen in that vicinity, and then had fifty-four on board in irons. He informed the captain that he was retaliating for the harsh treatment his purser had received on board of a federal vessel, by putting every one he captured in irons;—indeed there was a bag of irons brought on deck with which to decorate the Emily Farnum's crew, when they should be sent below. After consulting with his clerk, Semmes doubtless reflected that it was hardly the proper exhibition of gratitude for him to burn a vessel containing a cargo consigned to and owned by John Bull, and destined for the port from which he had fitted out, and he asked Capt. Simes how long it would take him to reach Liverpool, and if he were willing to take all his (Semmes's) prisoners who were on board, and the crew of the Brilliant, as he intended to burn that vessel, if he would let him (Simes) proceed, though very much against his will, as he would have liked to have destroyed the ship. Capt. Simes was not long in accepting Semmes's offer, and after parols were signed the former returned to his own ship. The next day the Emily Farnum received on board seventy-eight of Semmes's prisoners, captains' officers, and crews of three vessels previously captured. Captain Simes then got under weigh with his ship and proceeded toward Liverpool, a happier man.

As his ship slowly sailed away from the spot where she came near being destroyed, he saw the flames rise from the Brilliant, the pirate steamer lying a short distance to the windward, as if contemplating the deed with Confederate satisfaction.

It is probable that the wise precaution of the Portsmouth owners in having attached to the bill of lading of a part of the cargo of the Emily Farnum the certificate that these were British goods, saved the ship. Capt. Simes's passengers were cared for on board, and all save the three captains, mates, and one man, who were a few days after placed on board of the brig Golden Lead, of Thomaston, bound to New York, landed at Liverpool in about a fortnight. Thus the captain escaped without even going through the slim formality of bonding his vessel, and the Emily Farnum survived the fortunes of the war, to find afterward a watery grave in another part of the world. Captain Simes's private log in which these events were recorded at the time affords entertaining reading, and in the future years will doubtless be prized as one of the rare relics of the war of the rebellion.—W. H. Hackett.

DIDN'T LIKE THE WATER.

About nine o'clock Friday evening a female inmate of the "Bay View" house on Church hill left her bed, threw a wrapper over her shoulders, ran out of doors and down the flights of steps leading from the top of the hill to the wharf, and jumped overboard. Finding the water unexpectedly wet and cold on coming to the surface she howled vigorously, and was carried by the ebb tide down to Broughton's wharf, yelling all the way. Mr. Alfred R. Goodwin heard the noise and put off in a boat, found the woman clinging feebly to a pile of Broughton's wharf, with her head almost under water, and took her ashore; and after a brief rest she was able to return to the ranch she so rashly and hastily deserted. That she should have floated so long a distance without drowning, when she had so little clothing on to buoy her up, is more remarkable than that she should have found the unaccustomed fluid, water, so distasteful.

ONE OF 'EM HERE.

There are only six distilleries of rum in the country, and all six are in Massachusetts. Of nearly half a million gallong of rum exported last year the greater part went to Africa. The Germans say of a man who has taken just enough alcohol to be mentally stimulated that he is "illuminirt;" but rum is plainly not the kind of illumination which the Dark Continent needs.—New York Tribune.

We trust that the reduction in the price of the Tribune is not to be followed by a corresponding diminution of its standard of accuracy. We had come to appreciate the Tribune as the best of the leading New York dailies, but at the same time we remember that in that "sacred precinct, Christian Shore," we have a rum distillery which turns out a kind of fluid which rivals "old Medford" in its quality, and is not obliged to seek a market at Afric's sunny shores, but is consumed entirely within the borders of New England and some of the western states. The metropolitan journalist has been careless in his statistics.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

TO THE PUBLIC!

Investigate for Yourselves!

Postmaster General Gresham having published a grossly unjust statement in regard to the character of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, the following facts are given to the public to prove his statement, that we are engaged in a fraudulent business, to be false and untrue:

A Literary Man Went West.

The lime-stone water of Ohio disordered his bowels and laid him on a bed of sickness with horrible cramps. For three days and nights he was wretched. Then he said "why didn't I think of Perry Davis's Pain Killer?" He sent for it and experienced such prompt and thorough relief that he said he was a fool for not getting it at first.

Fire was discovered in a pile of 600 tons of soft coal belonging to the Cocheco Manfg. Co. at Dover, on the 21st inst. Probably caused by spontaneous combustion. Water was at once directed on the pile, and men went to work removing it.

The Speakership.

The democratic party is in the perilous predicament of being obliged to distribute certain patronage, and conduct legislation in the next house of representatives in Congress, with a view to its fortunes in the next presidential contest.

The party has a lack of shrewd advisers. Nearly every prominent man in the party makes a study of his own chances, and so many have moved out during the last two decades, and so little young blood has been infused that the political management of the party has resulted either in its being used to bolster up some single candidate who would pay for the privilege of the position, or else there has been seen a series of blunders unparallelled in the history of parties in this country.

The question now presents itself, Who shall be Speaker? There are apparently two elements in the party; the one which has ever opposed every progressive step taken by the republicans in the conduct of the government, because it was the republican and not the democratic thunder; while the other, with a more practical if not practiced eye, saw that the people were better satisfied with results than with theories, and could not be seduced from the confirmation of republican ideas. The latter wing have, too often, when they have seen the mistake of the party in opposing itself to progress in political economy, sought to make punch of the squeezed lemon discarded by their opponents, who in turn had reached a further development.

It looks as if, notwithstanding the commonly pronounced notions of the democratic party upon the question of free trade, that Mr. Randall of Pennsylvania would be chosen Speaker, and the free traders kept securely muzzled until after the presidential election. In the meantime, if the speakership goes to a northern state, the south, which is relied upon for future aid as it has been in the past, must be carefully remembered—always with the proviso that its men in Congress shall keep discreetly silent upon the tariff. Mr. Randall will see that the democrats do not put their foot in it by too many committees of investigation, which so often are apt to disclose a democratic wrong where a republican sin was looked for, and the party undoubtedly manipulation will thus be kept in proper training for the contest of '84.

A writer in the Boston Journal says "thirteen members of Congress have New Hampshire girls for wives." Well, we ought not to be twitted of the fact. Doubtless the girls, when they were won, did not anticipate that their future husbands would turn out so badly.

Now and then a man connected with the cabinet at Washington gets back to his desk. Brewster, Atty Gen'l, has telegraphed orders to have his chair dusted and a new cushion prepared. The general impression however is, that the members of the cabinet will not begin the struggle of answering the long-since-sent letters to their departments until after the reduced rate of postage goes into effect.

Letter From Inland.

NASHUA, Sept. 20th.

Mr. Editor: Your correspondent has been on the wing to much the past week that he has had no time to sharpen a quill, consequently he could send you no copy.

The Cheshire County Fair was held at Greenfield yesterday, and the usual exhibitions of big pumpkins, monstrous potatoes, fat kine, fancy needlework and rosy cheeked girls were had. The horse trot was, as is usual nearer home, the great attraction. Thousands of country folk were in attendance, and the gate-money taken during the two days ensured the financial success of the enterprise. The management was excellent, and good order was maintained within the enclosure.

There were however a number of catch-penny side shows in full blast. The light fingered gentry were present in force, but a large number of local constables, and Assistant Marshal Chase with Officer Webster of Nashua watched them so narrowly that they got no opportunity to fleece a single innocent lamb of the immense flock of green-fielders gathered within that fold.

A sharp device of a fellow who obtained a license to set up targets to be shot at with innocent air-guns came near resulting fatally to Mr. Jeffrey Shea of Bennington, a farmer who was riding along the highway when a rifle bullet came through the high fence of the fair ground and buried itself in the muscles of his right arm. Upon investigation it was found that the pop-gun man had substituted rifles for his air guns, and when a poor marksman missed the target the ball made its mark where Mr. Shea can find it—the mark,—very easily, but a surgeon had hard work to find the lead with his probe.

The sharp-eyed agent of the N. E. S. P. C. A. was at the fair, and raided the "horse market" which was held in the skirts of the neighboring grove of pines, and captured half a dozen old equines in every stage of dilapidation and all-goneness,—some of them too old to eat hay, and all of them wretchedly poor. Two of them were condemned to immediate execution, and the agent's revolver ended their lives of misery as suddenly as a flash of lightning could have brought release; the horses died instantly and without a struggle. The crowd of bystanders expressed their appreciation of the humane work of the society, and applauded the skillful manner in which the anti-cruelty man gave the poor creatures their quietus.

The society is fast gaining in popular estimation, by its wise administration and persistent energy and watchfulness. A man was indicted here for brutal treatment of his horse, by the grand jury yesterday, and has fled to avoid the avenging rod of justice.

The Nashua Iron & Steel Works are doing an immense business in the manufacture of heavy machinery of all kinds, for steamships, railroads, mills and mines. John D. Swain, formerly boss machinist at the Portsmouth navy yard, is superintendent, and William H. Lovell, who recently resigned the same position, is master machinist. Messrs. Thurston, Neal and other Portsmouth boys are at work in the machine shop, and are prosperous.

Miss Emma F. Johnson, an accomplished graduate of your high school, is a favorite teacher in the Nashua high school.

The famous old 10th Regiment held its annual reunion here to-day. Mr. Edwin B. Prime, of Capt. Geo. W. Towle's company, was the only veteran present from that gallant officer's command. The regiment paraded under command of Gen. Michael T. Donohoe; and Col. Cochrane's old war-horse was led at the head of the marching column, caparisoned in war trappings and decked with flowers. Col. Cochrane, Col. Scott, Mayor Norton of Nashua, a native of Greenland, and Ex-Mayor Marvin of Portsmouth, were among the speakers at the camp-fire in the evening. The boys voted to hold their next reunion in September, '84, at Portsmouth. Your city is renowned for its hospitality to the Boys in Blue, and the survivors of the glorious 10th will receive a hearty welcome.

Truly yours, M.

A new railroad has been laid out between Boston and New York, to be thirty or forty miles shorter than any existing line, and not to have a drawbridge or to cross a highway at grade for the whole distance. The contract for constructing the New York & Boston Inland railroad has been taken by Linn & McCarty of St. Petersburg, Russia, natives of America who have made large fortunes in Europe. The Boston Herald of Saturday contained statements in substance that Linn and McCarty are poor as church mice; that McCarty duped and swindled many prominent men in this country and Europe, and at one time lived in Paris with a daughter of Gen. Sickles so his mistress, and that Miss Sickles followed him to St. Petersburg. A story is also told of the adventures of Dr. Linn, and that he eloped with a wealthy woman of Philadelphia. The persons attacked write to a Boston paper that as they have given satisfactory bonds for the fulfillment of their contract, their financial condition need not be discussed; but that they will defend their social status in the courts, by instituting proceedings against the authors and publishers of the libellous statements.

Cornelius Tobin killed himself with Paris green in Boston on the night of Sept. 22d. In December, 1877, while drunk, he threw a lighted kerosene lamp at Mary Mehegan, who was burned to death. He was tried for murder, and found guilty, but before sentence was pronounced became a raving maniac, and was confined in an asylum nearly five years; and when released the murder case was not called up. He obtained work, but at all times saw the spectre of his victim before him, and finally committed suicide in despair.

Having Adopted the Strength of the Evidence, as Eminent Physician takes Logical Action.

The following letter speaks its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincey Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," "A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

191 WEST TENTH STREET,
NEW YORK, August 11, 1880.

MESSRS. SEABURY & JOHNSON,

Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about putting my name to any new medicine or curative agent. But your DENSON'S ANTIPINE PLASTER has broken through the ice and won a way to my good opinion. My mother long has suffered to a severe extent from a painful form of neuralgia. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other master and antiseptic dressings, made especially for the profession, the Denson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the Kidneys, and have since obtained experience with it personally. I find DENSON'S CAPCINE ANTISEPTIC AS an exceedingly clean, easy place to use, and reliable in action.

Many cases of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other single article so valuable for popular use, for so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so, you may use my name in any way.

Very truly yours,
H. D. KANE, A. M., M. D.

The genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the centre. Price 25 cents.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. Allen has justly earned this title, and thousands use this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THE LIGHTS O' LONDON.

Notwithstanding the rain on Monday evening, a very large audience gathered in Music hall to see the "Lights o' London" as performed by Shook & Collier's Union Square Theatre Co.

The public had been led to expect a gorgeous scenic display, and the promises made were faithfully fulfilled, the presentation of the play being marked by a wealth of stage-setting seldom seen in cities of this size.

As to the play itself, it is a strong melodrama, with an effective plot and many "emotional" situations. The company is a good as well as a very large one, and is in some points remarkably strong; but notwithstanding the decided merit of many of the performers, the great success of the play is probably largely owing to the remarkably fine scenery and effective stage arrangements.

Altogether the "Lights o' London" is worthy the patronage of lovers of art and amusement, and we advise those who did not witness the performance last evening to attend to-night, when the last presentation of the great spectacular play in this city will be given. A good many of those who were in Music hall last night will be there again this evening.

GOSSIPS SAY

That Gunner Wilson, U. S. N., has purchased of George Bilbruck, Esq., the handsome and modern cottage on Creek street formerly owned and occupied by Mr. Clarence B. Mason.

That the flagship Tennessee will proceed from this port to the Brooklyn yard, where she will go into dock to have her bottom examined.

That the Lights O' London scenery and baggage car is the largest ever seen in Portsmouth.

That cod-fishing is reported very good near the "Sister's" ledges off this harbor.

That orders for eighty cases of shoes were received at the Portsmouth shoe factory on Monday.

That the Brooks comet can be seen by the aid of an opera glass, when the weather is clear, in the northern sky.

That "Jalma" is a splendid spectacle of legs.

That fourteen bald-headed Portsmouth gentlemen levelled glasses on the ballet scene last Wednesday evening.

That the Dover Republican is chock full of love for Editor Foster and Gov. Hale.

ANOTHER MAN "MISSING."

The announcement is made that Stephen Grant of Kittery, a man about fifty years old, is missing, having left his home on Saturday with considerable money in his pocket, and been last seen in a grocery store in this city. A Portsmouth man who was recently reported missing came back again all right when he got ready; and another, who was reported killed, a few hours later rode down town on a bicycle. Hence, although it is suggested as possible that Mr. Grant has met with foul play, we are not without hope that he will turn up in good condition, with or without the pair of oxen it is said he was intending to buy.

The Portmouth Cavalry, Co. B, Capt. E. D. Coffin commanding, started for Concord on Monday at noon by a freight train over the Concord & Portsmouth railroad. There were forty-six men, with horses, to start, and the train was a long one. The command will go into camp at Concord with the First Brigade, N. H. N. G., at "Camp Gov. Hale," which will continue to Friday, the 28th inst.

There were fifteen hundred pounds of fish brought in at the Spring market landing on Saturday, by small boats, and were bought by James Kehoe and George W. Randall. Mr. White of Newcastle reported that he could have caught a much larger fare had not his trawls been hauled by the schooner James Manning of Boston, half way between the mouth of the harbor and the Shoals. When interrogated as to the transaction the captain of the James Manning replied that he only wished to get a fish.

"Peanuts is riz!" The peanut man on Congress street has raised his price two cents a quart.

More rain fell Monday afternoon and evening than we have had before for months. Let us hope the "backbone of the drought is broken," and that it will not get mended again very soon.

Mr. John H. Cheever, clerk for the Eldredge Brewing Co., and family, last week returned from a fortnight's vacation trip among the hills of New Hampshire.

Mr. George C. Jameson, employed on the Concord railroad wharf, was standing beneath one of the chutes on Monday when a barrow-load of coal was by mistake dumped in such a manner that he was struck by several big lumps, which knocked him senseless for a time, and cut his head quite severely.

Hall Varrell and Frank Varrell, paymaster's clerks in the United States navy, arrived at their former home in this city on Saturday.

Mechanics have been working continuously on the steamer Clara Bateman since her partial burning, to fit her for service again, of which there is much need. Operations were continued on Sunday.

Frank McIntire, son of Mr. Daniel McIntire, collman at Portsmouth bridge, is dangerously ill with a complaint of the bowels.

Messrs. Randall & Caswell are repairing the roofs of their fish stores on Water street, in readiness for the winter fishing. The schooner Island Belle, Capt. Hubley, was on Saturday fitting out at Randall & Caswell's for bait-fishing.

Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., will preach in the Unitarian church the first Sunday in November, being the fiftieth anniversary Sunday of his settlement over the South Parish as pastor. The occasion will doubtless be of much interest.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune writes that he was suffering from thirst, and went through all the six cars of the train on the Eastern railroad, including the baggage car, in vain search for a glass of water. The complaining correspondent further states that when he asked the conductor why they had no water coolers, he did not deign to reply. The astonishment of the conductor to hear a man complain of the want of water coolers, when water is regularly passed along the aisles of the cars of every train on long trips, was perhaps the reason why he could not at once collect his senses for a reply. Of course, if the train only ran a short distance it would hardly be expected that drinking water would be wanted by patrons.

The Portsmouth Association of Baptist churches met at East Northwood on Friday of last week. The annual sermon was by Rev. W. H. Alden, D. D., of Portsmouth, who spoke from the words "For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds." In the afternoon a doctrinal sermon was preached by Rev. H. O. Walker of Deerfield, on "Redemption." In the evening Rev. B. R. Jewell of South Hampton offered prayer, after which Rev. Dr. McKenzie of Boston preached a missionary sermon.

Mr. John Albee of Newcastle will leave New York on the 29th inst. for a few months visit to Europe.

Mr. Clarence E. McIntire, a native of Portsmouth, who has for the past eight years been with the well known firm of Melvin & Badger of Boston, has opened the store No. 161 Washington street, in that city, where he intends to carry on the druggist and pharmacist business in all its branches. Success to him.

It is said that Hon. F. Jones has abandoned the intention of enlarging the hotel Wentworth this fall.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wolfeborough railroad was held in this city on Monday, and the board of directors of last year re-elected.

The loss of Jones, Cook & Co., by the fire in the Bay State brewery at South Boston on the 16th inst., has been adjusted by the insurance companies at $700—$200 on fixtures and $500 on stock.

The British schooner Donzella, which arrived at this port on Saturday from Vogler's Cove, Nova Scotia, brought 2727 railroad ties for the Eastern railroad company.

Captain Robert F. Bradford has been detached from command of the flag-ship Tennessee and as fleet captain of the North Atlantic squadron, and placed on waiting orders. Capt. Joseph N. Miller has been ordered to command the vessel. It is stated that Capt. Bradford is to relieve Capt. A. E. K. Benham at the navy yard.—Journal.

The behavior of the Tennessee, in going ashore and springing aleak while riding at anchor in a good harbor and fair weather, is unaccountable, unless, tired of existence and disgusted with the condition of the United States navy, she had determined to commit suicide.—Portland Advertiser.

Enoch W. Durgin, living on the Buxton road about three miles from Saco, was burning stumps in a field last week, when the fire ran through the grass to his barn, which was full of hay, and the building and its contents were destroyed.

Women on Naval Stations.

No order issued by Secretary Chandler has been more criticised than the one prohibiting officers of the navy from taking their families with them when ordered to serve on ships stationed abroad. But the following extract from a letter just received at the navy department shows that Order No. 399 was not issued any too soon if the facts are as given by the writer.

There are, indeed, evils other than that of intemperance in the squadron on this station. The state of affairs here regarding women on the station, who are all ladies of great personal attraction, and for that reason only the more dangerous, is, I think, even worse than elsewhere, as the following will show. Great injustice has been done in the past three years, to my knowledge, to individual officers, by a reckless shifting about of the latter between the different ships, so that other officers could be with their wives in pleasant places. This has been notably the case with the Richmond. The non-official staff would, in a business-like way, collect all their husbands together on the flagship, pushing some poor fellow off to Corea or Chefoo, and then, under their orders, the ship would settle down for the winter at Hong Kong, and summer at Yokohama. Reference to the number of cruising days by the Richmond, in the past eighteen months, will show only those employed in transitu between these two places, with a stay on the way at the delightful port of Kobe. Officers of foreign navies look with astonishment on our methods. With them such a thing as a woman on the station is almost unheard of.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quantity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtlessly introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Established 1756.

THE GAZETTE IS PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY AND SENT TO SUBSCRIBERS AT THE LOW PRICE OF $1.50 PER YEAR, PAID IN ADVANCE, OR $2 AT THE END OF THE YEAR.

It contains full accounts of all of important interest that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires at their native city, and it

CONTAINS MORE ORIGINAL MATTER THAN ANY OTHER PAPER OF ITS SIZE IN THE STATE. THE EDITORS WORKING MORE WITH THEIR PENS THAN WITH THEIR SCISSORS.

New Hampshire Gazette!

TO ADVERTISERS

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The Gazette is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Nothing can vie with it in efficacy, as a donor of dental health and beauty, notwithstanding any representation to the contrary. It causes the teeth to gleam like burnished ivory, contains no hurtful ingredient, and has a most grateful flavor and smell.

Death of the "Dauphin of France."

John L. Williams was buried at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, on the 22d inst. He was known as the Dauphin of France, being a son of Ebenezer Williams, who died at Green Bay, Wis., some years ago, said to be the legitimate son of Louis XVI, and about whom the American newspapers once raised the question, "Have we a Bourbon among us?" John L. Williams sold a farm at Winneconna, Wis., twelve years ago, for $20,000, with which he went to Texas, and which he invested in wild lands, which proved almost worthless.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15th, 1880.
GENTLEMEN—Having been a sufferer for a great length of time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. I have taken one bottle, and I have been rapidly getting better ever since, and I think it the best medicine I ever used. I am now gaining strength and appetite, which was all gone, and I was in despair until I tried your Bitters. I am now well, able to go about and do my own work. Before taking it, I was completely prostrated. Mrs. Mary Stuart.

O. B. Ward and Charles Johnson were accidentally poisoned at Camp Point, near Quincy, Ill., last week. They procured a quart bottle of what was supposed to be bitters at a drug store, to be taken as a beverage, drinking of it freely. They both in a short time dropped dead. A third man, who drank with them, was seized with spasms, but will recover.

At Council Bluffs, Iowa, Sept. 24th, Dr. A. B. McKune, a prominent physician and druggist, was shot and instantly killed by Dr. E. D. Cross. The murdered man was on his way home when he met Cross. There was an old feud between them. After some words Cross drew a revolver and fired. He gave himself up, and claims to have acted in self defence.

Just before the close of the performance of the Alhambra variety theatre in St. Charles street, St. Louis, Mo., Thursday night, Sept. 26th, Richard Whalen, a young man about twenty years of age, fired a shot from a revolver at Carrie Hart, or Howard, one of the actresses of the place, and then blew his own brains out. Whalen was a travelling salesman for a firm at St. Louis, and it is said the young woman had declined his attention.

Hay Fever.

I was severely afflicted for eleven years with Hay Fever, after trying almost everything without avail. I gave up all hopes of being cured, when I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. To my surprise, after a few applications, I was entirely relieved. R. Watson Harris, Letter Carrier, Newark, N. J.

I recommend to those suffering as I have with Hay Fever, Ely's Cream Balm. I have tried nearly all the remedies, and give this a decided preference over them all. It has given me immediate relief. C. T. Stephens, Hardware merchant, Ithaca, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

The report of the auditor of Ohio shows the collections under the Scott liquor-tax law to be nearly $2,000,000 in the state. This is the law on which the free-rum interest is making the fight against the republican party, in favor of the democratic party, which promises to repeal the law if successful.

"I am happy to say," writes W. C. Morrill, 170 Tremont St., Boston, Mass., "that Ellis's Spavin cure is the best in the market. It cured my horse of a large bone spavin, after other liniments, &c., had failed."

"I had 'em all," said a rubicund happy faced gentleman. "All what?" asked his friend. "Why all the symptoms of malaria, viz: lame back, aching joints, sleeplessness, indigestion, dizzy fits, cold extremities, rush of blood to the head, constant fatigue, no appetite, pains in the breast after eating, night sweats, alternate chills and fevers, etc etc., but Brown's Iron Bitters cured me and I recommend it as being the only perfect tonic made."

Ku-kluxism is coming to the front again in Texas. A special despatch to the Galveston News from Marshall, Texas, says: "Late Sunday night the body of Silas Johnson, colored, pierced with three balls, was found on the roadside half a mile from this town, with a rope around his neck. His wife testifies that sixteen persons came to the door and asked for Johnson. Upon his going out the party carried him off. Johnson was known to be connected with race troubles recently."

"Dr. Benson's Skin Cure eradicated my pimples. They used to break out continually." Steve T. Harrison, Rochester, N. Y. $1, at druggists.

—"I think it is a heathenish custom to ring the church bells on Sunday morning," said Crimsonbeak to a friend the other day. "Why, last Sunday morning, while on my way to the excursion boat, it was all I could do to hear the whistle on account of the unearthly din made by those church bells!" Crimsonbeak's friend has not got through thinking yet.

FRANK AND CLEAR.
Having Admitted the Strength of the Evidence, an Eminent Physician takes Logical Action.

The following letter tells its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincey Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," "A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

191 WEST TENTH STREET, NEW YORK, August 11, 1880.

MESSRS. SEABURY & JOHNSON,
Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and anti-septic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER an exceptionally cleanly plaster to use, and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so, you may use my name to that effect. Very truly yours,
H. H. KANE, A. M., M. D.

The genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the centre. Price 25 cents.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I can testify to the good effect of your MEDICINES. Two bottles of your valuable VEGETINE completely cured him. Very respectfully,

Druggists take Vegetine and Recommend it.
H. R. Stevens, Boston: I have been selling Vegetine ever since it came into existence, and have recommended it to my customers. I have tried it myself, and find it a great blood purifier and renovator of the system. M. M. SALMON, Druggist, Burlington, Ia.

I Regard it as a Valuable FAMILY MEDICINE.
JAN. 1, 1878.
MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in saying that I have used the Vegetine in my family with good results, and I have known of several cases of remarkable cure effected by it. I regard it as a valuable family medicine. Truly yours,

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,
In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy' as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess.

A Literary Man Went West.

The lime-stone water of Ohio disordered his bowels and laid him on a bed of sickness with horrible cramps. For three days and nights he was wretched. Then he said "why didn't I think of Perry Davis's Pain Killer?" He sent for it and experienced such prompt and thorough relief that he said he was a fool for not getting it at first.

Mrs. Thereon Goodwin of Castleton, Vt., whose child was mysteriously shot dead recently, has been arrested on suspicion of having fired the fatal shot, which she claims was from a revolver in the hands of an unknown man.

A New Analysis

By the present State Assayer of Massachusetts confirms the favorable report of his predecessor in regard to the excellent quality of the Whiskey bottled by Chester H. Graves & Sons Boston, and introduced by them some six years ago under the name G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon.

In Boston, about one o'clock Tuesday morning, Richard Curry, a cabinet maker employed by the Emerson Piano Co., shot his wife dead on the corner of Tremont and Pleasant streets. The woman, who had not lived with her husband for some years, was cook at a restaurant. The murderer was arrested.

Poverty and Distress.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purse but of the blood. Deprived of its richness it becomes scant and watery, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and scrofulous swellings and sores, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat disease, spitting of blood and consumption, are among the common results. If you are a sufferer from thin, poor blood employ Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which enriches the blood and cures these grave affections. Is more nutritive than cod liver oil, and is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. By druggists. a 2

The Brooks comet is increasing in brilliancy and apparent size with unexampled rapidity—increasing fifteen times in less than three days.

Catarrh.

The remarkable results in a disease so universal and with such a variety of characteristics as catarrh, prove how effectually Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the human system. A medicine, like anything else, can be fairly judged only by its results. We point with pride to the glorious record Hood's Sarsaparilla has entered upon the hearts of thousands of people it has cured of catarrh.

Anthony Comstock raided the Coney Island pool rooms on Monday and made a few arrests.

The October number of "The Century" contains two admirable articles. One is "In the footsteps of Thackeray," by Wm. H. Rideing, illustrated by views of noted places in London mentioned in Thackeray's writings; the other is Mr. Stedman's paper on Longfellow. The illustration to this is a portrait of the deceased poet, engraved from a photograph.

As the reviewer in a leading journal some years since wrote, "Mr. Stedman never publishes a volume of poems unless when he has something to say; and then he says it well. He is an admirable critic, and like all good poets, writes admirable prose—clear, expressive, and to the purpose." The poet of New York gives to the readers of the "Century" a most faithful and interesting account of Longfellow's writings. The subject is here admirably presented, with a discrimination which has characterized the writer's former careful and judicious criticisms of modern poetry. The paper will be highly appreciated by the admirers of Mr. Longfellow's poems, and to the general reader will prove alike instructive and full of interest.

The New England Manufacturers' & Mechanics' Institute—or the Institute Fair of Boston, as it is popularly called—has a richer and more extensive display of the resources of this country than has ever been shown; the railroads of the west exhibit specimens of grain that will make the New England farmers envy the dwellers at the west the possession of such gold mines as the soil from which they spring; the southern states have shown remarkable energy in preparing to spread before the world the ores, the woods and other evidences of the material wealth of the vast undeveloped sections there; and the the best of New England's Railway Guides—the "A B C Pathfinder"—has been provided by the generous managers for the free use of visitors, and this will be the only official railway guide in the building.

We have just received from the publishers a copy of "The Album Writer's Friend," containing nearly three hundred selections suitable for writing in autograph albums. The "Art Amateur" for October is a treasure for home art-workers. Its designs include three for China painters (primroses for a vase, harebells for a plate, and poppies for a plaque,) three for embroidery—a letter case, a photograph frame and a bellows; a charming hawthorn panel for wood-carving, a dozen pleasing figures for sketching on linen, and a multiplicity of monograms and jewelry designs. There are valuable articles on etching, drawing in red, and other art topics, with some good examples of crayon work; the Munich and Boston art exhibitions are reviewed and attractively illustrated; there are some excellent pictures of Boule work, and one of a remarkable Henri Deux cabinet inlaid with ivory, and many practical suggestions for home decoration and furnishing. Price twenty-five cents; $4 a year. Montague Marks, publisher, No. 23 Union square, New York.

Table Talk.

Every lady who presides at a table is interested to know how she can depend upon having things come upon the table as she would like them. How often are remarks like this made: "This is just my fate; when I especially want a nice thing, somehow or other, it turns out poor!"

A lady expects company for tea. She orders, for instance, biscuits, and they are brought to the table heavy and indigestible. How many housekeepers can testify to mortification, as well as disappointment, under such circumstances! It may not, however, have occurred to them that it is not always the "cook's fault." Your biscuits, cakes, pot-pies, puddings, etc., etc., cannot be raised with earth or worthless substitutes, and it becomes your own fault when you permit any Baking Powder to come into your kitchen about which you know absolutely nothing as to its purity or healthfulness.

The market is flooded with "low-priced" Baking Powders, gotten up to make an unjust profit by unscrupulous manufacturers and dealers, and it is worthy the attention of all housekeepers to note there is at least one brand of Baking Powder distinctly sold upon its merits, and which can be relied upon for uniform strength and purity. The Royal Baking Powder, now known almost the world over as a standard article, has stood the test of nearly a quarter of a century, and its friends among the ladies are legion.

The state agent for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is visiting the various county fairs to look after the abused animals, and interviewing the dealers in decayed and broken-down old horses who infest all popular gatherings, such as camp-meetings, fairs and musters, to drive their trade in miserable old horses, some of whom are reduced by starvation, hard driving, brutality and old age, to mere skeletons. Three such creatures were found at the Greenfield fair, and well-aimed pistol shots ended the sufferings of the miserable creatures so suddenly that they felt no pain in their taking off. The agent performed his duty in such a quiet and skillful manner that the crowd of bystanders greeted his action, and evinced a healthy sympathy with the society in its humane work. Many influential gentlemen who witnessed the scene expressed their approval of the prompt and energetic action of the mild-mannered officer of the S. P. C. A., and assured him of their countenance in support of the merciful efforts which are beingmade in behalf of poor abused dumb creatures throughout the state.—Nashua Telegraph.

There are fifteen murderers confined in the New York city tombs, all in "murderer's row." With one exception they are either awaiting the action of the grand jury, or trial. The exception is that of Edward Hovey, who is under death sentence, and who will be hanged on October 19th. He was convicted of the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fannie Vermilye, on April 27th, 1882.

David Fraley, a North Carolina moonshiner who murdered Revenue Officer Walker last February, has been sentenced to twelve years imprisonment.

—DeCamp is the name of the cashier of a Cincinnati national bank. The name is very suggestive. He should be watched.

—A bear down in Mississippi undertook to descend upon the family of a colored man by way of the chimney. The colored gentleman hastily grabbed an old army shell that he had dug up somewhere and threw it on the fire. The darkey will build a new shanty when he gets well enough, and the bear, out in the swamp, wishes to get a good look at himself from the rear, to see how great the damage really is.

—Last week a Sunday school teacher of Batavia, N. Y., was trying to make clear to her class the feeling of animosity cherished against the Gentiles by the Jews, and she asked: "What class of people have been looked down upon among us," (referring, of course, to the slaves), "and still despised by many in the south and north?" A bright girl in the class quickly answered, "The democrats."

Prof. Nordenskjold, who has just arrived home from an exploring expedition to the east coast of Greenland, telegraphs from Scrabster to London that a party of fifteen Esquimaux met the explorers at Godhaven, and informed them that two members of the American expedition, including the leader, whose name they pronounced "Kasleyh," had died, and that the rest of the party had returned to Littleton island.

At Vessie, Me., on Sunday, Maurice Buckley, a river driver, while intoxicated entered the place of George Johnson and created a disturbance. While Johnson was ejecting him Buckley stabbed him twice, once in the back and once in the right arm, and then threatened to cut Mrs. Johnson's throat. He then assaulted a small child with a stick, cutting a bad gash in its head.

The Biddeford Journal says: "Among the good things said at the so-called greenback convention held in Lewiston on Wednesday were the soothing remarks of Elliott King of Portland, in which he called Ex-Councillor Fogg a liar. The great applause which followed this beautiful sentiment showed that Mr. King had struck a responsive chord in the hearts of his fifty hearers, and that they held the truth in high esteem."

George M. Stearns of Chicopee, Mass., who is described in a paragraph in the Boston Post as "a rattling stump speaker and a power among democrats in western Massachusetts when he chooses to be," has kicked over the traces, announces his intention not to vote for Butler, and offers to bet $100 that Robinson will be elected, another $100 that he will have 5000 majority over Butler, and $100 that he will have 10,000 majority.

Two Lucky Men of Selma.

Speculation is rife as to the holders of the part of ticket 61,380, which drew the second capital prize of $25,000 in the August drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery. It was learned that the ticket had been deposited with the Southern Express for collection. The agent would not reveal the names of the lucky men. It was a professional secret. The N. O. Times Democrat announces that Messrs. Sam Selig and J. M. Littlehale, of Selma, had a fifth of the noted number, drawing $2,500 each in good money. They bought five-fifths of separate numbers, in partnership, as they had been regular buyers for years, and have won smaller sums before. Mr. Selig is the bookkeeper of Messrs. Grief & Kohn. Dr. Littlehale has been Supervisor of the street force for several years.—Selma (Ala.) Times, August 21.

MEDICAL.

WE DO NOT CLAIM

that HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA will cure everything, but the fact that on the purity and vitality of the blood depend the vigor and health of the whole system, and that disease of various kinds is often only the sign that nature is trying to remove the disturbing cause, we are naturally led to the conclusion that a remedy that gives life and vigor to the blood, eradicates scrofula and other impurities from it, as HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA undoubtedly does, must be the means of preventing many diseases that would occur without its use; hence the field of its usefulness is quite an extended one, and we are warranted in recommending it for all derangements of the system which are caused by an unnatural state of the blood.

Why Suffer with Salt-Rheum?

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen—I was a great sufferer from Salt-Rheum on my limbs, for a dozen years previous to the summer of 1876, at which time I was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. The skin would become dry, chap, crack open, bleed and itch intensely, so that I could not help scratching, which of course made them worse. At the time I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla (in the summer of 1876) they were so bad that they discharged, and I was obliged to keep them bandaged with linen cloths. The skin was drawn so tight by the heat of the disease that I I stooped over they would crack open and actually bring tears into my eyes. The first bottle benefited me so much that I continued taking it till I was cured. I used one box of Hood's Olive Ointment, to relieve the itching. Hoping many others may learn the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla and receive as much benefit as I have, I am,

Very truly yours,
MRS. S. S. MOODY,

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. Allen has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THAT "ICE CREAM PARTY."

Mr. Editor: The young gentlemen of Newcastle who attended "the ice cream party" in this town recently, anticipated having a grand time; and but for an error of judgment of the young ladies in making and packing the ice cream, the affair would have been a success. The trouble was in the freezer. It would have cost them something to have a proper freezer, but they concluded to take half-barrels and tin pails, so in the afternoon they made the ice cream so as to have it all ready for the evening. When the time came and the cream was given out, they found it by the taste to be like the sea, caused by the ice and salt melting and running over the tops of the pails, and not by its being salted by the gentlemen, as some of the ladies charged. The young men are very grateful to those of the young ladies who did not think them so ungentlemanly. ONE OF THEM.

THE NAVAL AUCTION.

The secretary of the navy on Monday, the 24th inst., opened the bids for the condemned war ships ordered to be sold under an act of Congress. The vessels offered for sale at this navy yard, and their appraised value, were as follows:

Congress, $25,400; Guard, $2,800; Kansas, $6,100, and the sailing ship Sabine, $10,400. The bids for these vessels were as follows: For the Congress, $26,006, being $606 above the appraisal, by H. G. Lynch of New York; the Kansas, $7,100, by Israel L. Snow of Richmond, Me.; for the Sabine, by I. L. Snow, $11,100; for the Guard, by I. L. Snow, $3,100; by Hubbell & Porter, of Syracuse, N. Y., $2,095; and by C. A. William & Co., of New London, Conn., $5,050. The Congress was knocked down to Lynch, the Kansas and Sabine to Snow, and the Guard to C. A. Williams & Co., the four vessels aggrating $49,256, an advance of $4,556 over their appraised value.

Vessels at other yards and stations were offered as follows:

At Boston—Iowa, $44,600; Niagara, $29,000; Ohio, $15,700. Sold as follows: Iowa, to Hubbell & Porter, $44,606; Niagara, to H. G. Lynch, $29,000; Ohio, to I. L. Snow, $17,100.

At New London, Conn.,—Blue Light, $500; Florida, $64,400. W. H. Gregory of New York got the Blue Light for $1-011; for the Florida no bid was made.

At Sackett's Harbor, N. Y.,—New Orleans, (on the stocks,) $200. Alfred Wilkinson of New York, the only bidder, offered $427.50 for the New Orleans, and got her.

At New York—Susquehanna, $9,000; brought $13,143.

At League Island, Pa.,—Burlington, $3,000; Glance, $400; Supply, $1200; Sorrel, $200; Dictator, $33,800. Sold—Burlington, $3,135, to I. L. Snow; Glance, $1,505; Sorrel, $400, and Dictator, $40,250, to A. Purvis & Son of Philadelphia.

At Washington, D. C.,—Frolic, $8,-600; Relief, $2,600. Sold—Frolic, $11,-250; Relief, (to I. L. Snow,) $3,350.

At Norfolk, Va.,—Worcester, $25,400; Shawmut, $5,300; Savannah, $10.600. Sold—Worcester, $27,611; Shawmut, $8,106; Savannah, $12,403.

At Chester, Pa.,—Roanoke, $37,200. Sold for $45,070.50.

At Port Royal, S. C.,—Seaweed, $500; Pawnee, $5,600. Sold—Seaweed, for $650; no bid for the Pawnee.

The total appraised value of the vessels sold was $272,500, and the amount realized from the sale $308,273, or about $36,000 more than the valuation of the naval board of appraisal, showing that the members of that board were practical men, who knew what they were doing.

GOSSIPS SAY

That two young men of this city, both of whom are quite old enough to know better, shot a seal at the mouth of this harbor on the 23d inst., and left the carcass on the shore at Gerrish's island.

That but few apples were left on the trees after the blow of Tuesday.

That Mrs. Lawrence Evans, residing on Middle road, and who has been wholly blind for more than a year, has had the sight of the right eye restored by Dr. Folsom, who successfully removed a cataract therefrom.

That a similar service will be performed by the doctor on the lady's left eye, as soon as she has fully recovered from the recent operation.

That the flag-ship Tennessee, of the North Atlantic squadron, sailed from the lower harbor about two o'clock Monday afternoon.

That before she sailed her bottom was inspected by a diver, who failed to find any evidence that she was injured by her contact with Fishing island.

That the ship's leaking is probably due to a strain only, but that she will be docked at the Brooklyn navy yard for examination before starting on a winter cruise to the West Indies.

A nice steam engine for sawing wood has been put in operation at the wharf of O. F. Philbrick & Co., who are already doing a large business in coal and wood at their newly-established place on Water street, near the stone and marble yard of Mr. Silas Philbrick.

The Pullman train from the eastward, Tuesday morning, was about two hours late in arriving at this city. The delay was caused by the derailing of a Boston & Maine freight train at the know-nothing crossing at North Berwick, three freight cars being smashed, and the Boston & Maine and Eastern lines both blocked for several hours. No person was hurt.

The White mountain excursion train over the Eastern railroad, Tuesday forenoon, took on board 225 passengers at Lynn, and when it arrived in this city consisted of seventeen cars. About a hundred passengers boarded the train here, making the whole number on board about eight hundred.

It is now stated that Stephen Grant of Kittery, previously reported missing since Saturday evening, was seen that night, some time after leaving Mr. Garrett's store, on the wharf at which the steamer Mystic lands, and it is feared that he was drowned. A diver went to the bottom of the dock, Tuesday forenoon, but made no discovery tending to solve the mystery of the man's disappearance.

A very good audience, though not so large a one as on the previous night, attended the performance of the "Lights o' London" on Tuesday evening. That tpe scenic display given by this company is the most extensive ever shown here is beyond dispute; and the acting is good enough to make a very ordinary play "go," without such elaborate accessories—not that this play is a very ordinary one, for it is a great deal better than the average of modern melodramas.

It is reported that Mr. Nathan Jones contemplates retiring from the farming business in Newington, and that he will dispose of his fine farm on the shore of Great bay.

A big, good-natured engineer on the Conway railroad, having promised his better half a good fish dinner, and being an amateur fisherman of much renown, a few days ago went on a fishing excursion on the river, and made a good catch. Landing at the Spring market, and wishing to make a call on a friend, he left his gear and the proceeds of the day's sport on the platform of the market; and on his return a half hour later, although he found the market and the platform easily enough, he could find no trace of his fish, lines or reels. Being determined to preserve the domestic tranquility he purchased several nice fish, and on the way home was rehearsing to himself all sorts of apocryphal yarns with which to account for his excellent luck. The moral of this story is, that though you may be honest enough yourself it will not do to put too much confidence in human nature—not in wharf-rat human nature, at any rate.

Mr. Frank W. Grogan, draughtsman in the department of construction and repair at this navy yard, on Tuesday started for the yard at Brooklyn, N. Y., in obedience to orders from the bureau at Washington.

A Washington despatch of Sept. 24th says: "A naval court martial has been ordered to convene at the Portsmouth navy yard on the 26th inst., for the trial of Private Charles Conlon of the marine corps. The court will consist of commanders A. R. Yates, (president,) B. J. Cromwell, M. L. Johnson and F. M. Green; Lieutenants F. W. Nichols and N. J. K. Patch, and Second Lieut. S. J. Logan, U. S. M. C., with Capt. P. C. Pope, U. S. M. C., as judge advocate."

The two professional swimmers who attracted so many people to the vicinity of Commercial wharf during their week's engagement with the Iron Steamboat Co. last summer, Miss Agnes Beckwith and her brother, William Beckwith, sailed from New York on the 25th inst. by the steamer Grecian Monarch. They go to London, where Mr. Beckwith will begin training immediately, and about the last of October will swim for the champanionship of England, havingbeen challenged by Finney of Oldham for $500 a side, the race to be one mile in still water. Miss Beckwith will swim in October twenty miles in the Thames, from Westminster to Richmond and back to Teddington; also five miles in the Thames with her hands and legs tied.

Mr. A. Dana Jenness, who lives on Salter's island, recently lost a valuable horse by hear Fifteen barrels of fresh fish were on Tuesday forwarded from Portsmouth to E. S. Newton of Manchester, for sale in his fish market in that city.

Mr. William T. Frye has three hundred barrels of alewives stored for future sale—all he has been able to purchase this year from the weirs at the head of the river, and a very small quantity when compared with the catches of previous years. It is possible that these fish, like some others, have sense enough to avoid places where experience has shown that they meet enemies.

Mr. Stiles of South Berwick, Me., frequently comes down the river for the purpose of obtaining salt mud to be used for enriching the farms at the head of the river. He has a small specimen of a gondola, with the usual latteen sail, and a pair of oars which he is able to man himself. What he most wanted he has found at a spot near where the sawdust lodged from the former sawmill of the Raynes shipyard, and where also lodged matter which came down the flumes from the millpond.

—"See here," said the star to the manager, "if you are going to have bouquets handed to me every night why don't you get decent ones? Look at this, to-night's; it's all wilted. Why can't I always have as good a bouquet as I had last night?" "As good a bouquet as you had last night?" shrieked the manager; "why, holy sunflower, its the same one."

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should read the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Now edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION.

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Ath'ldy.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

CUTICURA

THE GREAT SKIN CURES

TO cleanse the skin, of every trace of Scaly and Pimply, Scrofulous, Inherited, and Contagious Humors, Blood Poisons, Ulcers, Abscesses, and Infantile skin Eruptions, the CUTICURA REMEDIES are infallible. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, Diuretic and Aperient, expels disease germs from the blood and perspiration, and thus removes the cause. CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, instantly allays Itching and Inflammation, clears the Skin and Scalp, heals Ulcers and Sores, restores the Complexion. CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier and Toilet Article, is indispensable in treating skin diseases, and for rough, chapped or greasy skin, blackheads, blotches, and baby humors. CUTICURA REMEDIES are the only infallible blood purifiers and skin beautifiers.

Chas. Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State street, Boston, reports a case of Salt Rheum, under his observation for ten years, which covered the patient's body and limbs, and to which all known methods of treatment had been applied without benefit, which was completely cured solely by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stebbins, Belchertown, Mass., writes: Our little boy was terribly afflicted with Scrofula, Salt Rheum and Erysipelas ever since he was born, and nothing we could give him helped him until we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES, which gradually cured him, until he is now as fair as any child.

H. E. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by CUTICURA REMEDIES. The most wonderful cure on record. A dustpan full of scales fell from him daily. Physicians and his friends thought he must die. Cure sworn to before a justice of the peace and Henderson's most prominent citizens.

Hon. Wm. Taylor, Health Commissioner, Boston, says: After three months' use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and twelve years of a constant suffering from Scrofulous Humor of the face, neck and scalp as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record.

Rockets on the Rampage.

The rocket factories at the arsenal at Woolwich, England, exploded Sept. 24th, and many buildings were injured. The factories contained an immense number of war rockets, which were filled with destructive missiles. The explosion caused a fearful destruction of property throughout the town and in the surrounding district. Two bodies of victims of the explosion have been found. Some of the war rockets were projected a distance of five miles. One of them went through the wall of the arsenal, and another struck the artillery barracks. One of them plunged into a school for infants at Plumpstead, another entered a draper's shop in Woolwich, and still another wrecked a grocery store. There was the wildest panic in Woolwich, but there was no loss of life with the exception of the two persons mentioned, who were employed in the arsenal. The damage to the rocket factory will involve a loss of £2,000.

Slave or Wife.

"Ten o'clock, and the lunch basket not ready to take to the field—as usual!" grunted Farmer Brewster, as he threw himself into a rocking chair in the kitchen and fanned his flushed face with his straw hat. A quarter of an hour wasted very likely, waiting here. Right in the midst of as fine a hay day as any man would wish to see. Now, my mother used to have her lunch ready to the minute whenever we came for it, and I don't see why—"

His jeremiad was checked by the appearance of his wife, who came out of the pantry, tugging along the great lunch basket, almost too heavy for her strength.

Farmer Brewster was a young man in spite of his growling. Only twenty-three, fair, rosy cheeks, fair curly hair,—and handsome face when it was not darkened, as now, by a scowl of discontent.

An only son, he had inherited a large and handsome farm, clear of mortgage and debt, which supplied all the wants of his household most liberally, and gave him a nice little sum of money to deposit in the bank each year.

There was no reason why he should be mean, and yet miserly habits were gradually growing upon him far faster than he knew.

Nor was there need of grambling over the household arrangements, since the wife of his choice was a farmer's daughter, who knew well how to work, and who had taken delight in setting her home in faultless order when first she came as a bride to the pleasant Brewster place.

The same order reigned still, from garret to cellar of the old house, but Mrs. Brewster went through her tasks mechanically now, or with nervous haste and hurry that made them almost unendurable sometimes.

The constant drop of water will wear away a stone; and the constant fault-finding in which her husband saw fit to indulge had nearly worn the patience, the hope and the endurance out of the young wife's heart.

The comfort and happiness of that home hung upon a thread, which frayed more, hour by hour, under the pain of unmerited blame. Yet George Brewster saw nothing of this until the morning of which I write.

"There is the lunch, and it is exactly five minutes past ten," said Mrs. Brewster, setting the basket down with some emphasis at his feet. "I was delayed in that much with the butter. It had to be seen to before the sun got too high."

"My mother always churned before breakfast," observed George, rising slowly to his feet.

His wife said nothing, but the color rose hotly in her cheeks till the lost bloom of her girlhood seemed to have come back again, and she raised her eyes to his with a look that startled him.

Very handsome eyes they were—dark, soft and velvety, with a world of love and tenderness in their depth. Yet now they met his own coldly and sternly, with such an expression that he exclaimed:

"Good gracious! Letty. You look as if you hated me!"

"I am afraid I do," was the astounding reply.

And with a swift glance at the clock, Letty hurried down into the cellar with a knife and pan to make her preparations for dinner for six hungry hay-makers.

"Afraid she hates me! My wife! She that was Letty Glover!" muttered he to himself in his bewilderment. "Why, what on earth—! She must be going crazy or something or other."

"Letty!" he called at the cellar door.

"It is ten minutes past ten," she answered from the depths of her cellar. "If I don't see about the dinner now it won't be on the table at twelve to the minute, as your mother used to have it. I can't come."

"Well, if this don't beat all," said he to the maltese-and-white cat, who ascended from the cellar and rubbed herself against his legs.

A shout from the hay field roused him to the recollection of the day's business. He went out and dispensed the treasures of his basket among the hungry men, who praised Letty's excellent cooking with every mouthful they swallowed.

"It is enough to make an old bachelor like me sit down and cry to eat such raspberry shortcakes as that," said Solomon Wyse, wiping the crumbs of the feast from his lips before he quaffed hard cider from the jug. "Tell you what it is, George, you drew a prize when you went courting."

"So he did. And here's her good health," chimed in another mower, as he took up the jug.

George assented vaguely. They were talking of his wife—his wife who was afraid she hated him.

Never had the two hours between lunch and dinner passed away so slowly. As he rode round and round the field with a sharp rattle of the mowing machine he guided in his care, his mind was continually busy with Letty's looks, and her words, and his eyes often turned toward the cream-colored farm house, behind whose spruce green blinds his wife was busy preparing dinner.

"I used to think how happy I should be if I could persuade her to come here," he thought. "It is two years—why, I declare it is two years this very day that we were married! I wonder if she remembers it. But it isn't likely, when she says she is afraid she hates me."

Did she remember? Ah, in that remembrance lay the sting.

GENTLEMEN—Having been a sufferer for a great length of time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. I have taken one bottle, and I have been rapidly getting better ever since, and I think it the best medicine I ever used. I am now gaining strength and appetite, which was all gone, and I was in dispair until I tried your Bitters. I am now well, able to go about and do my own work. Before taking it, I was completely prostrated. Mrs. Mary Stuart.

The spirit of Boyle Roche survives. During Gen. Joe Shelby's examination in the James trial, when asked if he "saw Dick Liddle," "I saw him sitting like a viper in a rocking chair," said Gen. Joe.

"I had 'em all," said a rubicund happy faced gentleman. "All what?" asked his friend. "Why all the symptoms of malaria, viz: lame back, aching joints, sleeplessness, indigestion, dizzy fits, cold extremities, rush of blood to the head, constant fatigue, no appetite, pains in the breast after eating, night sweats, alternate chills and fevers, etc etc., but Brown's Iron Bitters cured me and I recommend it as being the only perfect tonic made."

—A materialized spirit, who stubbed his toe at a Norwich exhibition of manufactured ghosts, uttered some emphatic words which convinced his shocked admirers that there was something genuine about him.

Why do you suffer with back ache, pain in the chest, rheumatism, or lameness anywhere when a Hop Plaster will surely give you relief? Druggists sell them, 25cts.

The Postmaster,

Winchester, Mass., says: I am personally acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Carlton, and was astonished at the remarkable effects of your Sulphur Bitters in curing their son, and its large sale is undoubtedly due to the fact that it an honest medicine. I know of many others who have been cured by its use, and I do not think too much can be said in its praise. Yours truly, Geo. P. Brown, Postmaster.

MEDICAL.

MR. E. MARTIN,

In Porters' Department of the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.—Interesting Statement of his Suffering.

Here are plain facts from a most reliable source. Your reporter found Mr. Martin in Porter's department of the United States Armory, Springfield, Mass. After being introduced, Mr. Martin said: "I am willing to say what I can for the benefit of those afflicted as I have been. For years I have been a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder difficulties. Mine being of the calculus or stony form. I have visited all the mineral springs whose waters have been recommended to me by the best medical authorities. I have tried every known remedy, and have submitted to several operations, and have tried everything that money could obtain in the way of relief, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the best medicine of all my experience—I have received more benefit from it. It is certainly a wonderful medicine for diseases of this kind. I have recommend FAVORITE REMEDY to others in the city of Springfield whom I know to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complains; and, I assure the public, that the FAVORITE REMEDY has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the Favorite Remedy as I did."

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it can not help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements that afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which more business documents and certificates never possess.

A Literary Man Went West.

The lime-stone water of Ohio disordered his bowels and laid him on a bed of sickness with horrible cramps. For three days and nights he was wretched. Then he said "why didn't I think of Perry Davis's Pain Killer?" He sent for it and experienced such prompt and thorough relief that he said he was a fool for not getting it at first.

The colored national convention met at Louisville, Kentucky, Sept. 24th, with about two hundred and fifty delegates in attendance. Fred. Douglass was chosen president, and took occasion to deny the report widely circulated by the democratic papers, that he had said that if Ben. Butler was nominated for the presidency, he would sweep the colored vote of the Union.

Dr. T. J. Casper, Springfield, O., says: "I recommmend Brown's Iron Bitters."

Mrs. Joshua Parker, aged sixty years, wife of a wealthy citizen of Dover, cut her throat with two razors on the 26th inst., while standing before a glass, and was dead when found. She has a sister in the insane asylum.

An Ex-Governor's Extra.

Ex-Lt-Gov. Nosman J. Coleman, of St. Louis, says: "My wife has found great benefit in the use of St. Jacobs Oil as a pain-cure.

Louis Connors and Miss Hamor, the eloping couple from Bar Harbor, Mt. Desert, have been traced to Watertown, Conn.

For Purity and delicate flavor "Sweet Bouquet" Cigarettes have no equal.

A Mrs. Furlong of Westmoreland county, Virginia, who is in Washington on a visit, says she now owns the horse that J. Wilkes Booth rode after he assassinated Lincoln, and on which he escaped to Virginia. She says the horse, though twenty-five years old, is still lively. It was generally supposed that Booth killed the horse he rode, and left him in a swamp, before he crossed the Potomac from Maryland to Delaware, but Mrs. Furlong says this is not so.

The noted race horse, "Maud S.," got her name from being a pet of Maud Stone, a bright little daughter of Capt. Stone, who first discovered the virtues of the horse. "Jay-Eye-See," that now aspires to the championship, got his name from the initials of his owner, J. I. Case of Racine, Wis.

Poverty and Distress.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purse but of the blood. Deprived of its richness it becomes scant and watery, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and scrofulous swellings and sores, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat disease, spitting of blood and consumption, are among the common results. If you are a sufferer from thin, poor blood employ Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which enriches the blood and cures these grave affections. Is more nutritive than cod liver oil, and is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. By druggists. a 2

Massachusetts Conventions.

The Massachusetts greenbackers—or one wing of them—held their state convention in Boston on Sept. 25th, nominated B. F. Butler for governor, read Hon. E. Moody Boynton out of the party for opposing Butler, and nominated John Howes of Worcester for lieutenant governor. Howes has refused the nomination. The call for this convention was such that it included the democrats; and another convention, to include only greenbackers, and not make loyalty to Butler the only party test, is to be called at Worcester Oct. 16th.

The democratic state convention met at Springfield on the 26th, and was presided over by Hon. Edward Avery of Braintree. Gov. Butler was in the convention as a delegate, and was renominated by acclamation. Frederick O. Prince of Boston was nominated for lieutenant governor.

An Important Decision.

A case of much interest to all benefical societies in New Jersey has been decided in a local court in Trenton. This was the case of Lewis Edwards against Hamilton Lodge, Knights of Pythias. Edwards was taken ill a long time ago, and for some time drew the regular benefit of $4 a week. Eight months ago he was visited by a committee of the lodge, which decided that he was well enough to get along without this stipend, and the lodge upon a report to this effect struck his name from the sick list.

Testimony was adduced upon the trial to show that Edwards was not in a condition to do any work from the time the lodge took its action until suit was begun. A verdict was rendered in favor of Edwards for the full amount claimed, the court holding that the examination and report of a society's committee could not be considered as final evidence of a man's ability or inability to work.

The World says there is no doubt that the next New York state committee will be in the hands of Mr. Tilden and his friends. Mr. Tilden may not be a candidate, but he will have great influence in deciding who the candidate shall be.

The New York Sun now refers to Gen. Hancock as "a tender plant." The Sun has before this gone out of its way to make a mean attack upon one of the most honorable gentlemen in the land, even though he is a democrat.

The jail at Ashville, Ohio, was destroyed by fire Sept. 24th, and one prisoner, name unknown, was burned to death. He was an umbrella mender, and claimed to have come from the soldier's home at Dayton. He had considerable money, and it thought that he was murdered and the building set on fire to conceal the crime.

George A. Fisher of Westbrook, Conn., has been sent to jail for six months for keeping his five-year-old boy shut up in a cellar, and nearly starving him, on complaint of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. He threatened to cut his wife's throat if she revealed anything about his treatment of the boy.

The Kearsage arrived at Lisbon, Portugal, Sept. 20th.

Rev. John J. Lambert of Kittery, Me., a prominent official at the navy yard, also prominently connected with religious and temperance work, is sojourning with friends in this vicinity. — Hingham (Mass.) Journal.

The 90th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eunice M. Young of Kittery occurred on Tuesday of this week, and was celebrated by quite a number of her neighbors, with other friends from Malden, Mass., who gathered at the old lady's house and presented her with a beautiful and valuable chair, Rev. Perry Chandler, pastor of the 2d Methodist church, making a brief and appropriate presentation speech, expressive of the esteem of the company for the venerable lady, and their good wishes for her future. A collation was partaken of, and the occasion was one of much pleasure for all present.

—The poet Bowles was in the habit of daily riding though a country turnpike gate, and one day he presented as usual his twopence to the gate-keeper. "What is that for, sir?" he asked. "For my horse, of course." "But, sir, you have no horse." "Dear me!" exclaimed the astonished poet, "am I walking?" He on one occasion gave Mrs. Moore a Bible as a birthday present. She asked him to write her name in it. He die so, inscribing the sacred volume to her as a gift "From the Author."

—An Irish lawyer having addressed the court as "gentlemen," instead of "yer honors," after he had concluded a brother of the bar reminded him of his error. He immediately rose and apologized thus: "May it plase the coort, in the hate of debate I called yer honors 'gentlemen.' I made a mistake, yer honors."

—Cleveland has a young lady with a bullet in her brain. Although she was shot only three weeks ago her condition has so steadily improved that she is now able to be about the house, and has actually gone down the street a shopping. Tell you what! When a girl has got her mind set on going shopping, even a bullet through the head won't stop her.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 26th.

Reese Owen, of Seabrook, was before the court on three complaints, namely, selling cider to John Janvrin, Jr., of Seabrook; selling lager beer to the same person; and selling lager beer to Augustus Fowler, also of Seabrook. Owen was found guilty on all three complaints, and was fined $10 and costs on each. He claimed an appeal in each case, and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $100 on each; but by subsequent arrangement between Owen's counsel and the solicitor two of the cases were put on file, Owen paying the fine and costs on the other, amounting to $33.71, and promising to go out of the business.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Quite a goodly number of the members of this society arrived in town on Wednesday morning. Several resident members of the society were at the Concord station to receive their fellow members; among them were Messrs. Alex. H. Ladd, John S. H. Frink, T. Salter Tredick, Dr. F. E. Langdon and Wm. H. Hackett. The visitors repaired to the Rockingham house, where other members called to pay their respects, and where carriages provided by R. H. Beacham were in attendance for a visit to the Gov. Wentworth mansion at Little harbor, and to Odiorne's point at the spot where the first settlement of the state was effected. The members, with ladies accompanying, numbering in all about forty, left for the Wentworth mansion at 11:30 in three large barges, the president of the society, Ex-Gov. Bell, preceding in a carriage with Dr. F. E. Langdon. After inspecting the points designated the members returned for dinner at the Rockingham.

After dinner the members of the society assembled in one of the parlors of the Rockingham, and a vote of thanks to the resident members for courtesies extended was passed.

In the afternoon the members visited the Gov. Wentworth mansion on Pleasant street, where they were recived by A. S. Wentworth, Esq.; also the residences of Mark H. Wentworth and Dr. F. E. Langdon, as well as the celebrated historic mansion now owned by Alex H. Ladd, Esq., on Market street. The visitors were cordially received at each call, and were much gratified at the opportunity of seeing the structures, the portraits and other attractions which they were shown.

The visiting company left by the Concord train. Among the honorary members present was Rev. Mr. Angier of Newburyport. Mr. McClintock, of the Granite Monthly, and Col. Pecker of the Boston Journal, were of the party.

The members of the society seemed to regard this fall field day as one of the most enjoyable of all similar occasions in the history of the society.

GOSSIPS SAY

That the lawns about town already show improvement since the recent rain.

That the roller skating season does not open with a great deal of vim.

Thrt Mr. Jere. Sanborn has retired from the tobacco business, having disposed of his stock to John E. Rider and Wm. Wallace Downs.

That Mr. Sanborn's late place of business will be fitted up for the Western Union telegraph office.

That the Firemen's Muster committee have a snug little sum of money left from the gathering.

That the money could be most judiciously spent in buying coal and wood for the families of deceased firemen in this city.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting will be held in the Congregational chapel on Middle street this evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the interest of the American Missionary Association, and will be addressed by Rev. C. L. Woodworth of Boston and Rev. J. E. Smith of Chattanooga, Tenn. The design of the meeting is to awaken a deeper interest in the moral religious education of the Chinese, the Indians, and negroes of the south, the three classes for which the association labors. All interested in the success of the work among the unevangelized millions of America are invited to be present. No collection will be taken, the object being only to give information and to arouse an interest in the cause.

RAILROAD TAXES.

The assessment of taxes upon the railroads of this state has been completed by the board of equalization, and the result published.

The value of the road, rolling stock and equipment of the Concord & Portsmouth railroad is $475,000, on which it is taxed $5,853.49.

Eastern road, value $425,000, tax $4,227.95.

Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, value $375,000, tax $4,527.29.

Boston & Maine, value $1,500,000, tax $17,848.41.

Dover and Winnipesaukee, value $350,000, tax $4,231.60.

Concord, value $2,500,000, tax $29,812.66.

Wolfeborough, value $48,000, tax $534.02.

The total railroad tax assesed is $190,870.47, against $170,003.85 in 1882.

COCHECO MANUFG. CO.

The annual meeting of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. was held at Dover on Wednesday.

Amos A. Lawrence, J. Ingersoll Bowditch, T. Jefferson Coolidge, John McDuffee, George P. Gardner, Howard Stockton and Charles W. Amory were elected directors, Messrs. Gardner and Amory being new incumbents. Amos A. Lawrence was chosen president, and Howard Stockton treasurer.

The treasurer's report, made up to the close of the year ending April 30th, was read; 31,087,354 yards of cloth were made, and 34,824,370 yards were printed. The total ascertained profit was $44,133.94.

The report shew as favorable a state of results as the low condition of the market would lead the stockholders to expect. The drought of last fall had the effect of enhancing the cost of production, but contrary to the rule in former years the mills were more profitably operated than was the printery. The cost of goods was stated at 10.9 cents per yard.

THE NEW RAILROAD CHAIR.

Railroad chairs, as applied to the earlier-constructed roads, long since passed out of use, and not half the people now living can remember ever having seen a road equipped with them. The chair was a cast-iron contrivance to be spiked to the tie or "sleeper," and had at its top a slot for receiving the rail, which was of a very different shape from the kind now in use; thus the rails, when in position, were four or five inches above the sleepers, giving the structure a spider-web sort of look. Besides being costly, the chairs were constantly causing accidents through crumbling or breaking; and improvment after improvment was made in rails and chairs, until at length the chair was entirely discarded, and the modern rail, with wide flanges giving it a secure footing, was spiked directly to the ties.

With the rails spiked directly to the ties, bringing the car wheels so much nearer the roadbed, there is much less danger of breaking rails, or from broken rails, than when the rails were on stilts; and of course there is now no danger of breaking chairs, there being none to break. But it is found that the rails cut into the ties so rapidly that they have to be thrown aside after a few years, even though otherwise sound and good, and this item of ties is a very heavy one in the expense account of any railroad. To prevent the rails from wearing and settling down into the cross-ties, and thus lengthen the life of the ties, Mr. Michael R. Perkins of this city has invented a very simple and effective contrivance, which is now being manufactured here by the Perkins Railroad Chair Co. This device consists of a thin metal plate about six inches square, with two of its edges turned down so as partially cover a piece of wood about an inch thick, there being two square holes punched in the metal, and corresponding holes in the wood. In applying this invention, the wooden cushion and its metal cover are placed in position on the tie, the rail laid upon the metal, and the spikes which are to hold the rail are driven through the holes in the chair, they being just the distance apart to allow the spike heads to take the flanges of the rail; thus the vibration and pressure of the rail are expended on the metal cover of the wooden cushion, and the tie is wholly protected from wear.

The chair manufacturing company have for practical test purposes placed their chairs on over twenty roads, mainly in the west and south, within six weeks, among them being the following: Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia; Troy & Boston; Delaware & Hudson Canal Co.; Rochester & Pittsburg; Pittsburg, Cincinnati & St. Louis; Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo; Louisville, Albany & Chicago; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. They have orders also for four more roads, including the Northern Pacific and the Denver & San Antonio, and consider the prospect bright for an immense business in the near future.

The old Lowd house on Currier's hill, South street, is being torn down. For several years it has been merely a target for hoodlums to throw stones at.

Mr. Charles R. Pickett, for some time past in the employ of Jackson & Co.'s Express, has secured a positon with an express company at Concord.

Mr. John W. Johnson, of Rye road, has sold his milk route and cows, and will go to Florida about the middle of next month on a tour of inspection, with a view of permanently removing to that state.

Mr. Willis Knowlton and family left for their home in Saginaw, Michigan, on Tuesday of this week, after spending the summer with relatives in this city.

Eastern railroad officials at Portland say there is no truth in the rumor that the Flying Yankee train will be taken off the middle of October. It will run all winter.

Mr. O. M. Lord, principal of the Hanover street school, has been elected principal of the Butler school at Portland, Me., and will shortly leave to accept the new position.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

"No; she lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years, the doctors doing her no good; and at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about. Indeed! indeed! how thankful we should be for that medicine."

"Ellis's Spavin Cure is an invaluable preparation and cures as its proprietors claim it does," writes S. B. Mills, No. 5 Union Market, Boston, Mass.

—I left Jacksonville in the afternoon and stayed all night on Moon Bayou with Colonel Tom Lee. I never met him before and never heard any one say he was a colonel, but I know he must be. He has a big plantation, a big house with a planner in the parlor, a beautiful grown-up daughter, and a windmill to his well. —The youngest telegraph operator in the world is a little girl ten years old who has charge of a railway station in Texas. This probably accounts for the failure to run double track trains on single track roads in Texas. The effort seems to be made most frequently on railways employing ten-years old operators and fourteen-years old brakemen.

—I was chatting with a bright young girl the other evening, at a small German, writes a correspondent, when our attention was directed to a tall and handsome woman who had just entered the room. "Who is she?" asked my companion, and I, wishing to be poetical, answered, "A daughter of the gods." "I don't know her," my partner replied, critically examining the newcomer through her lorgnette, "the gods are not in our set."

Miss Mary F. Willey, Hillsboro Bridge N. H., says "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and received much benefit."

—A youngster of a dozen years went to pass the holidays with his grandmother in the country. In the evening when they sat down to dinner the grandmother cried: "Oh, my! There are thirteen of us!" "Don't be worried, grandmother," cried the youngster. "I will eat for two!"

For Over Three Months

my son suffered night and day with rheumatism; so much so that he was unable to feed himself. Your Sulphur Bitters cured him, and I am thankful to say they are an honest medicine.—Mrs. W. H. Carleton, wife of Deacon Carlton, First Baptist Church, Winchester, Mass.

—Colonel Thompson, of Arkansas, arose during a little four-handed game and exclaimed with great indignation: "There is cheating in the game. I denounce it as an infernal fraud." Major Foxworth promptly demanded to know upon what ground he made the charge. "Why," replied the colonel, "Bill Simpson has just played a pair of aces that he stole out of my sleeve."

Slave or Wife.

All that morning while she got breakfast at five o'clock, and washed the dishes, swept the rooms, made the beds, churned butter and prepared a lunch for six men, her heart turned back to the other morning twenty-four months ago, when the bright eyed country maiden rose at four o'clock to complete her preparations for her wedding day.

How good, how kind, how handsome her George was then. How his eyes followed her; how his love blessed her. Was it all her fault that the bloom and beauty of life had departed in those two short years?

Looking back she could see no day in which she had not at least tried to do her duty. And looking in the glass she saw how the light and glow of youth had passed from her face, while accomplishing the task uncheered by the approval of him she loved.

"George has kept his color and his good looks because his work lies out of doors," she mused, "but I have worked in this old kitchen until I look old enough to be his mother. His mother"—she paused with a bitter laugh—"I almost wish I was his mother; then he would be suited with what I did."

Noon came. The twelve o'clock whistle sounded sharp and clear from the factory in the village a mile away; and before the whistle ceased a little figure stepped out on the side porch of the Brewster house and blew a horn.

"There's a woman for you," said Solomon Wyse, admirably. "Dinner to the minute—and won't it be a good one?"

The dinner was indeed a success; every dainty of the season and farm was there, skillfully cooked and neatly served on a table in the cool dining room—a table covered with snowy cloth fresh from its fold, and glass and china.

In the center of the table stood a great china bowl full of red roses that perfumed the room. Her cheeks were red, her eyes shone dark and bright, and her words and smiles were ready for every one save George. As she sat grave and silent at the foot of the table, he looked at her wonderingly.

She wore a dress of silver gray alpaca that had been her travelling dress when they were married. A large white apron with a bib, shielded the glories of the costume. But why did she put it on? Surely she could not think of "going visiting" that afternoon, with six haymakers to get tea for, and the milk of eight cows to attend to afterward.

But he finally went out without asking it. The wife, who was afraid she hated him, seemed almost like a stranger, although she looked so much on this occasion like the girl he had married just two years ago.

As George neared the door of the woodshed, where the men were lounging away the rest of the nooning, he heard his own name uttered by Solomon Wyse in tones of anger. Involuntarily he stayed his steps.

"Yes, I knew George from a baby up, and I always said he'd make a likely man. But I vow it is a shame to see how he treats that pretty little creature! Such a lunch this morning and such a dinner this noon, in such a nice cool room, with the red roses and all the rest of it; and she just as pretty as a picture, with her red cheeks and bright eyes and wavy hair, and dressed as neat as a pink, too. And he sitting there as glum as a cross old man of ninety. I was ashamed of him."

"I've heard he does nothing but find fault with her all day long," said a second voice. "My wife says if I threw my mother into her teeth, as George does his in Letty's, she'd run away from me before she was a day older."

"And serve you right," chimed in a third. "I'll tell you what my wife says. She says it is confounded mean and small of George not to keep a woman here to help his wife. And when I saw the dinner, to-day, the pretty little thing had got for us all alone, I thought so too. Hang me, if I hadn't half a mind to stop here this afternoon and help her wash up that pile of dishes, and let the haying go to thunder. It's enough to kill the woman to have all that work to do. And George is rich. What on earth is he thinking about? But he'll be sorry for this in a year or two hence, when we have to come here on a different errand."

"To carry her out in a coffin?" said Solomon Wyse. "Yes, I suppose it will come to that if some of us don't talk seriously to George. She don't look at all strong now, and her hands trembled when she changed my plate. It's a burning shame—and if none of you will talk to George about it, I will."

But when George Brewster joined them, Solomon Wyse deemed it prudent to defer the proposed "talking to," for his brow was black as night, and he had no more to say to his neighbors now than to his wife at the dinner table. This, then, was the way in which they spoke of him behind his back, these men who labored beside him, and took their wages from him and pretended to be his friends.

And his wife was afraid she hated him!

To whom could he turn for comfort—from whom could he expect true friendship, if she who should have been nearest and dearest was an enemy in disguise? Lost in moody reverie, he paid little attention to his work.

And at last, at three o'clock in the afternoon, there was a sudden uproar in the hay field—a tramping of hoofs, a rush of terrified men, a confusion of voices, and among them all George Brewster lying on the ground beneath the mowing machine, his right arm and leg broken by the wheels, his head cut and bleeding with the heavy fall.

[Concluded in next issue.]

"I had 'em all," said a rubicund happy faced gentleman. "All what?" asked his friend. "Why all the symptoms of malaria, viz: lame back, aching joints, sleeplessness, indigestion, dizzy fits, cold extremities, rush of blood to the head, constant fatigue, no appetite, pains in the breast after eating, night sweats, alternate chills and fevers, etc etc., but Brown's Iron Bitters cured me and I recommend it as being the only perfect tonic made."

Jacob Gubler, who lived four miles from Springfield, Mo., was killed by the explosion of a twenty-gallon brandy barrel. He bored a hole in one end of the barrel, and, to enlarge the hole, inserted a red-hot iron.
